Turner Logan, Esq., of the Charleston bar represented Mr. Cutter, and Kelley and Hinds and Edwin Hirsch, Esq., of the Kingstree bar represented the lumber company. Having bought heavily in the market, and the season is fast drawing to a close he has decided to offer his immense stock of goods at a reduced price. He has a fine selection of goods in a first class merchandise establishment at greatly reduced prices. The people know Mr. Rigby and know that when he puts on a special sale, it is something worth their while to consider. Rigby is noted for the dependability of his merchandise, and in order to facilitate the handling of the immense trade his sale will attract, he has put on an extra force, and those who visit his store can depend upon prompt attention.

As a practical demonstration of what can be accomplished when a people have the pull-to-ether-spirit, was thoroughly exemplified by the citizens of the city of Sumter in celebrating Omar Temple Thanksgiving Day. The Shriners enjoyed every moment of their stay, and the lavishness of the entertainment will never be forgotten. Omar Temple has been entertained to several of the most of the city, but never so elaborately as on this occasion. Those who had charge spared neither time or means to make this meeting of Omar the greatest ever, and they succeeded far beyond the expectations of everybody. The whole city was at the disposal of the Nobles, and all of the citizens appeared to be a committee to give the visitors a good time. It was a red letter day for the Game Cock City, and a greater day of the nobles of the mystic order. The parade of the Shriners from all over this State, North Carolina and Georgia went away singing the sincere praises of Sumter, and her bustling and wholesaled people.

Guarding Against Croup

The best safeguard against croup is a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house. P. H. Ghion, Middleton, Ga., writes: "My children are very susceptible to croup. After they have so elaborately as on this occasion. Those who had charge spared neither time or means to make this meeting of Omar the greatest ever, and they succeeded far beyond the expectations of everybody. The whole city was at the disposal of the Nobles, and all of the citizens appeared to be a committee to give the visitors a good time. It was a red letter day for the Game Cock City, and a greater day of the nobles of the mystic order. The parade of the Shriners from all over this State, North Carolina and Georgia went away singing the sincere praises of Sumter, and her bustling and wholesaled people."

How Sad?

A deplorable accident occurred last Friday afternoon near Jordan, in which Ollie Rawlinson the fifteen year old son of Mr. W. J. Rawlinson, Jr., was killed. The victim of this accident was an exceedingly bright boy, a great help to his parents, and the great pleasure of the town. He was attending the school of the place, and while the father was away from home on business, Ollie went into the field to weigh and haul in cotton, carrying with him a newly purchased shot gun, arriving at the place where the hands had their cotton, he placed his gun against a post, and Felix Bunyan a colored boy took hold of it and discharged, striking young Rawlinson in the face, killing him instantly. Coroner Gray held an inquest and the jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound from a gun in the hands of Felix Bunyan, and upon this verdict, the coroner committed Bunyan to jail.

A pathetic feature of this tragedy is the fact that Mr. Rawlinson, the father got the gun for his boy only a few days before, saying at the time that he did so with misgivings, as he thought his son was really too young to own a gun, but the little fellow seemed to have his heart so set on it that he reluctantly gave him his promise he would get him a gun for Thanksgiving day. He came to Manning and carried from the Plowden hardware store a gun on approval, saying if he decided to keep it he would pay for it. On Friday morning the young Ollie came to Manning himself and paid for the gun, then went back home, and in a few hours he paid his life as a forfeit for the pleasure of owning a gun. It is hoped that this sad tragedy will prove a lasting lesson to other indulgent parents.

Joined the Heavenly Troop

Harvin, S. C., Nov. 30, 1913. The Manning Times—The many friends of Hon. and Mrs. James Reaves of DuRant will be grieved to learn that Miss Reaves, daughter of George DuRant Reaves, aged 22 years, died at Lexington, Ky., at an early hour last Friday morning. Miss Reaves had been teaching in the mission school at Heidelberg, which is under the direction of the Presbytery of the Mission. She was taken ill with typhoid fever and removed to a hospital at Lexington. The mother went to her when she learned of her daughter's condition, and was followed later by the father who remained until the end. Miss Reaves graduated at Wintrop in the class of 1911, and ever since, she has been preparing herself for the mission field with a view of entering the missionary service in China. She was a lovely character, a devoted Christian, and a favorite among her hosts of acquaintances. The body was brought home Saturday night, and the funeral took place Sunday morning at the family residence. Rev. R. L. Grier of Mayesville, and Rev. W. L. Aldrey of Wintrop, officiated. The interment took place in the old family burying ground, where rest the remains of her ancestors for more than seven generations. The floral contributions were both for the mission and the family. Attendance of both relatives from near and far, evidenced the popularity of this young, beautiful and most useful character, whose earthly career has been so suddenly ended. B. H. H.

GEORGETOWN, TEXAS. J. A. Kimbro says: For several years past Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been my household remedy for all coughs, colds, and lung troubles. Explanation.

Since the publication of the Caney Letter in The Times last week, we have been greatly mortified, and can assure our readers that we conformed to our usual custom, this letter would not have appeared as it was written. We make it a rule to read articles, and if we find them of interest to our readers or not, before they are given to the printers, for the very purpose of editing out anything calculated to give offense, but in this instance, being indisposed, we gave the letter to the printer without reading it, never for a moment suspecting there was anything in it of a personal or offensive nature until we received a letter from a citizen of Summerton; it was then for the first time we read it, and we are sure our readers are reading parts of this letter we feel greatly mortified and imposed upon. We would not have permitted the offensive portions of the letter in these columns had we known of its contents or nature, words will not be repeated, but we regret this unfortunate incident, and while we realize there is good ground for the indignation the people feel, we hope and trust they will overlook it this time, with our assurance that it cannot be repeated as long as we are conducted by The Times.

