

THE FALL OPENING.

Caldwell & Haltiwanger, Mrs. J. H. Hair and J. A. Minnaugh—Everything Lovely.

The weather for the fall and winter openings was exactly what would have been desired by the merchants in the city had they had the choosing of it, for the day, while perfectly clear and sunny, was one of those cool, brisk days that always makes one feel like a change for something new and heavier. The soft, balmy Indian summer weather which prevailed during the last few days of September on Wednesday and Thursday changed to a little more like winter time, and the new cloaks and winter hats and furs were a delight to the ladies, and the merchants were much pleased with the large crowds which thronged their stores all during these two days, and it is safe to suppose that the sales made were very satisfactory.

Caldwell & Haltiwanger.

It is almost impossible to describe in a few words with any degree of accuracy the many beautiful and elegant lines of this season's goods and millinery that is found at Caldwell and Haltiwanger's store. One simply has to visit there to realize what a beautiful mixture and intermixture there is of lovely colors in the new goods that are new shown at the well arranged counters by the courteous clerks in this ever up-to-date establishment. Never have the fashions been more beautiful than this season with their soft but rich blendings of brown, green, blue, purple, old rose, and gold. About everything nearly there is the "golden touch" and this might be called the season of the "cloth of gold". The selection of soft and exquisite silks at this store has never been excelled and they are really dreams of loveliness with their white and blue back grounds and the Roman stripes of blue and pink varying in their different shades.

Again this season white and black either worn in the solid colors or combined are two of the predominating colors, and one of the handsome hats that Miss Riser, under whose supervision this entire department is showed her many customers was a large black satin hat trimmed with plaited melene, a handsome aigrette, and large ostrich pompon, and a very stylish satin bow.

A large white hat made of satin and trimmed with willow ostrich feathers and velvet drapery was a dream of beauty, and there were perhaps more admirers of this hat than any other.

Another large black velvet hat the trimming of which consisted of four $10.00 ostrich plumes, two of which drooped to the front and two to the back held together by a handsome steel buckle, with a milliner's tasty touch of other trimming was as handsome a hat as one cares to see. It was faced with white satin and has to be seen to be fully appreciated.

Of all the pretty hats shown, however, the daintiest and loveliest little creation was in the shape of a small hat made of snow white ostrich down with tiny little black feathers tipped with blue which were placed on one side. With this hat were shown a snow white collar and muff also. The collar is strikingly set off with the latest design in ruching, which is worn so extensively this season.

Perhaps one of the newest designs is a hat in cloth of gold, satin finished top, faced with black satin, and trimmed with a wreath of willow feathers which makes it striking in its simplicity and elegance.

A hat made of London smoke satin with a large gold cabbage rose and autumn leaves, with short streamers of golden brown satin ribbon which comes gracefully under the hair was also greatly admired.

A striking leader of the stylish hats was a derby crowned hat of canard blue faced with black, the crown of which consisted of one huge owl, of varying shades of blue and green.

Still another canard blue which was finished off with a wreath of feather puffs, and including the new and pretty style of the ribbon band or bow that falls so gracefully over the hair and gives a very youthful appearance to those who are able to wear this style.

Another artistic hat is one of maize satin with buckle on right side faced with white satin and trimmed with organdy plaiting and rosette to match. The organdy used gives such a dainty touch to the general effect.

A large green hat crowned with a ruffle of three shades of green ribbon with pretty chenille pins with jet centers is a hat of much beauty.

The cloaks, ready made suits, dress goods, lace trimmings, Persian bands, opera cloaks, colors, and all kinds of latest designs in notions can be found here.

Miss Riser with her valuable assisstants, Misses Funt, Crocker, and Hill were here, there, and everywhere mingling with every group and making all visitors feel at ease.

Mrs. Emma Hair.

Mrs. Emma Hair's millinery establishment presented a very neat and attractive appearance Wednesday morning at her fall and winter opening. She has a splendid line of belts, collars, and all the latest notions, and her hats are well chosen and quite stylish and very pretty. Besides her pattern hats she has a full line of street hats and she makes a specialty of baby bonnets, caps and hats.

Among her pattern hats are two very stylish black hats, both being large picture hats. One is a solid black hat made of velvet and trimmed with two novel pins and a large cope feather. The other is lined with cloth of gold covered with black velvet trimmed with canard ribbon and feathers, beautiful roses, and autumn foliage. It has the leather satin streamers that are so in vogue and is finished off with a stylish aigrette.

Another beautiful hat is a black picture hat faced with white satin, trimmed in malign with two handsome pins and white and black aigrettes. One of the prettiest things about this hat is the gilt band on which are black net leaves. This is truly an attractive hat.

One of the daintiest hats Mrs. Hair has is a baby blue velvet hat with a beautiful golden brown ribbon band, two handsome gold pins, blue ostrich plumes and blue ribbon.

Besides these there is a beautiful green hat and an equally pretty purple hat; also one of the prettiest red hats in town, which is made of red velvet and crowned with red wings and red roses.

Mrs. Hair is assisted this season by Miss Paradise, of Middle Georgia, and Miss Wicker. She together with these two young ladies take great pleasure in showing their hats to the visiting public and will do their best to please those who entrust their orders to them.

