Died suddenly on the 25th, at her home near Manning, Mrs. Sarah Hudson, relict of the late John Hudson, aged about 78 years. The funeral took place in the Manning cemetery on the 26th. Rev. G. P. Watson conducted the service. The deceased was an excellent woman, noted for her kindness of heart and hospitality, and had many friends throughout the county.

All of the appointive officers for Clarendon county have been confirmed by the senate, and we presume that by now they have been notified by the Secretary of State to qualify. Through an oversight the name of Judge J. E. Richbourg the Magistrate appointed for Foreston was omitted from the list we published last week, nevertheless Mr. Richbourg was appointed along with the other nominees of the primary Irene Carroll died at Olanta Saturday night several hours after receiving a blow in the head from an axe in the hands of her husband, George Carroll, a section hand on the Alcolui railroad. The tragedy was the result of a quarrel between the couple. Several neighbors, hearing the woman scream, rushed out just in time to see the husband deliver the fatal blow and dash away. Telephone messages have been sent to various points in the surrounding territory, and it is expected that Carroll will be captured.

It is well that every white man in Clarendon should look up his tax receipt and registration certificate to be ready when the special election is called, which we have no doubt it will be to participate in that election, so that the question proposed can have the endorsement of the majority. The Act has not passed yet but in all probability it will pass and the election on the liquor question will be held in September. At this election the law regulating general elections will be strictly observed, and it is therefore necessary that every voter be armed with his tax receipt and registration certificate in order to vote.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA — IN BANKRUPTCY.

In the matter of Summerton Mercantile Company, Bankrupt.
To all creditors.
Notice is hereby given that on the 28th day of January 1915 the said Summerton Mercantile Company was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of its creditors will be held at my office, in the city of Sumter, S. C., on the 11th day of February 1915 at 11 o'clock A. M., at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

I. C. STRAUSS, Referee.

Teachers' Meeting.
The next meeting of the Clarendon County Teachers' Association will be held at the court house Saturday, February 13th, at 11 o'clock. Prof. Patterson Wardlaw of the South Carolina University will be the leading speaker. His services are in great demand among all the teachers' associations, and we know that a treat awaits all who will attend.
The following constitutes the part of the program to be furnished by local talent.
"Mistaken aims in Teaching" by Miss Helen E. Malone of Davis Station school.
"How can we best develop the love of study" by Miss Lessie Strange of the Oakdale school.
"Opportunities, advantages and requirements of the country teacher for community leadership" by Miss Willie Hoke of the Panola school.
The teaching of drawing in the country school" by Miss Elizabeth Hegroo of the Foreston school.
If time will permit there will be round table discussions on these and other topics of interest to the profession. Do not forget the date, Feb. 13. E. J. BROWNE, County Supt. of Education.

Colored Teachers Had Good Meeting.
The colored teachers' association, which met here last Saturday, was largely attended. Teachers from nearly every section in the county were present. Arrangements for the county school fair and Field Day celebration of the colored schools March 9th.

A very good program was rendered. A paper on "Teaching Grammar in Public Schools Effectively" was presented by S. I. Miles of the Manning school. Among the other subjects discussed were: Some plans of extending the school terms, and the effect of prohibition among negroes. All of the discussions were fine and of unusual interest. The teachers unanimously agreed to enter into the prohibition movement among their people, by teaching negro children to disdain the idea of acquiring the liquor habit and to encourage the colored people who are spending thousands for drink to spend the same money for the training of their children, by improving the schools and offering longer opportunities to the citizenry of the future generations.

The schools taking a part in the annual celebration are urged to make every day count from now until the 9th of March. Prizes will be offered to the pupil who can furnish best illustration in providing a meal (breakfast or dinner) for ten persons with one dollar, and to the pupil furnishing best loaf of bread or pound cake with receipt. On exhibition other features of work in domestic science.

The schools agreed to have an old time spelling match. Two representatives from each school will be allowed to enter the contest. The winning pupil will be given a scholarship in the Manning Graded School. Words will be given out from the progressive speller book 2.

Since the colored graded school at Manning has established three years high school course with the idea of making this the central school in the county for negro education, the colored teachers adopted a resolution urging each school to send their most advanced pupil to this school, after they finish from the elementary schools. Some special by the principal for students entering the county high school.

The main discussion in the next meeting Feb. 26th will be "Presenting the Subject of Reading." A special address will be delivered by Prof. M. J. Frederick of the city schools for negroes in Columbia.

At Rest.
Died at his home in Baltimore on the 25th Inst. Mr. Sidney McFaddin, aged 52 years. The remains were brought to Manning Friday morning, and interred in the Manning Cemetery Friday afternoon. Rev. L. B. McCord pastor of the Manning Presbyterian church conducted the service. The deceased is survived by his widow and only child a son of 12 years, besides his sisters Mrs. S. J. Dwyer of Eastover, Mrs. J. B. Hawkins, of Olanta, Mrs. W. T. Lessee, Mrs. Fannie Sauls of Manning, and Misses Minnie and Sue McFaddin, of Manning, and Messrs J. McDowell, C. Allen and Jack McFaddin of Manning.

