The Chicago omnibus ball going west over the Wabash was badly wrecked near DeWitt Thursday morning.

The entire car was destroyed, and the sleeping car was dented and broken. The express messenger had his arm broken, and one of the passengers had his leg broken, and several were more or less bruised up.

There were but few passengers aboard. The way this time is an outrage on the public. Had there been some consolation in the fact that accidents have been so frequent of late that but few passengers will travel over the line—Keyesville Courier.

Such small thrushes as the above at the Railroad, show some kind of a petty spite. Accidents happen on all roads and they can't well be avoided.

Last week on Lawson Stewart's farm five miles north of Columbia a mine, while mining coal, opened up a mine of 24 pretty snakes by actual count. Almost every variety of snakes was represented except the rattlesnake.

There were copperheads, black snakes, and so on. The mine was found in a seam in the coal and stretched around very lively when first stirred up. But a vigorous warfare resulted in the destruction of the entire lot. Mingled up with the reptiles was a plentiful supply of spiders and frogs that seemed to be enjoying life with all the peace of the happy family. The snake's story is vouched by unquestioned authority.—Columbia Herald.

The mode of crossing the river at Jackson City is similar to that practiced in the earlier days. The ferry company has stretched a rope from this shore to the sand bar in the middle of the river, and the boat is hauled over to it.

The fact is that the sand bar brings up to the ferryboat on the sand side, and in this way the trip is completed. It is somewhat tedious, but by this means the company is enabled to accommodate the business.

OH WHAT !!

An assortment of Gents' Ties, latest styles, Neat and "Nobly," at J. C. BROWN & CO.

The Kingston Sentinel is a neat, well printed paper, and shows taste in its general arrangement.

Our friend W. H. Harris from near Vibbard, dropped in last week to renew his Thanks.

Our good friend R. Thompson, Craven from the Vibbard country, honored us with a substantial call last week.

A head properly constituted can accommodate itself to whatever follows the vicissitude of fortune may place under it.

Cultivate the habit of observation until it becomes fixed, and you never will be at a loss for employment of your thoughts.

Read notices of Bridge letting in this issue. If you are a builder, you stand a chance to get work to do during the dull months.

The law card of our young friend J. Ed. Hall, our new Prosecuting Attorney, appears in this issue. He is a good, reliable lawyer, and asks for a portion of the public patronage.

Our good friend Charles W. Spencer, one of the best fellows living, called and renewed this week. He is the engineer at the mill and is thoroughly posted in his business.

The rain on Friday night last carried off all the snow and there was danger to the growing wheat crops from the freeze that followed, but luckily on Sunday night another 2 inch snow fell and the wheat crop is all right as far as it lists.

Mr. Daniel Leary, the efficient Road Master on the St. Joseph Branch of the Wabash railroad, placed us under obligations last week by returning our Lawson Gazette account book, which we carelessly left on the cars about five weeks ago, and all our efforts to get it again seemed futile. Mr. Leary found it at St. Joseph.

A fire occurred at the coal mine of J. M. Milling on the farm of John Hammons, about one mile east of town, last Saturday, which burned out the timbers and this completely stopped work. This mine is a slope about 130 feet deep and the coal is raised by horse power. It will take at least two weeks to replace the timbers and get the mine in order. The damage will be about $250. The fire caught in some way from the furnace used for ventilating.

From R. V. Seward, the well-known Hardin Druggist, we learn that his brother, Noah C. Seward, gathered a measured acre of corn, from a 70 acre field he has just east of Hardin, last week, from which he got 115 bushels of corn, counting 72 pounds to the bushel. From the same ground last year he sold the crop for $25. This year he has not yet disposed of the crop for this year. Who can beat nearly 21 barrels to the acre and where is the man who said farming would not pay in this country.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Star, published at Lisbon, North Dakota, in which appears the following notice of the work in that far off country of our late fellow townsman, Rev. R. Livingston. We are gratified to hear such good reports from him.

The Baptist society, of whom Rev. R. Livingston is the pastor, is not behind the others. Regular services are held each Sunday in a building, rented for the winter, and the pastor is well promised for their church, which it is expected to have finished quite early in the summer. These laudable plans have been made for the purpose.

We learn that a bad state of affairs in our respect exists about Todd's chapel, west of town, and it should be remedied. In that neighborhood live some young men who have been in the habit of disturbing public gatherings, and last week the young lady who teaches school near by was afraid to allow a meeting of a debating society at the school house, for fear of a threatened disturbance. We get this information from a man posted in the matter, and while we have not the names of the young men who have been creating this trouble, we can say to them that the eyes of the law are upon them, and if they propose to continue their rowdy actions they will be promptly and reliably interviewed by the constable here, for they are aware of it. If young men will not respect themselves and those around them, they must be made to do it.

