DISTRICT COURT

GRAND JURY HAS FOUND "NO BILL" IN SEVERAL CASES.

MULLINS CASE IS SET

Mullins and Hendricks, Who are Accused of and Indicted for Murder in the First Degree, are Arraigned and Plead Not Guilty.

Court convened promptly at eight o'clock this morning and the judge and his assistants are working very hard to push the court matters as rapidly as possible. Court was held last night until 8 o'clock.

A full account of the saddle case, note of which appeared in the RECORD yesterday, will be given later, as it is the first case of the kind ever tried in the Territory.

The trial of the suit of Josephine Cazier, of Dexter, against the Pecos Valley & Northeastern Ry. Co. for the value of a mare killed by a train in June last, occupied the attention of the court and a jury yesterday afternoon and at a night session and a portion of today. This is the first case of this character brought in Chaves county. The question invollarceny of sheep.

John G. Fort, charged with perjury.

Earl Patterson, charged with false pretense.

H. G. Addington, charged with false pretense.

Frank Vaughn, charged with false pretense, two cases.

The defendant, Kinch Mullins, having been indicted by the grand jury for murder in the first degree, being the murderer of Tony Stauffacher, bar-tender at the Grand Central saloon, on Sept. 20th last. He was brought into court and arraigned. He pleaded not guilty and his case is set for trial for next Monday.

The Territory against Thomas Livingston, charged with assault with intent to kill Charles Brown on the 17th of October, last year, is on trial as we go to press. The consumed in getting a jury for this case.

The Wise Fox.

The Lion, the Ass and the Fox went hunting together, and it was agreed that whatever was taken should be shared between them. They caught a large fat Stag, which the Lion ordered the Ass to divide. The Ass took a deal of pains to divide the Stag into three pieces, which should be as nearly equal as possible. The Lion, enraged with him for what he considered a want of proper respect to his quality, flew upon him and tore him to pieces. He then called on the Fox to divide. The Fox, nibbling off a small portion for himself, left the rest for the Lion's share. The Lion, highly pleased with this mark of respect, asked the Fox where he had learned such politeness and good breeding. "To tell the truth, sire," replied the Fox, "I was taught it by the Ass that lies dead there."—Æsop.

A Perpetual Sacred Fire.

In the peninsula of Abeheron, formerly belonging to Persia, but now a part of Russia, there is a perpetual or, rather, what the natives call an eternal sacred fire which is known to have been burning continually for more than 2,000 years. It rises from an irregular orifice of about twelve feet in depth and 120 feet square. The flames, which are constant, rise to a height of from six to eight feet, unaccompanied by smoke or disagreeable smell, waving back and forth with the wind like a field of golden grain.

Nature's Protection For the Ear.
The membrane lining the canal of the ear contains a great number of little glands which secrete a waxy substance having an intensely bitter taste. The purpose of this is to prevent the entrance of insects and to keep the ear clean, as the layer of wax dries in scales, which rapidly fall away, thus removing with them any particle of dust or other foreign matters which may have found entrance to the ear.

Where Pa Came In.

"What has your ma named the baby, May?" asked a neighbor of the little girl playing in the yard next door. "Henry Arthur Algernon Judkins," said the tot proudly. "Why, I thought you were going to name him after your father?" "Well, so we did—Judkins," was the convincing reply.—New York Times.

Taking Things.

"I always take things as they come," said the pickpocket as he dexterously relieved the man ahead of him of a watch and purse. "And I take men as I find them," added the policeman, clutching him gently but firmly by the arm.—Du-buque Telegraph-Herald.

Gossip.

"Casey, the contractor, is gittin' on very peaceable wid his wife these days," remarked Mr. Rafferty. "Peaceable," answered Mr. Dolan. "I should say so. They're so peaceable they ain't even sociable."—Washington Star.
