

WEDDINGS

Spearman-Knight.
A pretty home wedding was that solemnized on Wednesday morning, June 30th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Spearman when their eldest daughter, Caroline Elizabeth became the bride of Mr. Achilles Wilkes Knight.

Only the members of the two families were present to witness the ceremony. A pretty arch had been arranged and was draped with Southern smilax and calsias. Before this arch the marriage vows were taken. Prior to the ceremony and at the appointed hour 10 o'clock Mendelssohn's wedding march was sounded by Mrs. Burris.

The bride is a young woman who has countless friends because of her sweet and gracious personality. The going away suit was of castor with gloves and shoes to match. Bouquet was brides roses and ferns.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Knight left for points north. Among the out of town visitors were Mrs. J. L. Walker, Johnston; Mr. E. H. Longshore and F. B. Longshore, Abbeville; Mr. Frank Spearman, Helena.

Higgins-Muldrow.

A wedding of much interest was solemnized at the residence of Mr. F. W. Higgins on Tuesday afternoon, June 29, at 7:30 o'clock; the contracting parties being Miss Annie L. Higgins of Newberry and Mr. J. E. Muldrow of Bishopville.

The ceremony was performed on the front piazza, which appeared to be particularly adapted for such an occasion, and was witnessed by the guests on the lawn. Potted plants formed an appropriate and attractive decoration. At the first strain of the wedding march, rendered by Miss Teresa Maybin, Rev. J. W. Carson, the officiating minister took his place.

Then came the two bridesmaids, Miss Carrie Darby of Sandy Springs, and Miss Jessie Rutherford of Blair's. Miss Darby wore a becoming dress of shadow lace over pink messaline, and Miss Rutherford, a charming dress of white chiffon over pink messaline. Each carried an armful of lovely American Beauty roses. The groomsmen, Messrs. H. G. Heriott and R. E. Dennis, came in next followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. J. L. Wright of Anderson, sister of the bride. Mrs. Wright wore a handsome gown of white messaline trimmed with pearls and shadow lace, and carried American Beauty roses. Then the bride entered with her maid of honor, Miss Trent Keitt, and was met by the groom who came from an opposite entrance with his best man, Mr. T. M. Green of Columbia. Miss Keitt wore an attractive dress of pink silk and tulle, and carried American Beauty roses. Then, while the bride and groom stood under a large wedding bell of shasta daisies, the beautiful and impressive ceremony was performed.

The bride was unusually lovely in a handsome wedding dress of white crepe de chine trimmed with valley lillies and real lace. Her wedding veil of tulle, arranged in cap style, was crowned with a wreath of valley lillies, and her exquisite shower bouquet was made up of bride's roses and valley lillies.

The bride is a particularly charming young lady, admired by all who know her. She is a direct descendant of Col. William Caldwell of the revolution, on her father's side, and of Col. Thomas Rutherford on that of her mother, Mr. Muldrow, the groom is a lineal descendant of Nathaniel Green. The numerous friends of the bride regret to see her leave Newberry.

After the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining room which was decorated in a profusion of pink roses, where a delicious salad course was served. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. L. W. Jones, Misses Selma Gambrell and Harriet Rutherford. Mrs. J. L. Keitt received the guests at the door.

The popularity of the bride was attested by the many handsome presents of silver, cut glass and china, which were displayed in the living room. Both the living room and parlor were beautifully decorated in shasta daisies and southern smilax. The bride's book was kept by Mrs. George Johnstone in the parlor.

The bride's going away suit was of handsome dark green French serge with accessories to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Muldrow left on the 9 o'clock train for Bishopville where they will make their home.

The out of town guests were Mrs. J. E. Muldrow, Sr., mother of the groom; Mr. R. E. Muldrow, both of the groom and Mr. R. E. Dennis of Bishopville; Mr. T. M. Green of Columbia; Mr. H. G. Heriott of Woodrow; Mr. W. D. Rutherford, Misses Jessie, Harriet and Hannah Rutherford, Miss Carrie Miller, Mr. L. P. Miller, Jr., Mr. W. F. Rutherford of Blair's; Mrs. J. H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wright and Mr. Sam Martin of Anderson; Miss Carrie Darby of Sandy Springs; and Miss Selma Gambrell of Belton.

