

NEW FAIRBANKS' PICTURE TO BE SHOWN HERE

"When the Clouds Roll By," Doug's Second "Big Four" Picture Here Wednesday and Thursday.

Since Douglas Fairbanks, associated with Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and D. W. Griffith, decided to produce independently a year ago, each forthcoming announcement from this "Big Four" is greeted with much enthusiasm. The United Artists' corporation from their New York office wired that "Doug's" next production, "When the Clouds Roll By," will be ready for exhibition here on Wednesday and Thursday.

The policy of the Newberry opera house during the past year to give the amusement lovers of this community the very best obtainable leads its patrons again to look forward with great expectant pleasure to this picture. Independence in production has given the "Big Four" of the screen the opportunity of their lives. The assurance from these producers that each additional picture will bring better things to the public has well been sustained, for the reviews of critics throughout the country rank "When the Clouds Roll By" to be the most spectacular and interesting production in which the inimitable Fairbanks has ever appeared.

The change in the motion picture industry which was caused by the decision of the "Big Four" to produce and distribute pictures independently, entirely on a policy of the merit of each picture, has been watched with great interest by the public and the industry alike, and it now goes without saying that these artists have lived up to their every promise.

It is well for the theatergoers of this community to know that the policy begun by the "Big Four" meant that they would produce fewer but bigger and better productions each year. Their popularity has always stood unchallenged in their respective fields such a height that there is scarcely offered a standard to which they can be compared.

With these ideal conditions the second Fairbanks production, "When the Clouds Roll By," has proved an exceptional picture and one which the management of the Newberry opera house is delighted to present, for it fits in so well with the policy they have set up for themselves, to give only the best productions that the motion picture industry offers. In every respect the production is exceptional and Manager Wells has planned a presentation that will excel anything of its kind presented in the theater for a long time past.

In this production "Doug" has broken away from the traditional screen stories and has produced a rip-roaring comedy on entirely different lines. The basic principle underlying this feature is quite new to motion pictures and incidentally very daring from the point of view of the accepted screen limitations and ideas. The old adage "it can't be done" has no terrors or difficulties for this star, who has proceeded to put over a sparkling story presenting a new conception of what pictures are capable of telling and doing. "Doug" will have surrounding him in the cast of this picture a number of new faces in Fairbanks productions, but every one of them a well known personage.

A LITTLE BOY WHOSE NAME WAS TOM

Dear Reader: Listen at this: In the days that are passed and gone there was a little boy who lived in the country by the name of Tom. He won the love and respect not only of the members of the family but by all who knew him. And these are some of his characteristics: Tom would give his last marble, run errands all day and never grumble.

He was always willing to give the best place to somebody else. No matter who. And felt so glad in seeing other folk have a good time that he forgot himself. Everybody loved Tom who knew him. And was glad to see him coming. His mother would smile when she saw him coming in and say just in time to do thus and so my boy. When Tom went off to spend the day the home folk would miss him. Every one who came in would say, "Where is Tom? I wish he was at home."

He was one of those unselfish boys that never found any time to idle when there was something to do. He lived for others and found delight in it. Tom was always constant in his kindness, not on today and off tomorrow. He never laughed at people's mistakes and found no time to entertain idle talk.

Dear parents, have you a Tom in your home? Let's have a few more Toms if we expect the world to grow better.

Value of a College Education

There was never a time when expert knowledge was so highly prized and so highly compensated.

High wages for untrained labor will tempt many a young man to discount the value of a college education. But such an education, representing the work of four years, viewed merely as an investment of time and of money, is equal in earning capacity to an estate of more than $50,000.

What estate comparable with this can the parent of average means hope to give or leave to his son? What young man can acquire that much value in the same time at any other business?

Education fits one for a life whose possibilities are limited only by his capacity and character. Eventually for the untrained there awaits the slavery of ignorant and undirected effort.

Clemson College brings within the reach of every young man in South Carolina the benefits and possibilities of a technical education. At Clemson College a boy from the humblest home in South Carolina can prepare himself for a high place in the service of his State and nation.

Summer Reasons For This Sedan

Triplex Springs Insure Riding Comfort on All Roads.
Overland Four-Door Sedan Insures Comfort in All Weather

THE SUPERIORITY of the Sedan for autumn, winter and spring is even more emphasized in the wide range of summer motoring. It's thick permanent top is a cooler shield from boiling sun. Breezes are freely admitted or entirely excluded at will. Rain, dust and sudden cold, are shut out at your command by heavy plate glass which never cuts off your vision or leaves you feeling "Shut in." Now the Overland Sedan adds to all this convertible convenience, the riding comfort of Triplex Springs, and extraordinary light weight economy.
