

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter." — Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weakness, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

CHILD ATE CUTICURA

Spread Whole Box of It on Crackers —Not the Least Injury Resulted —Thus Proven Pure and Sweet.

A New York friend of Cuticura writes: "My three year old son and heir, after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the stateroom and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment. When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant.

Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

WASHINGTON NOTES

Use Stamped Envelopes.

A special effort is being made by the Postoffice Department to increase the use of stamped envelopes instead of those which have to have a stamp affixed.

In furtherance of this endeavor A. L. Lawshe, Third Assistant Postmaster General, has issued a highly ornate circular describing and illustrating the different sizes and colors of the envelopes the government has on sale. This has been distributed by the letter carriers who, forgetting for the moment the length of their routes and the weight of their sacks of mail, have for the most part, entered into enthusiastic details as to the cheapness and convenience and altogether desirability of this class of postoffice wares.

"Everyone who uses government stamped envelopes is aiding the Postoffice Department in improving the service," is what Lawshe's circular says, and, in addition, it enumerates several advantages which are to be obtained from their use.

For instance, it points out that stamps may be easily lost, misappropriated, or may become useless by sticking together. Also a stamp may drop off in the mail, and then there is the time consumed in affixing the stamp as an item of consideration. All of these difficulties, the circular says, are overcome by using the stamped envelopes.

Then when a purchaser is willing to buy as many as 500 stamped envelopes at a time, the government will print his name and address in the upper left hand corner without any extra charge. The advantage of this is that such envelopes do not find their way to the dead letter office. If the address cannot be found the letter is returned without extra postage to the sender. Such envelopes, if misdirected, are redeemable at the Postoffice from original purchasers only at full stamp value. This is not true of adhesive stamps.

The Postoffice Department sells the envelopes in various sizes, colors, and qualities, but the most usual size can be obtained for about eight for a cent, stamp value extra. Thus eight two-cent envelopes would cost about seventeen cents. One can get them in white, amber, blue, buff or maroon.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau of the Treasury Department are of the opinion that the temperance movement, which has taken such a strong hold of certain sections of the country, particularly in the South, has resulted in increasing the number of violations of the internal revenue laws in the distillation of illicit whiskey.

Recent reports indicate that in many Southern States, especially in Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina there has been greater activity on the part of the lawless mountain element, who always have been troublesome to the revenue agents, than in many years. These three States now have laws prohibiting distilleries from operating within their borders. In Alabama the law went into effect on July 1, 1908; in Georgia on January 1, 1908; and in North Carolina January 1, 1909.

Many legitimate distilleries have moved to Florida and other States where the prohibition does not exist. Whiskey being more difficult to obtain in a legitimate way has greatly increased the profits of illicit distilling, with the result that the activities of the internal revenue bureau at this time is largely directed towards the mountain sections of these three States.

Eleven members were in their seats Saturday when the House of Representatives met to further consider the Payne tariff bill. It was the smallest attendance of the special session and demonstrated the fact that interest in the debate had practically disappeared.

Mr. Sparkman (Democratic), of Florida, opened the discussion by making an earnest plea for a restoration of the Dingley rate on lumber and the imposition of a duty of 5 cents a pound on all cotton imported into the United States.

The Philippine Islands were again heard from when Mr. Benita Legardo resident commissioner, spoke in opposition to the proposed free trade between that possession and the United States. His views were practically along the lines of those expressed Friday by his colleague, Mr. Pablo Ocampo de Leon.

In view of the diminishing supply of pulp-making woods and the consequent increase in the cost of paper, the serious problem which awaits solution is, whence will come our future paper supply? Interest in the matter lies in the fact that everybody uses paper and it is presented in its serious aspect when one considers that the destruction of our pulp-making woods goes on at a tremendous rate.

Experts declare that there are not enough spruce forests standing in the United States to furnish a future constant supply of wood pulp for making paper under the present ## methods of forest conservation and waste.

