A Delightful Tribute of Love.

Manning is beginning to wake up socially. The court, which means the ladies who participated in the breach of promise suit, have meetings, and what they do will not divulge, nor will they permit the court men to even peep in, but that they have a good time is no doubt. On last Friday Mrs. H. H. Bradham at her home on church street entertained the "court" ladies in honor of Mrs. Shelby Davis, a bride. They said they had "old maids," just what that is, we have no idea, do not remember ever hearing of "Old Joe" and "Old Nick" but in naming the good things that bring joy, we always thought they left old maids out. The prizes were distributed as follows: The guest of honor, Mrs. Shelby Davis a box of stationery. A box of candy first prize Miss Julia Sprout and Mrs. Charles Rigby won the booby prize which she took home to her husband for being good. Those present were: Mesdames Shelby Davis, D. M. Bradham, F. C. Thomas, Clara Williams, Abe Levi, A. C. Bradham, F. O. Richardson, A. I. Barron, W. C. Davis, J. W. Rigby and Charles Rigby. Misses Sude Davis, Julia Sprout, Francis Davis, Celeste Huggins, Nettie Weinberg, Louise Scarborough, Nina Riser and Jessie McLean.

Now for a Warehouse.

The Clarendon Cotton Growers Association met in the court house last Saturday under the call of President E. D. Hodges. The attendance was very good, and representative, all sections were represented, and there was a disposition to take some practical action to help conditions. President Hodges called the meeting to order, and invited Rev. A. R. Woodson to open with prayer, after which Hon. E. D. Smith, president of the State Cotton Growers Association, introduced and received with considerable enthusiasm. Mr. Smith never fails to whoop things up, he always makes a fine speech, and on this occasion he made one of his usual interesting, logical, convincing representations of the plans for storing and marketing cotton. He made some very happy hits, and impressed his hearers to that extent that we are beginning to believe he has about convinced the people they must act in self-defense. It was decided to form a warehouse company, the shares to be $5 each, in order that the stock can be scattered all through the county, and that the warehouse will belong to the cotton growers and not to a few individuals. All will own it, and all will get the benefit. A committee to solicit subscriptions to the stock was appointed, and a large number of shares was taken immediately. It is hoped that in a few weeks the money necessary will be subscribed, and the work of building a standard warehouse will begin.

The meeting was also addressed by Mr. F. H. Hyatt, of Columbia, who made a strong business talk, as one of the most successful business men in the State, he endorses the association's plans, and is lending valuable aid. We are told there is a movement on foot to establish a warehouse in Salem, and at this time we regret to hear it, because if the farmers really intend to fortify themselves against the speculation in cotton, they should scatter their strength, it would be far better to concentrate until the first experiment has been made a success, after that other warehouses might be built, but do not undertake to build where there is a warehouse in building nowhere. We remember a couple of years ago the warehouse movement was in excellent shape, and long before now Manning should have had a first-class standard warehouse, but the whole thing was spoiled by the people of Salem not joining us because they wanted to build one of their own. They did not build it nor did Manning.

We think there should be a warehouse at the county seat first, and if that is demonstrated to be successful, it will be time enough to have them stationed at the various railroad depots. Summerton went ahead and built a warehouse, and we hope they will do well with it, but had they joined Manning, they would have been centrally located building, easy of access from all parts of the county, it would have been better for Summerton, for Manning, Paxville, and Salem.

Mr. J. M. Woods, acting secretary of Saturday's meeting, furnished us with the following shares subscribed:

Roasting Coffee. In Norway, where superb coffee is made, a bit of butter is added to the beans while they are roasting in the covered shovel used there for that purpose. In France as well a piece of butter the size of a walnut is put with three pounds of the coffee beans, and also a desertsopful of powdered sugar. This brings out both flavor and scent and, moreover, gives the slight caramel taste which will be remembered as a pleasing part of French coffee.

The Bloody Meadow.

Tevkesburg, where a famous battle was fought during the war of the roses, is in Gloucestershire at the confluence of the Avon and the Severn and 180 miles from London. The battle was fought on the bloody meadow just outside the modern town, and, according to local tradition, one night in every year on the anniversary of the conflict the adherents of the white and red roses meet and fight the battle over again.—London Academy.

New Minister Welcomed.

Rev. E. M. Lightfoot of Orangeburg conducted services at the Baptist church last Sunday morning, and preached a sermon which has impressed his hearers with the man's strength and ability. His sermon is said to have been very forceful and eloquent. In the evening at the same church Rev. C. A. Waters of Missouri, recently called to accept this charge, preached a very pleasing sermon to a large congregation made up of all denominations, assembled to give a sincere welcome to the new minister. Remarks of welcome were made by Rev. D. A. Phillips pastor of the Methodist congregation, Rev. A. R. Woodson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and to these Rev. E. M. Lightfoot added to the pleasure of the evening's service. We are sure that the mingling of the religious denominations of the town can only result in good to all, and we hope that with the relation of good fellowship which the relation of good fellowship will continue. Mr. and Mrs. Waters are among strangers, and of course will have to learn our manners and customs, but we are sure that the people of this place will in a very short while remove the wall between strangers and friends and soon make this man and wife feel that they are among sincere and devoted friends. We are privileged to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Waters a most hearty welcome to Manning. Our hearts and our homes are open to them and we can assure them, and this assurance will be vouched safe by every family in town, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Jew, Episcopal and Catholic. The latch string will always be hanging on the outside for them and space will be made at table anytime. In assuming pastoral charge of the Manning Baptist church, Mr. Waters will have a large work to do, and we trust with his heart and mind. It is a large congregation, and like all other congregations, all do not think alike. We hope however his labors will be rewarded with success. Again we say, that a cordial and sincere welcome to Manning is extended to Rev. C. A. Waters and to Mrs. Waters.

Is Beauty Only Skin Deep?

Beauty is only skin deep, but the forces that create beauty as deep as the fountain from which they flow, when the blood is charged with impurities beauty disappears, when the blood is pure beauty blossoms in face and form. Facial Liver and Bowel Regular, prevents the blood becoming laden with bile and waste matter, makes the skin clear, eyes bright and beauty more than skin deep. Dr. W. E. Brown & Co.