Editor D. O. McCray, of the Excelsior Herald, has been promoted to the position of Postmaster, at that place, and his appointment is a well deserved compliment to a faithful worker for the Republican party. He is well qualified to fill the position and will no doubt do so to the satisfaction of the public. By the way this brings to mind a little of the history of that place. When McCray first came to Excelsior, he set himself up as an Independent, and refused to aid under his true colors. We knew his political antecedents pretty well, and knew that his Independence was only assumed for the occasion and we determined to make him show up in his true light, and we were not long at it. He got mad and came squarely to the front as the champion of the Independent cause, early in the year. Now if he had not done this he could not have been appointed Postmaster, and the question is would he have come out as a Republican if he had not spoken him out? We believe he owes his appointment directly to the work of the Richmond Democrat, and we freely confess that we are not ashamed of our work as we think he will make a good officer.

The Carrollton people have worked themselves up into a frenzy in expectation of another railroad. We would advise them to keep cool. Richmond had her special fever, in expectation of the same road four or five years ago, and yet the road is not built. We always get to believe that the completion of the Burlington and Southwestern from LaCade to Kansas City, is a fraud and a snare, and that the people along the proposed line had just as well cease to get themselves excited about the matter. The fact is that if the company used an extension of that kind, they would build it and a few thousand dollars' subscription will not influence them in selecting a route. They will consider other advantages of vastly more importance, than local subscriptions, and these other advantages will win the weight in locating the route. The developed coal fields in Ray County is one of the other advantages they want to strike, and if they miss these developed coal fields that will furnish them thousands upon thousands of loads of freight every year, for the local subscription made to them in any town, we will confess that we are disappointed in the supposed intelligence of the men having this road project in their heads. Individually they are opposed to giving local aid to railroads, as they will always discriminate against non-competing points.

A good second-hand cooking stove for sale. Apply at this office. (If Warren Ewing has sold his interest in the same to his partner, M. Fowler, who will continue the business.)

Newton Strode from Seymour, Iowa, has arrived in this city and taken a position with his brother G. W. Strode, the watchmaker at Mosley's Drug Store.

We are gratified to state that the Zephyr shall be taken by mistake from the Opera House on the night of the Christmas tree has been returned.

Get out your sleighs, sleds, skates, jumpers and everything else that will go on runners. The snow may not stay with us long and you had better use it while you can.

No. They are not fencing in Richland. The fence you see on the street just east of this office is a patent, that Messrs. Lacy and Simpson propose to introduce among our farmers.

Mr. W. J. Hamilton, one of the leading farmers and stock raisers of the county, dropped in last week and renewed for his paper. Thanks.

Messrs. Powell and Craven from Excelsior Springs called yesterday. They are here with Prof. Ogden, who proposes to get up a singing class.

Mr. Thos. H. Belt called Tuesday and ordered the Democrat. He was down straightening out some financial matters, in which he succeeded.

Young Mr. Wally called last week and paid for Uncle Wyatt Craven's paper, for another year for which he has our thanks.

Mr. W. J. Houtelinger, from the Millville country, called yesterday and handed in a dollar for the Democrat. Thanks.

Anyone wishing a good farm of 100 acres, will be satisfied by applying to W. B. HARRIS, one mile east of Vibbard, Mo.

That Literary Society we have been talking about has not yet been organized. Why can't our young people get up something for the cultivation of their brains?

Mr. F. Jasper, a solid citizen from the north part of the county called on Monday and paid for his paper. He also ordered a copy sent to his son in Wright county in this State.

Mr. Elias Highower called last week and paid for subscription of Wm. Jennings. Mr. Highower is a patron of the Democrat but wandered off after strange gods. We hope to have him back in the fold.

Our young friend Jas. W. Garner, our late efficient Prosecuting Attorney, has gone back into partnership with his father and young Kil, and the new firm makes one of the strongest and best posted law firms in Missouri.

If any one knows of a marriage, death, sale of stock or real estate, or anything that will make a good, readable paper, don't hesitate to call at our office and give us the benefit of your information.

We invite attention to the law card of J. W. Shottwell, Esq., in this issue. He is an old practitioner and needs no recommendation from us for his character as a reliable, painstaking, careful lawyer. He is well known in every part of Ray county.

The smiling countenance of our friend B. McGill, of Carrollton, will not be seen periodically on our streets this year. He has given up the road for a position as manager of a hotel in Carrollton. The Richmond boys will all stop with him, and we wish him great success.

In the Pottsville Democrat's correspondence from Jefferson City, we find the following:

John E. Marton, of Richmond, withdrew from the race for assistant clerk of the House in order to leave "space" for the only prominent candidate from the northwest, and will fill a prominent position on the chief clerk's staff.

Mr. James Simpson and Mr. Lacy, of Montgomery City, have a patent granted on a patent fence that they wish to sell right in this county. We have examined the gate and pronounce it good. The model can be seen at the Court House yard. The model fence will be erected soon.