The experiments thus far have had to do principally with such plants as corn stalks, cotton stalks, flax, sugar, bagasse, tulle, rice, straw, okra and several other things. While these experiments have not progressed far enough to warrant definite conclusions as to whether any of them can be manufactured on a paying commercial scale, it is asserted that corn stalks offer the most promising outlook. A very much finer paper can be made from corn stalks than from the wood pulp.

Woman Blackmailer Peppered With Shot.

Washington, Ind., Special.—A woman was shot Tuesday night as she picked up a decoy prepared after Banker N. G. Read had received a letter demanding that he deposit $30,000 at a designated spot. A man who accompanied the woman escaped unhurt, and the police are looking for him. The woman was peppered with birdshot. The woman, besmeared with blood, was taken to jail, where she was identified as Miss Zella Clark. She has been employed as a domestic.

Dr. Jones Slain by Hill Men.

Manilla, Special.—A telegram from the constabulary at Echague reports that the body of Dr. Wm. Jones, the noted anthropologist of the Columbian Museum at Chicago, who was murdered by tribesmen, was taken to that place by friendly Ilongots. The murder was committed about fifty miles south of Echague, where Dr. Jones was engaged in studying the wild hill tribes, living among them for the purpose of preparing an exhaustive report of their customs and traditions.

Snuff For a Billion Sneezes.

Providence, R. I., Special.—With one of the most unusual charters in local coastwise history, the three masted schooner Denna Briggs sailed for Philadelphia. The schooner for the next six months will carry snuff between Norfolk and Philadelphia the charter calling for 200 tons of each trip. Tobaccoists estimate that each pound of snuff is good for 2,616 sneezes, and that on every trip the Briggs will have between her decks more than one billion sneezes.

ONE RESULT OF BEING KIND.

It was a bright sunny morning as Madeline Johnson was walking along the beach of a small lake when she saw a man rise as it seemed suddenly out of the sand. A large, lovely shepherd dog followed him.

Madeline was rather poor herself but she thought she had never been so poor as this man looked to be. The dog, like his master, looked hungry. The man looked to be about thirty-five years of age; he had black eyes and hair, and wore a light felt hat, a coat that was worn and shabby and shoes that were worn in many places.

He came close to Madeline and dropping to his knees he poured out his story in words unknown to her, in the Italian part of the city. Now, Madeline's next door neighbor was an Italian, and quick as a flash came the thought, "Perhaps Mrs. Gillespie will be able to understand him, and we may help him." She turned toward home and beckoned to him to follow her. He hesitated a moment, but her pleasant smile encouraged him, and he followed her. The dog still waited, his master seeing him, called, "Jack." The poor dog who was almost starved, whined, and wagging his tail ran after his master. The three then turned toward Madeline's home, which was a small cottage on the beach. She took the man to Mrs. Gillespie after giving him a hearty meal of which he partook eagerly, it being (as she afterwards learned) his first meal for two days. After a long conversation with the man he told her his story which was very sad. He was looking for his brother, whom Madeline with Mrs. Gillespie's help found for him. Jack's master, whom his brother had given up for lost was heartily welcomed to his brother's home. After being asked how he ever found the right place, Antonio, for that was his name, told the other about Madeline, whom he ever after regarded as an angel. How she had helped and all about her kindness.

You may be sure that she was fully rewarded by the brother who had prospered during the few years he had lived in America.—Susie Smith in the Weekly Witness.

MANY ARE OBLONG.

The decision has been arrived at among certain makers of high-class ready-to-wear suits and dresses that "the oblong woman" is to continue, and hipless dress forms will be the feature of future wearing apparel of this class. Among individual makers, however, practically nothing but the princess dress obtains; but it is so varied that each one seems to be in a class by itself. Some are so severely simple that they really take the place of the tailored suit. Many are "oblong," but many, too, are fitted to the figure quite to the hip line. I have seen one or two which were fitted to and cut off at this line, the skirt below being added there under flat stitching. Sometimes the body portion is made with plaits, stitched flat to the hips, after which they fall free.—Harper's Bazar.

FIRE AT NEWBERN

Conflagration Destroys $4,000 Worth of Property.

