

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

DOES THIS HIT YOU?—Some of our subscribers who pay for their paper think it an imposition that it should be borrowed regularly by parties who are just as able to pay for it as they themselves are.

SAD DEATH.—We regret to hear of the death of Master Herbert Rickenbaker, a son of Mr. T. E. Rickenbaker, who resides near Four Holes Baptist Church.

A COLD BATH.—Last Friday the Rev. J. Q. Wertz and his brother, Mr. Noah Wertz, went to the Santee River on a fishing expedition, and by some mishap their boat turned over, dumping them both into the river.

THE EUTAWVILLE RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the Eutawville Railroad Company was held last week. The annual report of President Barkley was read, and it was resolved by the meeting to take the necessary steps for the speedy completion of the road to Elmore.

ASH-WEDNESDAY.—Wednesday, the 10th instant, was the first day of Lent, and known as Ash-Wednesday; so-called because, in the early days of Christianity, it was the custom to place upon the head upon that day the ashes of palm leaves, which had been blessed on the preceding Palm Sunday.

A COMPLIMENT TO COMMODORE PRIGNALL.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eutawville Railroad Company, of which Mr. Prignall is a director, the naming of the junction of the Eutawville and the South Carolina Railroads, heretofore known as 41, was brought up.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Last Sunday afternoon our young friend, Dr. J. M. Oliver, had a most miraculous escape from death. He is in company with Mr. W. S. Stewart, when one of the bolts that hold the shafts in position came loose, letting them fall down on the horse, which, being a spirited animal, ran away.

SUNNY SIDE CEMETERY COMPANY.—Some time ago a number of gentlemen of our town arranged the above company for the purpose of buying a piece of land and converting it into a cemetery. In furtherance of this object they have bought a tract of ten acres on Sunny Side, which they will improve at once.

RAILROAD TALK.—We clip the following from the Barnwell People of last week: "Representative citizens from Aiken, Orangeburg and Barnwell counties met in Maj. Lartigue's office, Thursday, to discuss the prospects of a railroad to Jolintown.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—Mr. Henry L. Smoak, of the Fork, one of our oldest and best citizens, died last Tuesday morning at a ripe old age, being something over eighty years old. He was for many years a consistent member of the Methodist Church, in which communion he died.

OUR BREVITY BASKET.

Filled With Brief Mention of Many Minor Events of the Week.

Last Sunday was a most charming day.

There is considerable building going on in our town at the present time.

The Rev. W. R. Richardson, of Columbia, S. C., is visiting friends in town.

There was a slight change of schedule on the South Carolina Railway last Sunday.

Mrs. W. F. Phillips, of the Fork, left last Monday to visit friends in Louisiana.

Hon. Samuel Dibble arrived in Orangeburg from Washington last Saturday.

We publish no communication in our columns unless the true name of the writer is sent with it.

Preparation for planting is more backward in our County this year than we have ever known it.

On Friday night, the 5th instant, some one cut the throat of a $200 horse belonging to Dr. J. F. Folk, of Bamberg.

We wish our subscribers would look on the little tag on their papers and see how much they owe us. We need the money.

The foundation for the Methodist Church at Barnwell has been finished and the work of raising the building is now going on.

Mr. B. G. Price, Jr., of the Colleton Press has associated with him Mr. E. A. Laurey in the editorial management of that journal.

Game birds may be killed from November 1st until April 1st. This is the law and not the 15th of March as heretofore published.

The feeling among the colored people of Barnwell against Oscar Smith, who recently outraged a little colored girl, is decidedly bitter.

"Remember that if you will work right you can make half your living in your garden." Thus says the editor of the Abbeville Medium.

Dr. S. F. Williams, of Lexington County, has located in the Bull Swamp section of our County for the purpose of practicing his profession.

Mrs. Nichols, wife of our valued friend, Judge G. W. Nichols, of Spartanburg, S. C., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. E. Carlisle, of our town.

The Bossier, La., Banner has entered upon its 25th volume. We wish Brother Scanland, its able editor twenty-five years more of life and prosperity.

A Columbia girl looked in the glass the other night and thought she was an angel. She caught sight of her ears and thought they were wings. So says the Register.

