IN THE PALMETTO STATE.

INTERESTING OCCURRENCES OF VARIOUS KINDS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

State News Boiled Down for Quick Reading
Pungent Paragraphs About Men and Happenings.

Henrietta Summer, a negro woman, was shot and killed in Newberry county last Wednesday night while riding along the road in a buggy. Drate Bailey, a negro, has been arrested for the crime, he being charged with it by the coroner's jury.

Governor Heyward has appointed R. W. Shand, of Columbia, R. M. Cleveland, of Greenville, and Wilson G. Harvey, of Charleston, as a board of pardons. This board is to examine all applications for pardons and make their recommendations to the governor.

The president, vice president, and cashier of the Columbian Banking and Trust Company of Charleston, which failed last week, have been arrested and bound over to court. The charge is a criminal one—that they received deposits knowing the bank was insolvent.

The legislature elected an entirely new board of State dispensary directors. H. H. Evans, chairman of the board, was defeated by J. M. Rawlinson, of Richland, by a vote of 108 to 30. J. B. Wylie, of Chester, and John Black, of Colleton, were effected as the other members of the board. Towill and Boykin did not offer for re-election.

In a short time Laurens will have a complete system of sewerage, and with the recent improvements made on the water and light plants that city will be pretty well equipped in these respects. The sewerage embraces about seven miles and the system will probably be ready to turn over to the city authorities some time next month. The system will cost about $30,000, for which bonds were voted last year.

On account of the recent investigation into the affairs of the Carolina Glass Company, the dispensary investigating committee recommended that the legislature cancel all outstanding contracts with that company for bottles for the State dispensary. The State board of directors had contracted ahead for about $700,000 worth of bottles. The legislature cancelled the contract, and new bids will be called for when bottles are needed.

Watson Stays.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 19.—Immigration commissioner E. J. Watson today declined the offer of Augusta chamber of commerce secretaryship at one-third more pay. He feels it his duty to himself and his State to get his new bureau on a better basis before leaving it. Mr. Watson was appointed to the place in March 1904 when the bureau was created. He was then doing newspaper work in Columbia as city editor of The State. His work as commissioner has attracted much attention throughout the north and west.

Tactful Quaker.

Some time ago there lived a gentleman of indolent habits who spent his time visiting among his friends. After wearing out his welcome in his own neighborhood he thought he would visit an old Quaker friend some twenty miles distant.

On his arrival he was cordially received by the Quaker, who, thinking the visitor had taken much pains to come so far to see him, treated him with a great deal of attention and politeness for several days.

As the visitor showed no signs of leaving, the Quaker became uneasy, but bore it with patience until the eighth day, when he said to him:

"My friend I am afraid thee will never come again."

"Oh, yes I shall," said the visitor. "I have enjoyed my visit very much, and shall certainly come again."

"But," said the Quaker, "if thee will never leave how can thee come again?"

In Maine Also.

Child labor in the mills and workshops is being discussed somewhat, growing out of the fact that the State Inspector Morrison, of Biddeford, takes the law seriously, and thinks it was meant to be enforced. He has been looking about. In a Biddeford mill he found seventy-five children, two-thirds of them under the age limit of the law, in one of the Lewiston mills he found and turned out forty-three. The parents had sworn falsely and given certificates of age subjecting them under the law to severe penalties.—Bridgton (Me.) News.

LUCKIEST MAN IN ARKANSAS.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. At Hoover's drug store, J. B. Black.

—Mr. M. A. Moyer, of Fairfax, spent several days in the city this week, on a visit to relatives.

"His Wife's Money."

Once upon a time a man married a woman who had inherited $500 from a grandfather. This was all she ever received, but the man never got credit for his efforts the rest of his life. He built a new store. "Did it with his wife's money," the neighbors said. The home was made over and enlarged. "His wife's money did it," was the only comment. The little measly $500 she inherited was given the credit for everything he did during life, and when he died and his widow put up a monument with his life insurance, "Her money paid for that," was said again. But this is what her money really went for: During her engagement she bought herself a $350 piano and a $150 ring and in a few weeks lost the ring, and there was always some regret that she didn't also lose the piano.

Both Were Barbarous.

