Another of Miss Elizabeth Dominick's art pupils winning a prize in Tuck & Son's recent contest is Miss Lucile Baxter. C. Tillman's speech at firemen's tournament.

MISS SUBER DEAD RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Young Lady Who was Struck by Machine Saturday Succumbs to Injuries Thursday Morning.

Miss Agnes Suber, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Suber, died on Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock, from injuries received resulting from the accident which was described in Tuesday's paper. It will be recalled that the distress accident happened on last Saturday while parties were returning from the Long Lane School picnic, when Mr. K. Baker's automobile, getting out of control, ran against Miss Suber, knocking her down and running over her, pinning her to the ground. While no bones were broken, it was found that she was seriously injured.

It developed that the gravest injury was to the lungs, and it was feared that the accident would prove fatal. Drs. Gilder and Moore rendered all possible aid.

The shocking death has cast a gloom over the community, as the young lady was very popular. The sorrowing family in their great bereavement have the sympathy of all, who realize the awfulness of a young and promising life being so cruelly cut off in its sweetness and beauty.

Besides her parents and other relatives, she is survived by a brother, Forrest, who, with his sister, so rudely snatched away, were the only children of this sorely afflicted family.

The funeral services will be held at Enoree this morning at 11 o'clock, to be conducted by the Rev. W. E. Furcron.

Coroner Lindsay held an inquest on Thursday and the verdict of the jury was: "That Agnes Suber came to her death by being run over or against by an automobile driven by K. Baker carelessly."

Mr. Baker, who was present at the inquest, surrendered to Sheriff Blease, who was also present, and came into town with the sheriff and is now in his custody.

Rev. John G. Wilson, of Ninety Six, will preach in First Baptist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Oliver Harris died in Columbia yesterday. He had been in ill health for some time. Mr. Harris was the uncle of Mr. C. Burr Martin, of Newberry.

CHARM OF ICELAND.

A Land of Wild Grandeur and Mighty and Beautiful Waterfalls.

In spite of its poverty Iceland is one of the most beautiful countries of the world. The scenery combines a wild grandeur, with ingratiating charm in an infinite variety of characteristic landscapes.

The mountain formations are majestic and powerful in outline, showing traces of the volcanic forces which are still active in some places. The large cupola shaped mountains, which rise like oriental temples from the ocean or the level plains, their tops covered with perpetual snow, are very impressive.

To this must be added a wealth of mighty and beautiful waterfalls, great lakes, steaming springs and craters still warm. The view is usually wide and open and the play of colors fascinating, especially in the fair, mild summer nights. The air is clear, healthy and invigorating, streaming alternately from the wide sea and from the snow covered mountains.

This natural beauty attracts many tourists to the country, and large ocean steamers, filled with travelers, visit it several times each summer. Owing to the lack of transportation facilities most of them must be content with seeing the coasts. When it gets railroads, modern hotels and other conveniences Iceland will no doubt become a popular tourist country.

Iceland has many possibilities for a fair future.—American Scandinavian Review.

Thackeray and the Eggs.

"Americans," says a writer in the London Chronicle, "have a way of serving boiled eggs which is apt to disconcert the English visitor. It is told of Thackeray that at his first American breakfast in Boston he ordered this dish. Among the array of things placed before him was a goblet filled with something that he failed to recognize, and he also missed the eggs. In answer to his inquiry the waiter said, 'That's them in the glass.' 'Well, but where are the shells?' asked Thackeray. 'You didn't ask for the shells,' was the prompt reply."

Tit For Tat.

He—These biscuits are not like those mother used to make. She—Of course they are not. I want you to understand that these biscuits are constructed in strict accord with the latest scientific formula and can be consumed without injury to the digestive system.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Fine Oats.

Mr. R. C. Perry, who says he is a good judge of fine oats and wheat, and we have no reason to doubt the fact says that Mr. Henry O. Long, of Silverstreet, has a field of seventy-five acres of the finest he has seen in a long time, and that he also has some extra fine wheat.

In some places the small grain is not looking so well and the yield will not be what it would have been had the rains come a little sooner. This should not discourage our farmers in their efforts to raise grain.

Church of the Redeemer.

(Rev. Edward Fulenwider, Pastor.) Nothing preventing, the following will be the program of divine services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer next Sunday:

11:15 a. m., the regular morning service. Being the day of Pentecost, the pastor will preach a special sermon on the subject, "Grieving the Holy Spirit." Text Eph. 4:30, "And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption." The personality of the Holy Spirit; some motives by which He is grieved; the sure sign by which a man may know he has been sealed by the Holy Ghost, will be some of the interesting and practical thoughts presented in the sermon. It meant a great deal for the human race when Jesus said it was expedient for Him to go away that He might send the Comforter into the world.

8:30 p. m. The evening service. Sermon by the pastor on "Building up the Battlements." Text, Deut. 22:8, "When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for the roof, that thou bring not blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence." There will be good music at both services.

The public is cordially invited.

Use the Newspapers.

Don't advertise on trees and rocks. Afar from the haunts of men You cannot sell the woodcock clocks, Or pictures for his den.

The squirrel may observe your sign About your cure for chills, And on it he may try to dine, But that won't pay your bills.

The possum buys no breakfast foods We may as well confess, So if you want to sell your goods You'd better use the press. —New York Mail.

In Memorial Mrs. G. D. Brown.

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Prosperity, S. C., A. R. P. church, offers this tribute of love and esteem to the memory of Mrs. G. D. Brown, who passed from us April 13, 1915:

We know that God's hand was in her death, for we are told that not even a sparrow falls to the ground without our Heavenly Father. And while we humbly submit to His will, our loss is keenly felt.

As we met from house to house, no one gave us a more cordial welcome than Mrs. Brown. And whatever work we undertook, she cheerfully did her part, even urging to greater activity.

The orphans held a large place in her heart (they do in the Master's) and she wanted to do much for them.

Resolved, That we each learn the lesson our Father would teach us by this act of His providence.

That we remember that we, too, are mortal.

That we strive to live each day in such a manner that we may be witnesses for the Lord Jesus in word and deed, so that at His coming we may be found "ready."

That we extend our much-felt sympathy to the husband and children, and commend them to Him, who "bindeth up all wounds."

That this memorial be published in the church paper, also in the county papers, and a copy sent the bereaved family.

Mrs. E. P. Kibler, Mrs. Isabelle Boyd, Miss Mae Dominick, Committee.