Jas. A. Minnaugh.

At the large department store of J. A. Minnaugh there was a steady stream of visitors all during the day who admired extremely the elaborate millinery and suitings that were on display.

Minnaugh's store has long had an enviable reputation and this season's stock of goods will but add to the well earned reputation which by wise selecting and courteous treatment of their customers they have succeeded in building up. It was really a pleasure to have Miss Mefauver, their charming milliner, show one around. She with her able assistants Mrs. Crouch and Mrs. Taylor, had decorated the millinery room to splendid effect in America's national flower, the old field golden rod and asparagus, fern and roses. In the front window also were attractive decorations and three beautiful hats one being a white hat trimmed in the daintiest colors and most exquisite style, one was a combination of London smoke and canard blue with a medium size gray owl placed on the crown.

Inside the millinery room were shown all sizes and shapes from the quaint, though stunning little toques, to the large, and beautiful picture hats.

One, a large London smoke satin hat trimmed with toque ribbon, sage velvet, and wings the color of the satin which covered the hat was very picturesque and artistic. This hat was trimmed on the left side.

Another large hat made of white satin with black facing trimmed with fancy aigrettes and broad satin ribbon was a decided favorite.

A blue satin hat faced with black satin with trimming on the right side of a beautiful black Pocahontas feather and handsome navy blue ribbon bows, was stylish and much admired also.

Another of the prettiest hats was a green satin trimmed in toque velvet and green velvet with a fancy toque feather.

A large turban Copenhagen blue hat with Copenhagen and green shaded feather, Persian ribbon, and velvet trimming with fancy pins was another lovely creation.

There was also on exhibit a stylish Pocahontas felt toque trimmed in Roman striped ribbon and fancy shaded feather, with very graceful aigrettes.

Another of the models was a dark green trimmed in dark green and golden brown shading down to a tan, the wings on which matched faultlessly, the tops of which were a golden brown and the inside a light tan.

A handsome black beaver with three ostrich plumes, satin ribbon, large and beautiful jet black buckle, raised to the left, is a hat that shows off to fine advantage, and to a certain style of beauty will be most becoming.

Each establishment seemed to have some one hat or bonnet that was the "most catching" affair of the day. At Minnaugh's it was the daintiest, prettiest little white felt child's Dutch bonnet trimmed with shirred ribbon and white ruching.

One feels well repaid after looking over the tailor made suits, skirts, and cloaks at this establishment. The prices are most reasonable and the qualities offered exceedingly good. Of course there are all kinds of new ideas in the notion department which are very pretty. In the suitings the long coats are very much in vogue this season.

THE NEWS OF PROSPERITY.

Millinery Opening—Lutheran Synod—Lesson Learned at Gentry Show.

Prosperity, Oct. 1.—October's bright blue weather is with us. Everything is getting in readiness for the winter, particularly the trees and the ladies. The trees have donned their bright hues and the women are following suit by getting themselves stunning hats. At the millinery openings Tuesday and Wednesday were displayed myriads of hats that were the embodiment of style, good taste, and becomingness. We always have here pretty creations to enhance woman's crowning glory, and this year the milliners have reached the high water mark. We cannot attempt to tell you what you should buy, or what color you should choose to be in vogue but there are those who will take a special delight in saving you any further thought along this line. At Moseley Bros. you will find Miss Staten ready to cater to your taste. Miss Bobb will not tire trying to demonstrate which of her hats you should wear. Miss Taylor, at Mrs. Calmes, is ready and willing to show you her entire stock.

The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of South Carolina convenes here early in November, and the Woman's Missionary convention also, beginning October — and continuing three days.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Copeland are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moseley.

The company formerly known as the Prosperity Roller Mill Co. has dissolved and the mill building and lot were bought by Mr. Wm. Moseley.

It is current that Messrs. Anderson and Hodges will move their tent to the city for a series of meetings.

Misses Annie Moseley and Minnie Boyd Brown have returned to their studies at the Presbyterian college in Columbia.

Quite a goodly number of our people carried their little folks up to Gentry's Show to be entertained and instructed. Apropos of instruction reminds us of the lesson there for parents. A little girl who had seen the show was asked by her mother if she had seen how beautifully the animals obeyed their masters, and if animals could do that well, how much better could and should little girls and boys do. "Yes indeed, mother," said the tot, "maybe I could do better if I had been as well trained."

Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. DeWalt, and Mrs. Mitchell went to Columbia to PULL OUT A HAIR.

The Way to Tell if Your Hair is Diseased

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair, you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent of the people need a hair tonic. You can make a test yourself that you can see and understand, which will tell whether your hair is healthy or not. Pull a hair out of your head, if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone in Newberry whose hair requires treatment to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, to tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

Out of 100 cases where it was given a thorough, conscientious test, it grew hair on 93 heads, which should be sufficient proof that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic contains extraordinary curative and hair growing qualities. It is because of our knowledge of this preparation and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is a clean, clear preparation which does not grease, gum or thicken the hair, and it has a very pleasing odor. We have it in two sizes, prices 50c. and $1.00. Gilder & Week's Drug Store, Newberry, S. C.
