Miss Gertrude Colclough spent several days in Charleston last week. Mr. Chas. B. Davis is in Charleston on business.

Messrs. E. P. and E. O. Rowe spent several days in Charleston this week. Several folks left Tuesday to attend the State Fair at Columbia. Here's hoping they have an enjoyable occasion.

Mr. Eugene Tennant of Charleston spent several days in town recently visiting his mother, Mrs. J. E. Tennant.

Several prominent farmers in and around Summerton have purchased Fordson Tractors and some are beginning to put them to use. This experiment is new in this section although the demonstrations prove it a very practical operation and especially so where we have labor as scarce as it is here at this time. It is hoped that they will prove a decided benefit to our farmers who have to try them and that their coming will begin a campaign of progressiveness against the boll weevil.

The two local ginning institutions located here have about caught up with the bulk of the ginning and are having idle times now. A good portion of the crop is still in the cotton-houses around about on the farms and the farmers are awaiting the rush to be over before they make a start. However the amount yet not ginned is not a great deal.

Long staple cotton seems to be in great demand this season as some brought as high as 64 cents on the local market last week. Several say this is the highest price ever paid for cotton on the local market. There was very little planted in this section this year due to the low market for same last year.

YEAR AFTERWARDS

Anderson Woman Says She Suffered 25 Years.

NOTED GREAT CHANGE

"Tanlac Is Due A Strong Recommendation," She Gratefully Declares

More than a year after she had taken Tanlac, Mrs. Martha Beasley, of 49 Marshall St., Anderson, S. C., told of the "lasting benefits" Tanlac gave her in the following statement.

"I had suffered from a very bad form of indigestion for twenty-five years or more," said Mrs. Beasley. "I hurt so badly frequently that it seemed something like a knife was sticking between my shoulders. Then, too, I had awful choking spells and terrible headaches. I had had these spells so long I did not feel right for a time after the Tanlac broke them up. Gas formed in great quantities on my stomach, my liver was sluggish and I was very nervous."

"It was more than a year ago when I started taking Tanlac, and the benefit it gave me was lasting. The remedy stopped the choking spells and ended those awful headaches. I am not troubled with indigestion now, and I really feel fine. My appreciation of the value of Tanlac increases as time passes, for time is showing me that the good results Tanlac gave me are lasting."

"Tanlac is due a strong recommendation and I am glad to give it, for the remedy improved my condition so much in every way that I think it has no equal as a stomach medicine and tonic."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is sold by Dickson's Drug Store, Manning; H. W. Nettles, Jordan; Shaw & Plowden, New Zion; Farmers' Supply Co., Silver; D. C. Rhame, Summerton.

mob of strikers which attacked a police squad of twenty-seven officers on duty at a textile plant.

The strikers have been out for nine weeks and their places in the plants have been filled.

In reply to a request from Mayor Smith, of Utica, for State troops, Governor Smith, at Albany, said they would be sent if the situation got beyond control of the local authorities.

MOSES AMENDMENT UP

Washington, Oct. 28.—The senate fight over the peace treaty was at a standstill today, the only references to the treaty during the long session being incidental to the prohibition debate.

Tomorrow the leaders hope to get a vote on the last of the amendments reported by the foreign relations committee, that by Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, to exclude all of the British dominions from taking part in any league decision affecting any one of them.

We watched your dear father fading
But little did we know,
That on this day a year ago,
Your soul from us would go.

Only those who knew you father,
Can really understand,
How we miss your happy smiles,
And the clasp of your dear hand.

Dearest papa we miss you,
For to us you've been good and dear,
And often our hearts grieve us,
When we see your vacant chair.

In loving remembrance of my dear husband who departed this life one year ago today October 23, 1918.

Your face we will never more see here
It's laid beneath the sod,
He is not here with us to be,
His home is now with God.

Oh, my darling how we miss you,
And our hearts are filled with pain,
But a voice seems sweetly saying,
Courage we shall meet again.
