

JUDGE DANTZLER DEAD

PASSED AWAY AT HIS HOME ON YESTERDAY MORNING.

Widely Known and Most Highly Respected Citizen of Orangeburg Passes Away Unexpectedly.

The entire community was shocked yesterday morning to learn of the death of Judge C. G. Dantzler, which took place at six o'clock a. m. at his home in this city.

Charles Glover Dantzler was born March 19, 1854, near St. Matthews, Orangeburg County. He attended school at the Mt. Zion Institute at Winstboro, Kings Mountain Military School, at Yorkville, and also at Wofford College, from which he graduated in 1875.

He represented his county in the Legislature from 1884 to 1890. He was then for a number of years one of the leading lawyers at this bar, until in 1902 he was elected Judge of the First Circuit, and had just been re-elected for the third time.

Judge Dantzler leaves, besides his wife, two daughters, Miss Carrie M. Dantzler, and Mrs. Geo. R. Bowman. He is also survived by four brothers, Messrs. Olin M., Thomas W., Fred B., of St. Matthews, and Mr. M. O. Dantzler of this city.

The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the St. Paul Methodist Church. Rev. D. D. Dantzler, assisted by Rev. C. B. Smith will conduct the services. Judge Dantzler was a member of Shiloheth Masonic Lodge, of this city, and will be buried with Masonic Honors.

FIRST COTTON BLOOM.

Bowman Farmer Sends in Bloom.—Crop Much Behind.

The Orangeburg correspondent of The State says the first bloom for Orangeburg county was received in this city on last Thursday from J. S. Cook, a merchant of Bowman. Mr. Cook has a farm near Bowman in the Walnut Grove section of this county.

The cotton in Orangeburg county is about four weeks behind what it should be at this period of the year. Owing to the continued rains most of the farmers are entailed in the grass. A large amount of corn in this county is badly in need of being laid by. The rains prevented much headway in this respect and now the corn is so large that there is danger of the roots being cut off laid by.

Plan for Contest.

The executive committee of the Orangeburg County Boy's Corn Club Contests, consisting of Grady Hydrick, Gordon Hungerpillar, G. H. Whisenhant, Jr., Roy Gramling, Carlisle Witt held a business meeting Saturday morning. It was decided that the contestants in each township hold a meeting and appoint three disinterested school trustees who are to serve in passing up on the best acres, etc., for the prizes in their township. These trustees are to report to the county committee, who will decide who are to win the prizes open to the whole county.

Different Kinds of Hogs.

Orangeburg County can now boast of a different kind of hogs, than the usual run, the mule foot hogs, say the Calhoun Advance. We are familiar with the razor back, the Berkshire and the various new breeds, including the dove and partridge shooting hog, the crowded street car hog, the best seat at a public entertainment hog, the picnic dinner hog, etc., but this mule foot hog is a new one for these parts. It certainly must be a cross between the old razor back and the picnic dinner eating hog, as we know of nothing that would be more likely to develop mulish propensities.

Picnic Thursday.

The picnic of the Methodist Sunday School, which was postponed last Thursday on account of the wet grounds will be held on the coming Thursday. The mothers and fathers are urged to attend with their children. All baskets must be furnished to the committee at the church not later than 9 o'clock. It is hoped a large crowd will be present.

K. of P. Picnic.

Andrew Chapel Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold their annual picnic at Livingston Mill on the Kennerly Road, July 5. There will be addresses by the new Grand Chancellor J. W. Doar, of Georgetown, and Dr. L. K. Sturkie, of Orangeburg. The public is cordially invited to attend with well filled baskets.

Kelly's Wood Yard.

For the best grade of wood and coal, call up J. B. Kelly, the wood man. Oak and pine mixed, and cut to the proper lengths. Send an order for trial load, and you will always buy wood at his yard. Also dealer in ice and makes deliveries to any part of the city. Call or phone.

ATTENDING SUMMER SCHOOL.

Seventy Teachers in Attendance at This Time.

The summer school which opened last Monday, and which continues several more weeks, is having a very successful session. There are in attendance sixty-two young ladies, and eight young men, making a total of seventy who are taking the courses prescribed. The following is a list of those attending: Addie Parler, Marian Funches, Iva Williams, Chivolet O'Neal, Jose Shuler, Martha Saugley, Kate Bell, Sallie Wannamaker, Ethel Mack, Mattie Funches, Jessie Dukes, Agnes McCants, Florine Axson, Evelyn Holman, Minnie Smith, Annie V. Sharp, Carrie Bruner, Hattie Zeigler, Belle Funches, Maud Radcliffe, Rubie Joynor, Mae Albergott, Azile B. Nix, Julia Tresvant, Janie Grubbs, J. C. Hungerpillar, Alma Bowman, H. W. Peary, Alma Collier, W. N. Marchant, Emma Crum, T. P. Horger, Jr., Florie Dukes, John Ina-nct, Agnes Riggs, Willie Zeigler, Carrie O'Neal, Guy Kennedy, Mabel Boone, Hydrick Hilderbrand

CATTARRH GOES.

