That large field of oats of the Summer Bros. company at Jalapa got a good rain Wednesday night. Prosperity section and other sections of the county also got good showers.

We need stricter health rules; we need a more rigid enforcement of all sanitary laws.—From Dr. J. M. Kibler's admirable address, printed in the last issue of the paper.

In the published list of buyers of Ford roadsters from Summer's garage last week the name of Mr. Henry O. Long, of Silverstreet, was accidentally omitted by the reporter.

There is a girl in this town who can make the best biscuits going, but somehow we never see her name in the society columns.—Anderson Mail. Here in Newberry we have best biscuit bakers among all classes.

Kept Marriage a Secret.—Headline of a notice announcing the marriage last December of a couple near Greenville. It was made public on the 26th of April. A secret marriage was made in Newberry a week or so ago.

With vast throngs of people throughout the entire nation, we regret the death of John Bunny, who was one of the most popular actors and a great favorite in the pictures at the opera house.

The delegates to the international Sunday school convention, which has been in session at Newberry, have returned to their homes well satisfied with the results of the meeting.—Aiken Journal and Review. That is the con.

We have not seen the carnival shows but people who have say some of them are worth the money. All say Freddie, the armless wonder, is worth seeing; that the way he handles his toes is remarkable.

What we have been taking for little floating objects in the opera house are the "tips" to the ladies' hats. In the semi-darkness there the "spirals"—or whatever they are called—can't be seen; nothing but the tip end waving about.

The restful bits along the way, the comfort of the passing hours, are the smiles of life and do more to tone us up and make us able to withstand life's buffets than anything else.—From editorial in the Sunday News, of Charleston. This is why we go to the moving picture shows.

Have you ever seen a "bugless" potato? Mr. Henry M. Booser was exhibiting a sample of that specimen yesterday. If the entire yield was like it the bugs would go bug house. Mr. Booser or Mr. Ben T. Paysinger will explain the bugless variety of Irish potatoes.

Just fifty years ago Capt. B. F. Brown and Dr. R. H. Land trapped into Augusta. After the surrender, these soldiers, together, walked from the Virginia battlefield to their home.—T. D. M. in Augusta Chronicle. This is of interest to Newberry, where we all know Dr. Land.

Leaving the crowded opera house on Tuesday night and going to the crowded carnival ground, we thought most of the people must have decided upon these two places for the evening; but not so, for after the close of all, numbers were met coming from a meeting of the dramatic clubs, on College hill. Newberry is a lively city.

S. T. Reil, treasurer of the association, was thanked for his attendance upon the convention, and through his efforts much needed money was secured for continuing the work of the association.—From report of a meeting in Spartanburg upon the return of the delegates there from the State Sunday school convention.

Joe Perry, colored, dropped dead yesterday in Clarence Bragg's barber shop, 929 Friend street, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Just a few minutes before his death he was conversing cheerfully with acquaintances in front of the shop. Coroner Lindsay viewed the body, but held no inquest, as death was due to natural causes. Perry lived on Mr. J. R. Davidson's place.

Two colored members of the carnival company, Hattie McGregor and W. M. Dewey, from the "Old Plantation" part of it, were before Recorder Earhardt the first of the week, for violation of the liquor law. Dewey was dismissed, feeling like an admiral on the high seas. McGregor was made to feel that she was not "on her native heath" when the recorder said "$50 or 30 days." The recorder would have made the fine heavier, but the woman pleaded guilty. In her valise there had been found three quarts and a pint. She had just returned from a day off in Columbia.

SELLING POSTCARD PICTURES OF NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Our new school building had just been completed. It was the topic of conversation for the whole community. The children never tired of repeating the praise they had heard. The older people smiled with pride when they heard its name mentioned.

It was suggested in our Improvement association meeting (the second one of the session) that we give each member some definite work to do. The talent method was discussed and so was the post card idea. The cards won. And in sustaining the interest we had, I don't think we could have found anything better.

Besides the enthusiasm, we had enough money made from the cards to profit us greatly.

An amateur used a kodak to make the picture. The snap-shot proved to be an excellent picture, so we immediately made out an order for one hundred. We got them printed so reasonably that our profit was surprising.

These pictures were distributed among the members of the association, who sold them at 10 cents each. A few were always on sale as souvenirs at our social meetings. Many persons, who had relatives living at a distance, who had lived in the immediate community, bought several to send away as an ordinary card. We realized $6 clear.

You can have no idea how easily these pictures sold. Try this in your association and see the result both as an interest builder and a splendid way to raise money.

(Mrs.) Bernice Werts, Pres. Hunter-DeWalt School Imp. Assn.

Death of Mr. Harrison Cromer.

Mr. J. Harrison Pinckney Cromer died suddenly at his home in the county some time during Tuesday night, as he was found dead at midnight, from a stroke of apoplexy. He was buried at St. Matthew's church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, service by Rev. J. J. Long and Rev. Y. von A. Riser. Mr. Cromer was nearly 75 years old.

