THE MANNING GROCERY CO.

Just one month until the equinox.

Today is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. Attend the entertainment for the benefit of the Civic League. Judge John S. Wilson is holding court in Dillon this week. Old Time Concert—colossal costumes—Friday night of next week. Mrs. L. K. Howie is visiting her son, Dr. Keith Howie, in Summerton. Up to yesterday Probate Judge Windham had issued 325 marriage licenses. Miss Mattie Venning has returned from a pleasant visit to friends in Fisherville.

Mrs. J. T. Stukes has gone to Summerville to visit her daughter, Mrs. Burgess. Mrs. H. T. Zeigler, of Orangeburg, is visiting the family of her son, Dr. J. A. Zeigler. Maybe the thunder, lightning and rain this morning mean the breaking up of winter. Miss Sallie Mae Sheppard returned home Monday from a visit to friends in Orangeburg. There was quite a rush yesterday in both the County Treasurer's and County Auditor's offices. Mr. Henry Appelt of Darlington, spent today at the home of his brother, Senator Louis Appelt. The Clarendon County Teachers' Association will hold its next monthly meeting on March 9th. Mrs. R. D. Cochran and little Ruth, have returned from an extended visit to relatives in North Carolina. The Summerton graded school has sent in $8.70 to the ladies on the monument fund through Mrs. W. C. Davis, for which she extends thanks to the school.

Mr. D. Hirschmann has returned from the northern markets, where he went to purchase his spring stock.

Three of the local physicians have been more or less severely afflicted with rheumatism during the past few weeks.

The members of the Civic League are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. W. C. Davis on Tuesday the 27th at 4:30 o'clock.

Mr. T. Morgan Davis of Jordan, has bought through the Gerald-Davis Co., the J. H. Hawkins house. We welcome Mr. Davis to Manning.

Mrs. Mortimer Hawkins and little Herbert, together with her sister, Miss Annie McCoy, have returned after an absence of several weeks.

Mr. Aaron Abrams has decided to discontinue his business, therefore he is selling out at a great reduction. It will pay you to read his ad in this issue.

Magistrate D. J. Bradham had quite a severe attack of vertigo in his office last Saturday. He had prompt medical attention and has since been able to attend to business.

Selected eggs for hatching, fresh and fertile, 50c per 15. Five fine breeds, purposely mixed for healthy chickens and best practical results from actual experience. J. H. Lesesse.

Mr. W. M. Dye, formerly of this county, died last week at his home in Eastman, Ga., aged 56 years. Mr. Dye was a half brother of Dr. J. A. Cole and Mrs. J. B. Haddad of Manning.

The next attraction given for the benefit of the Confederate monument fund will be an Old Time Concert, which promises to be an attraction indeed. Friday evening, March 1.

The rates of last week, following the heavy snow, flooded the streams and did a great deal of damage to the roads and causeways in addition to putting the farmers still further behind with their work.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Committee appreciate very much a liberal contribution to the Confederate monument fund raised by the Summerton graded school. It is hoped that all the schools in the county will take part in this worthy cause.

D. Hirschmann has returned from the Northern markets where he purchased a select stock of goods for the spring and summer trade. Mrs. Hirschmann will go North next week to buy a choice selection of spring and summer millinery, including all the latest and most popular styles.

When a man dons the uniform of a Confederate officer, buckles on a sword, and tramps through the street distributing samples of red and such things, you may take it for us that he is not attracting any very favorable attention. He is certainly not showing much respect for the Confederate uniform.

Up to the close of last week the shipments of fertilizers out of Charleston did not amount to more than one-twentieth of the amount shipped up to the same date last year. This fact transpiring this late in the season indicates that the farmers are certainly going to curtail their fertilizer bills this year.

There was an outbreak of smallpox among a gang of negro railroad hands down at Wilson Mill last week. The disease was not of a virulent type, but under the direction of the State Board of Health Dr. C. B. Geiger went down and vaccinated the entire gang together with all the negroes and such things, you may take it in any way have been exposed to the disease.

