Don't Have That Kind. The Florence Times says: "We note the fact that a certain couple in the coast country is asking for damages from the Coast Line because they allege that they were badly treated by one of the Coast line officials. We do not know what the couple were doing, but we know on general principles that when any one charges an official of the Coast Line with handling them roughly they are more than apt to be telling something that they cannot prove, for the Coast Line does not have that kind of officials."

GOOD ROADS LEAGUE.

The Alken Convention Proved a Great Success.

The South Carolina Good Roads and Drainage League met in Alken Wednesday morning, President Jas. Cosgrove, of Charleston, presiding. The meeting was largely attended and the business session which convened at one o'clock was given close attention. After the opening talk of the President the league was welcomed to the city by Hon. D. S. Henderson, and responded to by Hon. Samuel Dibble, of Orangeburg. The supervisors of several counties then made reports on the work in their respective counties.

George D. Marshall, a government road expert told in detail of his work on a model highway near Alken stating that the total cost wouldn't exceed $500 a mile, the roads is 30 feet wide and consists of ten inches of mixed hand clay all of which is secured by the roadside.

Congressman Levee made a splendid address, consisting of facts and figures, which showed that South Carolina is losing annually $6,000,000 from bad roads, in the transportation of farm products alone. If improved roads will increase the price of lands $1 per acre, which is less than half the estimated increase this state would be benefited $19,000,000 by good roads and the main question now to be considered by people is what does it cost not to have good roads.

Wednesday night a reception was tendered the delegates at the "Titanian hall by the people of the city, which was a very pleasant affair. A number of Aikenites called during the evening, and delightful refreshments were served.

Hon. D. S. Henderson presented the "Mystic Race" prize, a beautiful loving cup to Mr. Elliott Glover of Orangeburg, whose car won first honor.

The cup for the best decorated car, was awarded to Mr. R. B. Carter of Aiken.

ROW AT ANTIOCH CHURCH.

Whiskey and Cider Inspire Riot at Negro Church.

The St. Matthews correspondent of The News and Courier says Sheriff Dantzer brought in Dock and Dick Roach, Jake Zeigler and David Johnson, all colored, late Wednesday afternoon and lodged them in jail on the charge of riot and disturbing public worship.

The facts go to show that "Dock" Roach and David Johnson got into an altercation about the use of a certain team. Boards were vigorously and liberally applied, knives were drawn, the adjoining public road to Antioch Colored Church, eight miles above St. Matthews, was blockaded by the mixup, and passing white ladies fainted over the threatening aspect of matters.

Antioch Church has unfortunately been the scene of more riots and melees than any other spot in Calhoun County. For this reason, it is understood, that the authorities of the church are back of the movement to push the matter to the limit. Doc Roach, the leader of the gang, has served time on the gang in Orangeburg County, and bears a rather bad reputation. Whiskey and cider were flowing freely on the church grounds when the riot took place last Sunday.

PEANUTS SALVATION OF SOUTH.

They Should be Recourse of Weevil Ridden Farmers.

Will the goober conquer the boll weevil? Will the cotton mills of the weevil-ridden belt be turned into peanut oil manufacturing? Judge L. M. Pipkin, of San Antonio, Tex., the owner of a large plantation in St. James parish, Louisiana, answers affirmatively. Judge Pipkin, who arrived at New Orleans Thursday night, declares that peanut production is the salvation of the cotton planters who suffer from the ravages of the boll weevil. He says the hilly lands infested with the weevil will yield per acre from 20 to 65 bushels of peanuts, valued at $1 per bushel, and that the peanut may be easily disposed of at from $12 to $15 a ton.

He says these lands will not yield more than $20 to the acre in cotton. Judge Pipkin stated that peanut oil is sold, principally in Europe, for a better price than olive oil and that the peanut oil cake is an excellent stock food.

Sale of Seats for "Graustark."

Seats will be placed on sale this morning for the performance of "Graustark," at the Academy of Music tonight, and all indications point to one of the largest advance sales of the season. Good accounts of the performance continue to reach us from the exchanges of nearby cities, and it is safe to recommend "Graustark" as one of the best attractions that will appear here this season.

Basket Band Bazaar.

The ladies of the Basket Band, which is one of the most practical ladies organizations in the city, are getting ready for their usual Bazaar, which will be held this year on Dec. 1 and 2. It is said that the Bazaar this fall will be equal, if not better, than anything ever held by the ladies of the Basket Band, which is saying a good deal. Further announcement will be made from time to time.

Mayor Dukes is Bitten.

Mayor Dukes while on a visit to his father's home Thursday, was attacked as he entered the gate by a dog, which bit him in the calf of the leg. The wound was attended to at once, and it is not considered to be at all serious.

WOODFORD NEWS.

School Now Hard at Work.—Much Cotton Sold.

