The receipts on income tax in the State are reported as being lower last year than in 1913. The figures for Newberry are put down as $349.05 for 1913 and $328.61 for 1914.

Coming from the motion play of "The Lion of Venice," at the Opera House on Tuesday night a young lady said to her escort: "That was the finest moving picture I ever saw."

On account of the vacation at this office for holiday seasons and the weather conditions, this is a "fill up" paper with something. Much of it is necessarily stale.

Those who wish to see Zadora and the Belgian war pictures will have to go early to either place on Tuesday so as to divide their time between the Arcade and the Opera House.

To those who are saying that they missed Tuesday's paper we will state that we missed it too, as it was not printed, on account of the holidays, notice of which was given in last Friday's issue.

Mower's garage has been removed to its down town—lower Main street—quarters. The vacated place will be occupied from today by Summer's garage, whose old quarters will be converted into a cotton warehouse.

The Odd Fellows' orphanage in Greenville will receive the benefit funds from the Opera House show next Wednesday, and they will appreciate the same, as there are no more germs on moving picture money than on any other except that which is fresh from the mint.

The Herald and News hopes the doctor will have a pleasant outing.

Recital By Miss Rawl's School.

An enjoyable event of the past week was the piano recital given by the first and second year pupils of Miss Rawl's school at the studio Wednesday evening. Holly and mistletoe hung from window and mirror and candelier in the entrance hall and studio, the room with its white woodwork and colonial furnishings in the subdued light of the Christmas candles making an excellent background for the red, white and green of the decorations. The program, though simple, was rendered entirely from memory. The ease with which little Miss Margaret Burns, Master's George Fulmer and Burton and Fulmer Wells, the four youngest children in the school, appeared the first time before an audience, their practically faultless tone quality, rhythm and interpretation made it almost impossible to believe that the result had been achieved in only eleven weeks of study. Miss Evelyn Swain in the rendering of the Playel minuet gave an excellent interpretation of this stately old court dance.

Following was the program:

(a) Happy Days So Bright and Fair; (b) "Andante"—Miss Margaret Burns.

"Cuckoo, cuckoo, Calls from the Woods"—Master Burton Wells.

(a) Let Us Sing a Merry Lay; (b) "Allegretto"—Master George Fulmer.

Song—from the German—Master Fulmer Wells.

Minuet, Playel—Miss Evelyn Swain.

Chord Study, Moderato—Master Fulmer Wells.

Chord Study, Andante—Miss Marguerite Burns.

Allegretto—Master Fulmer Wells.

"Alla Marcia" (march)—Master Burton Wells and Miss Rawl.

Sunday Evening Wedding.

Mr. J. C. Lattimore and Miss Nannie Cameron were married at the manse Sunday evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. E. D. Kerr.

MASS MEETING SATURDAY

Every Farmer, Merchant and Banker Should Attend—Harvie Jordan Expected.

Every farmer, merchant, banker and business man in Newberry county, who is interested in good business during the year 1915, and in bettering the conditions of all our people, should attend the meeting in the court house on Saturday, which is called by Mr. C. E. Summer as president of Newberry Cotton association.

This meeting is for the purpose of discussing conditions and of bettering business conditions in this county. Mr. Harvie Jordan, of Georgia, and Mr. Wade Stackhouse of this State are expected to attend the meeting on Saturday and will make talks to the farmers.

The plans they have for the organization of a cotton corporation with a capital of one hundred million dollars, seems to be a feasible and practical plan and one that would enable the farmer to secure a living price for his cotton. When the farmer fails to get a good price for his cotton all business suffers.

There has been a very striking illustration of that during the past fall, therefore, every person interested should take part in this meeting on Saturday.

THE MATRIMONIAL MARKET

Not So Good In 1914 As In 1913—Number of Marriages During the Year.

The matrimonial market fell off considerably in December, 1914, from what it was in 1913. During hard times it generally happens that there are more marriages than when times are flush. According to a statement of Judge Schumpert in December, 1913, he issued 73 licenses to the colored people and 16 to white couples, making a total for December, 1913, of 89. In December, 1914, there were 43 licenses issued to the colored people and only 14 to whites, making a total of only 57, or 32 less marriages in December, 1914, than in December, 1913. During the year 1914 he issued 238 licenses to colored and 112 to white couples and a total for the year of 340. The total number of licenses issued in this county since the law went into effect is 1165.

Registrars in Newberry.

The following registrars of births and deaths, etc., have been appointed by the State board of health for Newberry county: S. S. Cunningham, C. T. Wyoer, W. A. Counts, T. W. Coleman, J. Y. Floyd, R. J. Johnson, H. L. Boulware, J. L. Holloway, W. C. Brown, W. T. Gibson. No registrars have been appointed in two townships.

COTTON SALES AT NEWBERRY

Nearly Three Quarters of a Million Dollars Less From Cotton Sales Than a Year Ago.

The total amount of cotton sold at Newberry for the season up to December 25th was 10,576 bales. The total amount for the same time in 1914 was 18,140 bales.

At $20 per bale the amount received for the cotton sold would be only a little more than three hundred thousand dollars. About one fourth of this cotton has not been sold except that it has been taken up by some of the merchants and is still held in the warehouse and, therefore, it could be safely stated that the total amount of money actually put in circulation from the sale of cotton during the fall was not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Even at only $50 per bale, the crop of 1913 as marketed at Newberry would have put in circulation something over $900,000 and the crop probably averaged more than $50 per bale during 1913.

With these facts and conditions it can be readily seen why there has been such business depression all the fall in this community. A great many of the merchants bought goods, expecting the price of cotton to remain around 10 cents. As a result in the falling in the price, there are probably more than a quarter of a million dollars of merchandise on the shelves of the merchants in the town of Newberry that would have been sold.

According to the ginners' report there have been ginned in the county of Newberry up to December 21st 30,694 bales against 35,798 in 1913.

On account of the people depending so largely on cotton as their money crop and the price being about 50 per cent less, naturally business has been very much off from what it has been heretofore, but if all interested will cooperate and confidence is maintained conditions in the future will be much better, because our farmers are going to be forced, even if they did not have the inclination as we believe they will have, to reduce the cotton acreage and diversify their crops and grow more of the things on the farm that are needed for the maintenance of the farm instead of raising cotton to purchase these supplies.

MATINEE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work." If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
