

BOSTON STORE

1109-1111 Main Street.

SPECIAL SALE MONDAY AT 8 a. m.

10,000 YARDS FANCY STRIPE TENNIS FLANNEL, worth 50c, 44c

SPECIAL SALE MONDAY AT 2:30 p. m.

1,000 YARDS CHANGABLE NOVELTY SILK, in stripes and dined effects, worth 100c per yard, 19c

2,000 YARDS COLORED DOUBLE WARP SURAH SILK, worth 80c per yard, 19c

Special Sale Monday at 8:30 a. m.

200 dozen J. & P. Coats' best six cord, 20 yard Machine Thread, 1c

Special Sale Monday at 2 p. m.

5,000 yards Bleached and Unbleached Twilled Cotton Toweling, 2c

Special Sale Monday at 4:30 p. m.

25 dozen Men's White Unlaundered Shirts, worth 45c, 15c

Special Sale Monday at 1:00 p. m.

2,000 yards Slater & Wood's best line Cambric, worth 60c, per yard, 1c

Special Sale Monday at 8:30 a. m.

1,000 sample length Brussels Not Damour Brussels and Irish Point Lace Curtains, 15 to 2 yard lengths, worth 1c and up, 49c

Special Sale Monday at 8:30 a. m.

10-quart heavy retined dish pans, worth 25c, 11c

Blankets and Comforts.

1,000 4-4 oak tan Blankets, fancy border, worth 75c, 48c

Cloak and Suit Department.

Tremendous Bargains in our Cloak and Suit Department for this week at prices that will make quick sales.

House Furnishing Goods Dept.

No. 8 heavy tin, copper bottom and rim, regular boiler, 59c

Grocery Department.

Best Fine Granulated Sugar, 13 pounds for 50c with each grocery order amounting to $1.00.

Notion and Fancy Goods Dept.

Best imported Berlin yarn, all colors, 40c

Shoe Department.

70 pairs Ladies' Kid Shoes, button and lace, worth $1.00, 69c

Linen Department.

10 pieces half bleached all linen Table Damask, regular 80c quality, our price for this week, 25c

Teas and Coffees.

Choice sample Tea, per lb., 15c

Flannel Department.

400 yards brown and gray mixed Ten-ple Flannel, worth 30c, 19c

Drugs and Druggists' Sundries.

Dr. Williams' Little Liver Pills, 50c

A Special Sale

Journal, Nov. 10

... OF ...

Fine Furniture

For Six Days.

For Particulars see To-morrow's Journal.

NORTH FURNITURE AND CARPET COMPANY.

1216 to 1224 Main Street.

The Great Piano Sale.

One Hundred Pianos and Organs Offered in This Sale During the Months of November and December

AT ONE-HALF THEIR VALUE!

New Pianos FROM $150.00 UP.

Second Hand Uprights in good condition, $65.00 TO $150.00.

Second Hand Squares in good condition, $25.00 TO $125.00.

Second Hand Organs in good condition, $15.00 TO $35.00.

This Sale will Positively Close December 31.

V. R. ANDRUS MUSIC CO.

Ninth and Grand Avenue.

LADIES!

When you are preparing to give receptions or parties you will find our individual ideas for your Christmas and New Year parties are pleasing.

Special Offering This Week

BAUMAN'S SHOE HOUSE.

485 pairs Ladies' Hand Turn and Welts, Button or Lace, square, opera and needle toes, former price $4.00, this week $3.00

For $2.00 we will sell you a Ladies' Shoe in tan or welts (button) the shoe on Main street for $3.00 bring them back and get your money.

All Style Toes.

See our Boys' Shoes, $1.00 to $2.00

See our Children's Shoes, 50c to $1.00

See our Misses' Shoes, $1.00 to $2.00

We Will Save You

From 25c to $1.00 on a Pair of Shoes.

For Your Next Shoes Pay Us a Visit. It Will Pay You.

Baumans Shoe House

1413 Grand Ave.

We fill all mail orders same day as received.

RUINED.

Nine-tenths of the BARNES in Kansas city are going to ruin for want of PAINT.