Prof. Starr, the famous ethnologist, was in his humorous and whimsical way accusing women of barbarism, says the New York Tribune.

"And she is not only barbarous—she is illogical and inconsistent," he exclaimed. "I was walking in the country one day with a young woman. In a grove we came upon a boy about to shin up a tree. There was a nest in the tree, and from a certain angle it was possible to see in it three eggs."

"You wicked little boy," said my companion, "are you going up there to rob that nest?"

"I am," the boy replied coolly. "How can you?" she exclaimed, "Think how the mother will grieve over the loss of her eggs."

"Oh, she won't care," said the boy, "She's up there in your hat."

Farmer Stabbed to Death.

LAMAR, Feb. 17.—Charlie Emerson, a farmer living about four miles from this place, was stabbed to death to-night about 8 o'clock in front of the store of Dr. J. F. Watson. Who did the cutting is not known, but two negroes suspected of some knowledge of the affair are in the keeping of the officers.

Emerson had been a few minutes before in a nearby store, in which he, with Jim Wadford and Bowman Scarborough, had some trouble, Emerson having been drinking. He left this store and while walking along in front of Dr. Watson's drug store was stabbed to the heart. Emerson never spoke a word, though his little six-year-old boy called to him piteously to speak. The knife with which it is supposed Emerson was killed was found by his side.

Henry Miles and his son, colored, were arrested and are being held pending the investigation.

Emerson leaves a wife and two children.

Buy a Farm.

Buy a farm, young man. No matter how small it may be; buy a farm and prepare it so that your land will provide you a living. Twenty years from now the man who owns his farm will be independent and will have at his command the means of a livelihood. The expansion of manufacturers cannot go on forever and there will come a day in this country, as there has in others, when the supply will exceed the demand and the only absolutely sure occupation will be farming. Buy a farm while one may be had.—American Farmer.

Honesty is Best in Business.

A liar may succeed for a time, but eventually he will pay the piper. Such a lesson is conveyed in the following incident told by Dr. Morden, and repeated in the Baptist Commonwealth:

"If I hire you," said a Detroit grocer to a boy who had applied for work, "I suppose you will do what I tell you!"

"Yes, sir."

"If I told you to say the sugar was high grade, when it was low, what would you say?"

"Hesitatingly the boy said, 'I'd say it.'"

"If I told you to say the coffee was pure, when it had beans in it, what would you say?"

"I'd say it."

The merchant was nonplussed.

"How much would you work for?" he inquired very seriously.

"One hundred dollars a week," the boy answered in a business-like tone.

"One hundred dollars a week!" responded the grocer man.

"With percentage after the first two weeks," said the boy coolly. "You see," he went on, "first-class liars come high, and if you need them in your business you'll have to pay the price, but I'll tell the truth and work for three dollars a week." The boy caught the grocer at his own game and got the job.

A HEALING GOSPEL.

Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a Godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in 50 minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Hoover's drug store, J. B. Black. Price 50c.

COUNTRY NEWS LETTERS.

SOME INTERESTING HAPPENINGS IN VARIOUS SECTIONS.

News Items Gathered All Around the County and Elsewhere.

Denmark Doings.

DENMARK, February 20, 1906.—Things are very quiet in our little city just now except the ring of the carpenter's hammer and saw, the hauling of fertilizers, the song of the darkies on the nearby farms, and the birds in the gradually budding trees. These beautiful sunny days makes one feel and know that spring, gentle spring is near at hand.

Our much beloved pastor, Rev. Mr. Traywick, delivered a most interesting and instructive sermon to a large congregation at the Methodist church on Sunday last. Bro. Traywick is a deep thinker and his sermons are always interesting and instructive and the prospects of much needed good in our county looks bright.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Patrick lost their infant on last week. The little one has been quite sick for some time and the end came on Thursday last at 12 o'clock. To the bereaved ones we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carroll went up to Langley last week to visit the latter's sister, Mrs. Holman, who was stricken with paralysis. We are glad to report that she is much improved and able to sit up at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hardwick went up to Augusta last week. Mrs. Hardwick will remain in the city several days. Mr. Hardwick returned to Blackville on Friday last to be present at district meeting of Knights of Pythias held at that city.

