MANNING, S. C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1921

This is a good country. It will continue to be a good country as long as its people are good citizens. Let's have no other kind.

President Harding, following the example of President Wilson, is appointing literary men to diplomatic posts. At last we are not coming into our own.

SLASH AGAIN

Short skirts for women have been vindicated. Hurrah. Cut off another foot or two! Statistics gathered in Chicago show that the skirt is responsible for reducing the number of accidents to women in boarding and alighting from street cars and trains.

"Before the advent of the short skirt innumerable falls were caused by women stepping on their own skirts. Now the short skirts are cutting down the number of accidents," says the statistician.

Hurrah again! Off with still a little more!

We men will look the other way—when our wives are around.

FIGHTERS AND FIGHTERS

Fistic fans are speculating at a lively rate on the result of the coming fight between Georges Carpentier, the French war hero, and Jack Dempsey, the American "fighter" who failed to fight for his country.

The money is on Dempsey, but popular sympathy and favor is unquestionably with the Frenchman. National pride should prompt a person to root for his countryman, provided that countryman is one worthy of the name.

But—Carpentier quit fighting in the ring in order to fight the enemies of his country. He is a man, regardless of what some may think of his calling.

THROWING STONES

The public is becoming nauseated with the ease of the New York banker who brought suit for divorce against his wife, claiming that another man is the father of her baby boy. The wife fought for her good name and the legitimacy of her child, and she fought hard and with startling results. She charged, and claims to be able to prove, that the banker, while attacking her purity, was even deeper in the mire—was in fact maintaining another woman as his wife under an assumed name. There, too, a child is to be found.

Before his attempt to besmirch his wife in order to secure his freedom he was a man of commanding position in the financial world. Now he is no longer at the head of his bank, is looked upon with suspicion by the public, and is said to be contemplating a residence abroad. He can be spared—he will not be missed—the air may even be purer when he is gone. The American people do not look with favor upon guilty men who throw stones.

THINK THIS OVER

Press dispatches have been paving the way for another huge French loan to be placed in the United States. This time, if the dispatches are correct, we will be asked to lend a cool hundred million dollars to our friends across the water, in addition to the billions they already owe us. The cables also tell another story—a very interesting one. Paris is going fashion mad. The whirl of gayety is the liveliest that has been seen in many years. Stupendous sums of money are spent on jewels, and dress, and the races, and the opera, and the continual round of expensive receptions and entertainments.

They have plenty of money with which to satisfy their vanity or their craving for excitement, but apparently they have none for the rehabilitation of France. We are not fond of criticising our neighbors, for we wish all nations and all peoples well. But we feel that the time has arrived for a just criticism—a criticism that the French have brought upon themselves by their social prodigality when a season of frugality is imperative.

If the French government wants another hundred million dollars it should apply to its own people who are throwing their money away on frivolity. The French exhibited a sublime patriotism during the war. Even a small portion of the same patriotic spirit in time of peaceful reconstruction will supply the French government with all of the money it requires.

If the French people who are so prodigal in their spending have not sufficient faith in their government to advance the funds it requires, then that fact itself is sufficient reason for America to say "NO."

Close the door to the new French loan. That hundred million dollars can be profitably employed right here in our own country.

IN REMEMBRANCE

In loving memory of Adger Ingram Alsbrook, who parted this life May 28th, 1920.

One year has passed but still we miss you,
Friends say think the wound is healed,
But there's none who know the sorrow
Deep within our hearts concealed.

It was so sudden that you left us
That we missed our goodby kisses,
But today in heaven with Jesus,
You are happy in bliss.

Never was a more devoted son,
To his parents here,
But now he is in heaven with Jesus
Without sorrow, toil or care.

We miss you so much son,
We treasure your honored name,

But we realize our earthly loss
Is heaven's sweetest gain.

All is sorrow within our dwelling
Lonely are our hearts today,
For the one we loved so dearly
Has for a time passed away.

He is gone but not forgotten,
Never will his memory fade;
Loving thoughts will ever linger,
Round the grave where he is laid.

One year has passed our hearts are sore,
As time flies by we miss you more,
Your loving voice your welcome face
No one can fill your vacant place.

Forget you! no we never will!
We loved you then we love you still
Your memory is as fresh to-day
As in the hour you passed away.

Father thou hast taken our dear son
For some cause we do not know,

Ship and Sail under the Stars and Stripes to all parts of the world

SHIPS with the Stars and Stripes blowing from their masts are once more sailing the seven seas. They are, by the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, ultimately to be owned and operated privately by citizens of the United States.

They are American ships, carrying passengers and, as President Harding has said, "carrying our cargoes in American bottoms to the marts of the world." Keep our splendid ships on the seven seas under the Stars and Stripes by sailing and shipping on them.

But thou will help us live right,
On this earth here below.

It was hard to part
But Jesus knew the best
So he took him to heaven
Where there's eternal rest.

Now Jesus thou will keep him
For us while we wait,
But thou will let him meet us
At the golden gate.
By his devoted parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Alsbrook.
