NEWBERRY TO HAVE CLEAN-UP AND PAINT-UP WEEK

Every Organization in City Back of Movement—May 15-22 Will be Week of Activities

"Clean Up, Paint Up, and Keep it Up" will be the slogan for Newberry during the week of May 15-22. These dates have been decided upon for a general campaign for Newberry and adjoining territory. This campaign will be backed by every organization in Newberry, a committee having been formed on last Friday afternoon at a meeting held in the office of the Newberry chamber of commerce. The meeting was attended by representatives from the Civic league, chamber of commerce, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, city of Newberry and the health officer.

The committee organized Friday composed of representatives from all of the organizations mentioned above. Mrs. J. N. McCaughrin being elected general chairman and C. P. McDaniels secretary. A sub-committee on publicity was also appointed at the meeting, the committee being Mrs. J. N. McCaughrin, C. P. McDaniels, J. T. Mayes, A. H. Counts, R. H. Gneker and H. B. Wells.

It will be the purpose of the general committee to interest every citizen of Newberry to clean up and paint up during the week mentioned with special emphasis being placed on keeping it up. The campaign is being put on to have the entire city cleaned up, which of course, includes the residential section, the business section and every other section. There are many nooks and corners in the city which are very noticeable which should be cleaned up during this campaign. It might also be said that the campaign will embrace the words "wash up," as during the week every residence and business house should wash all window.

Collection of Garbage

During the campaign the health officer will use every means to have all trash and garbage removed as fast as it can be piled up by those who enter into the campaign. Certain days will be designated for all wards in the city and on these days every trash wagon in the force will work in the particular ward for that day. A schedule will be announced later. Every person in Newberry should watch for the announcement in order to be ready for the wagons when they come around. It must be understood that all trash and garbage is to be placed in a convenient place for the wagons to pick up. It should also be understood that no trash and garbage is to be placed in the streets as the law provides for a fine against those who place trash in the streets. The week will also include the taking down of all out of date advertising signs, such as those advertising the circus which was in Newberry last October. There are a number of the circus signs still in the windows of some of the business houses of the city, which of course detracts from the beauty of any city.

Scouts to Work

During the campaign both the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts will play an important part. Definite plans will be outlined in a few days and each of these organizations given certain work to do during the week. The Boy Scouts have already done a great work for Newberry in the way of removing a lot of out of date advertising signs, but there are still a lot of them that should be taken down.

Work Through Schools

It is expected that great results during the campaign will be accomplished through the schools of the city, as the committee expects to make arrangements with Prof. O. B. Cannon to have the teachers to lecture to their classes on the importance of every boy and girl in Newberry taking part in cleaning up Newberry during the week.

If every person in Newberry will fall in line and clean up, paint up and keep it up during the campaign, they can all sing that little song, "Shine, Shine, Just Where You Are," in perfect harmony and we will have a cleaner, healthier and happier city in which to live.

MISS WOOTAN WINS THE HARMONOLA

Mrs. J. W. White had a harmonola with 5,000 keys and one key was given each customer who purchased one dollar or more and only one key would fit the lock and the holder of that key would get the harmonola. The 5,000 keys were taken up and Miss Maude Wootan, the teacher at the Mt. Pilgrim school just below Prosperity, was the holder of the mysterious key which fitted the lock and she becomes the proud owner of the harmonola.

MISS TROXELLE WRIGHT'S GRADUATING RECITALTHINKING AND WRITING OF DAYS OF LONG AGO

I often think of the days when I was young. Yes, those days when I went courting. There must be a great deal of difference in the present way of courting and the courting when I was young.

The fact is, the people were not graded up in so many different classes then as they are now. I am going to tell you that love, virtue and modesty stood for something in those days.

We would have our little social plays and dances in a harmless way. All the country dances were what we called square old promenade-all. There was not much hugging, turning around and twisting connected with it then.

One of the grandest little plays I thought was "Hog Drovers." It was a long play and finally wound up in a song that said: "Here we go around the rosy bush this cold and frosty morning." "Indian pudding and pumpkin pie show me where my true love lie, that I may see her before I go, and tie the knot I.O." That tying of the knot I thought was the most fascinating little thing in the world. It was a kind of entangling the arms of the boys and girls around their necks. There was a general feeling of happiness that made the bystanders say, "Pretty little thing, I wish it was me." In fact some who said that have gone on to heaven.

