AN AGED VISITOR.—A Philadelphia paper says a lady aged 103 years came from Chester, Pa., to visit the Exhibition. She is remarkably active on her feet and lively in manner for one of her years. Her name is Martha Ferrol, and her presence on the train excited much interest among her fellow-travelers.

Remember those colored men who had the manliness and good sense to vote for Hampton and Reform on Tuesday must be protected, preferred and patronized. Show them the truth of the oft-made assertion, that the white Democrats are their best and truest friends.

Fire.—The alarm of fire was given on Friday night last, and was caused by the burning of a stable in rear of the residence of Mr. Saling Wolfe. Before the firemen reached the spot, the flames had made such progress as to render it impossible to save the building. The engine was brought out with unusual promptness, and a stream of water was soon poured upon the burning building and an adjoining one. The fire was clearly the work of an incendiary.

The Election in Fairfield.

The agony and suspense, usually attendant upon popular elections, is past at last, and we are settled down to the matter of cold calculation as to the results. In Winoosboro a more quiet election was never witnessed than the one held on Tuesday, which is creditable alike to both political parties. Long before the hour had arrived for opening the polls, a large number of white voters were present at the polling place, but the colored voters were soon on hand, and the voting proceeded briskly until after midnight. Both parties had full working and rallying committees on the ground, and voters encountered no difficulty in obtaining ballots. Very few votes were cast after three o'clock in the afternoon. As soon as the town clock struck six the polls were closed, and the managers proceeded to the count, and were engaged thereat about eight hours. The following is the result at this precinct:

Whole number of votes cast, 1213. White, 335. Colored, 878. Hampton, 496. Chamberlain, 710. Tilden Electors, 448. Hayes Electors, 741. In favor Constitutional Amendment, 1212. Against, 1.

Below is the result at the country precincts so far as heard from at the time we went to press yesterday, 2 o'clock:

THIRTY-SIX majority for Chamberlain.

Table with 2 columns: Location and Percentage. Locations include HOBEL, JENKINSVILLE, MONTICELLO, FEASTERVILLE, YONGUESVILLE, GLADDEN'S GROVE, KILLINGSWORTH, and DOKO.

One hundred and six majority for Hampton.

The Condition of the Crops.

The digest of the crop returns for October, prepared by the agricultural department, indicates a reduction in the wheat crop of nearly one sixth, while the quantity is somewhat superior. In every section of the Union there is a reduced crop, except in the Middle States, in which there is an increase of about 2 per cent.

The rye crop is 4 per cent. below last year, with somewhat better quality.

The barley crop is 6 per cent. below last year. The crop of Georgia equals last year's.

Backwheat is a full average, and rather above it.

The oats crop shows a falling off of 23 per cent. In the South Atlantic States, 1 per cent.; in the Gulf States, 5 per cent., and in the Southern inland States, 2 per cent.

The corn crop in the South Atlantic States, especially near the coast, suffered from the September storms. Maryland and South Carolina have a full average, and Georgia is largely above, but the deficiency in Virginia and North Carolina has cut down the general condition of this section to 2 per cent. below the average.

The following is the full article on cotton: The October reports indicate a reduction of the condition of cotton during the past month in the ten principal cotton States from an average of 905 to 847. The October average for these States was 888 in 1875 and 717 in 1874. The decline from September is slight in Georgia, Florida and Mississippi, greater in Louisiana and Arkansas, and greatest in Alabama and Tennessee.

The impairment of the crop prospects has been caused by the equinoctial storm in North Carolina, drought and rust in Georgia, the caterpillar in Florida and Alabama, and the boll worm in Arkansas and Tennessee. The caterpillar is confined to the southerly portion of the Gulf States; its depredations are most severe in Alabama. In most of the infected districts the reproduction was too late to destroy more than the top crops. The September gale prostrated much of the crop of Dinwiddie County, Va., and the injury from the storm of September 17 was considerable throughout the tide-water regions of the Carolinas.

It is stated that the ground in Bertie, N. C., was whitened with the staple detached by the violence of the storm. In Warner and Duplin the damage from the equinoctial storm from the 15th to the 17th September is estimated at 20 per cent., and the loss is larger in Lenoir, Pitt, Wayne, Bladen, Beaufort, Edgecombe, Greene, Chowan and Camden. The rust is prevalent in Weisner and Greene. Picking progressed slowly in North Carolina in consequence of the continuance of bad weather. The pickers in Pitt exhibit positive disinclination to work at the ruling price, 50 cents per 100 pounds. The bolls are opening rapidly in South Carolina, and the top crop will be light. There is some complaint of rust, and there has been an injurious drought on the uplands and loss from floods in the bottoms. The caterpillar is reported in Beaufort. The sea island cotton in Beaufort is yielding better than last year.

