A DALTON DESPERADO.

R. C. YOCKEY, A RED HANDED BANDIT, KILLED BY AN INDIAN. One of the Men who Gave Deputy United States Marshal Hixon Some Trouble During the Ingalls Fight.

R. C. Yockey, one of the gang of Dalton outlaws, and who participated in the fight with deputy United States marshals at Ingalls, two months ago, was shot near Tulsa Wednesday by Sam Childers, a well-known half-breed Indian, and will probably die from the effects of the wounds. About a month ago Yockey traded Childers a stolen horse, and when the latter spoke to him about it Yockey attempted to draw a revolver. Childers was too quick for him, however, and fired two shots at the outlaw. The first shot tore his right hand to pieces and the second entered the right side just below the collar bone and cannot be found. At the Ingalls fight Yockey kept up a fusillade of shots and kept Deputy Hixon and others guessing. Since that time he has been scouting and selling whisky.

A Democrat's Mistaken View. SERRIER, Okla., Nov. 30, 1893. Editor Daily Leader. My attention has been called to an item in your issue of this morning relating to the appointment of a postmaster for Chicago. You appear to slap the Irish voter in the face by saying that in nearly every case where an Irishman and a German were candidates for the same office the German would invariably give the office to the German. The president should remember that his election in 1854 was attained by Burchard trying to please the enemies of the Irish vote by using the three Rs. It is an undeniable fact that the Irish voter has been true to the Democratic party than any other voter, be he native or foreign born. He has been true to his convictions in the many years of defeat of his party ticket. We have no word of censure of the German voter. Yet he has been wiser in this day and generation than the Irish voter. He was true to the Republican party in its day of success, and wise enough to enter the Democratic ranks on the eve of its ascendancy to power. You say in the above mentioned item that it is the man with the "pull" who succeeds. Who has the "pull" in Oklahoma politics? for from present appearances some one has the "pull" with Governor Renfrow, for we fail to see the names of any Irish voters in the list of men appointed by the governor to office in the strip. Be not too sanguine that the Irish voter will remain true to the party under any circumstances. Patience at times ceases to be a virtue. You may think the Irish voter is powerless in this territory. You remind us of the deacon who advised the new pastor who wished to preach against the gambler, usurer and saloonkeeper in turn was told they all contributed liberally to the church. He was at a loss to know whom to attack and the deacon told him to give it to the Jews as there was not one in town. Yours respectfully, AN IRISH-AMERICAN DEMOCRAT.

[We are sorry to say the author of the above is laboring under mistaken views. No aspersion was cast on Irish voters nor praise given Germans.—Ed.] HARRY BARNES MARRIED. IS DR. FRAKER ALIVE? Insurance Companies, It is Said, Will Produce Him at the Proper Time. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 30.—The Weekly Underwriter, an insurance paper published in New York, printed the following item in its issue of last Saturday: The life insurance companies have positive evidence that Dr. J. Fraker, of Excelsior, Minn., who was reported drowned last spring with $50,000 insurance on his life, is alive.

John A. Brown, the Kansas City agent of the Equitable Life Assurance society, in which Dr. Fraker held a $10,000 policy, declared that the contents of the paragraph was news to him, however. He said the president of the company was that Fraker could be produced at any time on short notice.

OVER THE TERRITORY. Bright and breezy bits of news dashed up for the benefit of "Leader" readers. The Cheyenne Sunbeam says many people left that place last week on account of the Indian murders, but returned later. The Perry post office is being re-furnished. Dick Plunkitt does all the slugging in Perry. He is employed by the mile. There is a fight over towns in the strip between railroads and the government, and the government bids fair to win. Frank McNeesters caused the air to grow hot at Kingfisher, somebody accused him of being a republican. The Dalton's are still making rails, but they are imaginary. Enid Eagle: Officers are now stationed at the city limits to see that the trains slow up and move through the city at reasonable speed. Terral Times: Terral is steadily growing. Every few days a new house is finished and immediately tenanted. In fact, the tenant sometimes moves in before the builders are through with their work. El Reno Daily Eagle: Disappointed boomers from the Cherokee strip are rapidly filling up the Cheyenne and Arapahoe lands west of here. A train of fifty-two wagons passed through the city yesterday seeking homes in the Canadian valley. Okarhe Times: We feel like a bloated money king—we got in a dollar on subscription, so now get out of road for we are going to step high for the next fortnight. Ardmore Advertiser: A month old baby was left on the train at Gainesville yesterday by its mother who when the train arrived there disap-

