THROWN PROM HIS HORSE AND KILLED. -Mr. Thomas Swan met with an untimely death last Sunday. He was thrown from his horse, his head striking a tree, and when found he was dead. The saddle girth was broken, and it is supposed that this was the cause of his being unseated; or that being thrown his foot hung in the stirrup and he was dragged a short distance, and the girth was broken when he struck the tree. He

Mr. R. D. Walton declines to accede to the request of a large number of petititioners to become an independent candidate for prosecuting attorney. In seeking to proselyte in the temperance cause he has had no ulterior purpose to advance his possible political prospects. He has so said on many occasions and stands by his declarations. While he recognises with grateful thanks the friendly inter- porting the ticket and keeping the party est manifested, he asks that his name be properly organized, and closed with a withheld from candidacy for any office.

Don't throw away your old Tinucare, but take it to B. S. Crews when you go to Troy, and have it repaired. It will cost you but a song.

A good light is a desirable thing, and especially to a shipper of Leaf Tobacco, when he makes his sales in a St. Louis warehouse. Evans Bro's have met the wants of shippers in the construction of their elegant warehouse shown in another part of this paper.

Some time has elapsed since we drop, ped the reportered pan for this quest to the county, and we see sorry to find that it has become rusty from not having been used, and thinking that this part of the county deserves being heard from, we again, with our politest bow, desire to troduce burselves to the Herett and its readers. Time has wrought many changes since we reported for you before Dr. McKay we then knew as one of the most gallant young men of the pleasant town of Auburn. On our return we find of a family over one of the nicest cottage erhood, we that love, peace and harmony of Auburn, with a wife and boy, there, may reign among all mankind. Well may you amile, Dootor. John Finley Well may you smile, Doctor. John Finley has changed from a young man into a crusty bachelor; there are silver threads among the gold, yet he is no less popular Many other changes have taken place, yet we find Auburn the same quiet happy place as of old, and the same good people cheer us now that greeted us with their smiles when we first came mong them.

> Yesterday was a field day here in the political arena. The candidates repreenting the two political parties were their virtues and the faults of their opponents. Most all mounted the rostrum Mr. Downing his inconsistency in being a Greenback nominee and supporting fits? Glover for the senate. He paid a beautiful tribute to the integrity and intelligence of Geo. G. Vest, and showed that he was the only candidate in the field who was truly in sympathy with Western interests. He urged in eloquent language the necessity of Democrats supbrief sketch of the Democratic nominees showing them to be a set of men of whose integrity and capability the great party that has nominated them may justly feel proud. His speech was well received, and at the close there was great demon-strations of applause. Mr. Parker may justly feel proud of his offort here.

Mr. Joe Edson, of Clarksville, one of those intelligent and lively young men of whose company you never tire, is visiting his uncle, Mr. R. F. Waters. We like you, Joe, but then you must let up a little or you might get a worse fall than you did the other evening, for some of the beys are viewing your actions with a suspicious eye—you know.

Miss Ida Rose, one of Louisiana's brightest flowers, is visiting Miss Susie Elston. She leaves for home next week. She will carry with her the best wishes of the community and the heart of at least one of our gallant boys.

Dr. Weems is finishing up his new house. It is a two story frame of eleven rooms, and is quite an addition to our al-ready attractive little town.

Howard S. Parker cheered our sanctum yesterday with his intelligent counte-nance and pleasant smiles.

We noticed the pleasant face of Mr. C. M. Hamilton on the street to-day. Miss Fannie Verdier is visiting Paris, Missouri.

Burn Oak, Oct. 12. Adding Herald: What is the object, side and mission of the Democratic party on the finance question? Is it not to repeal the national banking laws, and thereby convert an interest bearing bond into one which bears no interest? The flat, absolute money, so-called National Labor Greenback party, is in favor of repealing the banking laws and substituting, instead of interest bearing bonds, money of their own creation, transcending all hitherto known methods of issuing money in this country. Yes, in the fulness of their power and might and in the twinkling of an eye, will this great labor party issue its flat and bring forth to the astoniahed gase of Americans an immense amount of money without the exercise of brains and muscle. derful, wonderful, indeed! Surely their kingdom is not of this world. I say this on account of the total disregard of all former precedents in the plan of issuing this proposed money.

I must confess a doubt in regard to the utility of such money, leaving out its constitutionality. Let us investigate these righteous originators of this method of creating money. It is a well estabhere telling our citizens and yeomanry of lished fact that when Ben the Butlerite was sent by Father Abraham to punish the wicked cities of the South, that while and gave us some chin music, some of in the discharge of his saintly duties the which was real amusing. Par- part of this metal indicate the incipient ker, who answered the call with one of his, money-creating power of this wonderful happiest efforts. The next in order is Brick, the Swedite. All close observers have noticed the mighty spirit of repudiation working in all his business and matrimonial rela-tions. He hath written much against the payment of the national debt, doubtless knowing that the creative power within him was on the increase year by year, so he might reserve to himself and Butler the glory of relieving the people in the twinkling of an eye from the deepest financial distress to which any nation has ever been brought.

Hill has written a book setting forth his magical powers. Shall I accept the doctrine taught by these spotless saints, or shall I follow in the footsteps of such men as Jefferson, Clay and Webster, until this miraculous work of creating money without labor is an accomplished fact?

The latest direct attempt at converting blackbacks into greenbacks was by our own worthy ex-representative, Maj. Wint Sitton, who left Mount Olives, his home, late in the afternoon, traveling through the hilly country in order to shun unleavened bread (the Democrats), reaching Fairview church (colored) about 8 p. m., where the blackacks were deposited awaiting his skilful manipulations, . But whether he actually succeeded in converting those blackback into greenbacks I am not informed, as the nimrod who was my informant said he was suddenly attracted by the fierce barking of old treed a huge raccoon.

I have added to my already large stock of trees $5,000 more this year, and the fine condition of the trees can be seen by any one passing along the road. But I invite all to call and see for themselves. Being the little year I have kept a nursery here and in three miles of this place has enabled me to select and grow those varieties suited to our soil and climate, and best adapted for family the or market purposes. So buy your stock at BUFFALO NURSERY, and don't be persuaded as some have been in years past, to buy stock of foreign nurseries at fabilious prices, which will neitder endure our drouths nor severe cold. So if you desire

My interest is identical with yours. My interest is identical with yours, and every deliar apent here will, during the year, pay from $15 to $20 of debts. It helps to give employment to our working class and helps to pay our burdensome taxes, and will not go to help build up Eastern monopolies to the detriment of the West and South. And remember too if you live too far to come and go the same day, that I hed and board you free of charge. I have plenty of room for man and beast. If convenient would not object to your bringing a little corn for your horses.

My Nursery is situated on

Telegraph Road, 3 miles from Troy and i mile from Moscow Mills.
