The dinner to the veterans on Tuesday, May 12, will be served in the McCaughrin block instead of the Crowell hotel as stated in the last issue of The Herald and News.

The chapters are requested to meet at the building on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to arrange tables and get everything in readiness.

Church of the Redeemer.

(Rev. Edward Fulenwider, pastor.)

If nothing prevents, the following will be the programme of divine services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer next Sunday:

11:15 a. m. The regular morning service. The pastor will preach a special sermon on "Growing Old." The fine old character from which the helpful and encouraging lessons will be drawn is "Barbillai the Gileadite." We are all growing older every day and need to learn the lessons of old age. A study of the beautiful story of this man who said to King David, "I am this day four score years old," will encourage and bless all, and especially the aged. The older people are especially urged to be present.

8:00 p. m. Service of song and prayer with a sermon by the pastor on the subject, "The Guest Without the Wedding Garment." (The man was at the feast but not in sympathy with it. Many are enjoying the Gospel feast, but deep down in their hearts they are not in sympathy with it.)

The public is cordially invited to all the services.

A Card.

We hereby express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for all the kindness and sympathy of our friends on the occasion of the death of our mother, Mrs. Hardeman.

Without resentment must accept his lot.

The spotlight shows him as a mark so fair

That everybody wants to take a shot.

A TRIP TO STORYLAND.

Play Given at the High School Auditorium Tuesday Night a Big Success.

One of the most unique entertainments ever given in Newberry was "A Trip to Storyland," presented in the high school auditorium last Tuesday evening to a full house. Miss Bess Kibler had carefully trained 40 high school pupils, and the success of the play is an evidence of her ability along this line. The characters were taken from "Mother Goose," and the costumes worn were original and appropriate. Seeing "Little Red Riding Hood," "Jack Horner," "Cinderella," etc., all in the flesh, and hearing the familiar rhymes, brought to the older folks fond recollections of the past, and filled the younger set with delight.

All of the characters deserve much credit for the way in which they acted their parts, and special mention should be made of Miss Kathryn Harms as "Golden Hair," John Floyd as "Georgie Porgie," Neely Cromer as "Jack of the Bean Stalk," Joe Vigodsky as "Simple Simon," and Miss Mary Kibler as "The Milkmaid." The proceeds from the play will be used to assist in paying for a Victrola which was recently purchased for use in the school.

"A Trip to Storyland" was the first play that has been given by the school talent in some time, and it is hoped that these entertainments will be more frequent.

Miss Kibler, under whose direction the play was given, leaves shortly for Randolph-Macon woman's college, to take part in a Greek play, "Electra," by Sophocles, the music for which she composed at the request of the college.

WELCOME HEROES

TO REUNION CITY

Jacksonville People Open Hearts and Homes—Banner Given Back.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 6.—Welcoming addresses and responses, the return of a captured battle flag to a delegation of Ohio Union veterans and a multiplicity of social diversions were features of the formal opening here today of the United Confederate Veterans' 24th annual reunion. Bright weather prevailed throughout the day and thousands of visitors poured into the city to participate in and witness the reunion.

No feature of the day surpassed the simple ceremonies attending the presentation tonight of the Seventy-sixth Ohio battle flag to personal representatives of Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio by Col. D. M. Scott, commander of Camp Jones, U. C. V., of Alabama, and Mrs. T. Randolph Leigh of Montgomery. The flag was captured at the battle of Ringgold, Ga., in 1863 and later was turned over to the Alabama veterans.

Gov. Cox sent George F. Burba of Columbus, Ohio, and a delegation of five Union veterans to receive the flag. Union Veterans, Hakkjefing flag. In the letter which they brought from the governor of Ohio an invitation was extended to the Confederate veterans to hold their next reunion on the State house grounds at Columbus.

Hundreds of persons were turned away from the entrance of Morocco temple at the first official session of the reunion. The seating capacity of the building was taxed to the utmost and all available standing room was occupied.

Veterans and members of allied organizations were welcomed to the city and State by Gov. Park Trammell, Representative Frank Clark and Mayor Van C. Swearingen. Responses were made by Gen. Bennett H. Young, commander in chief of the United Confederate veterans, and Gen. George P. Harrison commander of the department of Tennessee.

Reference of the impending crisis in Mexico was made in the welcoming speeches of both Gov. Trammell and Representative Clark. The former assured the veterans that "our men would at a moment's call, gladly rally to the flag, and again, undaunted, face death upon the battle field."

Representative Clark declared that "the boys of the South are only waiting for a summons, and if it should unhappily come, our full quota will be promptly furnished and no braver troops will march to the attack of the Huerta soldiers than the sons of those, who 50 years ago, unflinchingly followed the fortunes of the Stars and Bars."

In his response Gen. Bennett H. Young, commander in chief of the United Confederate veterans paid high tribute to the soldiers of Florida who participated in the War Between the Sections as Confederate soldiers.

JNO. M. CANNON APPOINTED.