Book of the Fair. We are in receipt of the sixth number of this very interesting publication. It is conceded that in no other form will the great Columbian Exposition be so fittingly portrayed for present use and permanent preservation, as in THE BOOK OF THE FAIR, a work of 1,000 imperial folio pages, 12x16 inches, printed on the finest enameled paper, and now being published in 25 parts of 40 pages each, at $1.00 a part. The work presents all the features of the fair and the marvelous contents of all the great buildings. The pages are filled with scenes of beauty and utility, such as the fern mountain under the great dome, the tie room in King Ludwig's palace, the Electric Tower of Light, the Queens of England's tapestry, the French Pavilion, the Debonair Village, the Battle Ship and ten thousand more. The book is for all time and should be in every household.

NOTED KANSAN DEAD.

Colonel William A. Phillips Dies Suddenly at Fort Gibson, Ind. Ter. SAUNA, Kan., Dec. 1.—Information has reached here that Colonel William A. Phillips, of this city, ex-congressman from the Fifth congressional district of Kansas, died suddenly at 2 o'clock yesterday, at Fort Gibson, Ind. Ter., where he had gone a few days ago on business. Colonel Phillips was one of the best known men in Kansas, and belongs to the history of its early days. He was of Scottish birth, but immigrated with his father when a boy to Randolph county, Ill. Upon reaching man's estate he practiced law and edited a newspaper at Chester, Ill., for several years, and also became prominent as an author, writing for several magazines, and also publishing a number of books. In 1853 he became a member of the New York Tribune staff, to which paper he had contributed for several years. In that year he came to Kansas as their Kansas correspondent. When the war broke out he raised the Third Kansas regiment and distinguished himself during the war as a brave and efficient commander. At the close of the war he returned to Sauna and proceeded to build up the town he had founded. He was a prominent figure in the early legislatures of the state and was elected by the Republicans to the Forty-third congress, having earned his nomination by acclamation. He was re-elected to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth congresses serving with distinction. For several years he has been employed as general attorney for the Cherokee nation, and has received from this connection the sobriquet of "Cherokee Bill." His wife, three sons and two daughters survive him.

NO A. P. A. PROSECUTIONS. Buffalo Officials Decide Not to Make a Test Case on the Order. BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 30.—It had been understood that presentments against members of the American Protective association, better known as the "A. P. A.," were to be made to the grand jury here and charges of criminal conspiracy made, but it was stated at the district attorney's office today that no such case would be presented to the grand jury. An official added that such charges could not be sustained, and then continued: "The A. P. A. is not a criminal conspiracy. There is nothing in our laws to prevent any one from joining such an organization. An office holder would violate his constitutional oath of office if he fixed a religious test in making appointments, but no ordinary citizen who joins the A. P. A. can be accounted guilty of criminal conspiracy."

CLINT TILLERY FAILS. The Recent Candidate for Collector of Internal Revenue a Bankrupt. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 30.—Clint Tillery of Liberty, Clay county, one of the principal contestants in the prolonged fight for collector of internal revenue for the Kansas City district, has failed. He was engaged in the boot and shoe business before assigning to the Liberty Savings bank a deed of trust for $10,000. Prior to this he gave two other deeds of trust for about $20,000 each which were received on May 21, 1892, and November 21, 1893. If the deeds of trust are not set aside, nothing will be left for the creditors. Mr. Tillery was formerly private secretary to Governor Francis, and prior to that time was a leading politician of Clay county.

peared and cannot be found. The little waif was taken charge of by the ticket agent until some kind ladies took it off his hands and gave it a home. It has been christened Kate Hamilton in honor of the Katie railroad and ticket agent Hamilton. West Side Democrat (Eald): Step by step the Rock Island railroad seems to be getting the stock shipping business of the southwest. Scarcely a day passes that from five to ten heavy stock trains pass over the road.