The Episcopal service conducted in the Methodist church last Sunday night by Rev. Alfred W. Arundel of Pittsburgh, was attended by a large and appreciative congregation. Excellent music was rendered by an augmented choir, including representatives of both the Methodist and Presbyterian choirs. Representative Episcopalians have expressed themselves as appreciating very highly this assistance in the musical feature of the service.

The ladies of the Civic League will give an entertainment on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, March 5th in the old court house, beginning at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be amusing attractions for the children in the afternoon, with plenty of good music to afford much merriment and fun for them. For the adults there will be, both afternoon and evening, plenty of refreshments along with the amusements for both young and old.

The ladies auxiliary committee will give an "Old Folks" concert on Friday evening, March 1st, for the benefit of the Confederate monument to be dedicated to the memory of the Confederate dead. This is a cause which will appeal to everybody, and we look forward to the auditorium being filled to standing room capacity. The ladies have prepared an elaborate program, and an evening's pleasure is assured. Let every man, woman and child become a working committee to make this entertainment a grand success financially.

On Friday evening, March 1, there will be given in the graded school auditorium a charming entertainment for the benefit of the Confederate monument fund. This will be an Old Time Concert, in which all the ladies taking part will be dressed in colonial costumes, and the musical program will be thoroughly unique and pleasing in every particular. The price of admission will be 10c for adults and 5c for children. You want to be there.

One night last week when the water was high and cold, Richmond Belsler, a well known negro, started to drive over Black River. Just at the edge of the ditch he drove into deep water in the swamp and came near drowning his horse. In an effort to get the horse out he got into deep water himself and came near being drowned. He raised a lusty cry for help and several men from the upper part of town went to his rescue and succeeded in getting both the man and horse safely out.

Colored Teachers' Association. The next regular meeting of the colored teachers' association of Clarendon will convene in the building of the Manning colored school the first Saturday in March. The following program will be carried out: An address by Prof. N. J. Frederick, Superintendent of the negro department of the Columbia city schools. Topics of free discussion: reading and school management. The Women Club of the Manning school district will serve dinner for those attending the session. Each teacher is asked to bring his class register in order that some special instructions in keeping registers and making up reports may be given. These meetings are of great value to the teachers and it is hoped that a large number will attend. The district trustees would help make these meetings a success if they would make it imperative that the negro teachers attend their associations and summer schools whenever practicable. The speaker, Prof. Frederick, is one of the most distinguished negro school masters in the State, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and for 12 years has handled the Columbia work with marked success. I. M. A. MYERS, President.

Now for the Fair. Editor The Manning Times—I would like to state to the people of Clarendon county that I am still in the United States Farm Demonstration work, having received instructions from Dr. Bradford Knapp (special agent in charge), to resume work. I hope to make this the best year in my territory for both the corn club members and the regular demonstrators. Now we are to have a county school fair sometime in the coming winter at which the corn club members will exhibit their corn, records and histories, and the other scholars will exhibit samples of their handiwork. There will be a long list of prizes offered and great pains should be taken to make this fair a success. As to our ability to get up a creditable exhibit, I will say that we have the material and all that is needed is effort. To substantiate this statement I will tell you what was done by the public in my territory, (the Eastern half of Clarendon county) the past year. At the South Atlantic Corn Exposition held in Columbia, S. C., December 1st to 16th, 1911, there were four prizes offered for exhibits from the 1st Cong. Dist. of S. C. of these we won three leaving one (4th) prize which was won by Charleston county, and one of our boys won the prize over the 1st Dist., for the best history of how his corn was made. Now if one half of the county can lead the 1st District, like that why can't we make a creditable exhibit at a county fair? Let's all come together and take hold of this school fair proposition and make it a success. All of you boys and girls ask your teacher about it, your teachers will instruct you and aid you in getting up your exhibit properly. If we will go ahead with this work we will be in line to compete more advantageously with others for the larger or more valuable prizes which will be offered at the national corn exposition in Columbia, S. C., January 27th to February 9th, 1912. And now fellow citizens of Clarendon county if after all that has been done in the past we sit still and see our county and state fall at this national corn exposition next January 27th we will be a great drawback we could have and it will be hard for us to ever regain our present record in the agricultural line. Yours for effort and success. R. D. WATTS, Collator, Acolui, S. C.