Succeeds Dr. T. R. Carothers as Regent of State Hospital For the Insane.

Special to The Herald and News. Columbia, May 7.—Dr. T. R. Carothers, of Rock Hill, chairman of the board of regents of the State hospital for the insane, whose term on the board has expired, declined re-appointment, on account of business reasons, stating that his business was such that he did not feel that he could continue to give the time required to the institution.

Governor Blease has appointed on the board Col. Jno. M. Cannon, of Laurens. Mr. Cannon is one of the leading lawyers of the Laurens bar. He formerly represented Laurens county in the legislature. He is a gentleman of good business judgment, and will make a valuable member of the board.

Death of Miss Maudie Fant.

Miss Maudie Fant died at the home of Mrs. Mary Fant in the city of Newberry on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. She had not been in robust health for some time, but up until a short time ago had continued to perform her duties. She was the youngest daughter of the late Samuel J. Fant, for many years in the drug business in Newberry. He died a good many years ago. Her mother, Mrs. Fannie J. Fant, died only a few months ago. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Silas J. McCaughrin, of Birmingham, Ala., and Miss Lois Fant, of Newberry, and one brother, Caldwell E. Fant.

For several years she had been a stenographer and recently was employed in the office of the State board of health in Columbia. Her first work in this line was done in the office of The Herald and News. She was always painstaking and careful in her work but above all always courteous and polite and considerate of others and bright and cheerful. During the time she was home a few months ago she did some special work for us, and it was done with the same painstaking and conscientious care.

In her last illness she was sick only a few days and her taking off will bring sadness to the hearts of her many friends.

She was a member of the Methodist church. The funeral service will be held Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock and interment in Rosemont cemetery. The service will be conducted at the grave by the Rev. Edw. Fulenwider in the absence of the Rev. J. E. Carlisle, of the Methodist church.

The pallbearers: J. N. McCaughrin, P. E. Scott, H. E. Webb, Robt. McC. Holmes, Metts Fant, A. D. Hudson.

The Supreme Court Bible.

Christian Herald.

It is a tiny little book, only five and a half inches long and three and a half inches wide. It is bound in bright red morocco leather, with the word Bible, printed in diminutive gold letters on the back. But one doesn't see that red morocco cover unless he removes the little black leather slip which protects it. Long, long ago the little red Bible began to show wear and then the black leather slip was made to protect it—so long ago in fact that fifteen of those covers, made to protect the venerated little volume, were worn out in the service. It is without doubt one of the oldest Bibles, if not the very oldest Bible, connected with the government, and is certainly the most historical. It is the book upon which, since 1800, every chief justice, with the single exception of Chief Justice Chase, and every member of the supreme court, has taken the oath of allegiance when accepting this appointment to our highest tribunal. More than that, every attorney who has practiced before the supreme court since that date, 1800, has pledged his allegiance over the little volume. All with one exception, and that exception was Daniel Webster. It is told even yet of the supreme court of that day that Mr. Webster's fame as an orator had so preceded him that on the occasion when he came to argue his first case before the court, the clerk, Mr. Caldwell, in his eagerness to hear the great speaker, forgot to administer the oath.

Bridget—Sure, mum, wan of them was leaking, and I didn't know which, so I put both in to make sure.

ABOUT ROADS AND THINGS

A Correspondent Take a Whack at Game Warden, School Tax and Federal Office Holders.

Prosperity, May 7.—We are in need of rain now to bring up the cotton and corn.

Mr. Oliver Dennis is building him a new dwelling house on the Stony Battery road.

The small grain crop is being cut short by the drought.

Mr. D. M. Morris lost his nice buggy horse last Friday from colic. Mr. Morris had not owned the horse very long as he had only bought him in the latter part of the fall from Mrs. J. E. Norwood, of Newberry.

There will be a good many of our people to go to Jacksonville this week to take in the reunion there.

Have we any game warden in Newberry county now or not? We must not have any as we notice here of late that almost every saw mill man put his saw mill down over the creek and the saw dust kills all the fish for miles down the creek. Wake up old boys, you have been playing Rip Van Winkle long enough, we know your salary is somewhat small but if you are not going to do your duty give it up and let some other fellow try his hand.

Mr. Editor, we are always glad to see you down in our live and progressive little town of Prosperity and we believe you are glad to come and especially when you can get as nice beats as you had the other day. Come again, Mr. Editor.

Dr. W. E. Pelham, the life insurance man, was down here the past week and had with him Mr. Miller, of Columbia. We are always glad to see the doctor.

Mr. John L. Cook is building him a nice new dwelling house near his mill.

We notice that Supervisor J. H. Chappell is doing some good work on some of our public highways where there has never been a chain gang before, and we hope he will keep this up as we heard a certain candidate a few years ago for the legislature make these remarks about our public highways, that we had about 1200 miles of public highway in Newberry county. But we can't afford to keep up every little pig path in the county so, we have go just as good right to have our public highways worked as a few automobile roads. When we go up to Mr. Epps office he never says have your public highways been worked this year.

