SACRIFICE A LITTLE NOW

A prominent Chicago bank officer says: "The man who really desires anything enough to sacrifice present comfort and pleasure for it is quite likely to get it."

It is not necessary for the average man in this country to give up any necessity and very few comforts in order To Get a Competence.

Many luxuries he must cut out and possibly some comforts.

This willingness to sacrifice now in order to have enough for the future necessities of yourself and those dependent upon you is one of the most desirable qualities you can develop.
