VOLUME 7.

ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 10, 1909

NUMBER 86

WEARING THE GRAY

Memphis, Tenn., June 10.—Clad in rough homespun such as they wore in the sixties and carrying their ancient rifles of war, ten thousand United Confederate veterans marched in what will probably be their last march.

The heat was intense and the line of march was cut down to one mile. The commanders gave the older members permission to drop out of line but none availed themselves of the permission.

The parade was led by Major General John McDowell. Following the regular divisions came the survivors of Forest's famous cavalry corps.

ROSS MALONE AND EDNA LITTLEFIELD ARE MARRIED.

The marriage of Mr. Rosser Linn Malone and Miss Edna Earle Littlefield was solemnized at 8:30 last night at the church of St. Andrew's Episcopal Mission, at the corner of Fifth street and Pennsylvania avenue. For a church wedding, it was carried out with a degree of simplicity that was quite pleasing; yet there was no detail overlooked, and there was nothing lacking. It was as pretty a wedding as will be seen in many a day.

The church, of small dimensions, was cosy and unusually attractive in its decorations. The front of the house was a green wall of nodding palms and ferns. White carnations everywhere not only delighted the eye but filled the air with a gentle fragrance. The colors, green and white, were beautifully blended and the whole place bespoke the nature of the event—a wedding.

At 8:30 Miss Nell Bean sang in clear, sweet tones the beautiful song "Oh, Fair, Oh, Sweet and Holy," and as the melody of this selection died away Miss Margaret Hinson, at the organ, played Mendelssohn's march, and the bridal party appeared from the back of the church. First came the bride's maid, Miss Ruby Saunders, pretty and girlish in green, chiffon over green silk and carrying marguerites and ferns, and leaning on the arm of the best man, Ernest P. Malone, brother of the groom. Then appeared the groom walking with the bride, who was certainly a beautiful one, gowned in braided satin, in princess, wearing the veil and carry an immense bouquet of white roses. In accordance with announcement, the audience rose, pew at a time, as the bridal party proceeded to the chancel, where they were met by the priest, the Reverend Charles Malpas, and the bride's father, Mr. W. P. Littlefield, who gave away his daughter in marriage.

The ceremony was in accordance with the Episcopal Church rules, and there is none more beautiful. With the ring they were wedded, and as the service ended, the wonderful composition of Mendelssohn again sounded and the party moved down the aisle and out of the church, followed by their friends.

Following the service, a reception was tendered the bridal party, the relatives and a few friends at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Littlefield, on South Lea avenue. Here the decorations were in green and white, the whole house looking most beautiful in white roses and ferns and other green plants.

At the Littlefield home the bride and groom received their guests and were given the good wishes and congratulations of all. Punch, mint ice, cakes and mint candy were served, all in keeping with the color scheme of green and white.

In cutting the wedding cake, the bride received the bodkin and she presented it at once to the best man, Mr. Ernest Malone. Mrs. W. P. Littlefield found the dime and H. M. Dow the ring, all the gifts being of well known significance.

The viewing of the many beautiful presents was a part of the evening's entertainment. The gifts were both handsome and many, chief among them being a remembrance from the bride's uncle, Col. George Littlefield, of Austin, Texas, in the form of a check for a handsome sum in four figures, the same as he gave another niece, Miss Elizabeth Littlefield, at the time of her wedding six weeks before.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Malone went to their pretty cottage home, at the corner of Eighth street and North Richardson avenue, where everything was in readiness for their coming, even to the provision for breakfast. Here they are at home to their many friends.

Kansas Summer School.

Lawrence, Kan., June 10.—Classes were formed today for the summer session of the University of Kansas, which will last until July 21, and will be followed by several supplementary courses.

MELTING SNOW CAUSES HIGH WATER IN COLORADO

Denver, Colo., June 10.—With the prospect of warmer weather danger from floods due to the melting of the snow is increasing. The Poudre and the Platte rivers are running bank full and the farms in the lower bottoms are flooded and the crops nearly ruined. The Grand and Gunnison rivers, west of the slope, are the highest in fifteen years and a further rise is looked for. Much damage has been done to railway and farm property.

ODD FELLOWS WILL DECORATE BROTHERS' GRAVES.

All branches of the Odd Fellows lodge will meet at their hall at two o'clock Sunday afternoon and from there go to South Side cemetery to decorate the graves of their departed brothers. June 9 is the official memorial day in this order, but the rules permit the lodges to substitute any other day that is more convenient to the members, and next Sunday has been set as the day. The Rebekahs are requested to secure all the flowers they can for this occasion.

