

Herald and News

E. H. AULL, EDITOR.

Entered at the Postoffice at Newberry, S. C., as 2nd class matter.

Friday, December 18, 1908.

We are very much gratified that city council has decided to extend the laying of vitrified brick in Caldwell street across Friend street to the post office, and we are confident that this action of council will be heartily approved and commended by the people of Newberry. The thoroughfare from Main street to the post office is one of the most important and one of the most generally used in the city.

The Herald and News will publish its issue of December 25 on Wednesday night, December 23. In accordance with our custom for a number of years past, we will omit one issue Christmas week, the next issue after next Wednesday night appearing on Friday, January 1. We would appreciate it if advertisers and correspondents would bear this in mind.

The salary of the mayor has been increased from four hundred dollars to six hundred dollars per year. Cities smaller than Newberry in this State have for some years been paying their chief executives at least six hundred dollars a year, and Newberry can certainly afford to pay its mayor this amount.

"The Dark Corner," by Zach McGhee, the talented and versatile Washington correspondent, is a well written story. The style is excellent, and the plot holds the interest of the reader throughout. It is a South Carolina novel, and for that reason is all the more interesting to South Carolinians.

We are glad to say, however, that no longer in this section of South Carolina is there a "dark corner" of the character which Mr. McGhee depicts. It is true, however, that in nearly every section of the South the right kind of education is held too cheap, and that more education—true education of mind and heart—is one of the South's most pressing needs.

Mr. McGhee's book will repay a careful reading, and we predict for it a ready sale.

COURT HOUSE PARK.

Some time ago the Civic association had a landscape gardener to lay off and suggest an arrangement for the park around the new court house.

This work was to have been done by Mr. Wicker, the present supervisor, and the plans and specifications were explained to him in detail. Owing to the great amount of work necessary upon the bridges incident to the freshets, Mr. Wicker has been unable to put the chain gang on this work; therefore, it has not been done.

Mr. Wicker goes out of office early in January and if it is impossible for him to have the work done before that time he will no doubt turn over the plans and explain them to his successor, and it is hoped that Mr. Feagle will lose no time in doing something for the square around the new court house.

There should be some walks made and grass planted, and the driving across the side walk and into the court house lot should be stopped.

GROWING CELERY.

The South is fast beginning to realize that its soil is adapted to the cultivation of many products which our ancestors thought were necessarily imported luxuries.

Dr. W. G. Houseal has proven this by the luxuriant and delicious celery he has this season grown in his garden. The doctor left two bunches of this celery in The Herald and News office yesterday that were simply superb. One was the Paris Rose Rib variety, the other the famous White Plume variety, and this editor, who considers himself somewhat of a connoisseur in the celery line, can say that it was as fine as any imported Kalamazoo celery he has ever seen. It is crisp and juicy and possesses a fine flavor.

Dr. Houseal has quite a quantity of this celery in his garden, and it was raised without any more extra care than any other fine vegetable could be raised. He will be pleased to tell any one who desires to know, his plan and method of raising this celery.

Judging from what Dr. Houseal has done—and there are several others not only in Newberry but in other towns of the State who have also made a success in celery growing—there should be no need of the large amount of imported celery coming to our markets which now comes, for the soil of this State is fitted to grow it in abundance and as fine in quality as can be found anywhere.

With the new paving street work beginning in Newberry, the city council, as well as the people generally, should give hearty cooperation to the efforts of the ladies, through the Civic association, to improve the appearance of our side walks and streets and the city as a whole.

Nothing so impresses a stranger favorably with a community as cleanliness of streets and public square. In addition to that, we ought to feel a pride ourselves and on our own account in the city beautiful and clean.

Card of Thanks.

On October 4, 1908, our house and almost all of our household goods were destroyed by fire, but now a new house has been erected on the same grounds. We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly helped us with clothing, with household goods, and to rebuild our house.

We pray God's richest blessings upon you, and assure you that you shall never be forgotten by us.
Geo. A. Livingston and family.

Every Holiday Problem Solved!

I believe that I have come nearer this year to solving every holiday problem of the people of this community than ever before. I have goods that possess the qualities that gifts should have. Gifts that embody BEAUTY, DURABILITY, USEFULNESS, NOVELTY and REAL VALUE. In addition to these features my PRICES ARE IN ACCORD WITH THE TIMES. I have a complete line of Leather Goods, Stationery, Toilet Cases and Novelties, Kodaks, Fountain Pens, Cut Glass, Fine China, Watches, Silver Ware, Books, Toys and Games, Fancy Calendars and Post Cards.

Come Often and Look as Long as You Like.

Toys and Games.

You never saw so many good Toys and Games as I am now showing. The cunning Germans have been cudgeling their brains all year to invent new and more curious toys, and you will find here the best results of their work.

As to games, no home can contain too many. They keep the young folks at home and many of them are interesting for the older ones.

Iron Locomotives and Cars, Steam Engines, Air Guns, Magic Lanterns, Tool Chests, Rubber Balls, Planos, Chairs, Tables, Furniture, Banks, Drums, Watches, Wagons, Horses, Automobiles, Carts, Boats, Blocks, Toy Picture Books, Fish Ponds, Ten Pins, Checker Boards, Dolls, Doll Beds, Tea Sets, Horns, etc.

Silverware!

There are perfect gifts in this one line for every one on your Christmas list. I have something at almost any price. My stock includes just the kind of articles that you would be most apt to choose: Knives, Forks, Spoons, Cream and Sugar Spoons, Cream Ladles, Gravy Ladies, Pickle and Olive Forks, and many other articles.

Books! Books!!

There is hardly a person who has Christmas Gifts to buy who should not consider the selection of Books. Books are equally desirable for young and old. They are treasured for a life time, and never lose their value. I have a very large variety to select from. It includes the latest and most Popular Novels, together with Poetry, also Books for Girls, Books for Boys and Books for the Little People. Besides I have a very large assortment of the Popular Price Novels at 50 cents—St. Elmo, Lavender and Old Lace, Satan Sanderson, Graustark and Beverly of Craustark and many others.