About twelve or one o'clock the girls would begin to hunt their shawls and bonnets to go home. And the boys would get their lights and accompany them home. The traveling then was all done pretty well by the works of nature. And everybody went home with a heart full of joy that lasted for a long time to come.

I have often wondered if my old "missus" ever thought of those old happenings. And sure enough, one night when everything was still she began to tell me of things that I had said along in those good old days, and she said that they were just as fresh in her mind as if it had been yesterday. I told her I was proud to know that she was keeping her mind refreshed with that everlasting joy and happiness that prevailed throughout our land 50 years ago.

Yes, 50 years ago we didn't have so many laws. The country people knew but very little about legislation. There was no factional strife in the Democratic party. There was no mud slinging and wire pulling over a little job.

In fact there are ten officers of the law now as there were then. People were elected to officers then upon their own merit and not upon the demerit of others. And it was some honor to hold an office then.

There were no rural police, no speed cops, no farm and home demonstration agents and no prohibition laws, no chain gang, no reformatory. The old people in those days reformed their children with the ten commandments. There was no compulsory education law. And if a man had spoken of woman suffrage I expect he would have been hung.

The third commandment was strictly obeyed. That says, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." This is enough said without quoting the rest, to show us that God didn't mean for us to run Sunday trains and work in all manner of machine shops, cotton mills, coal and oil mines and the day he has set apart to worship him. There are hundreds and thousands of poor laborers who hardly know when the Sabbath day comes. These are sad facts. And isn't it getting time for the disciples of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ to begin to take hold of the situation and warn the people of that great day when the general roll is called up yonder.

THREE ADDITIONAL COUNTIES GO OVER IN CAMPAIGN

Marion, Orangeburg and Fairfield Counties Go Over Top in Cooperative Campaign

Anderson Tribune

Columbia, April 27.—Three more counties went over the top in the cotton cooperative marketing drive today, making a total of twelve that are now beyond their quota. The three going over yesterday were Orangeburg, Marion and Fairfield. The nine already over were Marlboro, Darlington, Sumter, Calhoun, Dorchester, Lee, Dillon, Kershaw and Richland.

Orangeburg has now signed up a total of 24,000 bales and is working hard to sign 15,000 more by Saturday night at midnight. This county is setting out to sign more than Marlboro, which now has over 34,000 bales signed up and which E. Wallace Evans, the county chairman, says will have a total of 40,000 bales by Saturday midnight. Thus far no county is seriously threatening Marlboro's lead in the percentage proposition, that is, none of the larger cotton counties. Dorchester which has signed up nearly fifty per cent of its crop is of course not in the class with Marlboro in total production.

Workers Busy

With only two days of the campaign left, workers in the movement are reported to be hitting the line hard all over the state, determined that the 400,000 bales necessary to make the contract operative shall be signed by Saturday midnight. Everywhere today it was reported that there was feverish activity among the workers.

Several other counties are right on the edge of their quota and are expected to go over tomorrow while practically every county in the state expects to reach its quota before May 1st. Every cotton growing county in the state, except Cherokee, is organized.

Business men in several counties continued their canvass today and fine results were secured everywhere. Friday will be observed as "cooperative day" in Lancaster county and the business men will spend the day in the county canvassing for signatures to contracts.

The business men of Sumter are running a series of advertisements in the Sumter papers calling on the farmers of that county to sign up.

The raw deal, unfortunately, is not as rare as it might be.

There is a growing feeling that democracy has changed since we fought to make the world safe for it.

The record is clear and clean cut and will show that organized interests are looting the government and no man can charge with a breach of trust so far as the interests of the people are concerned. The real issue is this shall be government by Harry M. Daugherty and Abram F. Meyers or a government of the people for the people and by the people."

"If you were at all informed on the department affairs of your high office you must be aware of the outstanding facts that I have devoted more than two years of loyal and faithful efforts to protest government officials and to expose government crooks, have been assaulting and raiding the public treasury on scale so gigantic as to be almost unbelievable.
