A Suburbanite Author. Mrs. Mary Stewart Cutting, author of "The Suburban White," whose first long novel, "The Wayfarers," The McClure company published this month, has every license to write on the life of the commuter. She has been one herself for over a dozen years. She began her suburban existence on Boston Point, and has been a resident of almost half-a-dozen nearby Jersey towns. Her home is now in East Orange. In the beginning she was quite unconscious of the fact that her work had any special suburban character. "Just told stories that came to me," she says, "and when I was done I found that it was suburban life and commuters almost exclusively that I had been writing about."

CASH CADE'S SCALP WANTED

Special to Daily Leader, Shawnee, Okla., July 30.—There will be no harmony in republican ranks in Shawnee this fall. Some one very near to Mayor Stearns has made the announcement that this talk of Cash Cade carrying the state for the republicans is all moonshine and that no intelligent republican will be deceived thereby. Therefore Mayor Stearns and his crowd have an opportunity to f the national committee and the state manager. The contest between the Shawnee bolters and Cash Cade is a local one and the bolters would do anything to bring him up in the Kickapoo. In this matter it is said that the affairs of the national committee are clear.

WOMAN TEACHER IS ACQUITTED

Special to Daily Leader, Wynwood, Okla., July 30.—Because she whipped Bessie Roberts, teacher in the public schools and daughter of Dr. G. W. Roberts, was arrested and tried in justice court on a charge of assault. She was acquitted. The incident took place just before school closed in May. At that time William French, superintendent of schools, who also punished the boy, was tried. The jury disagreed. The boy showed bruises as the result of Miss Roberts' blows. She alleged that when she grabbed him he was pulling a big jackknife from his pocket.

Forecast for August Weather

(By C. W. DICK, Montgomery Co. (Ill.) News.)

August was named for Augustus Caesar, nephew and adopted son of Julius. August was every bit as great a man, but his uncle had a better press bureau. When the Black Hand got Julius, his nephew was but 19; but he had already worn the toga virilis and shot a bear. Mark Antony tried to get him out of the way by making him a sort of vice-president, but after Augustus had beaten him 5 up to and 3 to play on the green at Modena the big drawing card of the Roman chautauqua was "I'd be a kind of Nick Longworth around the Roman White House. The Augustan age was the glory of Rome. Like Mr. Roosevelt, Augustus showed fight all the time, and the empire enjoyed peace. There were no reformers, and times were good. The emperor liberally patronized literature and even wrote verses himself. Poets like Horace and Virgil had their own unmeasured gold chariots with liveried attendants on the job behind, and instead of having the cruel circumstances of Nero, the populace met in the coliseum and wrote limericks for prizes." It is said that Augustus found Rome a city of brick, and left it a city of marble. He was a very proud man, and in order to make his men as long as anybody's they took a day from February and added it to August, which originally had but thirty days. Augustus deserves to be better known, and it is not his fault that he is not. He tried everything from divorce to one child, a daughter Julia. He beat Antony and Cleopatra 9 to 0 in the famous engagement at Actium, enough in itself to have his name upon a 10-cent cigar; but he stood about the same chance against the Kaiser of his moment as Mrs. Ethel Roosevelt stands to share the limelight with her sister Alice.

THREE MEN DEAD AND SCORE WOUNDED AT PENSACOLA, FLA.

(By Associated Press.) Pensacola, Fla., July 30.—Three men dead and a score wounded, some probably fatally, is the record of an attempt at night by a mob to storm the county jail and take out the negro, Lester Shaw, who assaulted Mrs. Lillian Davis near here.

The mob numbered probably a thousand persons and gathered early but there was no apparent indication that the crowd, which completely surrounded the jail, contemplated making a dash until nearly two hours later. The first indication was when a railroad iron was brought into play by about a dozen men on the iron gate of the jail yard. At the same moment the entire mob seemed to catch the spirit and with yells and curses dashed over the jail entrance. Some climbed over the tall iron fence while others jammed upon the gate.

The sheriff with half a dozen deputies stood in windows up stairs with drawn revolvers and riot rifles. The sheriff pleaded with the mob, at the same time telling them he would detain the prisoner at the cost of every life present. His words had no effect and the moment the first blow was struck on the gate a volley of shots flashed from the upper windows of the jail. This was answered by the crowd which poured volley after volley into the jail windows, wounding two deputies. The mob was momentarily driven back with many wounded and one dead as a result of the deadly aim of the sheriff and his deputies.

