COPIES SCHOOL LAW.

County Superintendent Has Received Copies for Distribution to the Trustees.

County Superintendent of Education E. H. Aull has received from the State superintendent of education two hundred copies of the school law, to be distributed to the trustees of the schools in this county. This law has been codified and brought up to date, including the amendments and new laws passed by the last session of the legislature, and also the rules and regulations adopted by the State board of education. The county superintendent will be very glad to have the trustees who have not received copies of the law call and secure a copy. It is very important that each trustee should have the law and familiarize himself with it and also to understand more fully his duties as trustee.

SHOT TO DEATH IN ROAD.

George Dominick Shot by John Griffin in Town of Helena—Died on Sunday Night.

George Dominick, son of the late Dan Dominick, was shot and mortally wounded at about 8.30 o'clock on Saturday night on a street in the town of Helena. He died from the wounds on Sunday night. In a statement given under the solemnity of a dying declaration, Dominick stated on Saturday night that he was shot by John Griffin, a negro. The night was dark, and the only connected facts in regard to the killing are given in Dominick's statement. He said he had been home and was returning to Helena, and as he was walking along the street, just before he got to the railroad, he was met by Griffin, who drew his pistol and fired one shot. A negro woman in the two-story house near the side of which Dominick was passing heard the shot, and says she saw the parties. Her recognition of the party doing the shooting, however, was not clear—in fact, from statements she made Saturday night it appeared that she did not recognize the party. Sheriff Buford and Dr. Houseal went to the scene. Dr. Houseal extracted the bullet. It was a .45 calibre steel bullet, which entered the body on the left side, just above the bowels, in front, and passed through the body, ranging to the back and to the right. It was cut out by Dr. Houseal not far under the skin. Dominick was completely paralyzed in the greater portion of his body, and it is probable the ball struck the spinal column and was deflected towards the right side of the body. Dominick was carried to the home of his mother, who lives about a mile and a half above Helena. Here he was given medical attention by Dr. Houseal. In addition to Sheriff Buford, Constable Cannon G. Blease and the rural policemen were on the scene of the affair. Search was instituted for John Griffin, but Griffin had left. Dominick had a pistol on his person, but when it was taken from his pocket it was found to be fully loaded, and none of the cartridges had been snapped upon. Dominick was about thirty years of age. He was unmarried. He had recently been working for the Southern railway on section work near Helena.

MOLLOHON MILL SCHOOL

Opening of School—Mrs. Jane Long Presented With Token of Esteem.

The opening exercises of the Mollohon mill school were held Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Geo. D. Brown, of Prosperity, was present and spoke words of advice and encouragement to the pupils and patrons present. Mrs. Jane A. Long, who has given 40 years—the greater part of her life—to the training of the young of Newberry county, teaching ten of these at the Mollohon mill school, was presented a Morris chair and an art square from the people of the village by Mr. W. W. Scarborough as tokens of the sincere appreciation of her faithful service among them. In a few well-chosen words, Mrs. Long expressed her gratitude to those who had so kindly remembered her. Mr. G. Y. Dickert was present and testified to the fact that he, his wife, his children, and grandchildren had attended schools taught by Mrs. Long. There was a good attendance of pupils and patrons. The school is being taught by Miss Anna Dickert, with Miss Eula Darby assisting.

"The Trail of the Germ."

At the request of the civic committee of the Woman's club, Mr. Lavender has made special effort to get a film intensely interesting in its presentation; but, more than that, wonderfully impressive and educative. It is entitled "The Trail of the Germ," and will be shown on Tuesday, October 15, afternoon and night, at the old court house. This film has the unqualified endorsement of the National Anti-Tuberculosis society, the highest authority in the country; and it was on account of the earnest appeal from this organization that the civic committee decided to ask Mr. Lavender to get the film. No grown person should miss it, and it is hoped by the members of this committee that every child in the town may see it, thereby impressing their young minds with lessons that may save some of them untold sufferings in after years.

GARMANY SCHOOL OPENS.

Trustees and Superintendent of Education Present—Chairman and Superintendent Make Talks.

The Garmany Academy opened on Monday morning, with Miss Brown as teacher. There were about 15 pupils enrolled. The trustees of the school, as well as the county superintendent of education, E. H. Aull, were present. Mr. B. B. Leitzsey, chairman of the board, made a few remarks and assured the teacher of the hearty cooperation of the board of trustees. He then presented the county superintendent, who made a short talk to the children. Miss Brown thanked the trustees and the superintendent for the interest they had taken in coming to the opening of the school, and felt sure that with their cooperation the Garmany Academy would have a successful year. The trustees are going to make some needed improvements to the building. The trustees at the meeting on Monday raised the necessary $5 by a voluntary contribution for an addition to the library.

