SATURDAY, OCT. 30, 1897.

SINCE the marshalship appointment A. C. Scott has quit the lecture field and taken his "mistake" in out of the front.

We trust Attorney Hainer will not expend all the prospective royalties from his new municipal law book in landing that judgeship.

A KANSAS exchange says that a religion that won't make a man pay his debts and a woman quit talking about her neighbors is no good.

WHEN Thompson is marshal the Book Island will pay no more rewards for train robbers. The new marshal will prove loyal to his company.

ONE organized effort should be made by Guthrie citizens today to raise $50,000 railroad bonus. A strong, healthy pull will bring it. This is the first enterprise requiring the raising of money in which the capital city has been derelict to its own loyalty.

JUDGE NAPPIER PERKINS once more bursts out in wild lamentations. Hear: We are informed that the administration of Oklahoma is organizing its forces, getting ready for the fray. No one pays any attention to the colored wing of the party. A little whiskey, a bad cigar, a few weeks' just before election and hollow we freed you. They say that will settle it.

It is only by coming across some occasional minor incident that any of us can once in a while faintly realize the greatness of this country. A dispatch from California, noting the loss of a thousand carloads of raisins from the effects of last week's storm, says that the shipment of raisins to the east will be only 900 carloads, and that about 900 carloads have been shipped "to meet the Thanksgiving trade in the east." And yet Spain is proposing to stand up and fight a country which mixes 900 carloads of raisins in its Thanksgiving puddings.

The country will be glad when the election in Ohio is over whether Hanna is re-elected to the seat or not, for the whole governmental machinery has to stop while our officers are riding him. Spain has forwarded a reply to Woodford's letter, but the dispatches state that McKinley will do nothing about giving it to the country as he goes to Ohio to help elect Hanna. It is also stated that Secretary Day is there helping Hanna and no nothing is done about the Cuban affairs except after consulting Day the whole country will have to wait, war or no war. Hanna is of more importance to these political tricksters than the people.

ACTORS ORGANIZING.

Actors have been wont to consider themselves as artists and have been loath to admit that they are in reality artisans. But whether these men and women of talent are artists or artisans, they are becoming aware that their exertions in histrionic fields are subject to the same natural laws of supply and demand and the same artificial influences produced by trusts and combines as are the labors of any other class of wage earners. The question of how to obtain bread and butter is a problem which confronts the artist just as irrevocably as the artisan, and the actors are just now discussing that question.

A movement has been started in New York to establish an amusement guild. This is an ornate title for an organization which is intended to be just as practical in its workings as the Plasterers' union. In plain words, it is a step toward bringing actors into the ranks of organized labor. It has taken a number of years filled with privation and poverty to bring the actors down to a practical consideration of the conditions which they are compelled to face.

They have seen the managers forming combinations for mutual protection; they have experienced the results springing from these combinations, and they have resolved to take a leaf out of the managers' book. If the actors will submit themselves to the strict rules which are necessary to control a successful labor organization, this movement will prove beneficial to them. The experiment is doubtful, though well worth the trying.

FORTUNE OF POLITICS.

Announcement is made from Washington that President McKinley has decided to appoint M. Golden of Guthrie as agent of the Osage Indians. This appointment means the turning down of W. T. Walker, of Norman, who was Golden's most formidable opponent, and goes to show that party service carries small weight with the national administration. Mr. Golden is practically unknown in Oklahoma. He is figured but a trifle in politics and his pull was principally from outside the territory. On the other hand, Walker has been an indefatigable Republican worker and became financially embarrassed in scurrying over the territory, beating the tom-tom in the cause of Seay, Flynn, Grimes and Asa, who at one time or another, had political ambitions to satisfy. Walker is perhaps as well known as any man in Oklahoma and, individually, he has done as much for his party in the territory as any two men. It was through his sheer force of political experience and acumen while a member of the apportionment board that the Third legislative assembly saw a Republican majority, yet in spite of his loyalty and unceasing work, Walker has been given the hot end of every proposition presented, and in the present instance a staunch and active party man is turned down by a man who has no claims whatever on the party or administration. Walker's zealous efforts in behalf of Seay and Flynn called forth general comment and for while the Democratic press ceased its fire on these two men in order to silence Walker. Yet, with all this, Walker is given to understand that his party service amounts to all. There is a lesson in this case, and it should be thoroughly conned by aspiring politicians who expect future rewards. THE LEADER has no special interest in the distribution of Republican patronage other than to show the ingratitude of Republicans with its row of broken promises and home rule planks.

THE GODDARD TRIAL.

Daughters of the Murdered Man Testify for the Slayer. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 29.—The Dr. Jefferson D. Goddard murder case will probably go to the jury late this afternoon. A remarkable feature of yesterday's proceedings were the stories told by the two Jackson girls—Maud and Marie—in defense of the man who had shot down their father. The testimony of Marie was impeached by a number of reputable witnesses, while the testimony of Maud proved her to be a young woman without an apparent spark of feeling and an utter lack of filial affection. Both of the Jackson girls are passably good-looking. Marie is 16 and Maud is 18. Marie still wears short dresses, while Maud appears to be a demure, quiet young woman, well educated and refined looking.