Our thanks are tendered Messrs. D. M. Ferry & Co., seedsmen, of Detroit Mich., for a package of assorted garden seeds. Persons wishing to buy good seeds can ask their merchants for them.

A small house containing a lot of corn, peas and fodder, belonging to Frank Jones, an honest, hard working colored man of the Knots Mill section of our County, was destroyed by fire on Sunday night, the 7th instant.

We want every family in Orangeburg County to take and read one of the County papers. If you don't like THE TIMES AND DEMOCRAT, why subscribe for Brother Ott's paper. But don't forget to pay for it, as it is worth every cent he asks for it.

The Rock Hill Herald, looking out for the safe blowers, says: "A mystery hangs over the presence of several men now in our community. This is a free country, it is true, but it is not so free that suspicious characters may not be required to give an account of themselves.

We would most respectfully call the attention of our esteemed Branchville cotemporary to the fact that it is not the only paper between Summerville and Aiken on the South Carolina Railway since our sprightly cotemporary, the St. Georges News, sprang into existence.

THE PRICES OF LONG AGO.—We find this item going the rounds of the press: In 1807 corn sold for 60 cents a bushel, cotton 3 to 4 cents a pound, sugar 30 cents, coffee 50 cents, shot 20 cents, powder $1, tea $1, pepper 62 cents, nails 25 cents, calico and plaids 75 cents per yard, tumblers $1.25 per set, ladies' shoes $2 per pair, salt 50 cents a bushel, brandy $2 per gallon, and twist tobacco 50 cents a pound. People were less in debt than now. But then people bought necessities and did without such luxuries as they could not afford; now they buy luxuries and try to do without the necessities.

TAKE WARNING.—There is a good deal of random shooting within the limits of the city, and citizens are seriously annoyed by having their houses peppered and glasses broken, with bird shot and Parlor Rifle balls. Several narrow escapes from severe accidents have been reported. There is an ordinance prohibiting the shooting of guns, rifles, pistols, slingshots, &c., within the limits of the city, and the Mayor requests us to say that hereafter this law will be rigidly enforced. So look out or get your five dollars ready.

PERSONAL.—We had a pleasant call last week from Brother W. M. Jones, the able and accomplished editor of the Spartanburg Herald. Brother Jones is one of the handsomest editors in the State, and we believe he grows better looking as he grows older. The only thing needed most on the staff of the Herald is a good and loving wife for the editor. Take the hint Brother Jones and supply the deficiency.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—Mr. Henry L. Smoak, of the Fork, one of our oldest and best citizens, died last Tuesday morning at a ripe old age, being something over eighty years old. He was for many years a consistent member of the Methodist Church, in which communion he died. He leaves a large family connection to mourn his death, but they have the consolation of knowing that he was ready when the summons came.

SORRY TO HEAR IT.—The Rev. E. M. Broadus, who has been pastor of the Baptist Church in Camden for several years past, tendered his resignation last Sunday morning, to take effect on May 1. He has accepted a call from the First Baptist Church in Glasgow, Missouri. We regret to see such men as Mr. Broadus leave our State.

"An Ordinance to Regulate Licenses in the City of Orangeburg for the year beginning April 1st, 1886, and ending March thirty-first, 1887," was amended, and passed its second reading. On the license of "Itinerant Salesman" or "Drummer License" Aldermen Copes made a motion to amend by inserting the word "retail" after "Itinerant" and before the word "Salesman".

By Alderman Fairey: That the license of "Itinerant Salesman" or "Drummers License" be abolished. Seconded by Alderman Copes. The motion was lost by a viva voce vote. The Mayor, Aldermen Lightfoot, Williams and Minus voting "no" and Aldermen Copes, Fairey and Cannon voting "yes."

The following petition was submitted to the Honorable Mayor and Council of the City of Orangeburg: GENTLEMEN.—Being desirous of improving the State and Clafin property on the north east side of the S. C. R. R. in part of our own interest and in part of the general appearance of this portion of the city, I have placed our front fences and walks in good repair, trimmed trees and built a cottage on what has been known as the Rev. T. H. Legare place, fronting the Railway.

In order to complete improvements, to afford an outlet from the new cottage and also to accommodate the general public, I do hereby most respectfully petition your honorable body to containe College Street from a point where it crosses the R. R., nearly opposite Mr. Copes Guano House, along the east side of the R. R., and parallel with it, a distance of about 60 rods, to a country road which crosses the R. R. near the city limits.