Newbern, Special.—Fire Saturday morning at 2:30 threatened for a time the block on the corner of Middle and Pollock streets, and gutted the Hughes Building, a double story brick building, occupied by the Delmonico Cafe and the George B. Waters cigar and stationery store. Soon after the firemen reached the fire an explosion took place in the Waters store and one of the colored helpers in the fire department was badly cut by flying glass. The loss is about $4,000 with $1,200 insurance. Mr. Waters, it is stated, had $1,300 insurance and a stock of about $2,500.

Probing Deforestation.

Winston-Salem, Special.—Reid Whitford, of the United States engineering department, has been in this section several days to ascertain by consultation with well informed citizens, as well as by personal investigations and examinations, the approximate amount of deforestation which has taken place in Wilkes and adjoining counties during the last 20 years; this is with the view of determining how this clearing of land has influenced the water levels in the Yadkin river, causing disastrous floods, and at other times unusual and long periods of low water; or, if deforestation has not caused these conditions, to find out what has. The government seeks by some means to prevent such disastrous overflows of the Yadkin as are now almost yearly occurring.

The New Building at the University.

The site for the new building of the university for which the legislature donated the necessary sum last session was decided on by the trustees at their last meeting and will be the corner of Bull and Pendleton streets, facing towards the handsome building just being completed.

This is a most suitable place, it is stated, as the new class room building which is about completed occupies the opposite site on the corner of Bull and Green streets. This will also be in keeping with the plans laid out for the gradual enlargement of the university and the science building will be a fitting structure to stand on this corner.

Dr. Smith Has Accepted.

Chapel Hill, Special.—Dr. Charles Alphonso Smith, of the department of English, has accepted the call to the University of Virginia. The chair is that of English, not Teutonic languages. Negotiations have been under way for a year. Dr. James A. Harrison having urged the appointment of Dr. Smith as soon as the former thought of retiring. "I have given the matter most careful consideration," said Dr. Smith. "Nothing can change my love for the University of North Carolina or my native State, but the call to the University of Virginia is a call to a wider field of service."

Bridge Falls; Killing Elder.

Winston-Salem, Special.—One span of the approach to the bridge over the Yadkin river at the east end of North Wilkesboro fell in while Elder J. Frank Hutcherson, a Primitive Baptist preacher, was crossing, dropping him, his buggy and two mules into the river twenty feet below. Elder Hutcherson was fatally injured, living only thirty minutes, the buggy demolished and the mules badly crippled. The bridge had been condemned and closed up, but the public insisted on tearing down the obstruction and using it.

President Taft to Visit Charlotte.

A committee of prominent citizens of Charlotte and Meckleburg county, N. C., wrote on President Taft last Wednesday and secured his promise to attend the celebration of the Declaration of Independence in Charlotte on the 20th of May, 1909. Singularly enough, however, the President says he never heard of that historic event before.

$18,000 Fire at Salisbury.

Salisbury, Special.—With a loss of the Kincaid Veneer Plant in this city was destroyed Saturday morning by fire, which is said to have originated from a spark from a passing train. The blaze was discovered by a night watchman but had gotten beyond control. The plant had been idle for some months and was in the hands of receivers, advertised for sale in April. The receivers held $6,500 insurance.

Durham Boy Sent to Reformatory.

Durham, Special.—Hobson Martin, the son of a very good father in this city, was Saturday morning ordered sent to the Jackson Training School by the recorder on account of the theft of a purse and a small amount of money. The young fellow has not been regarded as an incorrigible but has borne a rather good reputation for a kid. He is the first to go from this place to the reformatory.

The Sunday-School

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR APRIL 11.

Subject: Peter Delivered From Prison, Acts 12:1-11—Golden Text, Psalm 34:7—Exposition of the Lesson and Lesson Comments.

TIME.—A. D. 44. PLACE.—Jerusalem.

