CENTRAL COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

Forty-Ninth Year Closes With Brilliant Exercises.

The forty-ninth annual commencement of Central College for Women has been celebrated during the past week. The wonderful June weather, the many visitors and attendance of former pupils were all contributing elements in the season's success. The usual routine of entertainments, recitals and addresses were unusually interesting.

The Art department followed the yearly custom of displaying much of the winter's work and many beautiful things were to be seen on Saturday afternoon. The same afternoon the Alumnae held their reception in the College parlors. An enthusiastic attendance and delightful reunion were given a practical expression in planning for the next year's work and pleasure, especially the participation in the celebration of Central's fiftieth anniversary next June.

The Baccalaureate sermon and service Sunday morning in Murrell Auditorium was an occasion long to be remembered. The musical part of the service under Mr. D. F. Conrad's direction embodied the same form and standard of former years, with a new interest lent by several new voices in the choir personnel. The important factor is always the sermon, and this year Dr. Frank Barrett of Oklahoma City, presented an innovation—a sermon up-to-the-minute in matter, thought and delivery. It was the finest patriotic address ever given in this city—it was a sermon in form, ethical and applied, with the essentials of Christianity appropriately presented and practically designated. It was delivered in a most impressive style and with an earnestness and assurance that carried the audience to an unusual point of enthusiastic attention.

Monday morning was given over to Class Day exercises. As usual the beautiful campus was the scene of action, and all the traditions of the past years were observed and embellished by a large class of seniors.

The grand concert in the evening was given by the Seniors in the departments of music. A pretentious program was given with the standard of attainment clearly in evidence. In both piano and voice numbers, the thorough instruction and painstaking preparation were easily seen.

Naturally the Graduating exercises stand out in the week's celebration as the crowning event. A class of fifteen presented itself for the degree of Associate in Arts, with a large representation from the various special departments.

The speaker of the morning was Dr. A. L. Scales of Kansas City. His theme was the "Ministry of Significant Personality." It was an able address replete with illustrations and artistic expression.

The conferring of diplomas was by Dr. Williams. In his announcement for the next year's college work Dr. Williams spoke especially of the appropriateness of a suitable celebration for the close of the half hundred years which will have been reached in 1919. Arrangements are now underway to make the biennial year a notable one and close it with fitting ceremony.

The year just closed has been signally successful in many ways

Aull-Keith.

The marriage of Miss Naidine Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keith of 1617 Main street, to Dr. John Aull, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Aull, Sr., was solemnized at the family home Sunday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock. The date of the wedding was changed from June 4th because of unexpected Army orders affecting the plans of Dr. Aull who is in the Medical Reserve Corps, Camp Dodge, Iowa.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in green and white—in the dining room an improvised altar was banked high with foliage and draped with the flag. Wide white ribbon marked an aisle from a gate built in the arch between the reception and dining rooms to the altar.

The approach of the wedding party was heralded by Masters Brown Cowan and James Franklin Ardinger, miniature soldiers in full khaki uniform who opened the gates. Misses Theodocia Morris and Percy Aull were pink gowned attendants while Mrs. Turner Carson of Atlanta, Ga., as matron of honor, and Miss Aileen Keith maid of honor, were gowned in white. All carrying large bouquets of pink roses. They were followed by little Misses Mary Jane Chalkley and Josephine Scarlett carrying kneeling pillows, after whom came tiny Miss Janet Lovitt of Kansas City, who bore the ring in a large calla. The Reverend Robert L. Cowan had met the party by entering from a side door, and by the same entrance Dr. Aull attended by his brother, Mr. William Aull, Jr., as best man, met the bride as she walked with her father.

The bride's costume was of white duchess satin and tulle with full court train. Her full length veil was draped from the back and held by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Peyton Tabb sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Oscar Westerman "O Promise Me." They were accompanied by Mrs. John Langsdale, Jr., who also played the Lohengrin Bridal chorus as a processional and MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" during the ceremony.

Several out of town guests were present, among them were Mr. and Mrs. John Langsdale, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lovitt, Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks, Mr. Will Keith, and Mrs. Will Keith, Sr.

After an informal reception, Dr. and Mrs. Aull left by motor for Kansas City, where they entrained immediately for Camp Dodge, Ia.

Deputy Sheriff John McDonald arrested Eugene McCalhan of Boonville yesterday afternoon for driving car without license. He was taken before Justice of the Peace T. A. Walker who fined the gentleman $25 and costs, amounting to $36.15.

Miss Emma Fahmeier of Higginsville, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Otto Brueggerman.

—one of the largest in number of pupils in the school's history. The several special departments have been crowded. Dr. Williams and his faculty have cause to congratulate themselves upon the year's attainments, and the encouraging outlook for future time.

Judge of the Western District.

John F. Larkin of Wellington, announces in this issue of The Intelligencer his candidacy for Judge of the Western District on the Democratic ticket. Judge Larkin should be well known to a great majority of the voters of this district as he has served two terms as associate judge, giving satisfaction in every particular.

Death of Miss Birdie M. Fisher.

Miss Birdie M. Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fisher, died Thursday night at 11:00 o'clock at the home, Fifteenth and State street. Death was due to heart trouble. ## Doctors Take Stock.

Tuesday the Doctors of Lafayette county met in Lexington and were registered and classified and the report sent to the Medical Department of the Army. The government has issued a call for physicians, and Lafayette's quota is nine. There are thirty-six in the county.

Mrs. Frank Lecterek of Wellington, was injured Saturday in a very singular manner while on her way to Lexington with a one-horse load of produce. When near Myrick she became faint and fell out of the wagon. She was entangled in the reins and was dragged about 100 yards before being rescued. Her right leg was broken below the knee besides many other painful bruises and abrasions. She was taken to the home of S. C. Schenewerk, 1030 Highland avenue, where medical aid was given her.

Sellers-Wilson.

The marriage ceremony of Rev. Ovid R. Sellers, eldest son of Col. and Mrs. Sanford Sellers, and Miss Katherine Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen N. Wilson of 307 Washington Ave., was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents Saturday evening, June 1st at 8:30 o'clock. The event was marked throughout by simplicity of detail and a charming informality. A beautiful setting was provided in the home decorations which were of palms, ferns, and June flowers. The mantel in the reception room was transformed for an altar with a solid banking of green and a draped American flag.

The immediate members of the two families were the only guests and after Mrs. Jay Richardson had sung "I Love You Truly," she played the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the entrance music for the bridal party.

Miss Teresa Wilson, wearing a gown of green organdie and carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas, was her sister's maid of honor. She approached the altar following little Misses Dorothy Davis as flower girl, and Lucia Jean Davis as ring bearer.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white georgette crepe and her flowers were white sweet peas.

Mr. Sellers and Rev. Robt. L. Cowan who read the service awaited them at the altar.

After congratulations and well wishes a buffet luncheon was served. Later Mr. and Mrs. Sellers left by auto for Kansas City. They will return for a short visit in Lexington prior to an Eastern trip including Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to attend the graduation of the bride's sister, Miss Elizabeth, from Vassar College.

Mr. and Mrs. Sellers will remain in the East where as Chaplain in the National Army Mr. Sellers will be subject to Army orders.

Louis Meierer and sister, Miss Lena, went to Kansas City Monday for a visit.
