

ROOSEVELT FORTY-NINE TOMORROW

PAST YEAR A BUSY PERIOD FOR CHIEF EXECUTIVE

A CONSPICUOUS FIGURE ON STAGE OF AFFAIRS

Constantly in the Forefront of the World's Observation

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—President Roosevelt will be 49 years old tomorrow. The twelve months just closed have been a busy period for the Chief Executive, and during that time he has accomplished many things for the public good. His words and deeds have kept him constantly in the forefront of the world's observation, and during recent weeks he has been more than ever, if possible, a conspicuous figure on the stage of affairs. In a variety of ways he has claimed the attention of the press and the community at large, but from many standpoints he has been a most prominent figure in relation to the railroads and other great corporations. He has done much to smooth away the ill-feeling between the United States and Japan over the disturbances in San Francisco, at the same time preserving a firm attitude by sending or arranging to send a great fleet of American warships to the Pacific Coast.

Among the first public acts of his 49th year was the delivery of his message to Congress last December. Later the President sent special messages to Congress on the discharge of the colored voters of the Tennessee Infantry, urging ship-subsidy legislation, and on the subject of the Colorado river. He has also been active in matters of more or less public interest and importance.

Early in the present year he sent a message to Canada to confer with the Governor-General on questions of common interest to the people of the United States and Canada. In March he reorganized his cabinet and in the same month sent Secretary Taft to Panama and Cuba to look into the condition of affairs there. Later he arranged the famous summit-the-world-talk for the Secretary of War, the result of which is expected to be of great importance in settling the friendly relations of the United States and several foreign countries.

Early in the year he gave considerable attention to the disturbed condition of affairs in Central America and finally made a successful intervention in behalf of arbitration to settle the hostilities between Nicaragua and Honduras.

In regard to the number and importance of his public addresses the year just closed has been a strenuous one even for the President. One of his first addresses of the year was delivered at the dedication of the Rough Riders Monument in Arlington Cemetery. Three addresses were delivered at the Jamestown exposition. The President also spoke at the dedication of the monument of Gen. George B. McClellan in the capital. During the latter part of May he took a short trip into the middle west and spoke at the unveiling of the Lawton monument at Indianapolis and at the semi-centennial celebration of the Michigan Agricultural College at Lansing.

On June 12 the President arrived at Oyster Bay for his summer vacation, which was broken only by his trip to Provincetown, Mass., to speak at the laying of the foundation stone for a memorial to be erected there to the Pilgrim Fathers. In this address, which attracted attention throughout the country, the President again defined the policy of the Administration regarding the prosecution of law breakers.

In the last week of September the President visited Oyster Bay and after a day or two in Washington started on his memorable Mississippi river trip. On the way he stopped at Canton to speak at the dedication of the McKinley memorial. In the course of his journey down the Mississippi from Keokuk to Memphis he delivered three notable addresses dealing with various subjects such as the Government's relation to railroad investments, the policy of the Administration with regard to the trusts, and the duties of latter-day American patriots. At Memphis he was heard on the subject of deep-waterways, a question in which he had previously evidenced his deep interest by the appointment of the Inland Waterways Commission. After a week or two spent in touring in the Louisiana marshes the President started on the return to Washington, speaking en route at Vicksburg and Nashville. The President apparently was never in more perfect health or in better spirits than now, prepared to push his politics with the utmost vigor during the sixteen months he is to remain at the helm of the nation's affairs.

According to announcement made at the White House no arrangements have been made for any celebration of the President's birthday, and it is probably he will pass the day very much as usual. The routine which usually marks his observance of the Sabbath. The only reminder of the approach of the birthday anniversary was the arrival of a number of early messengers of congratulation today. These came from friends and admirers in all sections of the country.

RICH STRIKE OF ORE

Lawton, Okla., Oct. 26.—Senator G. V. P. Saltszuber, formerly of Van Wert, Ohio, and C. W. Whitlatch, vice, local manager for the Maxwell & Maxwell Loan company, have made visits which will perhaps develop into the richest strike of ore yet made in the Wichita mountains. In an old mining shaft, that had probably been deserted for years, they discovered a lead of copper that is several feet thick and probably extends many rods back into the adjacent mountains. The discovery was made in the vicinity of Mount Scott and near the town of Meers.