They can be saved at a small cost. Monday we will offer for sale

1,000 Gallons Special Barn Paint

At 6 cents per gallon, which ordinarily sells for 15c. This is the best season for painting.

A. M. HUGHES PAINT & GLASS CO., CITY STORE, 1304-1306 Walnut St. FACTORY, 1828-1830 Main St.

The Journal. Ten cents a week. At your door every morning.

KANSAS SCHOOL FUND

LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE FILES ITS REPORT.

THE FUND IN GOOD CONDITION

BUT THERE ARE SOME FRAUDULENT AND DOUBTFUL BONDS.

School Fund Commissioners Severely Scored

Charged With Either Corruption or Gross Neglect—Suggestions for Future Protection of the Fund.

Topeka, Nov. 9.—(Special.) The legislative committee which for months has been investigating the condition of the investments in bonds belonging to the Kansas permanent school fund to-day filed its report with Governor Morrill.

The report is an exhaustive document and in full would fill several columns of the Journal. The most of it, extracted with care and discrimination, is given below.

The local amount of bonds held by the fund is $6,992,272.25, divided as follows: Bonds of school districts and boards of education, $3,411,622.88; state bonds, $487,000; county refunding bonds, $1,473,700; county funding bonds, $62,500; township refunding bonds, $82,900; city refunding bonds, $1,473,700; and other bonds, $69,900.

In addition to this the committee finds fraudulent bonds to the amount of $1,123,244.12 and the whole constitutes the assets of the permanent school fund.

This fund was derived from the following sources: Sale of school lands, $3,245,224.12; 5 per cent of sale of government lands, $1,044,354.13; miscellaneous sources, $702,693.99.

The fund had its beginning at the time Kansas was admitted as a state and its present flourishing condition is regarded as a matter of congratulation by the committee.

While some worthless and fraudulent bonds are found in the collection, there are many which are worth more than their face from the fact that they draw 5 or 7 per cent interest and would pay for a premium.

Under the head of "Doubtful Bonds of the State," the committee places the following: Cimarron city bonds, $15,000; school district bonds, $40,000; what was formerly the city of Topeka, $100,000; Hamilton county bonds, $10,000; Kearney county bonds, $5,000; Scott county bonds, $142,000; total, $312,000.

The Cimarron city bonds are impaired because of the "diminished and impoverished resources of the city." When they were issued the city had an assessed valuation of $12,000. In 1875 the total assessed valuation was but $36,877. The interest on these bonds has been delinquent for four years.

The Hamilton county bonds were sold to the state by N. D. Morrison, agent for the Kansas National bank of Topeka.

The Hamilton county bonds have been delinquent since 1893 because of the impoverished condition of the people and partly because their legality is questioned.

The Hamilton county bonds are of doubtful character because their legality is questioned. Even if their legality were established the committee think it doubtful if the face value would ever be obtained.

Commenting on these bonds the report says: "These bonds were purchased in March, 1885, and the committee stated that they were a gross delinquency on the part of the school fund commissioners.

They noted either corruptly or in gross neglect of their duties as commissioners with ordinary care the doubtful status of these bonds could have been ascertained. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

The Hamilton county bonds have been in default since 1888 and not a cent of interest has ever been paid them. They were purchased from N. D. Morrison, agent for the Hamilton county bonds, $5,000, both acting as agents, while one George W. Crane appears to have been the owner at the time of purchase.

THE PORTE SNUBS ENGLAND.

Habri Pasha, Who Was Dismissed as a Result of English Pressure, Decorated by the Sultan.

Constantinople, Nov. 9.—The official gazette of the Ottoman Empire has announced that the Porte has decided to dismiss the British minister, Sir Philip Currie, and to appoint as his successor the British minister, Sir Philip Currie, and to appoint as his successor the British minister, Sir Philip Currie.

The Porte has decided to dismiss the British minister, Sir Philip Currie, and to appoint as his successor the British minister, Sir Philip Currie, and to appoint as his successor the British minister, Sir Philip Currie.

The Porte has decided to dismiss the British minister, Sir Philip Currie, and to