Martin-Kerr.

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock June 30, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. N. Martin, was solemnized the marriage of her daughter, Miss Eleanor Martin, and Mr. Gilbert Lawson Kerr.

The house was beautifully decorated in an abundance of cut flowers. The rear hall, where the ceremony was performed, was decorated to simulate an Italian garden. On tall white pedestals arranged at intervals were pots of small cedars, and from behind a lattice of white, shasta daisies peeped. Daisies were banked on each side of the gateway, and festooned across the altar before which the young couple pledged their troth.

Before the ceremony Mrs. S. B. Jones, Miss Marion Jones, at the piano, and Mr. Earle Hipp on the violin rendered several selections.

At the first strain of the wedding march from Lohengrin Master George and Foster Martin advanced and untied the ribbons, which admitted the wedding party into this veritable garden of loveliness. First the ushers, Rev. R. T. Kerr and Mr. J. N. Martin, took their places. Then came the officiating ministers, Rev. J. W. Carson and Dr. T. W. Sloan, who stood behind the altar. Then followed the bridesmaids who came in singly from the side halls, Miss Belle Thompson of Chester, Miss Mary Frances Pool of Newberry, Miss Annie Young of Columbia, Miss Rodman of North Carolina, and Miss Rosalyn Hipp of Newberry. These were all attired in dainty white dresses with yellow girdles and carried bouquets of daisies and ferns. Then came the maid of honor, Mrs. L. C. McArthur of Bennettsville. She wore a lovely white dress and carried an armful of daisies. After her, came the maid of honor, Miss Lalla Martin sister of the bride. She was attired in a dainty white dress and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies. Then came the groom with his brother, Rev. W. C. Kerr, of Wrens, Ga. Just preceding the bride, came her little nieces and nephew, Frances and Sara Martin, Douschka and Henry Sweets. They were dressed in white with yellow ribbons and carried baskets of daisies which they scattered in the bride's pathway. The bride entered with her brother, Mr. F. N. Martin who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her wedding dress of ivory satin, en train. Her veil worn cap effect with orange blossoms was caught up with sprays of valley lillies. Her bouquet was bride's roses and lillies of the valley.

The solemn words which made them man and wife were spoken by Rev. J. W. Carson, pastor of the bride, assisted by her brother-in-law, Dr. T. W. Sloan of Greenville.

After congratulations the guests were invited into the dining room where a salad course, cake and cream were served. This room was decorated in quantities of daisies and candles shed a soft light over the scene.

Mrs. Kerr as Miss Martin is greatly loved by a large circle of friends, who regret that her marriage will take her away. Mr. Kerr is pastor of the A. R. P. church at Kings Mountain and professor of Greek in Linwood college at Gastonia, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerr left amid showers of rice on the 8:54 train for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home at Kings Mountain, N. C.

The out of town guests were: Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Sloan, James Sloan and Mrs. Cely of Greenville, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Sweets and children of Louisville, Ky., Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Reid of Atlanta, Mrs. L. C. McArthur of Bennettsville, Miss Belle Thompson of Chester, Rev. R. T. Kerr of Bradley, Miss Rodman of North Carolina, Miss Annie Young of Columbia and Rev. W. C. Kerr of Wrens, Ga.

YOUNG MAN LOSES AN EYE

Struck by Fragment of Wood in Blasting.

News and Courier.
Barnwell, June 29.—A most distressing accident occurred at Blackville yesterday afternoon, when Morris Rich, a young dental student about 21 years of age, suffered the loss of his right eye. According to information reaching here, Mr. Rich was watching some men blast stumps in a field, preparatory to making a baseball diamond, when a piece of wood struck him in the face with such force that his eye was knocked out and his face otherwise frightfully disfigured. The young man was placed on north-bound train No. 32 and hurried to Philadelphia for treatment. It is not known at this time whether or not his injuries will prove fatal. Mr. Rich had a brother killed in an automobile accident at Orangeburg about a year ago.