So Does Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup and Asthma.

You can easily tell by reading the symptoms below, whether you have catarrh or not:

Offensive breath, frequent sneezing, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose, huskiness of the voice, tickling in throat, droppings in throat, a cough, pain in chest, loss of strength, variable appetite, spasms of coughing, low spirited at times, raising of mucus, difficulty in breathing, loss of vital force.

J. G. Wannamaker Mfg. Co., has a sensible remedy (money back if it fails) for catarrh, called Hyomei (pronounced Hy-o-me) which is a vaporized air, so antiseptic, that when it is breathed over the inflamed and germ-infested membrane, it kills all germ life, gives relief in two minutes and cures catarrh.

The price, including hard rubber inhaler, is only $1.00. The hard rubber pocket inhaler will last a lifetime, so that should you need a second bottle of Hyomei, you can get it for 50 cents.

Death of a Little Boy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Troutman's home was saddened on June 13 by the death of their little son, Robbie, who was a little over eighteen months old. His death was caused by his getting hold of concentrated lye, which he drank thinking it was water last December. But the little fellow's throat began growing shut and it caused death instantly. A precious bud plucked from earth to bloom in heaven. His death is a crushing blow to his parents who have the deep sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

Paper from Corn Stalks.

We are again told that a way has been found to economically convert corn stalks into print paper. As the same thing has been said more than once in the past it is possible that the last statement is also premature. Still there is every reason to believe that sooner or later corn stalks and other substances now wasted will be made into paper to the no small joy of the farmer and printer. Ultimately, no doubt, cornstalks will be as valuable a by-product for the farmer as cotton seed is to the cotton growers of the south.

The Farmer.

The farmer leads a merry life, He has not much to do, But just to raise a few pork chops, To sell to me and you, And if he wants a motor car, To save his lazy legs, Then all that's requisite is just To raise the price of eggs.

The farmer is a happy man, He drinks the richest milk, His daughters dress in satins, And his wife can dress in silk, For him the Brahmas cackle, And for him the Jerseys moo, I think I'll quit this city life, And be a farmer, too.

Two Robberies.

Last Friday night a window of Douglas Brothers store was raised up a little, and burglars from the outside took a suit of clothes, watch, and a few other things. They seemed to have had a pole with a hook at the end of it and in this manner took the goods from the raised window. Not very long ago the boat house of Mr. John Cart was broken into and his tools, rifle and some other articles were removed. Mr. Cart has offered a reward of $25 for the apprehension of the guilty party.

GOING TO CANADA.

Statistics Show that Farmers Are Leaving the United States.

According to the figures given by the Canadian bureau of immigration thousands of American farmers are emigrating to that country each year. The bureau's fiscal year ends on March 31. Records show that from the year 1897 to March 31, 1910, immigration from the United States into Canada aggregated 425,460, which is 25,000 in excess of the entire Canadian immigration from all the countries of continental Europe for the same period. During those years the immigration into Canada from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales amounted to 540,621. In the fiscal year 1908-09 the immigration from the United States began to show excess over that from Great Britain and Ireland, the comparative figures being 59,832 from the United States as against 52,901 from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Though the official figures for the fiscal year 1909-10 are not as yet available, it is known that the United States immigration for that period will approximate 100,000, which will be about 40,000 in excess of the exodus from this side of the line in any previous year. While the American immigration into Canada is increasing rapidly—and the bureau officials confidently predict that it will reach 130,000 or more during the coming year—the immigration into the Dominion from all parts of the British Empire shows a decreasing tendency. England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales contributed 120,182 in the fiscal year 1907-08 and only 52,901 in the fiscal year 1908-09.

NEW INDUSTRIES.

The Towns Should Always Be Ready to Assist its Young Men.

The most perplexing, as well as the most important phase of city building, is the effort to attract new industries. It perplexing, because of the host of blood sucker enterprises that are looking for tax exemptions and stock subscriptions, with the purpose of moving on as soon as they have squeezed one town. Nevertheless, our competitors are getting good propositions. We should scan trade papers and commercial news with a microscope to be the first to set forth the advantages of our city to any who may seek a location. Oftentimes the most hopeful proposition comes from some of our young men, who find no favorable opportunity to advance with older concerns. They may know their business thoroughly, have good ability, and yet all the lucrative positions may be so filled that they must get out or remain subordinate forever. Big industries from outside, which may go as quickly as they come, are less worthy of help, than the smaller beginnings of our own young men who are attached to their home city.

News at Neeces.

We have here one of the finest towns now on the Seaboard Air Line Railroad.

We also now have two automobiles, owned by Dr. G. C. Bolin and J. B. Tindal.

Arrangements are on foot for the organization of a new bank here. A nice building will soon be built for it, in fact, the building committee has already been employed by the directors to order the material.

Mr. Tucker enjoyed the confidence of the people of Branchville as few men have. Arrangement have been made to have the corpse sent home, where it will be interred. Mr. Tucker is survived by his wife, Mrs. Janie C. Tucker, and one son, J. Frederick Tucker.
