Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford One Ton Truck is serving business just as faithfully and economically as does the Ford Touring Car serve all the people faithfully and economically. The Ford Truck is a necessity to the grocer both in delivering goods and in bringing goods from the stations, docks and from the country. It is an ideal motor car because there isn't a want of the farmer or business man that it doesn't supply in the way of quick transportation at a minimum expense. Come in, examine the Truck, and let us talk over the subject.

CENTRAL COLLEGE CLOS-ES FIFTY-FIRST YEAR

A Most Successful Session in All Departments Which Were Crowded Throughout the Year.

The annual commencement exercises of Central College for Women, closing the fifty-first year of the school, were arranged to accord to the usual schedule and opened formally by the meeting of the Board of Curators on Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

On Saturday afternoon the Art Studio was open to inspection and the yearly exhibit of work in that department was attended by many visitors. The display was kept in place during the week enabling those interested to inspect it at their leisure and pleasure.

The meeting of Central's alumnae is of much interest to the College, to themselves, and to outsiders who are interested in the portent of this organization. The assembly this year was in the College parlors, was largely attended and was imbued with its usual enthusiasm. The social side is exhibited especially in the commencement meeting and the occasion proved a delightful affair.

On Saturday evening a recital by the students in the School of Expression drew a large crowd to Murrell Auditorium. Recurring recitals during the year had attracted an interest to this department, and the audience was entertained by a program of varied selections of merit by seniors and undergraduates.

In the years of Dr. Williams' presidency of Central College, his policy of securing excellent speakers for his Baccalaureate service, assures him a capacity audience at that time. This year the hall was filled to hear Dr. Chas. W. Tadlock of St. Louis. The sermon was of splendid conception, prepared with skillful formation of content and ideas. Dressed in words understandable by a child, yet chosen with an aptness that left but one meaning, it conveyed exactly the sequence of thought of the speaker. The old subject of service was made new and impressive and presented in a manner peculiarly appealing to the graduating class. The musical setting for the service was furnished by a quartette of mixed voices with Mr. D. F. Conrad at the organ. The music comported well with the splendid sermon and served as a complement to the same.

Monday morning was given over to Class Day exercises; the weather had been most delightful to that time, but a hard rain changed the plans the class had so carefully made, and the most elaborate and beautiful exercise ever presented had to be carried out indoors. They were dauntlessly executed however, and those who were not present missed one of the charming events of the week.

The sun shone in the afternoon of the same day upon the Central College Club meeting in Murrell Auditorium. A program by former students was supplemented by short but interesting talks by Mr. J. G. Creashaw, Mr. F. Lee Wallace, and Mr. B. M. Little.

Monday evening was the occasion of the Grand Concert. The program contained numbers of interest to musicians and laymen of the art. A consistent showing of the work accomplished during the year was presented in piano and vocal numbers. It displayed the usual musical talent at Central and the careful direction and cultivation of the pupils' ability.

The audience was large and appreciative of the performers and their work.

On Tuesday morning the commencement exercises culminated in the powerful address of Dr. Edmund F. Cook of Kansas City. Diplomas were awarded to eighteen young ladies from the Literary Department (Associates in Art), two in Piano, two in Expression, four in Home Economics, seven were given State Teachers' Certificates, and one a certificate of proficiency in Piano. The medals were then awarded and the history of the fifty-first session of Central College was completed.

Milestones Of Progress

An unfounded superstition about making wills and an inadequate appreciation of a corporate body's superiority over any individual in the administration of trust affairs, has been—and is—responsible for untold suffering in innumerable families.

The man who has had his will drawn up in legal correctness, and has incorporated therein his desire to have this institution execute his directions with its characteristic exactness, has passed two very definite milestones of progress.

Any of our Officers will be glad to discuss this matter with you confidentially and without charge.