EXPRESSES VIEWS

Dr. Meyer-Gerhard Declares America and Germany Do Not Understand Each Other.

Berlin, June 29.—(By wireless to Sarville.)—Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, the attaché of the German colonial office, who was sent from the United States to Berlin by the German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, to explain the views of the United States regarding the Lusitania case, published an article in Der Tag today on "Germany and America," in which he says his experiences convinced him that the two countries misunderstand each other.

"It is true," said Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, "that the American press, with some laudable exceptions, especially the German-American papers, have not succeeded in remaining neutral, but the influence of the press upon public opinion is sometimes greatly over-estimated. Doubtless large sections of the American people are friendly toward Germany, whose efficient organization is daily winning new friends and arousing interest in things German."

"One excellent effect of the war is upon German-Americans, who, without sacrifice of their loyalty to their adopted country, have shown strong remembrance of their descent, their education and their culture. Besides them, on the other side of the ocean, there are wide circles who sympathize with Germany."

Ammunition Question.

Alluding to the discussion over the ammunition question, Mr. Meyer-Gerhard said:

"Germans often mistake large ammunition orders for filled orders. To a large extent such orders are changing big factories into ammunition works. This is regrettable, but the writer is convinced that large parts of the American people disapprove of it. A popular vote would show a considerable majority against the practice. Germans must discriminate between business and accepting orders and the great mass of the American people."

"Equally there are Americans who condemn violation of Belgian neutrality and the sinking of the Lusitania, and are unable to understand the German idea of the real condition, while Germans are unable to understand how Americans could travel on an ammunition ship. Both people are laboring under entirely different opinions. Both have lived hitherto in peace and friendship, and should continue so to live. There is no real reason for antagonism existing between them."

Cites Causes.

In the course of his article, Dr. Meyer-Gerhard spoke of the causes which he said had awakened Germany's former friendly feeling toward America, citing them as what he alluded to as the latter's inclination towards England and munition sales in America. Germany on the other hand, he said, was reproached with violating Belgian neutrality and devoting itself to militarism in order to conquer the whole world. The deaths of Americans on the Lusitania and unfavorably affected American sentiment towards Germany, he added.

Regarding the question of Belgian neutrality and militarism, the writer says the Germans cannot understand, the feeling aroused in America over these questions, as they know that Belgian surrendered her own neutrality and that militarism is only the German nation in arms for its own defence. The American viewpoint was different, however, and each nation feels itself wrongly treated by the other. The whole matter was only one of misunderstanding, said Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, which can also arise between friends. No sensible man, he said, will light-heartedly throw away a friendship of long years because he cannot on one occasion make himself completely understood. Sensible nations, he argued, will conduct themselves in like manner.

"Friendship between Germany and America," declared Dr. Meyer-Gerhard "is a valuable possession for both nations, and it is worth while to take care that it be saved to both."

The Lokal Anzeiger, which also printed the article, commenting editorially on it said:

"The foregoing instructive and cheering remarks by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard show that the imperial government is on the right road with its treatment of questions existing between us and the United States. It is to be wished also that those circles which heretofore have been inclined to make light of our differences with America as being utterly unimportant will let themselves be taught better by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard's words."

Barbecue at Pomaria Friday, July 30.

I will give a first class barbecue at the Pomaria park Friday, July 30. A good dinner and a pleasant day to all. Base ball and other attractions during the day.

SLATON LEAVES HOME FOR PACIFIC COAST

Military Guard is Withdrawn From Estate of Former Governor of Georgia.

