

FAIR A GRAND SUCCESS

OPENING DAYS BRING GREAT CROWDS OF VISITORS.

Fair as a Whole Surpasses the Expectations of Every One.—A Huge Success.

The Orangeburg County Fair opened Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. People began entering the gates immediately upon their being opened although it was at 11 o'clock that the greatest crowd came along with the trades display. It is said that about 2,500 people entered the grounds at the various times.

Comments upon the Fair have all been favorable. In not an instance has an adverse criticism been met with. Men who have traveled say that it beats any county fair they have ever seen, while there were some who declared that it equaled the State Fair. The weather for Tuesday was good, although it drizzled in the middle of the day and towards dark rained considerably. Yesterday morning, however, all the clouds had cleared away and it was an ideal day for the fair.

The educational program was carried out Tuesday. From all over the county representatives were sent, and although there had not been time enough to work up the educational program as full as was desired, a very interesting and enjoyable part of the Fair it proved to be, and added many young faces to the crowd at the Fair Tuesday. The spelling bee was won by Miss Marie Hydrick, of Trinity, Miss Hhito, of Bowman, came second and Miss Elizabeth Glaze of Orangeburg came third. The finish was exciting.

In the athletic department Branchville was the winner on most occasions. Dukes, of Branchville, won the half mile race and also the 100 yard dash. The sport was viewed by a large crowd and considerable attention was paid to each contestant as he made his effort.

The winners of the prizes offered to the Orangeburg County Corn Club was announced as follows: Gary Fairley of Branchville won the first prize of $10 offered by The Times and Democrat; Dannie Bozard, Orangeburg, won the second prize, a two-horse Oliver Chilled Plow presented by M. O. Dantzier, and Rallie Edwins won the third prize of $3. The yield was 71, 60, and 54 bushels respectively. The other entrants in the contest were: Wilbur Steedley, Ollie Hydrick, Detria Livingston, Gervey Garrick, and Andrew Grambling.

There was only one automobile race, which was arranged impromptu that the spectators could see one. The race was ten miles and was won by Mr. Cecil Culler in a Maxwell.

The exhibits are fine. The poultry, swine, horse and mule, and cattle departments each have separate buildings in which competing animals are stalled. Some fine animals are on display and such contests fire in the county should stimulate the farmers more in that direction.

The awards were being made yesterday and in few departments were the judges through before late in the afternoon. As the winners are only numbered and each number refers back to the key kept by the Fair officials, and it was impossible to get the awards in shape of publication for today's paper. As soon as possible a complete list of the prize winners will be published.

SOME FINE EXHIBITS.

Are Being Shown in the Main Building at the Fair.

The center of the most interest at the Fair is undoubtedly the main building, in which the field crop department, the art department, the floral department, the fancy work department and the household department have their exhibits. During the entire day people walk to and fro in the building viewing the various exhibits. These exhibits are what surprised most people. The fancy work department especially was declared to be better than any seen at the State Fair, and in all cases nothing but praise was heard.

In this building also are the various firms who are advertising their business at the Fair. Among them are representatives of M. O. Dantzier, J. W. Smoak, Marchant Music Co., Orangeburg Coca Cola Co., State Board of Health, Culler and Salley, Quaker City Mills, Coe Mortimer Co., of Charleston, The Times and Democrat, L. Bennett and Co., Stokes Business College of Charleston.

Orangeburg College has an exhibit at the Fair, which was very pretty and shows up to the advantage of the College. The exhibits of both The Clafin and The State College were excellent, showing how the colored students at these places are taught, tailoring, sewing, wood work, iron work, cooking and in all cases some useful occupation. Especially interesting were some tools and a bed made by students at The State and a carved table by The Clafin students.

A Very Sad Death.

Little Albert, six years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bruce, of Branchville, passed away on Monday after a short illness with pneumonia. He was a bright and promising little fellow, the idol of his fond parents and a great favorite with all his schoolmates and older friends. He had just entered school at the beginning of the present term and his teachers were proud of the progress he was making in his studies. Two weeks ago he contracted a severe cold which later developed into pneumonia, and in spite of all that loving care and medical skill could do for him the Master called him and he heard.

AWARDS IN ART DEPARTMENT.

The Blue Ribbon Winners And Who Came Second.