Caterpillars appeared about the middle of July in Liberty county, Ga., and stripped the plants of leaves, but not so early as to materially injure the yield. Some damage by the caterpillar is reported in Early county and Muscogee. The principal causes of deterioration were drought, rust, mud and rain. There is much complaint of deficiency of the top crop. In Carroll it is stated that the loss by shedding bolls will be fifty per cent. In some counties favorable weather for opening and gathering is reported, as well as a superiority in the quality of the fibre. It was thought in Oglethorpe that the crop would all be open by the 15th of October and in Columbia by the 1st of November. In other counties there was little to open at the date of the return.

Caterpillars have reduced the yield in Florida, notably in Columbia. The ripening has been early. The Gadsden reporter represents the harvest as nearly over, with a product of 30 per cent. less than a full yield, and says he has never known, in an experience of fifty years, a crop to be housed so early by a month.

The caterpillar has been somewhat destructive of the top crop in portions of Alabama. The loss is estimated at 50 per cent. in Conecuh, at 40 per cent. in Hale, 50 per cent. in the southern portions, where the fields were swept by the invasion as early as the 1st of September.

The causes of injury in Mississippi are worms, drought, wet weather and frosts. Drought will be seriously injured by worms in Grenada and Choctaw. In Hancock paris green was used successfully against the caterpillar. A frost sufficiently severe to do some injury is reported in Hines, Choctaw and in other counties.

The crop is injured in Louisiana very generally by drought, continuing in Jackson for ten weeks, causing rust, shedding and premature opening. Seventy-five per cent. of the product was in readiness for harvest at the first picking. The caterpillar is doing some damage to the top crop.

In Texas picking is progressing very rapidly, and in some counties the drought will reduce the length of the harvest period. The loss from drought is placed at 50 per cent. in Bexar; the top crop in Bell is nearly destroyed by grasshoppers, and in Dallas the injuries are serious. The boll worm is reported in the Red River section, and fine weather for picking. A heavy growth and tendency to run to weed in the rich lands, and more or less injury from drought in light soils, and early ripening, are the indices of the state of the crop.

In Arkansas the boll worm has been destructive in several counties, more so than ever before. In Franklin county a frost occurred on the 1st of October.

Late cotton has been injured by frost in Tennessee. The season has been fine for ripening and gathering; picking from one to two weeks early, and the harvest will be completed at an early date. Finally, the general harvest is more advanced than usual. The season is generally favorable for picking; the later pickings will be comparatively light. The causes of injury are not excessive, drought being somewhat prominent in the Gulf States, the September storms on the Atlantic coast, the caterpillar in Alabama especially, and the boll worm in Arkansas.

The season promises to be much shorter than last year, and there is less vigor and thrift for future development of fruitage in case of a prolonged season like the extraordinary one of 1875. Though the reports of the department up to October reported four and two-third millions of bales last season, there was proved a deficiency of lint to seed in the ginning, and other unfavorable indications, which would have limited the crop to four and one-third millions, but for a full month's delay of killing frost in the Gulf States, the fields being green in a large belt up to December 8th. The future of the present season cannot make the crop a deficient one, but will determine how near to the large crop of 1875 the result shall come.

Elliott and his assigns, that the money has been deposited in the Treasury of Fairfield County for the redemption of forty-six acres of land sold at delinquent land sale, June 5th, 1876, for taxes, as the property of Lucy Edgington, deceased, and purchased by the said H. L. Elliott.

MASON & HAWLIN CABINET ORGANS. Have been Unanimously assigned the "FIRST RANK" IN THE "Several Requisites" Of such Instruments, at the U. S. CENTENNIAL, 1876.

And are the only organs assigned this rank. Their superiority is thus declared not in one or two respects only, but in all the important qualities of an organ. A Medal and Diploma have also been awarded them, but medals of equal value were awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition, so that many makers can advertise "first medals" or "highest awards."

Comparative rank in excellence, has been determined by the Judges' Reports alone, in which the MASON & HAWLIN ORGANS are unanimously assigned "The first rank in the several requisites" of such instruments, and are the only organs assigned this rank. See Judges' Reports. This result was not unexpected, for these organs have uniformly taken highest awards in such competitions, there being less than six exceptions in hundreds of comparisons. They were awarded first medals, and highest honors at Paris 1867, Vienna 1873, Santos 1875, Philadelphia 1876; having thus been awarded highest honors at Every World's Exhibition at which they have competed, and being the only American organs which ever obtained any award in Europe.

Now styles, with improvements exhibited at the Centennial; elegant new cases in great variety. Prices very lowest consistent with best material and workmanship. Organs sold low for cash or instalments, or rented until rent paid. Every organ warranted to give entire satisfaction to every reasonable purchaser or the money returned.