Messrs. R. C. Hardwick, J. B. Guess, Jr., and Dr. J. S. Matthews were delegates to the district meeting of Knights of Pythias at Blackville, S. C., on Friday night last and report a very pleasant trip. The Blackville people know just how to take care of their friends and while there your correspondent met a goodly number of strangers and new friends were made.

Contractor J. W. Arledge is rapidly pushing the Goza & Gillam cottage at West End to a completion, while contractor Hope is doing likewise with the ice factory and several new dwellings he has under way.

There is prospects of six new store buildings to go up in our city in the near future. The material is now being placed for some of the work. This shows that Denmark will soon be the coming town of lower South Carolina. Let the good work go on. We need more dwellings, more enterprising business men, we want a factory of some kind, and we have the best railroad facilities in the State.

R. C. Hardwick, Esq., leaves today for Hampton and Scotia, S. C., to be gone several days on professional business.

Ehrhardt Etchings.

EHRLHARDT, February 19.—Dr. J. G. Campbell came to town Sunday, and is ready to relieve the tooth ache today.

Mrs. Isaac D. Copeland spent Sunday night in town with her father, J. M. Dannelly.

On last Saturday night between 9 and 10 o'clock the town was startled by the alarm of fire. It was a tenant house of C. Ehrhardt & Sons on the Berry place. The darkies were asleep and did not wake up in time to save any of their goods.

Prof. T. D. Jones and Bernard V. Kearse went to Columbia Sunday morning to attend the anniversary of the Knights of Pythias.

A few shad fish were brought to town last week. Not bad to eat.

A few bales of cotton changed hands last week. Some was badly damaged by letting it stay on the ground without cover.

Mr. J. D. Padgett went to Walterboro on Saturday to attend to some business.

The farmers are anxious about their fertilizers. It seems as if they can't get enough this year. We heard of one farmer who has hauled home fifty tons and hasn't a hand hired up to now.

Lumber is in good demand, but our mill men can't furnish anything like the quantity they could if they could get a force of hands to work. Nearly all the mill men are paying one dollar and upwards for hands and then can't get them.

Mr. J. M. Jennings has finished an artesian well for Mr. O. P. Folk. Mr. Folk has very a good flow, and has it piped all over his dwelling.

Col. C. Ehrhardt went to Bamberg today on business.

It is rumored that a company has been organized, charter gotten and money subscribed to erect an electric railroad from Bamberg to this place to haul passengers and freight. Let the good work go on.

Miss Rebecca Jenny is visiting Mrs. T. D. Jones this week.

An Iowa editor has handed out the knockers a hard jolt in the following: "The sorriest man on earth is the fellow who will sit around and cuss his own town. If I lived astride of the north pole I would call it home and be ready to boost it up. If I could not say anything about it I would say that my ice bill didn't come high. I would not stay in a town I had to cuss, not while the world is as big as it is now."

Country Correspondence.

Miss Sallie Felder's school is out at Sassafras Grove and she has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmott Sandifer entertained at their home a few of their young friends on last Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Hill and niece, Miss Georgie E. Jordan, visited the former's parents, Capt. and Mrs. J. C. McMillan, at Colston, last Thursday. They stuck in the mud several times and dipped in Colston, but report a very enjoyable day, as the Capt. was at his best as host and Mrs. McMillan has ripened as hostess during their fifty-six years of matrimonial companionship. May they live to celebrate their diamond wedding.

To Supervisor Bruce and Foreman McMillan we return many, many thanks for excellent work by the chain gang on "our" road.

Your humble scribe took a flying trip to Denmark Tuesday, returning, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Sandifer were "at home" to all of their children last Saturday and Sunday.

The Hampton school is on a boom. Success to the teacher, Miss Whiten.

Clear Pond News.

The farmers are sure proud to see the sunshine again.

Miss Rebecca Mitchell spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Ben Free, near Springtown.

A large congregation attended preaching at Pleasant Hill Sunday afternoon.

The young man enjoyed a pleasant fish fry at the pond Friday night.

Miss Donie Morris entertained a few of her friends last Thursday evening, in honor of her cousin, Miss Rosa Morris.

Pay the Editor.