I make this petition in behalf of a large number of people North and South who are seeking to advance the cause of morality and education in your midst. Trusting that the object of this appeal will meet with your favorable consideration, I subscribe myself, L. M. DUNTON, President Clafin University, State Agricultural and Mechanical Institute, Orangeburg, S. C., March 4th, 1886.

The petition was referred to the Committee on Streets.

A petition of resident citizens on Whitman Street was read as follows: THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, COUNTY OF ORANGEBURG, To the Honorable the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Orangeburg, in the State aforesaid:

The undersigned, citizens of the said City residing on Whitman Street in said City respectfully sheweth: That said street is very narrow, so much so as to render it almost impossible to turn vehicles therein; and as to prevent the improvement of the same by building a side-walk on either side of said street.

That the undersigned are very desirous of having the said Street widened and improved, so that travel therein may be safe and convenient, and are willing to donate the land for the purpose of widening and improving the said Whitman Street.

Your petitioners therefore pray that your Honorable Body will take the said matter under consideration, to the end that the said Street may be widened and rendered more safe and convenient for travel, &c.

And your petitioners will ever pray &c. Wm. L. Glaze, Julia D. Moseley, Geo. S. Shirer, Emily H. Glaze, Lavina J. Shirer, P. Doyle, Ph. Gerlach, J. F. Izlar, Fannie Izlar, George Boliver, T. C. Albergotti, Chas. S. Bull, Eleanor Bull, J. L. Bozard, C. W. Culler, L. E. Rowe, Henry F. Dickson, I. W. Bowman, J. N. McMichael, Lizzie McMichael, Ann A. Louis, M. C. Dibble, L. V. Whaley, H. E. Hall.

The Mayor stated that he had been requested by the citizens to accept control of the old Grave Yard on Broughton Street to prevent further interment therein only in special cases. On motion it was ordered that Council accept control of it. That a good substantial fence be placed around it and that the gate be locked and the key be placed in the hands of the Clerk of Council. And that application for interments be referred to the Mayor and if the Mayor deemed it advisable to grant permission.

The following License Bill received its third reading and was duly ratified in City Council. AN ORDINANCE to regulate Licenses in the City of Orangeburg for the year beginning April 1, 1886, and ending April 1, 1887:

SEC. 6. All licenses granted under this ordinance shall continue in force until the thirty-first day of March, 1887. F. A. SCHIFFLEY, Postmaster.

GOOD AND GOOD LOOKING.—Brother Holmes, of the Barnwell People, pays Gen. Izlar the following compliment in the last issue of his paper: "Gen. J. F. Izlar, of Orangeburg, was in town a couple of days last week. He is a good and a good looking man and makes a model Senator and chieftain of the State Democracy. After awhile, when he gets to be Judge or Governor or Editor, he will be a better looking man than he is at this writing."

A FREAK OF NATURE.—Mr. J. W. H. Dukes, of the firm of Lowman & Dukes, left at our office last week a strange freak of nature. It was a pig's leg with one fully developed foot and a partially developed foot, the last having only two toes. We never heard of anything of the kind before, and is certainly a very strange thing.

CAPTURE OF A MURDERER.—On the morning of November 3, 1884, this community was shocked when intelligence reached here that George Hanes, colored, had brutally murdered Calvin Reddin and Della Culler. It will be remembered that Hanes went to the house of Della Culler, and in an altercation shot Reddin standing in the door and also mortally wounded Della Culler. The woman died in a few hours and Reddin lingered until the next day, when he also died. Hanes remained at the scene of the tragedy for an hour or two and then made his escape. All these persons were in the employment of Mr. J. K. Hart, and the killing took place on Mr. Hart's turpentine farm, about five miles from this place. Every effort was made to find some trace of Hanes, and Sheriff Salley used all diligence to effect his capture, but nothing could be ascertained of his whereabouts, and it was supposed that Hanes had left the State. A short while since Governor Thompson offered a reward of $150 for the capture of Hanes and his delivery to the sheriff of Orangeburg. It seems now that Hanes had never left the State, and remained, at least for the greater part of the time, not far from the scene of the homicide. He was captured last Friday evening—almost nightfall—two and a half miles from Leesville, in Lexington County. Hanes has the reputation of being one of the best turpentine hands in the State, and since his escape, or, at least, recently, has been employed by W. S. Cooke upon his turpentine farm near Leesville. It seems that Mr. S. A. Cook, a son of Mr. W. S. Cooke, having found out the facts in the case, and being aware that the Governor had offered a reward, determined to secure Hanes's capture. An opportunity was awaited, and Friday, when Hanes went to receive his wages from Mr. W. S. Cooke, he was watched, traced to his rendezvous and captured while in the act of counting his money by the light of matches. His captors were Messrs. B. A. Cooke, J. J. Sheeley, B. N. Brodie and P. J. Eisenman. At 10 o'clock last Saturday he was delivered by these gentlemen to Sheriff Salley, and is now safely in the county jail.

