

statistics show there is less loss of life and less chance of injury on board a modern liner than there is in any other means of transportation. Fleets come and go from New York and other ports with the regularity of the tides and those carrying mails maintain a schedule which almost equals in punctuality that of railway mail trains.

Transatlantic steamers travel in well defined routes known as "steamship lanes," the westbound and the eastbound. This reduces to a minimum the chances of collision with one another. But icebergs and derelicts have no respect for these rules and float into the paths or wallow across them to be a dire menace in time of fog or very thick weather. There is no way to give warning until too late. Out of a smother or fog a pallid shape may be glimpsed over the bows to be followed a half minute later by the crush of the bows against the mass.

The Titanic was regarded as the acme of perfection in transatlantic lines, and her owners believed her unsinkable, and for a time refused to believe that she was in danger of sinking.

Roll of Rescued 868.

New York, April 17.—The roll of the saved from the Titanic disaster tonight seems complete.

Practically every attending circumstance in the transmission of news from the Carpathia goes to show that only 328 of the 610 cabin passengers of the Titanic are safe on the rescue ship.

The 282 cabin passengers whose names have not appeared in the list sent ashore yesterday by wireless probably must be conceded as among the 1,312 lives which the collision of the mammoth new steamer with an iceberg off the New Foundland banks Sunday night is believed to have taken.

Thousands of hopeful hearts were turned to despairing ones when the United States scout cruiser Chester flashed ashore late today the news that she had been in communication with the Carpathia and had asked repeatedly for the full list of the first and second cabin survivors and that the rescue ship reported that all the names had already been sent ashore.

Steerage or Crew.

The remainder of the 540 persons saved were passengers in the steerage or members of the crew.

After the strain of three days' waiting without news of their missing ones, there were few of the hopeful that still held out tonight against the seemingly final word as to the fate of friends and relatives.

The small remaining hope of the few who refused to believe the worst rested tonight on the faint possibility that the list of survivors sent by wireless from the Carpathia, might after all not be quite complete.

The fact that one new name came through late today in a private message from the Carpathia was the basis of what was a desire more than a hope that there were slips enough in her wireless list to account for a few, a list of those still unaccounted for. At the best, however, it appeared that it could be only an occasional one whose safety had not been reported through some error of compilation on the liner or of wireless transmission.

Due Tonight.

From the Carpathia, which is approximately 600 miles from New York and which is expected, if she keeps up her rate of progress of 13 knots an hour, to reach the entrance of the harbor by 8 o'clock tomorrow night, came a new report during the day as to the number of survivors on board.

Through the Cunarder Franconia, which established wireless communication with the rescue ship, came a message which included this statement:

"She has a total of 705 survivors aboard."

The previous statement from the Carpathia had been that she carried 868 survivors.

It may be that report received through Franconia included accounts of rescued passengers; only disregarding the 100 or more members of the crew who must have been in the boats which the Carpathia picked up.

Steerage Passengers Named.

Communication was being had with the Carpathia tonight through both the scout cruiser Chester and the shore wireless station at Siasconset. Through the Chester there began coming slowly the names of saved passengers from the third cabin of the Titanic.

The very sending of these could not but help confirm the fateful belief that there were no more names of first and second cabin passengers to send. And thus there was left hardly a possibility that the names of well known men, such as John Jacob Astor, William T. Stead, Benj. Guggenheim, Isador Straus, Maj. Butt and the others of the now familiar list of notables could have been omitted in the transmission of names. That these men had gone down with the ship there remained hardly a doubt.

MAKES RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

New Treatment Drives Out Rheumatism; Pain Stops, Soreness Disappears and Stiff Joints Are Limbered.

