Mr. T. E. Cato, the local registrar under the vital statistics law, states that the people are not reporting the births and deaths as required by law. The physician or mid-wife should report each birth. A burial permit must be secured before a body is buried. The undertaker or person who has charge of a corpse is required to do this and report the death. The physician is also required to report the death of any of his patients. A heavy fine is provided for violations of this law, and ere long some innocent man or men will be arraigned before the courts for violating this law. The authorities are already beginning to investigate. Ignorance of the law is not a valid excuse for its violation.

Mr. Reuben Outen, an eighth grade student of the high school here was entered by Prof. Dukes in the interscholastic oratorical contest held at the University last Thursday night. Forty five high schools were represented and from these representatives ten were selected by preliminary contests to enter the final contest. Mr. Outen was one of the ten selected. John F. Floyd of Newberry won first place and received the gold medal. Winfred Godwin of Rome took second place. Mr. Outen is making a fine orator of himself, and by the time he is ready for college he should be able to walk off with greater honors. His subject was: "The Teacher, the Hope of America." Careless plow hands are plowing into the road ditches and dragging plows in the road in certain sections of this township, and these violations of the law are being observed by the proper authorities. It is stated that there is no desire to arraign any one, but that this carelessness must not continue.

Prof. John S. Dudley of the University of South Carolina will deliver an address at the Stafford school house next Friday afternoon. This school will close at this time with exercises by the students. Mr. J. C. Parker is the teacher, and under his management the school has had a very successful year. Mr. Parker spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here and in Lanes Creek township.

The body of Walter Stack, son of Mr. Seaborn Stack of the Tradesville section of Lancaster county, was found in a field about a mile from home Sunday afternoon with three bullet holes through the head. On Saturday morning Walter's father had sent him to the field to show his hands how to mix some fertilizer while he went to Tradesville. The body was found two or three hundred yards from the forks of the road where his father last saw him. There were tracks of two men, Walter and another walking together in the plowed land, and tracks of another in a nearby field leading to the same place. Two doctors examined the body and stated that either of the three shots would have killed instantly. Walter had not recovered fully from a shot in the neck by a man Truesdale at Cassatts, S. C. in February. This was a very dangerous wound, and his head was drawn to one side from the effects of it. The coroner's inquest was held Monday. As a result of testimony given at the inquest Ellison and James Parker, brothers in law of Walter Stack, were arrested and carried to jail. The next criminal court in that county is in June and it is expected that the Parker boys will be released on bond. The coroner's jury charged Ellison Parker with the crime, with James Parker as an accessory.