Senator Saltszuber, since his retirement from politics in the Buckeye state, has devoted considerable time in the west in mining investigations and he is convinced that his recent discovery promises more reward than anything else in the entire realm of his travels. He will probably make a trip to Ohio shortly to attempt to interest capitalists in the matter of developing the property.

For Female Ills

Those symptoms, that you do not understand, are very likely due, if you are a woman, to womanly disease. Frequently female disorder is so insidious, that no local pain is experienced, but just a feeling of misery, all-over, and a general nervous, irritable, depression, that has driven many a sufferer to the brink of desperation.

In such cases, Wine of Cardui can be depended on to bring relief and renewed interest in life. Being a strengthening, building, female tonic, it renews the vital forces, invigorates the womanly organs and puts strength where women most need it.

"I do not know," writes Mrs. Martha Wilson, "that I can command words, to tell you how grateful I am to Cardui, for giving me back my health again."

"I was troubled with prolapse for 3 or 4 years; unable, a great deal of the time, to do my work."

"After taking one bottle of Cardui, I was able to do my work." Sold everywhere.

ARKANSAS DIAMONDS REAL THING

EXPERT TELLS OF DISCOVERY UNIQUE ON THIS CONTINENT

FOUND IN CRATER OF OLD VOLCANO

Soil and Conditions Similar to Those Found in South Africa

New York, Oct. 26.—George P. Kinz of Titian, who is the highest authority on precious stones in this country and perhaps in any other country, has just returned from a visit to Murfreesboro, Pike county, Ark., to examine the spot where some diamonds were found not long ago. He says they are the real thing, and that the geological conditions are almost precisely those which occur in the neighborhood of the Kimberly diamond mines, South Africa.

"This is the first time diamonds have ever been found in the natural matrix on the American continent, and I consider it very important," said Mr. Kinz. "The soil and surroundings are similar to those in South Africa. The spot where they were found is beyond question the crater of an extinct volcano, and it is filled with the blue earth similar to that of Kimberly. It will take further investigation to show whether there are enough diamonds to make it pay to work the deposit, and whether the cost of working will permit of a profit. These questions can be decided within a few months, and if they can be decided in the affirmative, it is one of the best things I have ever struck."

"While most of the diamonds have been picked up on the surface of the igneous area, a few have been found among conglomerates derived from washing the decomposed peridotite, which must resemble that of Kimberly, and at least one diamond was found embedded in the decomposed peridotite itself. The evidence seems conclusive that the crystals are not derived from the peridotite, and if so, this is the first occurrence of diamonds in place on either the North or South American continent."

"Diamonds have been found loose in glacial deposits in about thirty places in Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio and other states, but never before in natural conditions. This diamond discovery in Arkansas was originally made by a farmer named John Hendriks. Because the ground was green, he thought there might be copper under it, and while prospecting around, found one of the crystals and later two others. Since then fifteen per cent of the natives have picked up diamonds. The first was sent to a jeweler in Little Rock, who pronounced them genuine and then they brought them here to me. I suggested an investigation by a professional expert, and recommended Henry S. Washington, a well known petrologist. They accepted him and I went down to Murfreesboro with him. It is a little village of a few hundred inhabitants situated in Pike county in the southern part of the state, near the Louisiana border, directly north of New Orleans. Near the village is a volcanic mark of 20 or 40 acres, similar to those which frequently occur in South Africa, and as it is filled with blue clay similar to that at Kimberly. About 140 diamonds have been picked up there in this date, most of them being white stones, exceptionally pure and free from all tints of color. Others are of a rich cinnamon brown and pure lemon color, and a number are very dark, almost black. The largest diamond weighs six and a half carats and is of an absolutely pure pellucid white. Another stone weighs six and a quarter carats and several weigh five, four and three carats. The whole lot of 140 stones, will average about one carat each."

All a Mistake: Not Going to Move. There is a mistaken idea abroad that the St. Louis Racket store is a branch of the S. H. Kress company and that they are going to move an Oklahoma avenue. The fact is that the St. Louis Racket is an independent store and is not connected with any other store. The St. Louis Racket store does not have to move because they have built up such a business in their present stand that it is now impossible to wait on the trade with the large force of help. Another error of the people and the newspapers is that the St. Louis Racket store does not have to move out of the city. Such is not the case for they handle all classes of goods known to any racket store. This is a mistake they wish to correct. The business of this store is growing every day and the managers are making arrangements to enlarge their present quarters in the very near future.