At midnight the mob, which in the meantime had been reinforced by many residents of the surrounding country, made another attack on the jail. The sheriff and officers were overpowered by men who had crept over the rear wall and covered them with rifles and revolvers. Others broke down the cell door and took Shaw out.

The negro was carried to the center of the plaza and hanged to an electric light pole, after which fully 500 hundred shots were fired into his dangling body. In the last attack on the jail H. C. Kellum, a street car conductor, was killed, while two deputies and four or five of the mob were wounded.

After the 21st August will be under the zodiacal of Virgo. This will make chautauqua grounds restless and outdoor orators will have to follow them around through the woods and talk to them when they will stand. It will also cause Mr. Rockefeller to get busy on that story of his life he is going to write for one of the national monthlies, and monopoly will get so nervous it will have to have a trained nurse and take nourishment through a funnel. Mr. Roosevelt will meanwhile call a special meeting of the cabinet at Signalman Hill, and will issue a proclamation declaring that the best way to catch bugs is to set up a sandive on the desert, shovel the sand in, and take the lions out of the seine.

LEGAL TANGLE OVER ORCHARD OWNERSHIP CAUSES RECEIVERSHIP

Special to Daily Leader, Muskogee, Okla., July 30.—The Choctaw nation, worth $10,000 worth of peaches that are growing on the farm of Ed McKenna on segregated equal lands of that nation. A receiver appointed has taken charge of the crop and is shipping it under the direction of the federal court.

This legal tangle over the ownership of the orchard products grows out of the efforts of the government to dislodge the people, who settled on the segregated lands. McKenna's orchard and vineyard consists of 480 acres near Poyent. The government claims that the crop of peaches, apples and grapes this year is worth $10,000. McKenna had sold the peach crop and the purchaser was just ready to move it when the Choctaw nation stepped in and demanded the peaches on the grounds that McKenna had no legal right to the land. Judge Ralph Campbell of the federal court granted the restraining order and appointed Thomas Wall receiver. In order to save the crop, Mr. Wall continued the contract that McKenna had made. The money will be held up pending a decision as to who is entitled to it.

McKenna claims that he occupies the ground with the consent of the government agents and in his petition states that the government tried to collect rental from him for the year 1908. He also states that the net profit for the crop after the annual expenses are deducted will not be over $500.

WIFE MAKES GRAVE CHARGE

Special to Daily Leader, Kingfisher, Okla., July 30.—Is the petitioner for divorce Gladys Hill, Mrs. Nellie Hill charges that her husband besides being cruel, caused her to feel for indignities at the hands of a hired man who entered her room at the instance of Hill, and that he attempted to compel her to attend dances where beer was sold and immoral people were assembled.

The petition was filed following an assault made by Lem Hill upon Will Cummings, an uncle of Mrs. Hill who sought to prevent trouble between Hill and his wife when they met upon the highway as Hill was coming to town from his farm.

FIRED FROM OKLAHOMA

The expose of the Great Western Life Insurance Co., which is now causing no little excitement in Kansas City court circles, has renewed local interest in the concern which did sensational business in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, and in the new state until its charter was revoked by insurance Commissioner McComb. The amount of the policies written by agents of the company in the state is unknown, as the officials refused persistently to file a statement with the insurance department. It is stated, however, on authority, that no less than $15,000 in "mortality certificates" held by the Oklahoma City hospital system. In other towns of less size the business was correspondingly large.

SUSPICIONS AROUSED

(By Associated Press.) Annandale, Minn., July 30.—A sinister aspect was given in the case of the drowning of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Halsbeck, of New York, Monday night at Lake Sylvia, three miles from here, when it became known that Mrs. Halsbeck's body had been found in about three feet of water in a peeling position and that she had a long bruise on the side of her face which cut her upper lip and one extending down on her throat under her ear. It was also learned that there was no water in her lungs. Dr. Ridgeway, who examined the woman's body, said that neither of the bruises on the head would necessarily have caused death, yet the fact that no water was found in the woman's lungs led him to believe that the woman's death was not caused by drowning.

The body of Mr. Halsbeck was found farther out in the lake in about twenty feet of water. The supposition here is that the woman was stunned by blows and dragged or thrown into the lake. The boat in which the couple had gone fishing was found right side up and the fishing tackle inside of it in good order, thus indicating that the boat had not been accidentally overturned. Notwithstanding the coroner's verdict as that death had been caused
