Webster's National Pictorial Dictionary. 1040 Pages Octavo. 600 Engrav. Webster "is the Dictionary used in the Government Printing Office." Aug., 1877

Every school and every family should have it for constant use and reference. Best investment at its cost a father can make for the education of his children.

Several years later and contains 1 1/2 more matter than any other large Dictionary. Three thousand illustrations in the body, and these repeated, grouped and classified of those in any other Dictionary.

Recommended by state supt. of schools in 84 states and more than 50 College Pres. Contains 2000 illustrations, nearly three times as many as any other Dictionary.

LOOK AT THE three pictures of a SHIP on page 1751—these alone illustrate the meaning of more than 1000 words and terms far better than they can be defined in words. More than 10,000 copies have been placed in the public schools of the United States. Has about 10,000 words and meanings not in other Dictionaries.

Embodies about 100 years of literary labor, and in several years later than any other large Dictionary. The sale of Webster's Dictionaries is 20 times as great as the sale of any other series of Dictionaries. Is it not rightly claimed that Webster is THE NATIONAL STANDARD?

THE MISSOURI REPUBLICAN.

In the Front Rank of American Journals.

Independence, Gender, Conservatism, Enterprise, Vigor. Reduction of Prices to Suit the Times

The election of 1877 ever, to congress will all eyes turn to witness the course of political events in America. Questions of vital interest are pressing for settlement, and the discussion bids fair to be prolonged and absorbing. The subjects of Finance, Pacification, Internal Improvements, Civil-Service Reform, Indian and Mexican Border Troubles, etc., are among those which must largely occupy the public mind. The proper development of the resources of the West and South, by means of an improved condition of river and railroad transportation facilities—the utilization of unemployed labor in needed public works—the encouragement of immigration to the fertile lands of the Great West, are matters of national as well as of local concern. Scarcely less important is the support of all measures, by whomsoever originated, aided or indorsed, giving to the southern states a full and free control of their own affairs—the only policy leading to permanent peace. The state legislatures, especially those to elect U. S. senators, will also be invested with interest, as upon them and the elections of 1878 will devolve the decision as to whether the reins of political power shall continue to be held by the Republican party, the tenure of that power now hanging by but a slender thread.

Upon these and kindred subjects the Republican, which gives an earnest advocacy to the principles of the constitutional Democracy. Will always be found battling in the ranks of the thinking, working people of the West and South. And whilst sparing no effort to obtain and promulgate the most reliable information relative to American politics, the Republican will maintain its past reputation for the collection of all important and interesting news from all quarters of the globe. A siren in the Eastern hemisphere, now occupying so much attention, will not be omitted in the design of making this paper a regular chronicler of the exciting intelligence of the day, and whatever enterprises and lavish expenditures can do will be employed to produce a first-class news and family journal.

With the lessening in the prices of materials and labor the following reductions in the rate of subscriptions are announced: Terms of Subscription—Postage Prepaid. Terms—In Advance.

The Daily Republican, published every morning, will be furnished at the following rates: By mail 7 times per week, per year, $12 00 in the city 7 times per week, per year, 13 00 in the city, 7 times per week, by week 25 Sunday paper per year, 2 50

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED. (Notices of the Press.) The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world and the expounder of that world's laws—and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume and social habits.—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for the children's clothes, to pater familias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has attained a wide popularity for the freest enjoyment it affords and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—New York Evening Post.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY FOR 1877-78.

Without recalling the excellence of the past, the publishers of "Scribner's Monthly" announce for the year to come the following papers:

THE PICTURESQUE SIDE OF AMERICAN FARM LIFE.—This subject will be treated in a series of separate papers engaged from writers who stand in the front rank among Americans, both in qualities of style and in keen insight of nature. Mr. H. E. Robinson, author of a delightful paper on "Fox-hunting in New England" in the January number, will represent the same section in this series. John Burroughs, whose papers on similar topics have been a highly prized and popular feature of Scribner, will write of Farm Life in New York. Maurice Thompson, the post-naturalist, will describe the characteristics of Western farming, of which he has written so much. In the continuation of this series will be a refined and typical character, commensurate with the subject matter. It is thought that no paper or series of papers yet issued in Scribner will so fully realize the constant desire of the magazine to keep out of the ruts, and both in text and illustrations to obtain quality rather than quantity, and to print fresh, strong and delicate work from original sources.

"ROXY."—By Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," etc. This new novel will doubtless be the most important American serial of the year. The first number was published in November. Those who have read it in manuscript declare Roxy to be much the most striking and remarkable story this author has ever written. It is illustrated by one of the ablest of the younger American painters—Mr. Walter Shirlay, President of the American Art Association.

AMERICAN SPORTS.—Some of the most novel and entertaining of these papers are yet to appear, the scenes of which will be in the West, the Middle States, the South, New England and Canada.

OUT-OF-DOOR PAPERS.—By John Burroughs, author of "Wake Robin," etc. will contain not only articles on Birds, but on Tramping, Camping out, and kindred topics. Mr. Burroughs' papers will begin in the January number, the first being entitled "Birds and Birds," and illustrated by Fidelity Brinley.

ARCHITECTURE OF BIRDS.—Dr. T. M. Brewer will contribute four exquisitely illustrated articles on birds' nests, which every lover of nature will delight in. Dr. Brewer has probably the finest collection of birds' eggs in the world to draw upon for the illustration of these papers.

THE SADDLE-HORSE.—Col. George N. Waring, with whose excellent work of various sorts our readers are familiar, contributes two illustrated articles on the horse. He treats specially of saddle horses and their use for pleasure and for sport, including road-riding, fox-hunting and racing. The nature of the English thoroughbred and that of his Eastern progenitor (the Arabian) are fully considered in relation to these uses.

SAXE HOLM.—New stories by this popular writer will be given in early numbers of Scribner, beginning with "Joe Hale's Red Stockings," to appear in January. This novelette chronicles an episode of the late war for the Union.

HIS INHERITANCE.—By Adeline Hutton, so well begun in the Middlemarch Holiday number, will be continued nearly through the year. It will be found to be of increasing interest to the very end.

A KNIGHT OF FORTUNE.—Hjalmar Hjorth Boyesen's new novel, will be begun in Scribner at the conclusion of "His Inheritance." It will reveal a phase of American society undreamed of by most of our readers, and will be certain to increase the reputation of the writer as a master of English and of his art.

The Editorial Departments will continue to employ the ablest pens in America, and will include the present admirable summary of English publications. Besides the special articles above enumerated, the magazine will contain Poems, Sketches, Essays, Reviews and shorter stories of the highest character. A large partial reduction in price is made by an increase in the number of pages.

The illustrations of the Magazine, in variety and excellence of design and in typographical execution, will continue to be in advance of those of any other popular magazine at home or abroad.

Subscription price, $4 a year, payable in advance to us or to any bookseller. No club rates or other discounts to subscribers. The Magazine is worth all its costs, and its circulation is increasing in a constant and steady ratio from year to year.
