

PURELY PERSONAL

The Movements of Many People, Newberrians and Those Who Visit Newberry

Miss Edith Wilson of Greenville Woman's college is spending the Christmas holidays at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wilson.

The Newberry Business college closed Thursday afternoon for the Christmas holidays. The school will reopen Tuesday, January 2, 1923.

The rain for the past few days has been plentiful and the icicles on Wednesday gave the appearance of real winter.

The schools and the college will close Friday and there will be holiday for one week.

The Herald and News according to a long custom will miss one issue next week and there will be no paper on Tuesday.

Christmas trade in Newberry has been fairly good.

The cotton exchange did not wait for the ordinance to go into effect but close its doors immediately upon the passage of the ordinance by the town making the license prohibitive.

Christmas coming on Monday gives us two holidays right together and the banks at Newberry and Prosperity are going to take an extra one so there will be three consecutive holidays for them.

LAURENS BAR ENDORSES SULLIVAN FOR JUDGE

Laurens, Dec. 19.—James H. Sullivan, prominent attorney of the Laurens bar, was today endorsed by the local bar as a candidate for judge of the eighth judicial circuit to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Judge Frank B. Gary.

Recognizing the ability and the qualifications of James H. Sullivan, Esq., of Laurens, we unreservedly endorse and recommend him for the position of judge of this circuit.

Senator Brookhart (Republican) of Iowa offered an amendment to the administration shipping bill for payment of a subsidy to American industrial and agricultural producers while plans were continued for displacing the measure in the senate for farm credits legislation.

The house, beginning consideration of the naval appropriation bill, was told by Representative Lineberger (Republican) of California, that President Harding had been engaged with the question of negotiating with other powers for a limitation in construction of smaller craft.

HAL'S CHRISTMAS COLUMN

If I mentioned everything which I have to offer as gift suggestions in my column, I think there would not be room for "Among the Schools" section.

We have books—good books—for adults, boys and girls and the younger children. It would be a pleasure to suggest books to you.

Potted poinsettias. Thirty pots at price of one dollar.

Carnations for delivery Saturday. Red, white and pink.

Stationery in holiday boxes. A practical and always acceptable gift.

Funny Christmas post cards. Attractive verses and designs.

Greeting cards. You would enjoy looking over this line.

Waterman's Ideal fountain pens from two-fifty up. Plain barrels, silver and gold with pencils to match.

Eversharp pencils in silver and gold and plated. Fifty cents up. These are splendid gifts and so useful.

Red, white and green tissue for your gifts, also strong paper for wrapping packages mailed away. Labels, Tags, seals and other "dressings."

Candles in many sizes and colors. Bayberry candles for fragrance.

Framed pictures, some copies of old masters, others popular subjects.

Recipe books, some plain for pasting recipes in and other loose leaf. Boston and White House cook books.

Bibles for gifts. Nice Bibles.

Drawing outfits for the children with crayons.

Boxes for your gifts, strongly made and attractive.

You know that the "Annex" is just as glad to have you "browse" as we are. The same spirit prevails there as at my store. Drop in.