We notice the County Recorder has this week granted marriage license to our good looking and worthy young friend Dr. W. G. Estill, of Vibbard, and Miss Alice Smith daughter of our friend Wash W. Smith. The young couple have all the congratulations and good wishes it is in our power to give, and if we had the say, so would make their future lives one of unalloyed bliss.

Richard Bohanon, the well known saddle and harness maker, has taken a position with John Aker, the "Boss" saddler, at his new house on the south side of the square, and will be pleased to see all his old friends and customers there. He is a number one judge of work and promises to do the farthing by all who will come to see him.

OH SAY, MISTER!

Do you want a clean shave, a "Boss" hair-cut, or a first class shampoo? If you do, and would be sent on your way rejoicing, call at the Tonsor Establishment of R. H. L. BUSU, at Main St. He has secured a new Barber, who, as a Knight of the Razor, can't be beat anywhere. So remember the place and call on R. H. L. BUSU.

Caution Observers.—About the coolest case of sealing that has ever been perpetrated in this vicinity was that of last Sunday night, when two individuals, named Jack Dunn and Charley Robinson, respectively, deliberately entered the pasture of Thomas Jones four miles east of the city, and selecting ten nice fat swine out of a herd of two hundred drove them to market.

Jack Dunn it seems, had been on the premises of Mr. Jones as a carpenter, repairing the building, etc., but having finished his job received his pay, and came to the city on Saturday and going to the meat market of Berkley & Delany represented himself as a farmer having some hogs to sell and negotiated the sale of ten hogs to be delivered on Monday.

Robinson and Dunn accompanied Monday morning and were on hand necessarily. Especially should our physicians contradict such reports if they should get started, and it is always easy enough for them to get started.

One of our young ladies who attends the skating rink was relating her experience to a crowd of young ladies and gentlemen the other day. She is one of those fondling darlings who makes an assertion and then call on some one to back it. Her escort was present, and she said, "Oh, dear! I tell you up there, black and blue all over, and I, John! John turned red and muttered something like, "be darned if I know," and the rest of the crowd smiled out loud.

We have not been able to get facts in the case, in regard to the freeing of the feet of C. E. Mattox, a short time ago at Haller, but have had several versions of the matter. From what we heard a gentleman say, who has been looking into the matter, we judge the grantary will be called upon to go for the bottom facts in the case, and in all probability the truth will thus come out. You know the feet of Mattox have been a popular topic. There is a fair probability resting somewhere and the public should know where it is.

Mr. Joe E. Duvall, one of the "Old Guard" among the Democrats of Ray county, called and renewed this morning. Thanks.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. M. T. Sheffer, at Shiloh, Kansas, enquiring if he can get some more to start a broom factory. If he will come we will get him a room.

Week before last Samuel Fields and Wm. Moore, a young couple from Tipton, Mo., in this county, contracted to get married, and to be romantic about it. They ran off up to Kingston, where they were to be married, in a coach of matrimony. Success to them.

It is rumored that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad is about extending its road southerly through Carroll county to Lexington, where it will connect with the Chicago & Alton's new line, Rich Hill and Texas—Scotts Democrat.

It is generally understood by farmers that the best way to protect a crop is a re-emption for damage sustained by them in the loss of sheep occasioned by cause depredations, but it is not so well known that complaint must be laid in within twenty-four hours after loss is sustained, in order to obtain any benefit from an appropriation.

The question, "How long is it necessary to keep children away from school after an infectious disease contracted by some time since by the agency of medicine, Paris, with scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles and small-pox isolation is to be maintained for forty days. Chickens, peeps and mumps lose their contagious power after twenty-five days.

STUBBEN DEATH.—On Sunday morning last George was called to find an insect over the body of a man named Wm. Seale, who lived about 21 miles west of R. & L. Junction. The man had died very suddenly at about 4 o'clock a. m. last morning. It appears that Seale, who was a shrewd kind of a man, was coming to the Junction on Saturday to see a doctor. A doctor there told him to get some alum and suck it as a remedy for the complaint. It is supposed he did it. He went home and it is supposed slept during the night, until he told his wife to get up and get a light, as he was very sick. While she was getting the light he died, doubtless from strangulation. The coroner's jury, after hearing the evidence, decided that he died from causes to them unknown. And here comes in the strange part of the case. Some doctor who prescribed for the dead man on Saturday evening, was one of the sworn jurymen to hold the inquest next day, and he comes in and confesses ignorance on the point. How many practitioners are there in this county? This is a question in which the people are much interested. The body of Seale was buried and his wife sent to the poor house.

ROAD OVERSEER.

All that want to settle with County Clerk, Feb. 1st, will send their Road books to my office immediately so I can have them ready by that time.