Two Clerical Friends. Two strange young men, evidently foreigners, were in Manning recently soliciting funds for the alleged support of an orphanage in Armenia. They wore clerical garb and had numerous testimonials endorsing them and the noble work in which they were engaged, but the probability is that they were selling the devil in the garb of religion. While talking with Rev. H. K. Williams, pastor of the Manning Baptist church, they became very much confused when somewhat closely quizzed. They claimed to be Baptists, but when it was noted that their credentials were signed by a bishop, they explained that all denominations in their country had bishops, and under further questioning they went so far as to say that their church practiced infant baptism. At other times, when interrogations appeared too searching, the strangers would pretend not to understand. There can be little doubt that these men are frauds, and they are probably doing a thrifty business in their swindling campaign. Something should be done to overhaul them and put a stop to their imposition on the charity of good people.

The Other Fellow.

The Columbia Record revives "Jones Private Argument," "one of the few dialect poems that Sidney Lanier wrote," and the application of which was never more timely. Here it is: "JONES PRIVATE ARGUMENT."

That air same Jones, which lived in Jones. He had this plan about him: He'd swear with a hundred sighs and groans, That farmers must stop gettin' loans. And get along without 'em.

That bank ers, warehousemen, and sich Was fat'nin' on the planter, And Tennessy was rotten-rich A-raisin' meat and corn all which Draws money to Atlanta.

And the only thing (says Jones) to do Is eat no meat that's boughten; But tear up every I. O. U. And plant a-raisin' cotton!

Thus spouted Jones (whar folks could hear — At Court and other gatherin's.) — "I will be in a position to handle just as many bales as are produced by the farmers of the State and will give the best price possible."

The production of long staple cotton in South Carolina is being gradually developed. David R. Coker of Hartsville, is among the pioneers in South Carolina in the development of the industry. It is expected that a cotton exposition will be held in Columbia during the fall in the interest of the long staple cotton movement.

Husbands Left at Home. On last Wednesday afternoon The Priscilla Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. D. Gerald. The ladies were received by the hostess, and were shown into the library, which was a bower of hearts. After embroidery for a while, "All work and no play," was voted out of order and tiny heart cards were given to each to compose original valentine verses. Much fun was derived from this, as each tried to prove that she had not yet forgotten school days of yore. Then a hunt for hearts was begun, and as Mrs. T. M. Wells was the lucky finder of the greatest number of hearts, she was presented with a lovely "Book of Sweethearts."

Mrs. J. B. Cante assisted the hostess in serving a dainty sweet course, followed by coffee and cheese straws. After this the guests drew their fortunes from a large heart-shaped box which was hung from the chandelier. Those present were, Mesdames C. B. Geiger, T. M. Wells, F. C. Thomas, J. B. Cante, C. R. Spritt, F. S. Wilson, Purman Bradham, F. O. Richardson, R. E. Hartlee.

Attention Teachers! As the State Teachers' Association has been postponed until April 25th, it will not be necessary to send in the local School Improvement reports until about the middle of March. This will give us another month in which to work so I hope by that time we will all be able to send in good reports. KATHERINE M. RICHARDSON, Pres. Clarendon Co., S. L. A.

An Epidemic of Coughing is sweeping over the town. Old and young alike are affected, and the pain is particularly hard on little children and on elderly people. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a quick, safe and reliable cure for all coughs and colds. Contains no opiates.

Colored Teachers' Association. The next regular meeting of the colored teachers' association of Clarendon will convene in the building of the Manning colored school the first Saturday in March. The following program will be carried out: An address by Prof. N. J. Frederick, Superintendent of the negro department of the Columbia city schools. Topics of free discussion: reading and school management. The Women Club of the Manning school district will serve dinner for those attending the session. Each teacher is asked to bring his class register in order that some special instructions in keeping registers and making up reports may be given. These meetings are of great value to the teachers and it is hoped that a large number will attend. The district trustees would help make these meetings a success if they would make it imperative that the negro teachers attend their associations and summer schools whenever practicable.
