ORATORS AT KING'S MOUNTAIN CELEBRATION MONDAY.

Celebrate Day of Great Fight—Big Crowd Gathers for the Inspiring Occasion.

King's Mountain, Oct. 7.—October 7, 1780, 132 years ago, probably the most decisive victory of the Revolutionary war in the South was won by the Americans at King's Mountain and today 8,000 loyal sons of the two Carolinas have been gathered there to commemorate the occasion. The celebration of this anniversary of the battle was one of the most stupendous affairs ever held in the Old North State and it was one of the greatest successes on record.

By early morning there were probably 5,000 people in the town and when the parade started from the Mountain-view hotel at 10 o'clock the crowd had reached its height. The parade was headed by the brass band consisting of 30 pieces, from the Seventeenth infantry at Fort McPherson, Ga., followed by automobiles conveying the speakers. Next came a large delegation of Red Men, followed by 200 pretty girls from Lynwood Female college at Gastonia. The populace brought up the rear and the parade extended over a half a mile. It was a gorgeous spectacle. It came to an end in a beautiful grove about a mile from the town. There Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby, N. C., in a short and happy speech introduced the speaker of the day, Jeter C. Pritchard, United States circuit court judge and former United States senator from North Carolina.

Tale of Patriotism.

Judge Pritchard's effort was a strong one. He recounted the bravery and daring of the men of Carolina and East Tennessee and the work that they had done for freedom. He is strongly in favor of making an effort to get a government appropriation for the building of a national highway from King's Mountain to the battle ground proper, a distance of 7 1/2 miles and the establishment of a national park there. He said that in his opinion congress would probably grant the appropriation. He switched from the subject to an attack on the liquor traffic, winding up by saying that he hoped that he would not live to see the day when liquor could again be legally sold in North Carolina. The crowd showed its patriotism by wildly applauding when the band played "Dixie" and "America." Following the conclusion of the address the crowd and took a recess for two hours for dinner.

School Building Dedicated.

In the afternoon one of the most important features of the day took place, the dedication of the handsomest graded school building in North Carolina. The building is a splendid structure having just been completed at a cost of $18,000. This school was established in 1876 by Capt. W. T. R. Bell, one of North Carolina's foremost educators, and many men of both Carolinas received their early instruction here. Capt. Bell assisted in the dedication exercises and introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Dr. J. H. Harms, president of Newberry college. Dr. Harms spoke at length on education and handled his subject in a masterly manner. His oratory held the crowd spellbound.

The day was brought to a close by the opening of the new building and a band concert by the infantry band.

This is a United States army band and is second to none. The work of the musicians was of the highest order. The programme rendered consisted of 12 selections and required three hours for its rendition.

Another pleasant event was the riding tournament in which 12 contestants were entered.

The day was a great success and next year bids fair to be even greater. People returning to their homes tonight are loud in the praise of King's Mountain as a town and the hospitality of King's Mountain people.

RESOLUTIONS OF ESTEEM.

An Expression in Which Rev. J. B. Harmon is Held by Those Among Whom He Labors.

At a meeting of the joint council of the Mayer Memorial and Summer Memorial Lutheran churches of Newberry, S. C., the resignation of Rev. J. B. Harmon was tendered as pastor of these churches, and after much deliberation, was accepted with profound sorrow.

Mr. Harmon has been our pastor for one year, and during that time has labored with unflagging zeal and devotion for the uplift and betterment of not only the entire membership of these churches, but for the advancement of every good and commendable enterprise in the whole community.

By his unceasing efforts in the cause of the Master, he has accomplished great things and endeared himself, not only to his own membership, but to all who have come under the influence of his consecrated and devoted life.

We are persuaded that only his missionary zeal and spirit would have induced him to sever his connection with a work where he has been so eminently successful and only the consideration that the need of the communities to which he goes, is greater than ours, reconciles us to the great sacrifice which we make in giving him up.

While in the providence of God we may have sent to us some pastor whose work will be equally efficient and successful, yet we shall always hold in loving remembrance the faithful and untiring ministrations of Brother J. B. Harmon.

We feel and know that the churches of Senoia and Harelson, Ga., have made a wise choice in their selection of a pastor, and while we know that our loss is their gain, yet we cheerfully recommend to their love and esteem, the new pastor who is coming to them, with the utmost confidence that he will soon fill in their affections the same place which he holds in ours, and that the work of the Lord will prosper in his hands, in the new field of his labors, as it has in our midst.

Our hearts and our homes stand wide open for the return of Brother Harmon, at any time when he may see fit to visit us.

Miss Jo Lane.