EXPOSITION.—Peter in Prison and the Church Praying Unto God For Him, 1-5. The lull in the persecution was but temporary. It began again with great fierceness. James was killed and Peter arrested, put in prison and about to be killed. Peter seemed to be in a very perilous position—securely locked in a Roman prison, bound with two chains between two soldiers, guarded by sixteen soldiers, keepers before the door guarding the prison. Peter's enemies seemed to have taken every precaution, but they made one fatal mistake, they left God out of their calculations. There is "nothing too hard for the Lord," nor for the church that links itself on to God by prayer. God often withholds His deliverance and answers prayer at the last moment. What should the church do? There is but one thing to do—pray. They appealed the case from "Herod the king" to God, the King of kings. Peter seemed to have faith that he would be delivered, for he was calmly and very soundly sleeping. Just as soon as he was thoroughly awake he said: "Now I know of a truth that the Lord did send forth His angel (just as I have been asking Him to) and delivered me." Verse 5 teaches us just how to pray: (1) "Unto God." Much so-called prayer is not unto God. There is no real coming into the presence of God and actually presenting our petition to Him. There are volumes in these two short words, "unto God." (2) "Without ceasing." The R. V. gives the thought, but not the full thought. The Greek word means, literally, "stretched-out-ed-ly." It is a vivid pictorial word that represents the soul on a stretch with intensity of desire (cf. Jer. 29: 13). It is the word used of Christ's prayer in the garden, when in the intensity of His prayer His sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground (Luke 22: 44; cf. Rom. 15:30; Col. 4:12, 13, R. V.). (3) "Of the church." There is power in the prayer of the individual, but there is added power, yes, multiplied power, in united prayer (Matt. 18:19, 20; Acts 1:14; 4:24, 31). (4) "For him." They did not wander all over the world in their prayers that night; they concentrated their prayer on Peter and on getting him out of prison.

II. Prayer Answered and Peter Free, 6-11. God's angels are most likely to appear in times of greatest need. A heavenly light shined in the gloomy cell. A prison cell is a dark and dismal place, but no place more luminous than a prison cell when the angel of the Lord stands there. God's angels are very unceremonious. "Ere smote" Peter on the side and awoke him. Sharp blows are often more loving than gentle lullabies. It is frequently necessary to rudely awaken a man before he can be delivered from his peril. God's orders demand prompt obedience (v. 7). Peter could not take his chains off from himself, but he could gird himself and bind on his sandals when the chains were off (v. 8). What Peter could do for himself he must himself do. Peter had gotten so much into the habit of obeying God that he did it even in his sleep, or at least when he was only half awake and thought he was asleep. If Peter had been like many of us he would have stopped long before they got to the iron gate and debated with the angel how they were to get through it. But he had more sense and did just as he was told and left the "how" with God. When he got to the gate it "opened of its own accord," but not until they got to it. If we just obey God difficulties will disappear when we get to them.

III. Believing Rhoda and the Unbelieving Church, 12-17. The company had come together to pray for Peter's deliverance. God, as might be expected, heard their prayer and sent the answer around to the meeting (cf. Is. 65:24). But they were completely bewildered by the answer when it came. They were sure that it could not be Peter. Rhoda must be crazy. If Rhoda is not crazy, then it must be his ghost and not Peter himself (v. 15). Perhaps they thought he had been executed in the night. But Rhoda had faith, she seems to have been expecting Peter. As soon as there was a rap at the door she was on her feet and at the door listening. The moment she heard Peter's voice she knew it was he, it was just what she expected. Even though they told her she was crazy, she stuck to it still. She was only a "maid" (R. V.), but she is the only one in that praying company whose name the Holy Spirit has thought worthy to put on record. There were presumably church dignitaries there, but none of them are mentioned. Rhoda alone is named. She had faith and she alone counted. That "Rose" (Rhoda) had sweet fragrance with God. The unbelief of the rest seems all the more unaccountable when we remember how Peter had once before this been miraculously delivered from prison (cf. 5:19). Peter kept right on knocking. That is the best way to treat unbelief—just keep hammering away.

HARD TO GET AT.

It takes a small boy to express a thing with unconventional force and accuracy.

"The water in this spring is awful good, mother," said a little boarder from the city.

"Is it?" answered his mother.

"Then I'll take some. Where is the cup?"

"There isn't any. You have to lie down and drink uphill!"—Home Herald.