BLACK HAND CONFESSED

Columbus, Ohio, June 10.—After an all night conference on the Black Hand situation Postal Inspector J. F. Oldfield this morning sent two Federal agents to Springfield with instructions to arrest two Italians believed to be concerned in the blackmail plots. These two are mentioned in letters found in the belongings of Sam Lima, the alleged Black Hand leader and his associates. Thirteen have been arrested and four released. A well known Marion Italian said today he was afraid to make as much money as he could because of the threats of the Black Hand.

Federal warrants for three more suspects have been issued. One is Antonio, a father of Sam Lima and another his brother. A third is under surveillance but is known to be a member of the Lima gang. Oldfield said that when these three were captured the gang which has infested western Pennsylvania and Ohio will be behind the bars. Following the arrest of Marfisi in Dennison, a scare was started that the Italians were threatening to rescue Marfisi was at once taken to Canton for safe keeping.

Clovis Also Gets in the Game.

Clovis, N. M., June 10.—J. S. Fitzhugh, D. D. Oldham and E. P. Leepy have received threatening letters that if they do not obtain the release of H. A. Irwin and wife from jail before June 15, they will die. The wom-

Black Hand Man a Traitor.

Cincinnati, June 10.—The Secret Service men have made it known that many of the ring leaders of the Black Hand that have been caught are disclosing some of the methods of the society of Ranana as the organization is known. A Black Hand member became incensed over what he termed an unfair division of the spoils and told the Federal officers of a coming meeting of the Black Handers for a division of spoils. The Federal men were advised and obtained a building adjoining the fruit store of San Lima and through a hole in the wall watched the conference of the plotters. They claim to have the names of all there, more than twenty. Each one has been under surveillance. The officers assert that incriminating evidence against all at the meeting has been found in papers in Lima's store.

FISHERMAN CANNOT FISH AND ARE STARVING.

Tampico, Mexico, June 10.—Poor fisher folk here are starving as the result of an order that they cannot fish in the bay. The fish concessions are owned by two big concerns who heretofore have not objected to the fishermen, but protested when independent concerns began fishing for the markets. Unless aid is received poor families will endure famine.

DR. E. E. HALE DIED TODAY

Boston, June 10.—The Rev. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the U. S. senate, died at his home at Roxbury today. He was 87 years old. The shock at the receipt of the news was great because few knew he was ill. Only a few days ago he attended a gathering in honor of the ninetieth birthday of his contemporary, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, and seemed in good spirits. He retired as usual last night but was so weak the physicians warned the members of his family that the end was not far off.

Dr. Hale was born in Boston in 1822 and by training, education and tradition represented the spirit of the founder of the Massachusetts colony. He graduated from Harvard in 1839.

Chaplain Since 1893.

Washington, June 10.—Dr. Hale has been chaplain of the U. S. senate since 1893. His selection at that time was regarded as a high tribute to his intellectual ability. Since his appointment he has been a very consistent attendant at the sessions of the senate and his invocations were so marked by eloquence that few of the senators failed to be in their seats when the gavel fell. The first inroads on his health were noticed in the early spring. He was feeble on inauguration day and was compelled to cancel an engagement to deliver an invocation at the unveiling of the statue of Longfellow. He left Washington several days before the ceremony never to return.

Hale became pastor of the South Congregational church in 1855 and since 1899 has been pastor of the emeritus of the society of literary folks. His most famous works are: "Ten Times One Is Ten," "My Double and How He Undid Me," and "The Man Without a Country."

In his old age friends delighted to celebrate his birthday. In 1892 a purse of $5,000 was given him and in 1902 a fund of $28,000 was raised. At the latter celebration a great gathering honored him in Symphony Hall and the late Sen. Hoar spoke.

CARRIED CHINKS ACROSS THE BORDER IN AN ICE CHEST

Chicago, June 10.—Until one Chinaman was smothered to death, it was a regular practice, according to the testimony in the Chinese smuggling cases before Judge Landis, to carry the orientals in the ice chest of the dining car after they had been put aboard the Golden Gate Limited of the Santa Fe Railroad at El Paso. Albert C. Thompson, a negro cook, told of the smuggling. He said the box was barely large enough to hold one Chinaman but it was the practice after the brake man said they would have to find another way of carrying them. The Chinese would not ride that way after one of their brethren was smothered.

Nurses in Conclave.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 10.—Eight hundred pretty disciples of the healing art are in attendance today at the convention of the National Association of Trained Nurses. The sessions will last three days and will be addressed by some of the best nurses in the country.

HENEY NOMINATED BY DEMOCRATS FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

San Francisco, June 10.—Francis J. Heney has been nominated for district attorney by the San Francisco Democratic Club, representing one faction of the local democracy. In expressing his appreciation, Heney accepted, although he said he was a Roosevelt Republican. The nomination of Heney for the same office is now contemplated by the municipal league independent Republican clubs.