Anderson Mail 5th.
Every soul who attended the Woman's Missionary Union of the state, which met here last November, remembers the enthusiastic, bright faced little woman, Miss Jo Lane. She put more life into the meeting, and more interest in the work than any one member and when she spoke of her work in the mountains and the needs of those people she made an impression that will never be obliterated. In the beginning of her talk she said that the call had come to her "Jo Lane go work in the mountains," and that she could not keep this call down, it seemed that it was a "call of the blood," for her ancestors were among the noted pioneer preachers of the mountains. Finally she could resist no longer and leaving her home in South Carolina, she has for fifteen years been working in the mountains of North Carolina, living there with her three sisters and brother, who were orphans at an early age and for whom she always cared. This would seem enough for the life-work for one woman, to care for, educate and be mother to four little children. Not so this noble woman, who took into her big heart the people of the mountains. By her efforts churches and schools were built, refining and educating this sturdy race. Doesn't it seem hard that such a woman must die? She was so much needed, but the call "Jo Lane come home" sounded on the second day of October, and she died at her home in Hendersonville.

First Bull Fight Since Spanish Days Manilla Times.

The flower of chivalry of Old Castile seemed to have been reincarnated in Manilla on July 25, when the Spanish colony turned out en masse to see the first bull fight held in Manilla since the days of the dominion of old Spain. Bloodless and horseless though the combat was it was nevertheless stirring, and an enthusiastic crowd witnessed it.

Fully 5,000 people entered the grounds and 2,000 more witnessed it from the tops of the surrounding houses.

The ladies were beautifully costumed in the typical dress of the gala day of Spain, and the toreros wore the dress of the Spanish bull ring, with the picturesque sashes and Andalusian hats. Five bulls were turned loose, four of which gave the swordsmen a merry contest.

Four souvenirs, fashioned by the hands of the ladies, were auctioned off just before the last combat, the proceeds of this auction going to the Spanish hospital, as well as the gate receipts of the bull fight.

The Byplay Minstrels.

"Mister Interlocutor, can you tell me the difference between Mister Roosevelt and a man who votes for him?"

"No, Mr. Bones, I can not. What is the difference between Mr. Roosevelt and a man who votes for him?"

"One is a bull moose and the other is a fool goose."

"Mister Gargleit will now render that beautiful ballad entitled: 'Come Home, Dear Father, Come Home, for Mother is Sober Again.'"

A SAFE SUBSTITUTE FOR CALOMEL

A Mild Vegetable Medicine for the Liver That is Free From the Dangers of the Powerful Chemicall, Calomel.

The W. G. Mayes drug store has a mild, vegetable remedy that successfully takes the place of the powerful mineral drug calomel, the old-fashioned liver medicine. This remedy is Dodson's Liver-Tone, a very pleasant-tasted liquid that gives quick but gentle relief from constipation without the bad after-effects which so often follow taking calomel.

Dodson's Liver-Tone is fully guaranteed to be a perfect substitute for calomel, and if you buy a bottle and it does not entirely satisfy you, Mayes drug store will promptly give you your money back upon request.

It is fine for both children and grown people.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

The cleanest, the easiest to care for. Users of coal must remember that the ordinary heater is a big care to operate. That its smoke and ashes entail dusting, curtain washing and carpet sweeping. Think then of the easy operation and the cleanliness of Cole's Hot Blast. This heater has a guaranteed smoke-proof feed door through which a current of air draws the smoke directly across the top of the stove to the stove pipe, away from the opening. Contrast this simple, cleanly feed with the side door in an ordinary heater. Side doors used on other stoves permit the escape of dirty smoke, unpleasant gases and accumulated soot drops from it. If you over-fill a side door stove, coal falls to the floor. The air-tight feature embodied in Cole's Hot Blast Heater is an everlasting advantage in its favor. Allow us to show you this perfect heater before you buy. (B-17)

French Market Coffee
Has Never Been Successfully Imitated
It Cannot Be

COFFEE roasted the ordinary way is only partially roasted, according to French ideals. The French Market Coffee way is the scientific way, producing a perfect roast. Slowly—carefully—the roasting goes on until exactly the right moment arrives. The slow roast reduces about 10 per cent more weight than the ordinary roast. All excess of oil vanishes. Yet the delicate flavor and aroma is there, intensified and enhanced.

Quickly—by automatic machinery—this freshly roasted, freshly ground, freshly chilled, delicious coffee is placed in tin cans, and hermetically sealed.

So it comes to your table as perfect as when it left the roasters—untouched by human hands.

Famous for Over a Hundred Years
EVEN when French Market Coffee could be had only in the old French Market at New Orleans, over a hundred years ago, it was celebrated all over the South. Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and other famous men of olden times visited the French Market to enjoy the rarely delicious beverage. But now you all may serve it daily on your own table. For the rare old French blend has been perpetuated by the French Market Mills, and the hermetically-sealed process places genuine French Market Coffee within the reach of all.

Chilled, Ground and Hermetically Sealed
DIRECT from the roasters, the coffee is chilled in a cold-air-blast machine. This chilling closes the pores of the bean, thus preventing a single breath of the entrancing aroma to escape in the vapors.

For Sale at Your Grocer's
Try it once and you'll agree "There is only one real old French Market flavor."