A good friend and subscriber sends us the following as a reminder to delinquent subscribers. Fortunately it does not apply to The Herald, as most of our list pay up promptly in advance: Lives of editors remind us

Honest toil stands little chance,

The more we work we leave behind us

Bigger patches in our pants,

On our trousers once so stylish

Now are stripes of varied hue,

All because subscribers tarry

And don't pay us what is due.

Then let them be up and doing,

Send your mite, however small,

Or when the winds of winter hit us

We shall have no pants at all.

Married Man Killed for Ruining Girl.

SPARTANBURG, Feb. 16.—Jesse Bush shot and killed James W. Israel in a field on the lands of Mr. Berry Cudd about five miles beyond the city near Whitney this morning. It was the result of a serious family trouble. Last night the daughter of Bush, about 14 years of age, gave birth to a child. It is said that Israel was accused of being its father.

The Bushes lived near Lolo, but last year they lived on the Cudd place, not far from Israel's house. Seeing Israel in a field working this morning, Bush armed with a shotgun and a pistol, approached him and fired three times, twice with the gun and once with the pistol. The gunshot wounds killed Israel.

At the time Israel had a hoe in his hands working but when commanded to throw up his hands he dropped the hoe.

The coroner's inquest was held this afternoon, the verdict being that deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound, the gun being in the hands of Jesse Bush. Immediately after the killing this morning, Bush came to the city and delivered himself to the sheriff. He is in the county jail.

Israel is survived by a wife and two children. He was recently indicted in the magistrate's court for hugging and kissing the wife of his brother-in-law against her consent. The case was compromised.

THE YELLOW FEVER GERM

has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria and poison and constipation. 25c at Hoover's drug store, J. B. Black.

Hot Stuff to Come Yet.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 19.—An erroneous impression prevails in many parts of the State that the dispensary investigating committee has concluded its labors so far as taking testimony is concerned. On the contrary, the most important and interesting hearings are yet to come, and the fireworks will open up from these in about two weeks. The "best" part of the show has been reserved for the last. The Richland distillery matter is yet to be gone into and the ex-members of the board of directors are to be put on the stand, and the "Newberry situation" is again to be presented to the committee.

Representative Lyon and Senator Christensen, who have "borne the burden and heat of day" in this committee work and have dragged up a mass of evidence and presented with consummate skill and ability, are men of unflinching courage, physical and moral, as well as men of brains and great energy and zeal. It was not their fault that the facts were not brought out as to whether material prosperity has blessed the members of the board as reward for managing the great moral institution. The threats which were made on the floor of the Supreme Court room the morning the Newberry witnesses were to testify only sharpened their desire to do their duty by their State.

"All of these matters are coming out," said a member of the investigation, "if certain members of that committee have to take the responsibility individually. The findings of the sub-committee will be made public whether they are allowed to come out before the committee or not, if members of that committee have to go down to their jeans and pay for the advertising space."

The March Delineator.

In the March number The Delineator has fallen under the spell of romance which the recent marriage of the president's daughter evoked, and presents as its leading feature an article on "The Brides of the White House," illustrated with a handsome portrait of Miss Roosevelt never before published. The fiction of the number includes a short story by Mary Stewart Cutting, a clever study of child life by Virginia Woodward Cloud, and the continuation of "The President of Quex," Helen M. Winslow's interesting club story. Viola Allen, the popular young actress, who recently married a southern millionaire, writes of Shakespeare's heroines from the point of view of one who has personated many of them with great success. Dr. Murray concludes her series on "The Rights of the Child" with a paper on growth and development; and a unique feature beginning in this number is "Houses by Correspondence," the first being The Doctor's House. Stories and pastimes are supplied for the amusement of children, and in the other departments many topics of interest and value to the home are treated. Fashion of course, plays a large part in this number, and the newest styles are illustrated and described in detail.

Entertainment by Local Talent.

On Monday evening, the 26th instant, an entertainment will be given at the Fitting School chapel. It is given under the direction of the Home Mission Society. The proceeds will be applied to a good purpose.

The program is as follows:

A half-hour play entitled, "An Interrupted Proposal"—seven characters; music: vocal (solos and a quartette) and instrumental (stringed instruments and piano); recitations and dialogues.

There is a treat in store for those who attend. Admission: Adults 25c; children 15c. Exercises begin at 8 o'clock.