It is extremely difficult to get a list of the persons winning premiums for various exhibits for two reasons. First, all exhibits are arranged by numbers and you have to get each number's name, and second, the judges did not finish awarding the ribbons until late yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. K. Sease, the very efficient superintendent of the Art Department, was able to furnish us the following list of awards in her department:

- Landscape—Miss Kathleen Wannamaker, first; Miss Alice Stribling, second.
- Animals—Miss Kathleen Wannamaker, first.
- Median—Miss Kathleen Wannamaker, second.
- Painting—Miss Jose Shuler, first and second prizes.
- Fruit in oil—Miss Delle Salley, first.
- Marine scenery in oil—Mrs. J. W. Smoak, first; Miss Jose Shuler, second.
- Flowers in oil—Miss Allie Mack, first; Mrs. A. W. Summers, second.
- Crayon Figure Work—Miss Margaret Stokes, first.
- Pastelle—Miss Zoe Zeigler, first.
- Water Colors—Mrs. W. K. Sease, first.
- China—Mrs. W. K. Sease, first; Mrs. A. S. Kennedy, second.
- Rickenbaker, first.
- Woodwork in Fine Art—R. E. Hand-painted Frame Work—Mrs. J. W. Smoak, first.
- Tapestry—Miss Adelle Salley, first.
- Pastell Scenery—Miss Gladys Morgan, first.
- India Ink Drawing—J. I. McMichael, first.
- Mrs. S. G. Parler, Miss Margaret Stokes and Mrs. McMichael deserve special mention for China painting.

THE TRADES DISPLAY.

And Which One of the Floats Won the Prize.

The most impressive and beautiful feature of the opening of the Fair was the long Trades Display which passed through the streets from the Atlantic Coast Line Depot to the Fair grounds. About forty floats, representing all the leading firms of the town, were in the procession and among them there were several very beautiful ones, while all were good.

Some time and thought had been upon the preparation of most of them, and as a result the show was magnificent. The judges, Dr. T. A. Jeffords, J. T. Liles and G. R. Bowman, who were to award a first prize of $20 and a second prize of $10 had no easy task before them. They carefully considered the various floats and finally late Tuesday announced their decision. The first prize went to The Orangeburg Bakery, and the second to The Orangeburg Fertilizer Co. Both of these firms had especially attractive floats.

DISAGREE ON EVERYTHING.

First Female Jury in Los Angeles a Flat Failure.

Unable to agree on anything, the first women's jury to sit in Los Angeles, Cal., was discharged late Friday. The case was that of I. H. Nago, accused of having violated the speed ordinance, and arraigned in a Justice's Court.

After listening patiently for three hours to testimony and arguments, the jury, at 12:30 o'clock, was notified to get ready for luncheon. Twelve eating places were selected by the twelve jurors. Then two said they did not want to go at all. In vain did Justice Forbes urge them to reach an agreement as to a place for luncheon.

Finally, at 1:30 o'clock, he ordered them locked up again. The Justice, too, lost his luncheon. At 5 o'clock, after four and a half hours' deliberation, the jury reported that it was unable to agree on a verdict, and the Court ordered its discharge.

Death of Mrs. E. O. Arant.

Mr. Ellis O. Arant died Tuesday morning of last week at his home in the McAlhany section six miles south of Branchville, after an illness of but a few days. Mr. Arant was in the 50th year of his age. Practically all his life he had lived in the section where he died and he was highly regarded as a staunch true citizen. He is survived by his wife and his mother, Mrs. Marcena Arant, who have the sympathy of the entire community. A Democrat has been aide in his municipality in their bereavement.

Another New Mail Route.

The postoffice department contemplates the establishment of another rural free delivery route out of Branchville. The new route would run south to a point seven miles out on the old State road, thence northeast about one mile in Dorchester county where it touches R. F. D. No. 1 from Reevesville, then northwest to Branchville. The total distance covered by the proposed route is a little more than seventeen miles and it is estimated that about thirty families will be served.

Good Football Game.

The football game between Charleston and Sumter High Schools resulted in a tie, 11 to 11. During the first half of the game it seemed to be all going to Charleston, the score at one time being 11 to 0 in favor of Charleston, but the Sumter boys came back, and in the third quarter by a wonderful dash gained about 70 yards for a touch down, but failed to kick goal. In the remainder of the game Sumter scored six points and ended the game 11 to 11.

CONTEST UNDER WAY.

About Fifty Contestants Have Entered the Race.

The Times and Democrat's Grand Piano Contest made a very favorable beginning Tuesday morning, the first day of the Fair. As early as eight o'clock votes were being cast for the contestants, since that time things have been moving. Now about fifty ladies have declared their intention of entering the contest, and all who desire should do so at once and not get behind in the start.