The people of Summerton should know we would not purposely lead ourselves to an individual or individuals to give them offense, we have a personal feeling among the writers, but there are no people for whom we have a higher esteem, feeling as we do in this matter, on receipt of a letter yesterday morning we replied to it explaining our situation, and asking the writer to judge us as he would. The humiliation and mortification this incident caused us should be a sufficient punishment. Mr. Caney has in this issue a letter of explanation which may or may not be satisfactory, but this much is certain, he nor any one else, will never have a letter published in these columns again without our closest scrutiny.

More Plans For The Fair.

We are all working for the same end, a Better State through the County Fair, and we believe the place to begin is with the babies, as Better Babies, make Better School Children and Better School Children make Better Men and Women. Better Citizens who in turn make the State.

So at 10 o'clock on the morning of December 12th, we expect to begin the Better Babies Contest in the school-house. The Manning babies will be examined first, thereby giving those from a distance time to arrive.

The Clarendon physicians will be assisted by the examinations by trained nurses and by Dr. E. K. Wilson from the city.

About 12 o'clock in the school auditorium there will be short talks by the physicians and cradle songs by some of the ladies of the town.

At 10 o'clock we will distribute leaflets, "Hints to Mothers" sent out by the Woman's Home Companion and announce the prize winners. We have eight certificates of award and beautiful bronze medals.

Mr. Winburn, the photographer, from Sumter, will be present and take pictures for those who wish. I hope that the mothers will have the Better Babies taken, as I wish to send them to the Companion.

We want to have the parade at 10:30 o'clock. This will be led by Schumaker's band from Sumter, 12 pieces.

While standing around the court house we expect to have the county yell, then march to Clark's Tobacco Warehouse where we will sing patriotic songs and have a short prayer before disbanded.

The booths will be in the warehouse. Come and see what Clarendon boys and girls are doing. We hope that every white man, woman and child in the county will be present and show an interest in what is being done.

Not as a money making scheme but to help defray the expenses, we expect to sell oysters, crackers, sandwiches and coffee. So it will not be necessary to bring dinner.

Let's have for our slogan—Meet me at the Fair December 12.

Preparations For The School Fair.

Instead of having a regular program for the teachers' association meeting Saturday coming, it has been deemed best to set aside that day for the advance preparations on the booths for the school fair.

Every teacher in the county who has pledged us for a booth will be expected to be here next Saturday and spend the day fixing up their respective booths. There will be no pay for every teacher interested in this matter to be here early that day, and to bring some one along to assist them in this work. There will be nothing against those teachers coming who have not pledged to have a booth. They are interested, they might render valuable assistance to the other teachers in helping them in their work.

Special notices are being sent to all the teachers who have engaged a booth. This notice is to advise them that it is necessary for those who have not engaged space for an exhibit.

Every teacher, and all the school children throughout the county are expected to be here on Friday December 12th, and to take part in the school fair. The time of music has been arranged, and a splendid time is assured to all who come here that day.

The public is cordially invited to turn out in full force, and help us make a success of this first school fair.

Mr. Caney Explains.

Summerton, S. C., December 1, 1913. To The Editor of The Manning Times: With reference to my article which appeared in your paper of November 26, I take this opportunity of stating that said article was based on different articles from leading sociological journals in the New York Outlook and other standard magazines. I should be very sorry indeed if any of my friends should regard my article as a personal attack; one of these articles in the New York Outlook was entitled "Childish America" and every pure-minded mother who desires children should read it, and I understand Doctor Lyman Abbott, Editor of The Outlook, will furnish the article to anyone desiring same for the mere asking.

Yours truly, J. J. CANEY.

Aid The Kidneys

Do not endanger life when a Manning citizen shows you the way to avoid it. Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headache, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids when a tested remedy is offered them? Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in kidney trouble over 50 years, have been tested in thousands of cases.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney disease act on Doan's or Bright's disease may set in and make neglect dangerous. Read this Manning testimony. James E. Reardon, Manning, S. C., says: "Som years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills, obtained from Dr. W. E. Brock & Co. Drug Store, (now in Dixon Drug Co.) and I found them to be a valuable kidney medicine. County School Fair.

The County School Fair is an assured success so far as all indications now point. A large majority of the schools of the county have engaged one or more booths in which they will display their exhibits. Clark has tobacco warehouse has been secured, and around its sides the booths will be constructed. These latter arrangements are now being perfected. The next teachers' Association meeting will be held at the warehouse on Saturday, December 6th, on which occasion, the teachers will busy themselves in making advance preparations on their respective booths. The finishing touches can then be added the following week, leaving very little to be done on the morning of the 12th.

A fine band of music will dispense lively music to the crowds during the day the fair is in progress. Some few schools have reported that it will be impossible for them to have an exhibit, but that they will be here and have a place in the parade. There are at least 2500 school children in the county, and we want every one of them to display their exhibits. Clark has tobacco warehouse has been secured, and around its sides the booths will be constructed. These latter arrangements are now being perfected.