LOOK OUT FOR HIM.—We gather from the Chesterfield Advertiser the following condensed history of a successful horse thief in Sumter and adjoining counties: A man giving his name as Columbus Miller spent the night with a Mr. Mathis in the upper part of Sumter county, some time in February, and persuaded that gentleman, by telling him a plausible lie, to lend him a horse to go to Mr. John O. Durant's, where he said he had some fox hounds which he was going after. He went from Mathis to Young's Bridge, in Kershaw county, where he traded horses with a man named Hendrix, getting $10 boot. From Young's Bridge he passed through White Plains, and then turned up towards Irvington, in Chesterfield county, where he again traded horses with Mr. W. M. Porter. He next swapped horses with an unknown party in Union county, North Carolina, and some days later he sold the mule which he received in the last trade to Pinkston of Wadesboro, for a watch and $25. He said his name was Dunn, that he was a horsetrader from Virginia, that he had sold all the stock which he had brought with him, but had more at White Plains. He then hired a horse of Mr. G. W. Huntly, of Wadesboro, to ride back to White Plains, Mr. Huntly sending a negro boy alone on another horse to bring the hired horse home. The thief managed to slip off from the negro, taking both horses, and since then nothing has been heard of him. It is probable that his rightful name is Columbus Miller; that he is a native of Lancaster, which county he left several years ago, because of his having committed some offense against the laws of the State.

The March issue of the Eclectic Magazine has as its leading article a paper by Mr. Gladstone, entitled "Prom to Genesis: A Plea for a Fair Trial," in which he carries on the old controversy against Huxley and M. Reville in favor of the orthodox view of the creation as now held. Arthur Symonds discusses "Frederi Mistral, the Provençal Poet," and George Saintsbury tells us about George Borrow, the fascinating author of "Lavengro." "Darwinism and Democracy," by W. S. Lilly, and the critical paper on the English dramatist, Middleton, by Swinburne, are both entertaining and suggestive articles. "Government in the United States," by Gamaliel Bradford, and "A Thinking Machine," by Grant Allen, recommend themselves to intelligent readers. There are several short articles of much interest, and the ensemble of the Magazine will be found fully up to its best. Published by E. R. Pelton, 25 Bond Street, New York. Terms, $5 per year; single numbers, 15 cents; trial subscription for 3 months, $1. Eclectic and any $4 Magazine, $8.

THE EUTAWVILLE RAILROAD.—Commencing last Monday, four regular passenger trains will be run on the Eutawville Railroad daily, except Sundays. The trains will run between Prignall's and Eutaw Springs, stopping at Hatleyville, Peck's, Holly Hill and Conner's. Close connection will be made with the trains on the South Carolina Railway at Forty-one Mile Station, now known as Prignall's Station. There will be two trains both going and returning. The former will leave Prignall's at 10.15 A. M. and 6.40 P. M., arriving at Eutaw Springs at 11.45 A. M. and 8.10 P. M. and will connect with the South Carolina Railway trains, which leave Charleston at 6.45 A. M. and 5.10 P. M. Returning the trains will leave Eutaw Springs at 6.15 A. M. and 4.30 P. M., arriving at Prignall's at 7.45 A. M. and 6 P. M. These trains will make connection with the down trains on the South Carolina Railway. This is the first regular schedule on the Eutawville Railroad.