The remarkable manner in which the famous Root Juice medicine gets into the blood, drives out rheumatic poison, takes out soreness, stops the pains and limbers up the stiffened joints and muscles should interest everyone suffered from this stubborn disease. Mr. Jas. Simpson, of Cordova, Ill., says, "I felt the effects in a short time. All symptoms of rheumatism left me." Mrs. J. Schondell 610 Madison St., Fort Wayne, Indiana, says, "I was unable to move. Had to be carried about. Doctors had failed. Two bottles of Root Juice enabled me to walk without assistance." Mr. Geo. R. McConnell, 602 Polk St., Griffin, Ga., suffered ten years. He said: "I am starting on my second bottle and my trouble is just about all gone."

Root Juice not only drives rheumatic poison from the blood, but it nourishes the stomach, strengthens the kidneys so that they can properly filter the blood, and builds up the whole system. It creates a fine appetite, stops indigestion, belching, backaches and puts new life, new vim and vigor into run down or overworked bodies. A week's treatment will make a different person out of you.

Don't let anyone talk you into trying uncertain, hit-or-miss remedies. Stop experimenting. Go to some good druggist and get a bottle of the Root Juice compound and begin taking it today with the assurance that it has cured and is curing the worst cases when doctors, specialists and other medicines failed. You'll be surprised to see how quickly you will feel its good effects.

spent the week-end with Mrs. John Crosson.

Miss Lucile Lathan, of Little Mountain, has been visiting Miss Marguerite Wise.

Miss Georgia Suber, of Peak, has been the guest of her sister, Miss Rosalie Suber.

Mr. J. C. Schumpert is spending a few days in Columbia.

Mrs. Nook Fulmer, of Route No. 6, has gone to the Columbia hospital for treatment.

Miss Maud Harmon has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. M. Bedenbaugh.

Prof. W. K. Tate, supervisor of the South Carolina rural schools, gave a most interesting illustrated lecture on the improvement of the rural schools, in the town hall, Monday evening.

Dr. W. F. Bedenbaugh died at his home in Winston-Salem on Wednesday at 2 p. m., after a lingering illness of several months. He was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Bedenbaugh, of Prosperity. The body reached here Thursday, and interment was held at the Prosperity cemetery Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock by his pastor, Rev. S. P. Keon. After his graduating at Newberry college, he entered the Atlanta College of Pharmacy, and held a professorship in the college until two years ago, when he opened a drug business in Winston-Salem. He was a very talented young man and his future was full of promise. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Massie Williams, of Newberry; two brothers, J. I. and Willie Bedenbaugh; one sister, Mrs. D. J. Taylor, and a host of other relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. D. Quattlebaum will entertain the Literary Sorosis this afternoon at 4 p. m. The following program will be rendered:

"The true work of art is but a shadow of the divine perfection."—Michael Angelo.

Raphael Sanzie, Life and Works—Miss Kibler.

Legend, St. Elizabeth—Mrs. Hunter. Comparison, Madonna Degli Ansdei with Wolgemuth's Death of the Virgin. Club—Miss Bowers.

Stops Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a reliable remedy for any kind of horse lameness. Will kill the growth of spavin, curb or splint, absorb enlargements, and is excellent for sweeny, fistula and thrush.

Here's Proof.

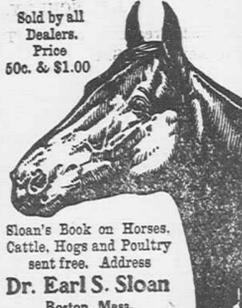

"I used Sloan's Liniment on a mule for 'high lameness,' and cured her. I can never without a bottle of your liniment have bought more of it than any other remedy for pains." DAILY KISBY, Cassidy, Ky.

"Sloan's Liniment is the best made. I have removed very large shoe boils off a horse with it. I have killed a quarter crack on a mare that was awfully bad. I have also healed raw, sore necks on three horses. I have healed grease heel on a mare that could hardly walk." ANTHONY G. HAYES, Oakland, Pa., Route No. 1.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT
is good for all farm stock.

"My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got your liniment, which I was advised to try. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the liniment, but I have not lost any since." A. J. MCCARTHY, Idaville, Ind.
