

Happy Thoughts.

From the Missouri State Journal
Some of the presidential boomers are doing their level best to convince us that it is possible to communicate with the dead.—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

Sir Oliver Lodge says he can't get a ghost for $5000. Are we to gather that the high cost of living is also immortal?—Philadelphia North American.

It is claimed that "soviet" exists in the federal prison at Ft. Leavenworth. Well, that's the place for soviets, all right.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

This being leap year, perhaps it is true that the mysterious signals which puzzle wireless experts are from Venus.—Newark Evening News.

Why not hire some of the kid-nappers of Mexico to get busy on the case of the distinguished guest of Holland?—Sioux Falls Argus-Leader.

While Congress is considering the coining of a 2 or 2½ cent piece, it should legislate something into costing that amount.—Indianapolis Star.

If it is really possible to send rockets to the moon, why not load them with Bolsheviki?—Manchester Mirror.

The fact that the Dutch decline to give up the ex-Kaiser disposes of the report that he wasn't paying his board.—Dallas News.

They call it an "income tax return," but the tax never returns, just the same.—Houston Post.

Window-Cisms.

What keeps a woman wondering is whom her husband would have married, if she had married the other chap.

When a man sighs that "nobody understands him," don't imagine that he is suffering. He is merely trying to let you know in a modest way, that he is a profound, fascinating mystery.

A clever man may try to escape love—but a wise one knows that what he fancies is "escape" is merely a temporary respite, until some woman makes up her mind to stop playing and settle him.

A husband is a necessity, a luxury, a blessing, an opportunity, a reward or a dispensation—just according to the way in which you look at him.

There are two kinds of men—those with a sense of humor and those who laugh at motion pictures.