Among the most pleasing features of The Times and Democrat's contest is the fact that so many people will be given a chance to win a prize. Each person that enters the race has a chance to win either of the three prizes, the piano, the machine or a set of dishes. All these prizes have been at the Fair grounds on exhibition and many complimentary remarks have been made. These prizes are all to be given away and now is the time to enter the race.

Another part of our program which has been especially well received is that in The Times and Democrat's contest no bonus votes will be issued for any circumstances whatever. A subscription gotten at the first of the contest will count for the same number of votes as one gotten at the end, and each contestant's votes will represent the work she has done. In this way, no contestant will be able by putting in a few hours of strenuous work at the end, or by just putting forward so much money for subscription, to win the prize on account of the huge bonus vote offers. Therefore the contestants can go to work early in the race and be assured that the value of their work in the beginning will not be discounted towards the end, in order to make the race exciting.

Below we publish the list of those who have entered the contest so far. Each day names are added. Look over the list. Are there any from your township? If not, send in your name at once and get a start over the other contestants from your township. Someone has to win the prizes, a little effort and that person will be you. Begin today and keep at it.

- Union—Misses Docia May, Lizzie May, Mary Thomas, Ethel Blewer, Wilhelmina Smith, Lella Antley, Willie Lou Hayden, Louise Green, St. Clair Cope, Glen Fogie; Mrs. M. J. Thomas, M. J. Hutchins.

- Townville, S. C.—Miss Rosa Smith.

WHERE IS JONES?

Convicted Murderer of Abe Pearlstone Has Authorities Up in the Air.

A Columbia dispatch to the Charlotte Observer says it transpires that nobody there knows exactly what is the status of John J. Jones, the attorney who was sentenced at Orangeburg some months ago to serve ten years and a day in the State penitentiary for the murder of Abe Pearlstone, a merchant, in Branchville, where both Jones and Pearlstone lived.

Jones' attorneys gave notice of intention to appeal and shortly afterwards Jones was removed at his own request to the State penitentiary to await the determination of his appeal because the prisoner thought the Orangeburg jail unsanitary. The appeal was never perfected and none therefore is pending so that curiosity is expressed as to why Jones has not commenced serving his sentence. Governor Blease has refused an application for clemency.

Capt. D. J. Griffith, superintendent of the penitentiary, said that he understood Jones had an appeal pending, but that whether this was the case or not, the penitentiary held Jones at this time only subject to the order of the Orangeburg county authorities.

Gen. U. R. Brooks, clerk of the Supreme Court, said Jones had no appeal pending in that court and in fact he knows nothing whatever officially concerning Jones' status. Counsel for Jones, the Orangeburg law firm of Wolfe & Berry, could not be communicated with Monday night.

Berkeley Cotton Meeting.

The Columbia Record says a mass meeting of Berkeley county cotton farmers and others interested is to be held at Moncks Corner Friday of this week, according to an invitation received by Commissioner Watson and Secretary Reid of the Farmers' union. The meeting is to discuss and give an impetus to the cotton campaign in that section of the State. On account of a previous engagement, Commissioner Watson has been obliged to decline the invitation.

Will Soon Resume Work.

The president of the Santee Cypress Lumber Company makes the following statement: "The conditions are as follows: The saw mill is temporarily closed for repairs, this being a propitious time on account of the great difficulty in securing colored labor to operate. Likewise the railroad logging operations are temporarily closed for the same reasons, and also because we have ample river logs in sight to start the mill and run during the winter without railroad logs. The balance of the plant is in full operation and will continue so. The company is not contemplating a sale of its plant."

Fee Entertainments.

There are several fine free entertainments at the Fair. The Brickett team in a wonderful aerial display of trapeze work entertain the crowd pleasantly. Then is the high dive in a net from a height of 100 feet. At night crowds of jolly, laughing people battle with confetti and have a general good time.

BOWMAN NEWS.

Cotton Market Fast.—Local News of Interest.

Bowman, S. C., Nov. 13th.—Special: The weather for some time back has hampered cotton picking no little in this section, the past week especially so, but few days during which any cotton could be picked at all. Some few farmers have nearly reached "the goal" with the end of picking in sight, but a large majority are "way behind" with a prospect of never getting all picked. Something remarkable for South Carolina. Much of the staple is still being sold on the local market here, the receipts being largely in excess of any previous in Bowman's history. Notwithstanding this a good portion is being held for better prices, this being noticeable on the premises of many farmers hereabout.

Mr. Phillips C. Riley accompanied by Dr. J. T. Carter took his little daughter that has been ill ever since a spell of whooping cough last spring to Columbia for an X-ray examination by an expert physician of that city last week.