The colored porter, J. Milton Turner and his manager, left here last week, without paying for a lot of printing ordered, and Mill. McGee will have to foot the bill. That is not what we would call a first class recommendation.

MARKETS.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch gives the Markets of yesterday as follows:

CATTLE.—Trade yesterday afternoon, after dragging more or less during the day, was better than the week before. Numerous sales made were at strong figures, as will be seen by the sales given below. The market was very promising, there being a large supply and plenty of buyers, who put in early appearances. The feeling was firm and steady, and the prospect for a large movement of business. The first movements reported below. The first movements reported below. The first movements reported below.

Hogs.—The market this morning opened a little easy, and the general tendency of the market was towards weakness. Values, however, had undergone no change except in medium grades of packing hogs, which were better. The lower Shipping and heavy grades were well sustained throughout the early part of the day; both of these descriptions were freely, the former at a range from $6.10 to $6.15, and the latter at $6.20 to $6.50, the heavy smooth hogs averaging $7.00 per hundred. The market for hogs was very quiet, and for a time the scales were in constant motion, but a considerable number of hogs were sold, and the market was considerably strengthened. Quotations at 11:30 were as follows: Light to good Yorkers $6.40 to $6.50; medium to heavy $6.20 to $6.40; and culcers $5.50 to $5.75.

J. C. BROWN & CO.

This may be called the age of new and startling things. Hardly a day passes but what something new under the sun is discovered in some department or walk of life. Joe Ewing, who clerks for Dr. J. D. Taylor, was startled yesterday afternoon by a gentleman, looking like a drummer, entering the drug store with a grip and asking for some good pills. Joe asked: "What kind of pills?"

"The best pills you have," replied the drummer.

"Yes, but we have a good many kinds; they are all good."

"I know, but I don't care for expense; I want the very best."

"Our pills are for various diseases and made of different medicines."

"Yes, but I might stand here and die before you can walk on me."

"State, sir," replied Joe, getting a little warm, "what is the matter with you and I will give you a box of pills to get rid of it."

"I want a pill that will take hold of the liver if it is affected; if not, the pill will hustle around and grab hold of the kidneys if they are diseased; if not, it will climb up to the heart and fix it all O. K., or straighten the brain out if it is in trouble," answered the drummer.

"I thought your brain was affected," we have no such pill."

"I thought not, and opening his grip I called to show you just such a line of pills. You should buy a large invoice. No well regulated drug store should be without them. I expect to put an advertisement in the Democrat, and they will sell like hot cakes, and—just here a customer called Joe and Dr. Taylor took the drummer in charge. We have not seen nor heard of him since."

Plattsburg Democrat.

Jan. McWilliam, the young man who accidentally shot his arm off, near Stewartville a week ago Saturday, died last Wednesday evening from the effects of the wound. It seems very hard for people to learn that it is dangerous to hastily catch up a gun by the muzzle.

Post-Dispatch.—"A month after the election of a democratic president and three months before his inauguration, it will not be possible to find any republicans in the 're-arrangements. The conversion is already progressing beautifully."

The police in Sedalia raided a gambling house Saturday night and captured six persons and all the paraphernalia of the game. A local gambler there swore out the warrant because, he said, it was not a square game, 53 cards being used instead of 52. This is the first case in Sedalia since the Johnson law.

Red Cloud is a modest Indian. He is in Washington demanding $10,000 for 100 horses which he alleges were taken from him by Gen. Crook's command six years ago. The average Indian horse is worth about $14 when in good condition. It is evident that R. C. has caught an idea or two from the Indian Agency method of dealing with the Government.

Intelligent people must have newspapers for themselves and their families too. Our schools are doing a good work in creating an intelligent, reading constituency, and most of the local papers in this and other states give a column or more to school and educational items cheerfully, if our teachers will furnish them.

The successful farmer is the reading one in nine cases out of ten. It is only by reading that one keeps up with the times in which we live. It has been aptly said that an agricultural community without books and papers relating to farming, is like a ship at sea without rudder or compass.—American Farmer.

Commercial Gazette: Among the items whereby the budget of the Department of Agriculture is diminished is that of sugar-making. The experiment in manufacturing sugar from sorghum at public expense is to be abandoned for the present. We are inclined to think that nothing will be lost thereby. According to reports made at the sorghum convention held in this city lately, the Government sorghum farm produced less compared to expenses than any other in the country. Private experiment in such matters is always the most valuable. The sorghum business will care for itself, now that its profitability is so apparent.

Farmers are too apt to think they are the hardest-worked and worst-paid men in the country; hence the desire of always having some one to strike out for themselves in some other business, under the impression that they can improve on the old order of things. Nine cases out of ten the move proves a failure. Stick to the farm, boys; you have a much better chance there than in the great outside world. Read, think and observe, and determine to be the best farmer in your county. Then will success crown your efforts; your work will be easy and your burden light.