Miss Josephine Lane

French Broad Hustler 10th. The death of Miss Josephine Lane, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lane, deceased, at which occurred at her home at Rugby at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon, October 2nd, cast a mantle of gloom over the entire community. Miss Lane had been confined to her bed nearly two months and from the outset it seems that her physician entertained small hope of her recovery. It has been said that "death loves a shining mark" and in this instance the truth of the assertion is amply justified. Miss Lane, or "Miss Joe" as she was familiarly known, was a strong, beautiful and useful character. Why she should be cut down in the flush of glorious young womanhood just as she was entering full upon a career of promise and usefulness is beyond finite comprehension and can only be compassed by the scriptural promise, that "what ye know not now, ye shall know hereafter."

As a member of the Baptist church she worked zealously at all times to further the interests of that organization. She took a vital interest in Missionary work among the mountain people and in her death the pupils of Fruitland Institute have lost a true and faithful friend. She gave not only of her time but of her substance to this work and was a liberal contributor to the scholarship fund of that Institution. Very dear to her heart was the interest of the lost cause, and as president of The Margaret Davis Hayes Chapter of United Daughters of the Confederacy, she labored unceasingly for the good of the chapter and was universally beloved by the Daughters and the Veterans throughout the country. It will be recalled by many an old Veteran how at the last reunion and bestowal of Crosses of Honor with tears in her eyes she besought those who had not given their hearts to Christ to "turn from the Southern Cross to the cross of Calvary and prepare for the Reunion above."

The funeral services were held at Lane's Chapel where she was a constant worshipper and faithful worker. She expressed a desire before her illness that when she should eventually be carried to her last resting place the old flag be placed upon her casket for the love of this tattered remnant of the sixties amounted to a passion with her and thus in accordance with her expressed wish her casket was draped with the Flag of the Confederacy, and covered with many exquisite floral tributes among which was a design from Fruitland Institute and one from The Margaret Davis Hayes Chapter. In front of the casket which was borne to the chapel by Messrs. Sam Bryson, Jim Waldrop, W. R. Wilkins, Virgil Willis, Owen Willis and Mack Hooper, walked a body of honorary pall-bearers composed of Veterans. Prof. Melton, of Fruitland Institute and Rev. A. I. Justice had charge of the sweet and simple service. On behalf of the Veterans Hon. A. Cannon paid a touching eulogy in which he testified to the love and high esteem in which she was held by the Veterans and the Chapter. On Friday morning the remains, accompanied by her Aunt, Miss Mary Mangum, her brother, sisters and Mrs. James Waldrop, were taken to Newberry, S. C., for interment where they rest beside her father, mother and sister. Miss Lane is survived by one brother, Henry Lane, three sisters, Misses Arrested After 40 Years for Murder.

Atlanta, Oct. 12.—For shooting John Berry to death in Elmore county, in 1872, forty long years ago, Freeman Long, of Campbell county, Ga., must go back to Alabama to stand trial for murder.

He has been trailed down by the son of the victim after a life-time search, and yesterday afternoon Governor Brown honored the requisition papers sent by Governor O'Neal.

At the time of the killing the son William Berry was only nine years of age. But he swore vengeance over the dead body of his father and has devoted his life to obtaining it through legal means.

Long was immediately arrested after the shooting, 40 years ago, but broke jail and escaped, after which he disappeared from Alabama.

He is now 68 years of age, prosperous and respected in the community where he lives. William Berry is a middle aged man.

The case is one of the strangest a Georgia governor has ever had to deal with.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News. Get the better of yourself before some other fellow beats you to it. The man who sets a good example preaches a sermon without words. The woman who marries a widower may mourn his first wife's demise. The good may die young, but the villain is seldom caught until the last act. Did it ever occur to you that now is the future you longed for several years ago. It takes a genius to play the fool and make it pay. Marie, Leone and Tommie and an aunt, Miss Mangum, who since the death of their parents has been as tender and devoted in her ministrations as a mother. To each of these the heartfelt sympathy of the community goes out. "Let us be patient! These severe afflictions Not from the ground arise. But oftentimes celestial benedictions Assume this dark disguise. In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion. By guardian angels led. Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution. She lived whom we call dead."