TAFT WILL PRESENT GOLD MEDALS TO THE WRIGHTS.

Washington, June 10.—The achievement of the flight of man for which men have striven for 4,000 years will be celebrated in the east room of the White House at 2:30 today when Orville and Wilbur Wright will receive their first public recognition from their fellow countrymen. President Taft will present the gold medals awarded by the Aero Club to commemorate their invention of the first flying machine. The governors of the various states have sent congratulatory messages.

Wrights Come into Their Own.

Washington, June 10.—Forced to seek moral and financial assistance beyond the seas and among alien peoples, when they were denounced as charlatans at home and their inventions rejected by the United States government, Wilbur and Orville Wright came into their own today. In the early days they were not without honor save in their own country, but that no bitterness lurked in the memory was evident today when the brothers were presented with the gold medals of the Aero Club of America at the hands of President Taft.

The ceremony took place in the White House and followed a luncheon and a public exhibition by the daring aerial navigators. In his presentation address, the President expressed the sentiment and appreciation which Americans in general feel for the men who have accomplished so much toward solving the problems of the conquest of the air.

At the suggestion of the Aero Club of America, it was announced today that steps have been taken by the Smithsonian Institution toward securing the original Wright model for preservation. The aeroplane that Wilbur Wright used in carrying out his contract with the Weiller syndicate has been presented to the Arts et Metier Museum in Paris. With this machine Wilbur Wright won the Michelin cup in a two hour fight, the longest covered in 1908.

Fifteen of the Wright machines are now in actual use and others are about ready for launching. Thus it was made possible to spare this notable machine for exhibition in the museum. The first full sized Wright machine to fly in this country was destroyed at Fort Myer last September in the Government tests made by Orville Wright, when Lieut. Thomas Selfridge lost his life and Mr. Wright was injured.

The Wrights have just taken out a patent in England relating to the control of their machine, covering the interconnection of the rudder with the wing tip. In a general way the object of this invention is the balancing of the machine by the combination of horizontal surfaces, movable at variable angles of incidence arranged on either side of the machine.

THE ELKS GO DOWN IN DUSTY DEFEAT.

The base ball game at Amusement Park yesterday afternoon was full of interest and a hard fought battle, just as expected; and the heretofore undefeated Elks went down in the dust at the hands of the High School boys, who were assisted by several good players from the old town team. The final score was eight to seven, and this shows how close was the contest. The local Elks were assisted by Brother Maurie Swartz, a prominent Elk from Albion, N. Y., who is in the city visiting his brother, Henry Swartz and his batting was one of the features of the game. He also played well at second for the Elks. It was the first defeat the local Elks have received this season, and although they have lost their title to "undefeated Elks," are still "unterrified."

The game opened yesterday with the Elks at the bat. Dick Winston was in the box for the High School and Howard Moore behind the bat. It was three up and three out, the mighty "Casey," sometimes known as Cy Leland, leading with three heavy swings, and Dow and Mook followed with little variation. Winston pitched a winning game in the opening innings but weakened during the latter part of the contest. Amoneit took his place in the 9th. Caldwell pitched nicely for the Elks except the fourth and sixth innings, when the High school bunched their hits on him for a total of six runs. The Elks played a closer game than the High School, the errors being eight to five but they did not bat as well, and their hits were neither bunched nor timely.

The features of the game were Swartz's base running and Nokes' pinch hitting, the latter having bro't in half of the High school's scores.

661 LIVES RESCUED

New York, June 10.—The Spanish steamer Antonio Lopez, with 526 passengers and a crew of 135, grounded on Fire Island last night and lay on the beach all night, pounded by heavy seas. Rockets were sent up and the life saving crew ashore warned but they could do nothing owing to the storm. Early today wrecking tugs went to the scene and with the aid of the surf boats took off the women and children first and then the men. The sea was still too high to permit the passengers to be landed. Most of the passengers are from Naples, Genoa and Cadiz, bound to Vera Cruz.

The Lopez lay within a thousand feet of the shore and was discovered by the Point of Woods life saving crew. After several attempts to launch the life boat, the attempt was given up and tugs sent for.

The Lopez was owned by a Barcelona company.

Tipping is Illegal.

Olympia, Wash., June 10.—After today tipping will be illegal in the State of Washington, under a new law which applies to employes of public service corporations, hotels and restaurants. With visitors in Washington from all over the world to attend the Seattle exposition, it is thought that the measure will be impossible of enforcement. An attempt will be made to have the law declared unconstitutional, on the allegation that it an abrogation of personal privilege.

Under the provisions of the new statute the receivers of tips will be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $250 or by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than ninety days. It is further provided that the givers of tips shall be subject to the same penalties.
