ROSWELL IS TROUNCED

Roswell lost the base ball game to Lake Arthur yesterday and the locals were given a trouncing they won't forget for a few days, the score being ten to nothing. About the best explanation that can be given for the defeat was that the Roswell boys were simply out-played in all departments of the game. There was not such a difference in the fielding and team work of the two teams, Roswell having only one more error than the visitors. But when it came to batting and base running the locals acted like a lot of doped men. Bratton, pitching for Lake Arthur, had Roswell where he wanted them and did not allow a single hit after the first inning, when two were made by Ware and Weeks. Bratton passed four men, of whom three were thrown out on base. "Big Boy" Reed, formerly of Roswell and now of Artesia caught for the visitors, and pegged in his old time style, the only stolen base against him being when a man was on first and another on third.

The game opened looking favorable for Roswell, and that was what everybody was expecting. Wright was in the box for Roswell and the first three innings were played in one, two three order, except for one hit in the second. Meanwhile, Roswell was playing the game at the bat in the first inning, Roswell got two hits and a base on balls, but one of these runners was pegged in trying to steal second and the inning died with two men on base. In second two more Roswell men got on base on a base on balls and an error but they died there when Bratton struck out three batters. After the second Roswell put two men on base, both on bases on balls and both were thrown out at first, Joe Ware being caught on a double from right field and Capt. Leand being caught at first while asleep. After the second inning not more than three men faced the pitcher in each inning. Again and again they hit the ball, Bratton having but seven strike-outs the whole game, but every time a batter hit the ball it was a flyout or a throw-out at first. After the fourth no Roswell man saw first base.

In the fifth inning, meanwhile, was when the first balloon ascension came off, on the other side of the game. Wright hit a man, passed another and then Reed smashed out a two bagger, bringing in two and running to third on the throw home. An error at short, a base on balls and another hit by Wilder brought in two more scores. It was four to nothing and in the fifth another score came in on two two-baggers by Reed and Bratton. Then Weeks was put in the box. The first two men up got hits, the second being a scratch when the fielder failed to catch the first runner. Then Weeks surprised everybody by passing two men pushing in one run. Another error let in another score, a base on balls pushed in another and still another error in right let in two when it should have been the third out. That made a total of five more runs, making a grand total of ten. Lake Arthur made two hits in the eighth, but did not score after the seventh.

The people could hardly believe that Lake Arthur had done it; but there was no mistake about it:

TEDDY GIVES FREE ADVICE

London, England May 31.—Theodore Roosevelt was today presented with the freedom of the city of London and he accepted the honor with the liberalism that led him to a frankness of speech that created a sensation in the Guildhall.

As the former head of a country that once paid tribute to Great Britain, the American statesman gave the motherland some bold advice as to her duty towards her most troublesome dependency in Africa. Mr. Roosevelt said it was either right or not right for Great Britain to be in Egypt and establish order there. If not right she should get out.

Mr. Roosevelt eulogized British rule in Uganda and the Sudan. He also declared that Great Britain had given Egypt the best government that country had had for two thousand years, but in certain vital points it had erred in timidity and sentimentality, and that, he said, might cause more harm than violence and injustice.

Mr. Roosevelt denounced the Nationalist party of Egypt as neither desirous nor capable of guaranteeing ordinary justice. It was trying to bring murderous chaos on the land.

Some nation, said the former president, must govern Egypt and he hoped and believed the English would decide the duty was theirs.

On the whole the speech constituted the most forcible expressions on foreign topics this distinguished visitor has made during his European tour.

The Guildhall has been the scene of many stirring events since its erection in the fifteenth century. It was here the trials of Anne Askew, the Earl of Surrey and Lady Jane Grey were held, but no audience of modern times has listened more intently to the proceedings than that which gathered today to hear the former president of the United States. His outspoken views sent a thrill through the auditors, which will likely be felt outside the walls of the ancient council hall.

A. A. Ririe has returned from Hereford, Texas, where he has been for six weeks looking after a big job of surveying.

ALL BIDS REJECTED

The Roswell Board of Education met last night, opened the bids on the proposed new High school building for Roswell and rejected all three of the offers that were made for the construction all bids being too high to come within the amount on hand for this purpose, $33,600. The bidders were C. J. Wagner, of the Hondo Lumber & Roofing Company; D. Y. Tomlinson and Lyon & Axtell, all of this city. New plans were ordered at once of I. H. Rapp, the architect, and the new plans are to be on a simpler, less expensive basis, to bring the building within the limits of cash on hand. It is deeply regretted by the school men that the building as originally planned cannot be constructed, for it was what Roswell deserves and would have met the High school demands of the city for many years to come. The new building, however, will be planned so as to amply take care of the needs of the city at present and the immediate future.