His wife was Miss Elizabeth Heller, who died about ten years ago. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. B. Graham and the widow of H. S. Graham. Mr. Cromer was well known in the city, where he often visited. He was a good old veteran, having fought in the Confederacy in Holcombe's legion. Among the wounds he received in battle was a shot in the foot which disabled him from further participation in the struggle. He was a member of James D. Nance camp.

Death of Mr. Jno. C. Paysinger.

Mr. John Calhoun Paysinger died at his home in the county on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock and was buried in the old family graveyard—the Chapman burying ground—at 3:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, the Rev. P. E. Shealy conducting the service. Mr. Paysinger was 56 years old. About six weeks ago he had a stroke of paralysis, which left him in a critical condition from the day of the attack.

The deceased was a son of the late Samuel S. Paysinger, of the county, and is survived by his wife, who was Miss Ada Sligh, and five children, as follows: S. C. Paysinger, Misses Sara, Rose and Lucia Paysinger and Robert Paysinger. He is survived also by his mother, Mrs. Rose Paysinger, and by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Bessie Lee, of Georgia; S. H. Paysinger, of Silverstreet; Albert Paysinger, of Latta, Dillon county; W. P. Paysinger, of the county; D. F. Paysinger, of Augusta, Ga.; Miss Pearl Paysinger and Robert Paysinger, of the county, besides a large circle of other relatives and friends.

Jno. C. Paysinger was of genial nature and by his agreeable disposition was well liked by all who knew him.

Better Babies Contest.

The attention of every parent of a child under three years is called to the "better babies contest" to be held Saturday, May 8, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

The Newberry High school has been turned over to the Civic association, to Miss Sadie Goggans and to Mr. Geo. D. Brown for this "better babies contest." The doctors and nurses of the county are keenly interested in the movement, and will give their services for the examination of the children on the days mentioned. All children entered in the contest will receive a careful medical examination. They will be scored according to the score-card of the American Medical association, and the meaning of the score card will be explained to the mothers. When mothers find what the defects are in children they are sure to do their best to remedy them.

It is a splendid movement which is engaging the earnest attention of the women of America. It means much to the future citizenship of the nation. The old-fashioned "baby show" brought much heart burning and disappointment in its train, among the mothers whose little ones were not prize-winners; but with the new plan things are different. An opportunity for earnest inquiry is provided in "better babies contest" when health, and not beauty, is the basis of the examination.

In a recent contest in this State one mother, who had been told that the tonsils of her three-year-old boy were diseased, listened intently when told what would follow unless the child received medical care. As she left the room she said, "I am going to do something about it, you may be sure." Had it not been for entering her boy in the contest she might not have suspected the trouble until untold suffering had been the result. Many instances could be cited to prove the point, which hardly needs proof, that once the attention of parents is called to unwise practices prevailing in their care of children, and a better way pointed, good is obliged to result.

Then, mothers, don't let this opportunity pass. Everything is absolutely free. Each mother is asked to bring a small blanket, a shawl or piece of outing—anything large enough to put about the baby when it is undressed. Next week's papers will contain details of the examination.

In the Interest of a Good Society.

Everybody is urged to come to the opera house on Monday afternoon and night to help in a good cause. Mr. Wells has promised the Calendar society of Central Methodist church half the proceeds.

A large number of children and young people are being trained to supply the vaudeville between the pictures. There will be a chorus by the tots, costume coronets and a May pole dance by the older ones; also songs by a splendidly trained quartet. Vaudeville will be on at both afternoon and evening performances. The very best home made candy will be on sale.

CHARLESTON COUNTY CLOSE IN MAYORALTY CONTEST

Prima Facie Convention Roll Shows Seven Delegates in Favor of Hyde.

The State. Charleston, April 28.—The city Democratic executive committee met tonight and declared a prima facie convention roll of delegates to the meeting Monday, Hyde getting 13 clubs with 137 delegates and Grace 11 clubs with 130 delegates. Protests against three Grace clubs with 36 delegates were found to be without standing, as the Hyde contestants failed to file with the chairman certified lists of their club election within 48 hours after the club meeting as required by the constitution of the city convention.

Dr. Hallman on the Violin.

(From the Spartanburg Journal's account of a meeting of the Woman's Music club.) Miss Marie Epton was chairman of the program, the subject being "The Violin." Miss Epton arranged a most unique and enjoyable program. Miss Epton invited Dr. Hallman, of our city, to tell the club of the construction of the violin, and it was assuredly one of the most interesting features of our program ever given by the club. Dr. Hallman had with him all the different parts used in the make-up of the violin and showed clearly the different steps in putting the violin together. It was a rare treat to have such a gifted man present, and in the last number of the musical program, Miss Epton used one of the violins that Dr. Hallman made and those present heard an instrument of deep resonant tone.
