JEKYLL AND HYDE APPEARS IN BOSTON

Suspicion of Various Recent Murders and Murderous Assaults

[By Associated Press.]

Boston, Mass., Nov. 4.—Alan G. Mason, a prominent clubman, Harvard graduate and a member of the piano establishment of the Mason & Hamlin company, was arrested today on suspicion of being connected with the murder of Miss Clara A. Morton in Waverly, last Saturday night. It is also suspected that Mason was responsible for various murders and murderous assaults committed during the last few weeks in Cambridge and its vicinity.

Mason is thirty-nine years of age. His arrest was made at his home in this city, by state officers. It is said by the police that Mason has been insane and that at one time he was an inmate of McLean asylum at Waverly, from which he was released about a year ago.

The peculiar assault cases which have terrorized Cambridge and vicinity, as well as other suburban sections, began last June. During the summer there were half a dozen victims of an unknown assailant, each of which was struck down and beaten with a blunt instrument. Early in October Miss Agnes McPhee was assaulted in Somerville and died from her injuries. An iron wrench was found and fixed upon as the weapon used. During the same month eight other cases followed, the last of which occurred last Saturday night, when Clara A. Morton, a laundress at the McLean asylum, was accosted on the grounds of that institution and beaten with a blunt instrument. Miss Morton died Sunday.

REACHING OUT FOR BIG TRADE

Ship Combine to Build Five Vessels to Accommodate Business

New York, Nov. 4.—It is learned that the first great move of the new International Mercantile Marine company, the transatlantic shipping combine, aside from the changes in schedule and rates in connection with the handling of its regular business—all of which must be regarded as important—will be to reach out after the South African trade on a large scale. In furtherance of this step the powers that rule the company have decided on the construction of five great ocean carriers which will be employed in this trade.

There are at present six lines plying between New York and South African ports, but the equipment of the International Mercantile Marine company's South African service will be far superior to that of any other line both in capacity and dispatch in transportation. The officials of the company are not ready to discuss this plan for getting the South African trade nor even to admit that its formation has advanced far, but there is no doubt that it is well in hand and will be carried out as quickly as the ships can be procured.

Great Field in South Africa.

All nations recognize that during the next few years there is to be wonderful development of the resources of the South African territory and that as a consequence there will be a remarkable growth in the volume of the South African trade. America has been counting on a large share of this trade and this move on the part of the International Mercantile Marine company will facilitate greatly the fulfillment of American hopes in this respect.

DIED WITH BOOTS ON

Usual Grim Fate of Outlaws

SHOT DOWN WHILE AT BREAKFAST TABLE

Deputy Marshals Fooled Them With Clever Game of Confidence

United States Marshal W. D. Foster, accompanied by Deputies Ed Lockett and Fred Hudson returned today from Cleo Springs, the scene of yesterday's battle with Bert Casey and Sims.

The shooting and killing of the two notorious outlaws occurred yesterday morning while seated at the breakfast table with Lockett and Hudson, two deputy marshals who had been hot on the trail of the desperadoes for five weeks and had recently joined them as pretended criminals. The four had planned to rob the bank at Cleo Springs yesterday and Casey had sent Hudson and Lockett to Cleo Springs to cover the ground and see that everything was all right for the raid that was to have been made. Hudson and Lockett while away, planned to shoot the two criminals at breakfast yesterday morning and at a given signal from Hudson were to command them to throw up their hands.

The plans worked successfully, and while seated around the table the marshals pulled their revolvers and commanded Casey and Sims to surrender. Both Casey and Sims pulled their six shooters, but the marshals had already opened fire. Sims pulled his revolver but it refused to work. Four shots were pumped into the desperadoes and none of the shots of

NEW YORK'S ELECTION

Arrests Made for Illegal Voting

POLITICIANS SURPRISED BY POLICE CHARGES

Rival Leaders Started a Row and Officers Assaulted

[By Associated Press.]

New York, Nov. 4.—Election day in Greater New York dawned with weather perfect and voters out early in large numbers. In a number of assembly districts 25 per cent of the registered vote had been cast at 8:30 o'clock and the leaders in some districts predicted the entire vote would be cast by noon. About forty arrests for illegal voting were reported before 8 o'clock. In one assembly district there was great excitement. Rival leaders came to blows near an election booth and policemen conducting several prisoners to a station house were attacked by a mob. In the struggle one of the prisoners escaped. Nobody was badly hurt. A shooting occurred at one polling place in Brooklyn soon after voting began. One man was wounded and a deputy sheriff was locked up, charged with the shooting. The police say the disturbance was caused by intoxicated men.

Police Commissioner Partridge surprised the community, and especially the political leaders at work in the various precincts, by suddenly shifting 800 policemen from their regular beats to parts of the city strange to them. In addition to this the state superintendent of elections for the metropolitan districts had six hundred deputies on guard in the various election districts. Where these men were to be placed was kept secret un-

LEADERETTES

Local Happenings of City and Territory Briefly Told.

Election returns will be read from the stage during the progress of the comic opera "Patience" tonight at the Brooks' theater.

The street crossings are in a bad condition today but the cleaning force is too busy with election to make repairs.

Enoch Gill was fined $10 and costs in police court this morning for an assault upon J. P. Williams.

A large number of bets were made today. A bet of $100 to $20 if McGuire is elected that the majority would not reach 6,000, and a $150 even bet on Cross, are among the wagers made by the sporting fraternity.

A large number of box parties are scheduled for this evening's performance. Arrangements have been made to read the election returns from all over the country during the performance.

Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys."

Manager Bothner has made quite a departure from the usual methods this season. He not only gives his patrons an exceedingly clever performance of the play "A Bunch of Keys" by a carefully selected company of actors and singers, comedians and dancers, but he introduces European novelties of the most expensive kind, giving an entertainment of the very best in the comedy line. If any one wants to laugh an evening away, there is a good opportunity in Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys" at Brooks theatre on Friday, November 7.

[By Associated Press.]

The dead: Mrs. Margaret Crist, Olathe, Kas. Chas. Johnson, Kansas City, driver.

The injured: Miss Moffis Crist, Olathe, Kas., cut and bruised.

Miss A. E. Carmel, Kansas City, cut and bruised.

Miss Lizzie Dean, Kansas City, head and shoulders cut, severe shock.

Earnest McMillan, motorman, scalp, face and shoulders badly cut.

Frank Gibson, Kansas City, head and shoulders cut.

Miss Rose Reeves, Kansas City.

The motorman lost control of his car at the top of the hill two blocks away and it descended at a terrific speed. At Fifth street where the track turns, the car continued straight ahead. It struck a wagon driven by Johnson and crushed it, with Mrs. Crist and daughter, who were on the sidewalk through and into a saloon. The store front was completely demolished and the car, badly damaged, landed with its passengers half way through the saloon room. Mrs. Crist and Johnson were instantly killed.

MISSOURI CLUB WOMEN MEET

Kansas City the Mecca of Clubbists From the State

[By Associated Press.]

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 4.—Kansas City is just now the Mecca for club women from all parts of Missouri. The annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs opened auspiciously this morning and will continue through tomorrow. Large delegations are in attendance from St. Louis, Springfield, St. Joseph and other leading cities of the state. Today's proceedings were largely of a routine nature. The gathering was formally called to order at 10 o'clock this morning. After addresses of welcome and responses the delegates listened to the reports of officers and committees, which occupied most of the time until the hour for luncheon arrived. This afternoon there were more reports, from the art committee, the state library committee and the literature committee, all of them showing a year of unusual activity in all fields of club work. This evening Mrs. Lydia P. Williams of Minneapolis, addresses the convention.