The deceased was twice married, his first wife was Miss Beckham of Sumter who died early in life leaving no children, after her death he made Baltimore his home where he again married and for many years he was in the service of the street railway in that city. His employers held him in very high esteem, and sent as their tribute a magnificent floral sheet to cover his grave. While on a visit to his relatives in this county for the Christmas holidays of 1912 he was stricken with paralysis, from which he recovered sufficiently to return to his home and resume his duties. He was again stricken which resulted, fatally.

Those of us who know "Massie" as he was familiarly called remember him as a man of sterling qualities, and his reputation he maintained in the city of his adopted home.

The floral tributes which cover his last resting place are a testimonial of the love and affection his relatives and friends bore him.

Gathered to His Fathers.
The funeral of the late Capt. A. L. Lessee took place in Sumter last Thursday in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Rev. J. H. Thayer conducted the religious rites, and Clarence of Sumter and St. Peters of Manning the masonic rites. He died after an extended illness, on the 26th, at the age of 55 years, and left a wife and a child, a daughter. Captain Lessee was born in the Silver section of this county, the son of the late Maj. W. T. Lessee, and from his early youth up to the time his health gave way he led an active business life. He was a progressive farmer, one of the largest in the county, and by his thrift and energy and good business management he amassed large land holdings and other possessions. He was a sturdy citizen, who took a deep interest in all things which made for the development of the county. When the state was endeavoring to recover from the effects of misgovernment he gave of his time and means for the cause. He was captain of the Connor Mounted Riflemen, a company organized in 1876, by the late Col. Brown Manning, said company rendering good service in those trying days. After marriage he moved to the city of Sumter where he entered into the business life of that city at the same time continuing his interests in Clarendon. He was President of the oil mill at St. Paul, he was one of the founders of the Commercial and Savings Bank of Sumter and its first president. His death removes from activity a splendid citizen, a high-toned and honorable gentleman, a noble Shriner, and 32 degree mason, an indulgent father, and loving husband—a loss to both Clarendon and Sumter, as well as the State.

Notice to Creditors.
All persons having claims against the estate of A. L. Lessee, deceased, will present them duly attested, and those owing said estate will make payments to the undersigned qualified administrators of said estate.

Summerton.
In my letter last week I said that which had happened those most concerned had much rather it had not happened, at that time I had learned that the Summerton Mercantile Company, one of the oldest and largest mercantile establishments in this town was going into voluntary bankruptcy, but at that time not knowing just what their liabilities and assets, was I left it off, since then it is shown that its assets are listed at $98,742.16 and its liabilities at $109,385.91. This failure will be regretted by hundreds of people no doubt who have been doing business with this concern for a number of years, but with the amount of business done by them the past year, and stock fertilizers and merchandise at a high price, they found it impossible to any thing like meet their obligation at the present price of cotton etc., hence the only thing to do was to close their doors or be closed.

The many friends of Miss Katherine Capers of our town were a little puzzled to see her name appear in a Columbia paper as one who had secured a "Teachers Certificate" from the Richland County Board of Education, Miss Capers is attending the College for Women, and took the examination just to test her nerve. The paper quoted the Board as saying that the applicants receiving certificates at this examination, made the highest record of any that had come before them, Miss Capers won 1st grade with a general average of over 90. She is pursuing a course for the degree of A. B. We feel sure she will accomplish her ambition and we extend her our hearty congratulations.

Mrs. Charles Booth Satterlee, of Atlanta, Ga. will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Ellison Capers, this week, Mrs. Satterlee is a sister of Dr. Capers, and is visiting him, before leaving for San Antonio Texas, to which place she is returning with another brother, the Rev. W. T. Capers, Bishop of Southern Texas.

No doubt but what it will be of interest to the many friends of the Rev. Baxter F. McLendon, to know that arrangements have been about completed to have him come here this spring of summer and conduct a revival meeting under his large tent.

Miss Carrie Windham, chief operator for the Southern Bell Telephone company at this place, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Olanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Davis, of Davis Station, spent Sunday with the latter parents here, Capt. and Mrs. J. A. James.

Mr. T. E. Stanley, is on an extended visit to his relatives in Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Broadway and Dr. and Mrs. Leon Fitch, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. Ben Broadway at Pinewood.

Mr. H. P. Troy, has opened up a fancy grocery business on Main Street in the store house formerly occupied by Brailford, the 5 and 10 cents man.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chewning, of Davis Station, spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Mrs. Charlie Wilson, of Pine Grove, spent several days last week with Mrs. R. A. Purser at this place.

Since writing the above, Messrs. H. C. Carrigan, Jr. and John W. Lessee has been appointed receivers for the Summerton Mercantile Company and the business will continue in operation under the management of these gentlemen, until a settlement is reached with their creditors.