Atlanta, June 28.—Former Gov. John M. Slaton, accompanied by Mrs. Slaton, left Atlanta late today for the Pacific coast by way of New York, and the military guard stationed at his suburban home as a result of demonstrations against the commutation of Leo M. Frank's death sentence was withdrawn tonight.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Slaton was without incident. Accompanied by a few friends, they motored from their home to the terminal station, where they boarded a Southern railway passenger train.

The four men arrested at the Slaton estate early today will be released tomorrow, according to an announcement tonight by the military authorities. The 26 taken into custody Saturday, however, are to be prosecuted.

Col. Orville Hall, commanding the Fifth regiment, today made a written report of their arrest to Gov. Harris, who is to decide whether the trial shall be by military or civil court. No formal charges have yet been placed against them.

Gov. Harris late today issued a statement to the people of Georgia asking that there "be an immediate cessation of all efforts at violence or riotous demonstration" because of the Frank case. He said that he continued the martial law zone around the former governor's home because of representations of Adjt. Gen. J. Vanholt Nash and Sheriff Mangum of Fulton county and added the action of Former Gov. Slaton in the Frank case "is past history."

Mr. Langston Ill.

Anderson Tribune.

The many friends of Mr. Charlie Langston, formerly editor of a local newspaper, will be pained to learn of his serious illness at his home on Hampton street. His condition is said to be critical and there is little hope held out for his recovery.

Barbecue.

The Improvement association of Hunter-DeWalt school will give a first-class barbecue at the school house Thursday, August 3, 1915.

Mrs. Bernice Werts, President.

Death of Mrs. Bettie L. Davenport.

Mrs. Bettie L. Davenport died suddenly Thursday evening, June 24, at 6 o'clock at the home of her son, J. W. Davenport, of Mountville.

She was in the 76th year of her age. She had been sick for some time but her sudden death was a shock to all. She was laid to rest in Bush River Saturday at 12 o'clock with services at the grave, conducted by Rev. Burris, pastor of Bush River church and Rev. Lightfoot of the First Baptist church of Clinton. Her husband, Jefferson Davenport, died 16 years ago, June 2, 1899.

She leaves to mourn their loss one sister, Mrs. S. C. Robinson of Hartsville, Ga., and one brother, Mr. Joe Chandler of Clinton; also four daughters and three sons, Mrs. A. H. Reese of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. W. P. Montjoy, Clinton; Mrs. W. C. Cunningham, Lauren; Mrs. M. D. Smith, Chappells; C. S. Davenport, Warrenton, Ga.; T. J. Davenport, Newberry, and J. W. Davenport, Mountville, two step sons, John and Joseph Davenport, and a number of grandchildren.

In the past few years she had often expressed her desire for the time to come when she should join those loved ones in heaven who had gone before.

THE ANNUAL MEETING FARMERS OIL MILL

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers oil mill was held in the courthouse Saturday. The reports showed the plant to be in good shape and running smoothly. It was also reported that the new roller mill is completed and running, and is doing fine work. Altogether the past year was a successful one, and the directors declared an annual dividend of eight per cent.

The following directors were re-elected: B. L. Dominick, J. S. Dominick, W. H. Long, Jno. C. Hipp, H. T. Fellers, A. L. Coleman, C. M. Folks, W. D. Senn, Alan Johnstone. At a meeting of the directors the following officers were re-elected: Alan Johnstone, president; Jno. H. Wicker, general manager and treasurer.

Officers Pulaski Lodge.

At the last meeting of the Pulaski Lodge, I. O. O. F. the following officers were elected: E. H. Aull, noble grand; E. S. Blease, vice grand; W. G. Peterson, recording and financial secretary; Theo. Danielson, treasurer; D. I. Franklin, outside guard. The officers will be installed at the meeting tonight and the appointive officers will be named.

ATTENTION MR. FARMER!

We are ready for your grinding, both corn and wheat. We have the mill that we can please you- by giving you the grade and the quality, we will take care of all wheat shipped to us, will take care of your stock, this is our part. Your part is to get your wheat in shape for grinding, don't bring damp wheat to mill. I haven't time nor space to sun your wheat, and no man or mill can grind damp wheat, we want your grinding and will strive to give you the best service that is in us.