LOST ALL HOPE OF CURING HUMORS

Member of U. S. Ordinance Corps Had Skin, Scalp, and Blood Trouble — For Four Months Tried Various Remedies with No Lasting Effect — Permanently Cured and Says: "CUTICURA REMEDIES ARE UNEXCELLED"

"About a year ago I was a sufferer from skin, scalp, and blood humors. For four months I used various remedies prescribed to me for their treatment, but they gave only temporary relief and then the distressing humors came back to me. I finally lost all hopes of getting cured of this ailment. But a friend induced me to give the Cuticura Remedies a fair trial. He had been troubled with the same disease and said he had been permanently cured by Cuticura. So I got the whole treatment, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, and after I began the treatment I could see and feel that it was a success. The Cuticura Resolvent is certainly of great value as it cleanses the system of all humor poisons and makes digestion easy. I used two complete sets of the Cuticura Remedies and I can say this much, that I was permanently cured by them. I want to say further, that these Remedies are unexcelled in curing the worst form of skin, scalp, and blood humors. I am a member of the U. S. Ordnance Corps, U. S. A., Rock Island Arsenal, Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 22, 1906."

SLEEP FOR BABIES

And Rest for Tired, Fretted Mothers in Cuticura.

A warm bath with Cuticura Soap and a single anointing with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, will afford instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tormented babies, and point to a speedy cure of the most distressing form of eczema, teething troubles, itching eruptions, and chafing, when all else fails. Guaranteed absolutely pure under U. S. Food and Drug Act, and may be used from the hour of birth.

Change of location and removal of headquarters from Chicago, Ill., to New York, N. Y., and the fact that the name of the company has been changed from "The Cuticura Remedies Co." to "The Cuticura Remedies Co., Inc." does not affect the value of the Cuticura Remedies. The Cuticura Remedies are the same as ever, and the same as those used by the U. S. Ordnance Corps, U. S. A., Rock Island Arsenal, Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 22, 1906.

FOOTBALL GAMES TODAY.

New York, Oct. 26.—So far as the Eastern colleges are concerned the football games to be played today are of great importance, being for the most part in the nature of practice games for the more important contests to come next month. One of the most interesting probably will be the "contest" between the University of Pennsylvania and the Carlele Indians at Philadelphia. The Naval Cadets and Lafayette meet at Annapolis, West Point plays the University of Rochester and Princeton lines up against Cornell. Harvard plays the Springfield Training School and Yale has a game on with Villanova College.

The most important game in the middle west will be those of Ohio State University and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor (Illinois and Wisconsin at Madison and Drake and Iowa at Iowa City, Chicago and Minnesota have no games scheduled).

In the South the old-time rivals, Virginia and North Carolina, play their annual game at Richmond today. Alabama and Georgia meet in Montgomery, Vanderbilt and Rose Polytechnic at Nashville and Mississippi and Sewanee at Memphis.

WEALTHY NEGRO SEEKS A UTOPIA

Special to Daily Leader.

Muskogee, Oct. 26.—G. W. Washington, a wealthy negro who lives near Okmulgee, believes that his people should be colonized in Africa where they could govern themselves, and to that end will leave next month for a year in Africa to visit the various negro countries there if possible, determine what part of the continent is best suited for free and self-governing race of Ethiopians.

In order to thoroughly understand the commercial conditions and possibilities of Africa, he will also visit a number of English and German colonies. Washington is a student of photography and will take with him a camera so that he may be more convincing in his statements when he has returned to America. He is a horticulturist by profession, having made this a study while he was in school at Houston, Texas.

Washington has some decided views upon the solution of the negro problem. He believes ultimately the white race must occupy the United States and that the population will become too dense for the two races to live in peace. He thinks a free governing people in Africa would be a much more desirable condition for the negroes than they will eventually occupy in the United States. He favors the industrial training of the negro in preference to so much literary training. When he returns to this country one year hence, if his impressions of Africa is favorable, he proposes to lead a movement in Oklahoma to transport the negroes of the United States to Africa. He is a man of pronounced opinions, the color and race, and the negroes of this section lead a willing ear to his schemes.
