on the regular board at the same price. Some of the scalpers took sides with the big bear trailer, but there were buying or-ders enough to take all the early offerings at from 5%5675% up to 5%5c, and when these were exhausted to continue buying until the price advanced to 5%5675% c. There was at that point a general unload-ing of the earlier purchased wheat. Re-ceipts were small and exports fairly lib-eral, while reports of a good inquiry for cash wheat were numerous and foreign markets were generally firm. St. Louis continued arrangements for the transfer of large quantities of wheat. Despite the builtsh news, the liberal selling continued to the end of the session and May closed at 5%c. Corn was very firm during the greater part of the session. It took a little dip at the opening and then ruled firm and advanced be above yesterday's closing fig-ures. Following that when it lost the sup-port of wheat, it began to droop and grad-ually worked down around the price it sold for near the opening. May opened at 48% size, declining as already stated. The de-mand for carloads was good at an average price of about 5c over that realized yes-terday. The government agricultural bumand for carloads was good at an average price of about '4e over that realized yes-ierday. The government agricultural bu-reau report was one of the aids to the market. May closed at 47%c. A good many fall orders for oats were brought out at the opening. The market advanced from 31%c to 31%e for May, and then there was free selling, generally head-ed by Updyke and Schwartz-Dupee. All requirements were filled, and, with few buyers, the price very soon fell off to 31% 031%c, and closed at 30%c. Provisions were sluggish, with only small and intermittent transactions and fluctura-and intermittent transactions and fluctua-tions confined to a very narrow range. The highest and lowest prices of May pork were only 5c apart. Lard and ribs scarcely varied more than $2^{1}_{2^{1}_{2^{1}_{2^{1}}}}$ compared with the closing prices of the day before, pork was $7^{1}_{2^{1}_{2^{1}_{2^{1}}}}$ lower, lard is unchanged and fibs $2^{1}_{2^{2}_{2^{1}_{2^{1}}}}$ higher. A rumor that a prominent live stock commission house estimated that the receipts of hogs next week would amount to 225,000 head caused some of the weakness which prevailed, but packers seemed indisposed to accept going rates for very much.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 11.-George Mapp and Buddy Wooten, two young ne-groes, were hanged in the execution room of the county Jail a few minutes after 8 o'clock this morning. Wooten died a Cath-olic. Rev. Father Walsh was with him on the scaffold. Mapps, however, refused to have a minister with him.

May Wheat Closed 3-Se Lower Under Pardridge's Onslaughts, Corn Was Depressed 1-4c and Oats and Provisions Were Lower.

Chicago, Jan. 11.-It was a bear day in wheat. In the face of generally bullish news, free selling pushed down the price and May closed 5c lower. May corn closed the lower, May oats the lower and provis-

Pardridge made a vigorous effort to remove the bullish flavor from the wheat market previous to the commencement of the regular session. He sold enough on the open board to crush the price of May wheat to astamastac and had some for sale on the regular board at the same price.