Woodford, Nov. 2.—Special: The recent price for cotton has created a somewhat busy street scene in our little village, and put pocket change in evidence, wreathing in smiles the faces of our merchants. From the sound of our ginnery there are yet other "good things" in store. Our school has settled down to hard, regular work, with a stronger determination than ever before, and with a decidedly new pleasure in work. We anticipate for this the best year in the school's history. We are laying many plans to place our school toward the front. The kind ladies of the community have recently provided two ice-cream festivals, the proceeds of which are to be expended toward the erecting of a music room. We have already in our possession a handsome grand piano, a recent addition to our school secured through the Marchant Music Co., of Orangeburg. Miss Elizabeth Roberts, of Erhardt, is in charge of the school's music department and under her proficient direction the progress indicated as possible is thoroughly encouraging. We are soon to give at our school building a re-production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It." We are glad that our people here are growing stronger financially, morally and intellectually and that the best interest of the community is being pushed forward along all lines. We trust that this section may yet contribute much to Orangeburg's future greatness, and do her full share in up-holding a splendid past of which the County should be proud.

AT THE THEATRE.

"Graustark" Today Matinee and Evening.—Opera Next Week.

Today—"Graustark." Matinee and night. Tuesday—Manhattan Opera Company: "Bohemian Girl."

"Graustark" Today.

"Graustark," dramatized from the novel of Geo. Barr McCutcheon, by Geo. D. Baker, will be presented at the Academy of Music today, matinee and night. There is a distinct literary flavor to the play, for it is well written, is true to the laws of dramatic structure, and has a continuous and well developed plot, with characters that are human. Geo. D. Baker, who adapted the book for stage purposes has followed the text closely and built a play that is realistic and interesting from the moment the curtain rises on the two Americans at the Continental Hotel until it falls on the two lovers seated on the throne in each others arms. The seats are now on sale at Lowman's Drug Store and if you are going to get a seat you had better wake up for they are selling fast. Prices: matinee, lower floor 75, balcony 50; night, 100, 75, $1 and $1.50.

Manhattan Opera Company.

Much interest is being shown here in the coming engagement of the Manhattan Grand Opera company at the Academy of Music Tuesday night when they will present "Bohemian Girl" than in any musical event announced in a long time, probably because grand opera in English has been such a rarity in the past few years all over the country. Mr. Robert Kane, who has presented grand opera in English most successfully every season for a number of years, but only in the very large cities, has decided to send the Manhattan Opera on a general tour. This organization number 30 and the costumes and effects of the various operas of their repertoire are all new. The prices for this engagement are 25, 50, 75 cents and $1.00. Seats will be on sale at Lowman's Monday.

WHY A YOUNG MAN

Should Enter Actively Into the Democratic Party.

Ex-Gov. Charles B. Aycock, of North Carolina, says young men are always generous. Selfishness has not been developed in them. They realize that life is a struggle, but they also know that the ultimate results are in favor of those who are right. The Democratic party stands for right principles. It believes that the power to tax is the power to destroy. Government cannot run without taxation. We concede to Government, therefore, the right and power to tax us for its purposes, but we deny the right of Government to tax us for the purpose of enriching any part of our people. A young man should be a Democrat because, for the present, it requires of him some sacrifice. The Republicans have so run this government as to make sections out of different parts of the United States. A Southerner is denied participation in the National Government unless he turns renegade to his section. But our want of participation in the affairs of the nation is a discipline to us. If we remain faithful to principle, as our fathers before us did, our day will come as certainly as the sun shines.

The people who sacrificed their lives and gave their blood in behalf of independence, although it seemed that they were losing everything, really established everything and rendered possible the hope of the present generation. If we are faithful we may not reap the rewards ourselves, but our children shall gather the fruits of our labors. "He also serves who merely stands and waits." We need only to wait. The world is coming to our way of thinking. Let no man forget himself. But let us do the right thing in the hope and confidence of righteousness.

Lancaster-Bolen.

The wedding of Miss Estelle C. Lancaster, of Govan, and Rev. Paul A. Bolen, of Orangeburg, occurred Wednesday, Oct. 26, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie R. Lancaster. The bride was attired in a lovely gown of cream silk and carrying a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums and ferns. They entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Anna McCormick, of Olar. The ceremony was then very impressively performed by Rev. John R. Smith, of Cordova. At noon a bountiful dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother. The popularity of this couple was evidenced by the many and useful presents received. Rev. and Mrs. Bolen were carried by Mr. J. D. Whissenhunt, of Orangeburg, in his automobile to Bamberg, from where they left for Charleston and other points. Mrs. Bolen is one of Govan's most winsome and charming young ladies, gifted with a really pleasing and magnetic personality and is loved by all who know her. Rev. Bolen is a successful young minister, and a host of friends wish them continued success in their life of service for many years.