A level-headed old bachelor was Alderman Waters, of Toledo, who died the other day. It appears that he had three sweethearts, either of whom he loved well enough to marry. But he was deterred from becoming a Benedict through fear that the two sweethearts who must necessarily have been disappointed would bring suits for breach of promise. So he remained a bachelor, and at his death bequeathed to each of the three the sum of $10,000.

THEIR CRYSTAL WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. S. Brooker Entertain their Friends Upon the Fifteenth Anniversary of their Marriage.

One of the most prominent social events of the season was the "crystal wedding" celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. S. Brooker, at their home on Railroad Avenue, last Thursday evening. The reception room and parlors were beautifully decorated with trailing bamboo, carnations and evergreens.

The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Brooker, and Mesdames W. D. Rhoad and Jane Rice, and were ushered into the parlors, where they viewed the fine collection of cut glass, which spoke stronger than words the great popularity of the host and hostess. At 10 o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room, where a sumptuous dinner was served. At each of the plates was a menu card, on which were the photographs of Mr. and Mrs. Brooker, and burning on the tables were fifteen candles, representing fifteen years of happy married life. The menu as served was:

Olives.	Pickles.	Celery.
Carolina Turkey.	Ham.
Buttered Kaiser Bread Sticks.
Cranberry Sauce.	Chicken Salad.
Waldorf Salad.	Coffee.	Chocolate.
	Punch.	Champagne.
	White Crystal Fruit Cake.
	Black Fruit Cake.	Pound Cake.
		Angel Food.

One of the most interesting scenes of the evening came just after the last toast had been given, when Mr. H. D. Calhoun introduced the Hon. John R. Bellinger, who in a few appropriate words presented to the bride of fifteen years a magnificent diamond ring, the gift of the groom. After the presentation of the ring the party assembled in the parlors, where the evening was spent enjoyably in a tasting contest. The first prize, a cut glass knife and fork holder, was presented to Mrs. J. H. Morris, of Augusta; Mr. Ben Hill Cave, of Barnwell, receiving the booby prize, a vase of carnations. One of the features of the evening and one enjoyed by all were songs sang by Mrs. Henry Seigling, of Charleston, and Mrs. William Koger. About 1 o'clock the guests departed, wishing the couple a whole life as happy as the past fifteen years.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. Moyer Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brabham, Mr. and Mrs. William Koger, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Risher, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. R. Bellinger, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Hair, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brabham, Mesdames Mary Boatwright, Aaron Rice Dora Williams, Henry Seigling, Charleston; Lewis A. Thompson, Somerville, N. J.; Janie Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. R. Owens, Charleston; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Calhoun, Augusta; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris, Augusta, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson, Augusta, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, Cope; Misses Elizabeth Bellinger, Charleston; Marie and Elizabeth Henry, Greenville; Gena Woodward, Aiken; Elizabeth Thompson, Elizabeth Sawyer, Orangeburg; Mayme Gee Jennings and Rountree, of Bamberg; and Messrs. Jones A. Williams, G. E. Bamberg, J. D. Copeland, Jr., Wm. P. Jones, H. A. Wright, H. Henri Copeland, E. P. Cave, J. W. Stewart, Pinckney Bellinger, J. A. Wyman, D. M. Eaves and Dr. G. D. Rouse, of Bamberg; J. L. Reeves, Baltimore; Ben Hill Cave, Barnwell, and E. D. Sallenger, Charleston.

A Few of Their Kind.

Did you ever see a lot of nine-spot men who had it in for a business man and did not know why? Ever hear the gang come and berate a home man who had made a success of what he undertook while they have been chewing and spitting and lushing at the same old job they monkeyed with fifteen years ago? Ever see a man who gloried in another's success and take a straggler by the hand and say: "I'm glad to see you succeed?" Ever see any of these things? Of course you have. You see them every day. Then there are dozens of reptilians who will greet you with a smile and stab you in the back because you attend to your business and succeed. Whether they can do as well or not, there are always plenty of the venomous knockers who are so filled with envy and jealousy that they can't be decent when some one else wins. They fight you and lie about you for no other reason than to tear you down. In short no one has described them any better than Shakespeare has when he said: "You have enemies who know not why they are, but like the village cur, bark because their fellows do."
