"The Strange Case of Mary Page" had to be crowded out of this issue on account of campaign and ads. It will appear Monday afternoon and will still be ahead of the play.

Miss Woodie Bowman has kindly consented to take care of the social news for The Herald and News. Her phone number is 359 and The Herald and News will be pleased if the good ladies will give her any assistance they may be able. She will also write items for the personal column.

This is another good paper. Somehow we just can't help making a good paper. It just comes natural. There are a lot of good ads in the forty eight columns and also a lots of good reading matter. Don't skip anything, but just start at the beginning and read right on through all of it.

The State campaign seems to be very tame. Our correspondent says the people are thinking and that their lack of demonstration does not mean that they are indifferent. It is well.

This is a great time to drag the roads. And they need it. Drag the roads.

THE GOVERNORS

The Herald and News prints the opening speeches of the five candidates for governor. The synopses of these speeches are of the ones delivered at the Spartanburg meeting. We also print cuts of four of the candidates. We requested Mr. Duncan to furnish us his cut and we would print it, but he did not. In fact, we asked for only single column cuts, but three of the candidates misunderstood us and sent double column cuts so we requested the other one to send a double column cut also, and, therefore, we present them to the voters just as they are and with what they have to say and you may take your choice.

It takes considerable of our space but we imagined the voters would be interested in the candidates. It is true the war in Europe and the possible war in Mexico is now overshadowing everything else, but it should not divert us from doing the right thing and selecting the best men to fill the offices. This is peculiarly a time when we should select the men best fitted for the various positions which they seek.

ENTENTE DIPLOMATS TRY TO PREVENT WAR

Doing Their Best to Avert Open Breach Between United States and Mexico.

Washington, June 21.—While Gen. Carranza is studying the American note rejecting his demand for withdrawal of Pershing's expedition, European diplomats are exerting pressure on the first chief to prevent him from going to war with the United States, it was learned here today. Some intimation as to what Carranza's next step will be was expected hourly tonight at the state department.

Special Agent Rodgers reported today that the Mexican cabinet had under consideration the American note but was unable to forecast what action would be taken. His message threw little light on what was going on in the Mexican capital.

From other sources, however, came the news that the entente allies are particularly anxious that nothing should occur at this time to shut off the oil supplies from the Tampico fields and are bringing pressure to bear to prevent a break.

Germans at Work?

Allied diplomatic representatives in Mexico believe, too, that German influences have been working on Carranza in an effort to create a situation that might embarrass the enemies of the central powers.

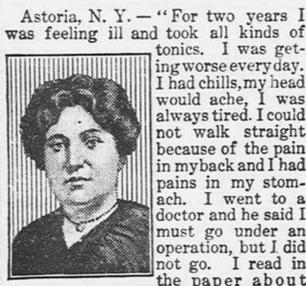

They have asserted that German agencies have been active in stirring up feeling against the United States not only in Mexico but throughout South and Central America to prevent this country from securing trade formerly controlled by German merchants.

It is understood that the diplomats have pointed out to Gen. Carranza that the American note only declines to consider immediate any suggestion that its troops be withdrawn from Mexico, and that it quotes a portion of the agreement between Gen. Scott and Gen. Obregon providing among other things for the gradual withdrawal of the forces.

Another suggestion is that the dispute over border conditions could well be referred to an international commission under the treaty of 1848 between the two countries. Diplomatic officials here are known to believe that President Wilson would consider such a suggestion if he met with no interference in the mean-

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Newberry people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case: F. W. Higgins, surveyor & civil engineer, 1130 Hunt St., Newberry, says: "My kidneys were so weak that I couldn't control the kidney secretions. I also had pains in the small of my back and right side. The trouble seemed to be in my right kidney and I had pains there all the time. My feet were tender and sore and I could hardly walk. I suffered in that way for about two years, when I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Gilder & Weeks' Drug Store. The first box helped me and several boxes did me a world of good."

time in his efforts to guard the American border from bandits.

No Official Status.