POPULAR NEWBERRY COUPLE ARE MARRIED IN GEORGETOWN

Prof. William C. Bynum and Miss Emma Rodger Took Their Friends By Surprise.

The followin account of the marriage of Mr. W. C. Bynum and Miss Emma Rodger, both of whom have spent the greater part of their lives in Newberry, will be read with interest. Mr. Bynum is the brother of Mr. F. L. Bynum of the Newberry bar, and his bride is a niece of Mrs. J. W. Chappell and Mrs. Haskell Wright, and both have many friends here. The account of the wedding is from the Georgetown Times of the 26th:

"Georgetown folks have been treated to another surprise wedding, perhaps the biggest surprise of all. On Thursday afternoon, at half past four o'clock, Miss Emma F. Rodger and Prof. W. C. Bynum were quietly married at the residence of Dr. W. E. Sparkman, where Miss Rodger resides. Rev. H. J. Cauthen came over from Pawley's Island to tie the knot. Only a few persons in the city knew of the intentions of the couple until an hour or two before the ceremony; but good news travels fast, and by the hour named information on the subject was at a premium.

"Miss Rodger is a daughter of Mr. L. N. Rodger of Columbia. She has been teaching the fifth grade in the Winyah school for several years, and has won the highest commendation from the school officials for her good work. She has resigned her place as teacher, but all are glad she will remain with us.

"Prof. Bynum has been here so long that his record needs no detailing here. Suffice it to say that today the Georgetown graded school ranks with the very best in the State. Since his marriage, he can no longer be subject to outside offers, as his home is now here for good. We expect to keep him.

"Mr. and Mrs. Bynum left on the afternoon train for Saluda and Glenn Springs, between which two points they will spend their honeymoon. Their stay will probably last five or six weeks.

"The congratulations and good wishes of the entire city are theirs. We will welcome their return home."

Another Account.

"Mr. W. C. Bynum and Miss Emma Frances Rodger were quietly married at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Sparkman on the afternoon of the 24th, by the Rev. H. J. Cauthen.

"Mr. Bynum, the popular superintendent of the Winyah graded school, is held in the highest esteem by the people of Georgetown and has held his position for several years.

"Miss Rodger came here from Newberry about three years ago, having been elected to teach in the same school. Preferring quiet home life to the fitful exactions of modern society, only those who know her best can estimate her sterling qualities, and appreciate those characteristics which go to make a home happy and which she possesses in a high degree. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Bynum a long and happy life, and congratulate him upon his good fortune. They left on the afternoon train for the up-country, and will be gone a month or more, but will return to make this their home for another year at least."

Colored Churchmen.

Written for The Herald and News.

The sixth annual council for colored churchmen in the diocese of South Carolina met Wednesday, June 30, 1915. It met in St. Luke's Episcopal church and it met at 10 a. m. At ten o'clock the Rev. W. A. Guerry, D. D., delivered his annual address to the council. The bishop in his usual strong and clear cut way, after reviewing the field, made many important recommendations for the future development of the work. The bishop reiterated his disappointment at the negroes rejection of the plan for a negro suffragan bishop for deacons of South Carolina.

Immediately after this address Mr. Julian A. Simpkins of Aiken was ordained to the deaconate.

At 4 p. m. Archdeacon E. T. Baskerville of Charleston, S. C., delivered his annual address which was particularly strong and explicit, showing that he had such knowledge of his field of labor, as comes only of personal experience and of observation.

The feature of personal help and self sustenance was specially stressed and emphasized. After which several timely addresses were made by several members of the council.

At 8:30 p. m. the service of evening song, the Rev. Prof. L. W. Grice, warden of Bishop Payne Divinity school and the Rev. Jacob R. Jones of St. Ann, New Brookland, S. C. delivered very able addresses on the Claim of the Christian Ministry.