The board also elected a principal of the High school and a teacher of English, History and German in the same department, these positions having been left open at the time the corps of teachers was selected. The board further selected a teacher to take the place of Miss Cora York of Greenville, Texas, who was re-elected but who has written that she cannot accept on account of the sickness of her mother.

The new High School principal is to be W. E. Carroon, of Neponset, Ill., a brother of Frank Carroon, formerly of the Roswell schools and now Vice-president of the New Mexico Normal University at Las Vegas. The new principal for the Roswell High school has had twenty year's experience and is considered one of the strongest High school men of Illinois and Indiana. He was principal of the High school at Crawfordsville, Ind., for 8 years. He is a graduate of the Indiana State Normal and of the Wabash College and has had post graduate work in the University of Indiana. He was elected on a salary of $1,200 per year.

Miss Kathryn Hawkins, of Kansas City, was chosen teacher of English, History and German in the High school, her salary being $90 per month. She is a graduate of the Manual Training High school, of Kansas City, and of the University of Missouri. She has had four years' experience in Prosser Boys' Preparatory school of Kansas City, one of the best schools of this class in the West.

Miss Blanche Davenport, for two years a teacher at Ottawa takes Miss York's place in the grades. She is a High school graduate has had three years at Baker University and is a graduate of the Northwestern University. Her salary is to be $60 per month.

FORMER U. S. TREASURER CHARLES TREAT IS DEAD

OWEN FOR A DIRECT VOTE

Washington, May 30.—"It will be better for this country," said Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, today, "when senators and members of Congress and state legislators and municipal legislators are chosen by the direct vote of the people and when the people have the right to recall by the nomination of a successor to their public servants. The people will never abuse their power." The Senator was speaking in the Senate in favor of a resolution introduced by him, in accordance with the wishes of the legislature of the state of Oklahoma, providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment for the election of senators by direct vote of the people.

Such an amendment, he said, would prevent the corruption of legislatures would prevent the improper use of money in the campaigns by men ambitious to obtain a seat in the Senate and would compel candidates for the senate to be subjected to the severe scrutiny of a campaign before the people and compel the selection of the best-fitted men. Further, he said, it would popularize government and tend to increase the confidence of the people in the Senate, "which has been to some extent impaired in recent years." It would also prevent deadlocks, he continued, due to political contests in which various states from time to time had been left unrepresented.

"I cannot believe," said Senator Owen, "that the Senate is conscious of the wide-spread public demand for the election of senators by direct vote of the people. I therefore submit evidence of action taken by the various states, showing that thirty-six of them have expressed themselves, in one form or another, favorably to the election of senators by direct vote of the people."

"I believe," he declared, "that the will of the people is far more nearly right in the main than the will of any individual statesman who is apt to be honored by them with a seat in the senate; that the whole people are more apt to be safe and sane, more apt to be sound and honest than a single individual. At all events I feel not only willing but I really desire to make effective the will of the people of my state."

"Democratic and Republican states alike west of the Hudson river have acted favorably in this matter almost without exception. Only eight or nine states have failed to act, and I do not doubt that if the voice of the people of these states of New England, of New York, Maryland and Delaware could find convenient expression, free from machine politics every one of them would favor the election of senators by direct vote and would favor the right of the people to instruct their representatives in congress and the Senate."

"Not only the states have acted almost unanimously in favor of this right of the people but all the great parties of the country, except the Republican party have done so, and that party would have declared for it except for the overwhelming influence and domination of machine politics in its management and the prevalence of so-called boss influence."

Senator Owen maintained that "the great evil from which the American people have suffered in recent years has been the secret but well known alliance between commercial interests and machine politics, by which commercial interests have endeavored and often succeeded in obtaining legislation giving them special advantages in nation, states and municipalities, and obtained administrative and judicial immunity so that the laws have not been properly enforced against them. "I have no desire," he continued, "to seek partisan advantage by pointing out the weaknesses of government under present methods. It will require the most vigorous efforts of the honest men of both parties to restore the government to a condition of integrity, where high purposes, honor and the common good exclusively shall rule."