The state department has no official reports on the peace making efforts in Mexico City, although, it has been informed directly of what is happening. It is believed the assurances contained in Secretary Lansing's note that the United States would make war on Mexico only if driven to it by attack have been repeated to diplomatic callers seeking information. These assurances may have paved the way for the representations being made to Carranza, urging him not to force the issue he has raised.

A study of all Gen. Carranza's communications and actions during the last few months, however, has given little ground, official's feel, for a hopeful view. His attitude has been one of growing hostility and officials are not inclined to believe that it could be readily overcome.

While these matters occupied the attention of the state department President Wilson stood on the side walk in front of the White House today to review 2,000 members of the District of Columbia National Guard as they passed up Pennsylvania avenue on their way to the mobilization camp at Fort Myer. Among them were men of all walks in life, including government employes from many departments and youngsters just out of high school. There was little pomp about the parade but the men trudged along cheerfully, burdened with blanket roll and equipment.

TEXTILE MEN IMPRESSED BY ADDRESS BY J. MARION DAVIS

Asheville Times, 17th.

The Southern Textile association in convention at the Langren hotel today voted to have printed and sent to the governor of every southern State an address on "Child Labor Legislation" read before that body by J. M. Davis of the Newberry Cotton mills, Newberry, S. C.

The reading of the paper was the most important subject to be discussed during the convention. Round after round of applause interrupted Davis during his address. Mr. Davis said in part:

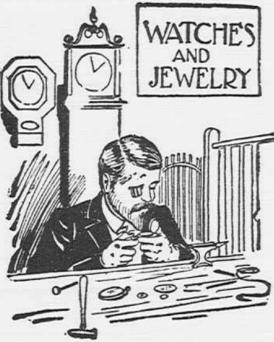

"If I can, I want to clear at the outset the atmosphere of the impression that the management of our cotton mills is essentially the enemy of the children. Some people seem to think of us as a great dragon that requires annually the sacrifice of the lives of hundreds of small and tender children.

"We desire to see the younger generation develop into citizens of lofty ideals. This end will never be attained by the ill advised and slipshod legislation of men essentially ignorant of the ills they would cure and who are more interested in the retention of their office than they are in the permanent good of any legislation. It cannot be solved by any 2 by 4 politician in any law making body.

"The mill owner has been grossly misrepresented. Irresponsible agitation can also be blamed for the existing belief of a great part of our citizenship.

"The average politician cares little or nothing for the merits of any bill.

A watch ticks 141,912,000 times every year and yet we often find watches that have been allowed to run five or ten years without cleaning or fresh oil.

If you have a good watch treat it as you would any other piece of machinery and see that it is left in competent hands to be repaired.

There are ten watches ruined by incompetent watchmakers to every one that is worn out with age.

We use only genuine material and do all work promptly, reasonably and satisfactory.

or for the child or family it may affect. If the bill is popular and the politician can retain his office by supporting it he will do it.

"We concede the right of a sovereign state to enact laws for the protection of her people but we question the wisdom of laws which forbid the child to work without any provision being made for those dependent upon the efforts of the child for support.

"The dreamer has the impression that such laws will transform the children into healthy and well trained children.

"Under the law the children will be turned into the streets without any provision being made for their training.

"An idle brain is the devil's workshop.

"What we need is compulsory education laws, and a law providing for taking care of those dependent on the child. The proposed law is shamefully one-sided in that it discriminates. It permits the news boy, messenger boy and farm child to work, but denies the mill child that right.

"A child can work on the farm for 12 hours a day and nothing is said. Let that same child move to a mill town, go to work in a mill and it at once assumes a mythical sacredness and becomes the special recipient of child legislation.

"The further this question is analyzed the bigger farce it seems to be. In most cases where children under 14 years of age are worked in mill it is done for the benefit of the child and his parents."

In closing his remarks Mr. Davis said: "I was unable to put my personal sentiment in that paper. If I had, a lot of things would be in it that would not look good in print. I am glad congress has been too busy to give the child labor law much consideration. The next time it comes up we will get a good crack at them."