We always thought it was strictly forbidden by the federal government for a man holding a position under it to take a hand in politics. But it must not be the case with some of the office holders. We think if we had been in the position they were and especially on the liquor question we would keep silent.

There will be held next Saturday May 9, 1914, an election in the St. Lukes' school district No. 13 to vote on four mills more tax for the school. We can't say whether this is right or not as we think it wrong to allow any one to vote who is not a freeholder, and furthermore we believe it just as much wrong to do this as to educate your children on liquor money as blood money as they may call it. We have always thought the law on this line was wrong because you take a certain school district and there may be only 10 free holders and 40 tenants who are here this year and God know where another year, and you hold an election in that certain school district to vote four or six mills, the State limit, it is almost certain that a majority of the tenants will vote for the tax simply because he will say to himself that the tax will not hurt me, because I only own one dog, one mule, house hold and kitchen furniture and that will not make my taxes more than 25 cents more than they were last year. But how about the free holder whether he is in favor of the tax or not you must come up to the captain's office with your shad scales as we have the majority. And yet this is the law made by some of our Smart Alex's. But, we guess they must have an ax to grind or expecting one to grind, or there ought to have been prohibition in Richland county and especially when our last session of the legislature had the Fortner bill up.

TWO MEN BRAINED WITH BASEBALL BAT

King's Mountain Distillers Killed by Men They Hated—Fusillade of Shots Fired.

News and Courier. Yorkville, May 6.—J. K. Wells, aged 22, and Pink Dover, aged 37, both white, were killed in a fight with J. Ed Turner and his son, Thad E. Turner, at the home of Jim Mack, colored, about three miles from King's Mountain battle ground, in this county, last night at about 11:30 o'clock. Both the dead men were braided with a home-made baseball bat about three feet long, made of cedar. They are said to have been engaged in manufacturing and selling illicit whiskey. Both the Turners are in jail, having surrendered to the sheriff early this morning. An inquest was held today by Magistrate A. J. Quian, of Clover. None of the witnesses examined testified as to actually having seen the killing, and several who were present seemed to know little or nothing about it. From such as could be obtained it seems that the deplorable affair was due to the fact that Wells and Dover were both more or less under the influence of whiskey. It is said they had previously asserted that they proposed to kill the next officers of the law who underook to interfere with their business or arrested them, and that they mistook the Turners for officers.

Had Gone Fishing.

The Turners are farmers and live on the public road about eight miles above Yorkville. After a heavy rainfall in that section on yesterday they decided to go fishing, and drove to the home of Jim Mack, and left their buggy there and went to the creek near by to fish. They returned to the house a short time before the killing and found Dover and Wells, who mistook them for officers, and are said to have drawn pistols on Ed Turner and ordered him to hold up his hands. Mack testified that four shots were fired, and stated that Turner fired twice and that the other parties fired twice, but stated that he was not near enough to see the movements of all the parties.

After the shooting was over it was discovered that both Wells and Dover had been brained and were practically dead, and that Dover had been shot in the right leg below the knee. The jury returned a verdict that Wells and Dover had come to their death by reason of blows on their heads inflicted by Thad E. Turner.

FIRE IN ANDERSON CAUSES BIG LOSS

Auto and Wagon Warehouse Destroyed—Many Motors Were Burned.

The State. Anderson, May 6.—Fire originating from explosion of gasoline this afternoon totally destroyed a warehouse and contents belonging to J. W. Fowler, entailing a loss of $38,000, with insurance amounting to $22,500. The warehouse was used for storing automobiles, wagons, buggies, carriages, bagging and ties and farm implements. Forty-eight second-hand automobiles were destroyed, also 100 new wagons.

One end of the building was used as a garage, and when the keeper attempted to crank an automobile which had a defective crank box the explosion occurred, the flames spreading through the building, which was an immense corrugated iron structure, before the alarm could be turned in.

The firemen did gallant work, but the heat was so intense they could not get near the building. They did effective work in saving nearby residences.

The building was valued at $5,000 with insurance of $2,500. The contents were valued at $33,000 to $35,000 with insurance of $20,000. The fire was spectacular and was witnessed by several thousand people.

Birds That Fight Eagles.

In Foola, one of the Shetland islands, the natives make a business of rearing shau gulls in order to rid the island of the eagles that congregate there and commit many depredations. The magnificent red sandstone cliffs that skirt the northwestern coast became a favorite haunt of the eagles, and in this inaccessible spot they increased so rapidly that they became a terror to the farmers and fishermen who dwell on this isolated spot. The skau gulls are also strong and fierce and the inveterate foes of the eagle. In the battle the gulls are nearly always victorious, and so the inhabitants of Foola hit upon the novel plan of feeding and caring for the skau gulls, which, though formidable to their feathered enemies, are very peaceful and docile when brought in contact with man.