CLUES IN THE TERRIBLE LOUISVILLE MURDER CASE

Louisville, Ky., May 31.—Persistent questioning of Mrs. Joseph Wendling, who is under arrest, charged with having been an accessory to the murder of Alma Kellner, the child whose mutilated body was found in the subcellar of St. James parochial school, yesterday, has failed to shake the woman's first declaration that she knew nothing about the crime.

The police are weaving a chain of circumstantial evidence about the missing janitor, Wendling for whom last night they began a wide search. Some of his clothing bears numerous stains, which the detectives said were blood. A hat recovered from an old barrel where Mrs. Wendling said she had thrown it, also bears similar discolorations.

WILL ENJOIN RAILROADS

Washington, May 31.—Following a conference today between President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham, it was learned that a decision was reached to file an injunction suit against the proposed increase of the freight rates tomorrow by the Western Traffic Association.

It is generally believed the suit against the railroads will be instituted at St. Louis.

Previous to this Attorney General Wickersham said he was not yet prepared to announce any plans he might have in response to a request for an injunction against the Western Traffic Association, prohibiting it from putting into effect an advance in freight rates in the western territory tomorrow.

La Follette Gets Busy.

Washington, May 31.—Senator La Follette today introduced a bill declaring that the Attorney General should institute suit immediately to enjoin the advancement of railroad rates and sought to introduce a joint resolution declaring it to be unlawful to advance rates without the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. La Follette was unsuccessful in his attempt to secure immediate consideration of his resolutions.

MUSGRAVE PUT IN JAIL

The trial of George Musgrave on the charge of murder for killing Geo. Parker at a Circle Diamond roundup 35 miles southwest of Roswell on Monday, October 19, 1896, took a sensational turn at the conclusion of yesterday afternoon's session of court, when the prosecution having finished its case, the court ordered the defendant remanded to jail without bond. The action was legally made by the issue of an alias warrant which was endorsed "no bail," but the announcement of the court's action was made publicly in court, after the jury had passed out of the room.

The trial of the case was taken up this morning and the second witness for the defense was on the stand at noon when adjournment for dinner was made. The voice of District Attorney L. O. Fullen was so bad from cold in the throat that he could not talk above a whisper all through the morning session. This afternoon the affliction was not abated and the case was continued until tomorrow morning, to give his speaking organs time to recover.

For the prosecution of the Musgrave case six witnesses were put on the stand, Sam Butler, Dick Ballard, Will Marable, Wm. Phillips, Ed Marable and C. L. Ballard. Butler and Phillips were eye witnesses to the shooting. They told of Musgrave coming into the roundup camp and waiting for Parker to return from a ride after cattle. Upon Parker's return, they testified that Musgrave approached Parker, accosted him and was the aggressor, shooting him down and shooting into his body after he was down. They told that after the shooting Musgrave said: "I came all the way from Mexico to shoot that son of a b—." They also told of Musgrave taking Parker's saddle, putting it on a fresh horse and riding away with the stranger who had come into camp with him.

The Marables testified as to Musgrave and the stranger coming to their place later in the same day of the shooting, stopping and cleaning their guns, etc. and stated that Musgrave explained his being in possession of Parker's saddle by saying that he had traded for it.

Dick Ballard had seen Musgrave and the stranger before the shooting, early the same morning. He said that Musgrave had made inquiries as to the location of the camp, who was there and who was in charge of it. Ballard was out a few miles from camp after horses that had strayed.

C. L. Ballard testified as to having Musgrave arrested in Nebraska last January, of Musgrave at first denying his identity and later admitting that he was Musgrave.

Curry Johnson was the first witness for the defense. He was an eye witness to the shooting. He pictured it somewhat different from the manner in which Butler and Phillips had told it, making it more of a quarrel than making Musgrave out a sly aggressor. He said he was between Musgrave and Butler and Phillips, and consequently closer to Musgrave, but did not hear any such words from Musgrave as repeated by the two eye witnesses of yesterday, viz. of Musgrave having come all the way from Mexico to kill Parker. Les Harmon, another eye witness to the shooting, was on the stand when court adjourned at noon. He had not given any evidence of importance when the session closed.
