What is the matter with the county candidates? The price of political cards is the same as two years ago, no advance. It only takes a ten spot to put you in the limelight. Now, don't be timid, come across.

We notice some of the large oak trees on Brooks street, and always the pride of our town, are being used as bill boards, several show advertisements being nailed on them.

If the owners of the local telephone system can't give better service than is now had, they should close the thing up. People are paying for practically nothing. And too, the rates have advanced.

The campaign is now on for the raising of "a service fund" for the Salvation Army. The drive began May 10th and will last through May 20th. Help Clarendon County raise its share. For information, phone Charlton DuRant District Chairman or Jno. G. Dinkins County Chairman. Address all subscriptions or pledges to Jno. C. Bagnal, Treasurer, Manning, S. C.

The ladies of Foreston will have a large barbecue, fish fry, pine bark stew and children supper on Thursday, May 20 at 8:30 P. M. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the large new schoolhouse that is being planned for Foreston. It is hinted that other interesting features will supplement the food. A large crowd is expected from Manning, Kingstree and Greelyville. Everybody is invited.

There are a lot of "blue farmers" in this section of the country, owing to the cool weather and the damage it is doing to the young crops. The farmers, in some parts of this county, were thrown late with planting on account of rains, and in addition to that was the slow movement of fertilizer owing to the poor transportation facilities, scarcity of labor and backwardness of the season. It is somewhat discouraging to the farmers at the present time.

Mrs. M. S. Brown, Mrs. W. T. Lesene, Miss Irma Weinberg, Mr. S. W. Barron and Mr. Scott Bagnal motored to Spartanburg last Monday in a Chandler Six driven by Mr. Scott Bagnal to attend the May Festival. Mr. Bagnal states that the trip was made in about 8 hours without any mishaps. They went by way of Camden, Lancaster, Rock Hill, York and up by Kings mountain. Miss Addie Weinberg was in Spartanburg and came back with them.

Why are some people allowed to have signs and other obstructions across the side-walks and others are not granted the same privilege? Council passed a law forbidding any sign across the side-walks, and giving the people until April 1, 1920 to move them. The officers also notified everybody when the time had expired, and the majority obeyed the law, taking down signs, some of them so small they would scarcely be noticed. But, there is an old piazza across one of the side-walks which is not only unsightly but dangerous, it is still there. There is also a lamp with the side glasses hanging and liable to fall and hurt some one. Also one or two more signs remain up. Why these special privileges? Council made the

BEN P. BROADWAY DROPS DEAD WHILE TALKING

Bishopville, May 6.—Mr. Ben P. Broadway, a well known citizen of Pinewood dropped dead in the Knights of Pythias Hall here this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Mr. Broadway was here to attend a Knights of Pythias banquet tonight. The Knights of Pythias met in their hall to have a meeting before the banquet opened and Mr. Broadway had just opened the meeting with prayer and was making a talk when he suddenly dropped dead. He was sixty-three years old.

DEATH OF BEN BROADWAY

A cloud of sorrow darkened the progress of the Fifth District Convention, Knights of Pythias at Bishopville, by the sudden death of Bro. B. P. Broadway, a delegate from Pinewood Lodge.

This was the most sorrowful proceedings within a Lodge. The last words spoken by Mr. Broadway was "Friendship" and "Excuse me." This occurred while he was delivering an eloquent elucidation of Pythian morals and principles of which his life was a true exemplification.

The Convention was called to order at 5:00 P. M. by D. D. G. C., S. L. Krasnoff. An eloquent address of welcome on behalf of the city of Bishopville was delivered by Bro. Tatum of Bishopville, and while making report for the Pinewood Lodge by Bro. Broadway the fatal moment arrived that marks the unknown shore.

At this moment, out of respect and reverence to our departed brother and faithful co-worker, all further functions were called off, and the meeting adjourned, to escort the remains to the train which carried him to Pine-wood accompanied by some of his neighbors.

A physician was called, and he pronounced the cause of death due to heart failure.

A committee of delegates to the convention appointed, presented and passed the following resolutions:

Whereas it has pleased the Ruler of The Universe, to take away from our midst, Brother B. P. Broadway, and honorable citizen, a true man, a loyal friend, a devoted husband, a kind father, a true Knight and obedient servant to Him who rules the Universe, an exemplary gentleman, whose lifes carier is worthy of exemplification, be it

Resolved, that we cherish his memory among us as that of true Knight and brother. That we shall remember him as brother, friend and gentlemen, and that his life's carier of truth and uprightness shall be our guide in the future for friendship, charity and benevolence. That a copy of this resolution be sent to his nearest relatives, and that same be spread in our minutes.

HAIL INSURANCE

If you knew there was to be a terrific hail-storm right in your very section—what would you do? WHAT COULD YOU DO?

You can't cover your crops—neither can you shield them from the "cobblestones of the sky." So—Even if you KNEW there was to be a hail-storm—a ruinous, raging storm—one that was bound to destroy your entire source of income—you couldn't do a thing to prevent it. No power on earth could save your property—and you know it.

Consequently—what's to be done? You can't afford to run your business on a "my-crops-may-be-ruined-any-day" basis, can you? You don't want to feel that the harvest of months of hard work may be swept away in a few minutes—do you? Of course not.

You may argue that the storm MAY not come. Quite true—it may not—for a day—or a week—or two. But when it DOES—then what?

THERE'S ONLY ONE SAFE ANSWER: "INSURE YOUR CROPS."

If you cannot prevent hail-storms—you can protect yourself against loss caused by them. And the best protection you can possibly secure is an insurance policy in the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

Let the "Hartford" assume all the risk. It can afford it. You cannot. The "Hartford" has millions of dollars of assets. You haven't. The "Hartford" will cheerfully guarantee you against all loss by hail-storm—and do it for a comparatively small amount per year.

Now that you know how to protect yourself against hail-storms—what are you going to do? Are you going to keep putting it off? Are you going to wait for the BIG storm that will completely ruin you? Are you going to undergo the suffering and worry that comes with such a big catastrophe?

Save yourself all this. Insure your crops. Protect your business. Protect your family. We'll gladly tell you how in detail—for that's our business—and we're proud of our record for paying losses.

Send us your name. That's the beginner of a big savings plan for yourself. There's no effort—a simple signature and you have taken a step that will mean comfort instead of worry for the rest of the year.

We will take your note in payment of premium. REMEMBER:—Foresight is the mother of wisdom. Don't delay—See us today. Tomorrow may be too late. We insure everything against anything.

Check on the coupon below the kind of insurance that interests you most. Mail it to us and we will send you full information.