Supervisor Felder spent a night recently with Mr. P. C. Riley and stated that he would soon make much needed improvements on public road from Mr. Wilson's down to Mr. Utsey's. The writer is looking forward with pleasant anticipations of the proposed improvement on this highway and will watch eagerly for the sight of the chain gang at work on this highway which has always been in such bad shape.

Mr. J. L. Shuler is selling his car load of stock at a lively rate. He is a good judge of stock and is gaining large experience along the line.

Mrs. O. P. Evans grandmother is on a visit here for a while, her home being at Greenwood. She is accompanied by Mr. Frank Beacham, a brother of Mrs. Evans, who will also spend some days here.

Mr. Bishop, a former carrier on R. F. D. No. 2 is visiting relatives in this highway which has always been daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Westbury between here and Reevesville several years ago.

Mr. Billie McGrew, near Elloree, was on a prospective of the farms of the Bowman Land and Improvement Co. one day last week, with the anticipation of locating at this place. This is a fine opening here for small farmers and terms are reasonable indeed for all those who have energy along this line.

An effort is being made to have improved mail facilities in connection with Bowman and the surrounding country. The present status of affairs on this line is far from satisfactory to the many parties concerned and it is hoped that the contemplated efforts now being conducted for some relief will soon be a reality and not a myth.

A number of Bowman folks will visit the fair this week and are looking forward for a large degree of pleasure thereat.

Meet me at the County Fair this morning.

Nearly everybody met everybody at the County Fair on Tuesday.

Mr. August Kohn of Columbia was among the Fair visitors yesterday.

We know of one private family that fed and slept nineteen visiting friends on Tuesday night.

Mr. T. H. Hitchcock, of San Diego, Cal., well known to many in this city is visiting Mr. E. N. Scoville.

The trades display Tuesday morning was simply splendid, and reflected credit on the business men who got it up.

Hon. J. A. Banks and Mrs. Banks, of St. Matthews were at the Fair grounds yesterday.

President Dabbs of the Farmers' Union was at the Fair yesterday, and made a talk to the farmers. He is optimistic about the Union and the cotton outlook.

Orangeburg kept open house this week, which is just as it ought to be. Every boarding house and hotel in the city was crowded this week by Fair visitors.

Prof. D. W. Daniel, of Clemson College, was a welcomed visitor to the Fair grounds on Tuesday. He made a most practicable and eloquent address, which was heard by a large crowd. Such talks do much good.

Petitions were circulated last week at Lincoln Springs, Kansas, asking that the sending out of reports of the "tar and feather" case, which goes to trial Wednesday, be prohibited for the sake of the honor of the community. The trial of the fourteen men charged with tarring Miss Mary Chamberlain, a school teacher of Shady Bend, will be held in the district court before Judge Grover.

PREVENT DISEASES.

The State Aids You to Do So at Its Own Cost.

Among the most instructive—probably the most valuable—single exhibit at the County Fair is that under charge of Dr. F. D. Rodgers, of Columbia, an official of The State Board of Health. The State Board has been doing more work lately than ever before and countless valuable pamphlets are prepared by them telling you of various infectious diseases in simple words and how to prevent. Their work is entirely in bettering the health of the State.

At the recent State Fair this department had an exhibit and the same one has been sent to Orangeburg under Dr. Rodgers. This is the first county fair it has yet visited. Dr. Rodgers talks very interestingly to all interested about various diseases, although at present he is particularly talkative about hookworm, one of which he has for inspection upon a microscope. He has many pamphlets, concerning contagious diseases which he is giving away. He shows diptheria anti-toxin, typhoid vaccine, small pox vaccine, pictures of people suffering from the hook worm, and also gives to anyone cartons for sending hook worm examinations to Columbia. He is calling special attention to a sanitary privy, which can be erected for about six dollars, and which will aid largely in keeping down typhoid, and other diseases carried by flies.

Advertising Brings the Business.

The business man who does not advertise might almost as well put his goods in a basement as on the shelves of his store. He does not realize the truth of the statement made by Lord Macaulay years ago when steam was the great motive power, that "Advertising is to business what steam is to machinery." He would soon know the truth of it to his great financial gain if he would but test it. This is what the progressive business man does with consequent prosperity to himself and of gain to the public.

Signs Four Death Warrants.

Four death warrants have been signed by Gov. Jared Y. Sanders of Louisiana, to be executed in the state penitentiary this city on January 12 next. One white man and three negroes convicted on murder charges will be hanged unless the pardon board intervenes.