Marie swore upon the stand that she did not remember climbing upon the lap of Dr. Goddard while he was crying in Dr. Hetherington's room in the Hotel Woodland just after the shooting, putting her arms about his neck and telling him not to cry, that it would be all right; that they would say that her father had drawn his pistol first. She said she did not remember doing any such thing. She denied that she had clasped a police officer about the waist who came to arrest Dr. Goddard and pleaded with him not to injure the doctor. But other witnesses proved that she did do and say these things, and their testimony cast a shade of suspicion over every utterance favorable to the doctor, made by this remarkable young woman.

Miss Maud Jackson, in defending herself for being in court to try to save the neck of the defendant, gave the weak excuse that her father had not treated her mother right. She said that while she felt sorry to see him die as he had, she felt justified in being present to testify for his slayer. Both of the Jackson girls admitted while on the stand that they had been coached by the attorneys for the defense.

When Dr. Goddard was called to the witness stand during the progress of the trial in the afternoon the courtroom was packed to suffocation—the biggest crowd being present in the history of Jackson county criminal jurisprudence. The doctor made a fairly good witness for himself, although his story of the killing of Jackson in self-defense was not as strong as it had been expected he would tell. The part of it where he told about the actual killing was especially weak.

Boston, Oct. 29.—The will of the late Thomas Doane, the well known civil engineer, gives his estate to trustees, who are to pay the net income to the testator's wife and other relatives for a term of years, and when the youngest grandchild of the testator attains the age of 21 years, the principal of the trust fund is to be paid to Doane college at Crete, Neb. The estate is valued at from $150,000 to $200,000.

Mexicans Lynch a Murderer. CLIFTON, Ariz., Oct. 29.—At Morenci, a copper camp near Clifton, an inoffensive Mexican laborer was found wounded. Juan Madera, supposed to be one of the Charon gang that tried to capture the town several months ago was arrested and placed in the camp jail. Shortly afterward several hundred Mexicans stormed the jail and killed Madera with bullets.

Big Faded Plant Partly Burned. MONROE, Ill., Oct. 29.—The manufacturing plant of the Woolfel Leather company, which has retail stores in San Francisco, Chicago and Boston, was partly burned last evening. The establishment was worth about $250,000, the loss amounting to about $750,000.

Wolcott Has Not Given Up Hops. LONDON, Oct. 29.—Senator Wolcott of Colorado, chairman of the United States monetary commission, has gone to Paris in the hope of prevailing upon the French government to agree to fresh bimetallic proposals. It is believed here, however, that the government of France will not do anything further in the matter.

TORPEDOES HARMLESS.

Great Scandal Developed in the Greek Navy—Prince George Affected. ATHENS, Oct. 29.—It has just been found that many of the cartridges fitted to the torpedoes during the war between Greece and Turkey were not provided with percussion caps and fuming mercury and they had been wanted they would have been perfectly harmless. The committee of investigation has decided that Rastoumpoulo and Anastasi must be tried by court martial upon the charge of culpable negligence.

The anti-dynastic newspapers are making violent attacks upon Prince George, who was the commander of the torpedo flotilla. The prince, who was a great favorite with the masses, previous to the war, is deeply affected.

Death to End Disgrace.

SEDAJIA, Mo., Oct. 29.—Coroner Cowan held an inquest to-day over the body of George A. Bower, who died last night from morphine poisoning. Bower, who was 37 years old, was until recently a brakeman for the Chicago & Alton, out of St. Louis, and was dismissed from the employment of the company last Friday. The disgrace of being discharged preyed upon his mind, and upon his return to his home in this city he declared he was ready to die. It was believed that he took the morphine with suicidal intent, but the coroner's jury brought in a verdict that death was due to an overdose of morphine taken by mistake. Young Bower owned a fine farm near Lawrence, Kan., and while a resident of that locality a couple of years ago was a leader in religious circles.

A CAMPAIGN WEDDING.

Boston Candidate for Mayor Blocks the Anti-Bachelor Opposition. CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—In the list of marriage licenses published in to-day's papers occurred the following: "Edwin W. Curtis, Boston, age 36; Miss Maud Waterman, Boston, age 30."

Mr. Curtis is ex-mayor of Boston and the marriage took place yesterday at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Jesse E. Hall. The ex-mayor is the Republican nominee for mayor. When called upon last summer by a committee and asked as to his intentions in the matrimonial line it is said he promised to become a benefactor before election and he has kept his promise. Miss Waterman is a Boston girl, but for the past two years has been living in Chicago with her sister.

The wedding was very quiet—so much so, indeed, that no mention of it got into the Chicago papers except the one line announcement of the issuance of the marriage license. J. C. Berry, one of the best known citizens of Spencer, Mo., testifies that he cured himself of the worst kind of piles by using a few boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He had been troubled with piles for over thirty years, and had used many different kinds of ointments; but DeWitt's was the only one that did the work and he will verify this statement if any one wishes to write him. Hot Men May Ask for Statehood.

CHELSEA, I. T., Oct. 29.—It is now reliably and generally stated among Cherokee officers that the coming session of their council, which meets at Tablequah Monday next, will endeavor to persuade the others of the five tribes to pass an act requesting the United States to allow them to come into the union as one state and have all the offices given to the Indians. Chief Ishpachcheer of the Creeks also favors the plan.

The Bank of Walnut Closed.

TOPERA, Kan., Oct. 29.—The bank of Walnut, Crawford county, was closed yesterday by the bank commissioner. Unwise loans are supposed to be responsible for the bank's condition.

Arizona's Chief Justice Dead.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 29.—Hon. Harry C. Truesdell, chief justice of Arizona, at Phoenix, died to-day.
