

THE TULSA STAR

Printing and Publishing CO.

Published Every Friday at 501 North Greenwood Street.

Entered as second-class matter April 11, 1913, at the Post Office at Tulsa, Oklahoma, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

A. J. SMITHERMAN

EDITOR AND PUBLISHER

A. J. Smitherman

Society Editor

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One year	$1.00
Six Month	.60
Three Month	.35

Altogether, now, for the big Dry-Farming Congress.

Who saw the Good Roads Boosters Thursday?

Some people are prone to low, base and unscrupulous principles. Do you know him?

He is a MAN who acts frankly and honorably with friends and foes. He's an infernal knave who acts otherwise.

It's not how long you've lived in a community and what you have done before going there that counts, but what are you doing for the community NOW!

Next week will be a gala time in Tulsa. If you haven't seen the best town in the state—in the United States—come to Tulsa during the dry-farming congress.

Mr. Murray is opposed to Senator Gore retaining his seat in the U. S. Senate. Perhaps Mr. Murray's opposition to Senator Gore is based on the old saying "the blind cannot lead the blind."

The disaster of the Volturno, like the great Titanic disaster, was reprobable in the extreme, but the same thing may happen again to some other vessel tomorrow. And some of us may be in the next one. Who knows?

Up at the First Baptist church this week we have been able to view with our own eyes the remarkable progress of the race in fifty years' time. Rev. Kersh is due the praise. Now let's all get together and make the 100th anniversary a hummer.

Most men are gallant, forgiving, respectful and considerate in their dealings with women, especially when they stay in a woman's place, but few men have any respect for the typical cunning "she devil" who continually strives to keep up confusion and strife in the community.

The woman who deliberately circulates falsehoods about the neighbors for the purpose of injuring some one she dislikes is a bad citizen.

There are at least one or two such women in Tulsa and the Star will take them under prayerful consideration if they don't change their tactics.

News About Town

HON. G. W. HUTCHINS

Who very ably discussed "The Cause and The Remedy" at the big celebration here this week.

THREE ENTIRE SAMPLE LINES OF THE BEST COAT & SUIT HOUSE IN THE U. S. AT THE HARLOW BROKERAGE MAIN STREET STORE.—ADV.

Mr. Zolotis, Tadorn. Returned from Ill. where he has been spending summer with friends and relatives.

Mrs. J. S. Kirby will leave the city Sunday for a visit to relatives and friends at Dallas, Tex.

Mr. William Payne and Miss H. B. Blanton are new members of the Star staff.

Hon. H. Augustus Geress has sent an invitation to Booker T. Washington, the great colored educator of Tuskegee, Ala., to visit Tulsa during the dry-farming congress. The Afro-Americans will also take an active part in the dry-farming congress.

Messrs. Chief Harrison and T. F. Franklin, wealthy citizens of Haskell, were visitors in the city on Wednesday, having come to look after their oil interest and to send their daughters to the state university at Langston. While here they were friendly callers at the Star office.

THE BIG SALE THIS WEEK ON BLANKETS AND UNDERWEAR IS AT HARLOW BROKERAGE MAIN STREET STORE.—ADV.

Mr. James Walton Of Nowata Was in the city for a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. Walton His mother and father who resides at 523 N. Detroit also his brother Mr. Roy Balbridge proprietor of the Boston Cafe

Mr Willie Pointer, who has been on the sick list for a few weeks is improving

Mr. and Mrs. Luchous Brown of Salina, Kansas, are in our city visiting parents of Mrs. Brown

Mr. Isiah, Agent, has returned from Guthrie where he was called to the bedside of his sick mother, whom he found recovering nicely, and relatives at 523 North Detroit.

Mr. A. W. Marshall, a wealthy Muskogee citizen and stockholder in the Peoples Bank & Trust Co. of Muskogee, was a visitor in Tulsa Thursday.

Don't forget Dry Farming Congress next week.

500 MEN'S SAMPLE HATS ON SALE AT HARLOW BROKERAGE MAIN STREET STORE.—ADV.

MEN WHO ARE PUSHING THE BIG TULSA SHOW

No set of men have ever worked harder to make an exposition successful than that behind the International

O. D. Hunt.

Dry-Farming Congress at Tulsa. Two groups of men control its work. One, known as the Oklahoma Board of Congress, is headed by O. D. Hunt, president of the Queen Bee Stove company of Tulsa, and one of the most prominent business men of the city. His associates are L. K. Cone, C. S. Ayers, William Stryker, Eugene Lortie and C. A. Sanderson, all of Tulsa.

The second is known as the International Board of Governors. It is headed by W. I. Drummond, of Enid, Oklahoma. With him are the Honorable V. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, Regina; Honorable George Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture for Alberta, Edmonton; C. R. Root, of Denver, Colorado; W. M. Jardine, of Manhattan, Kansas; A. M. Ferguson, of Sherman, Texas; O. D. Hunt, of Tulsa, and John T. Burns. Mr. Burns is the permanent secretary of the Congress and the man who, through his peculiar ability for organization, has made it the most important farm organization in the world today. Mrs. Eleanor L. Burns is secretary of the International Congress of Farm Women, a branch of the Dry-Farming Congress, and through it she wields a mighty influence on the lives of tens of thousands of women in many nations.

ment, is headed by O. D. Hunt, president of the Queen Bee Stove company of Tulsa, and one of the most prominent business men of the city. His associates are L. K. Cone, C. S. Ayers, William Stryker, Eugene Lortie and C. A. Sanderson, all of Tulsa.

The second is known as the International Board of Governors. It is headed by W. I. Drummond, of Enid, Oklahoma. With him are the Honorable V. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, Regina; Honorable George Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture for Alberta, Edmonton; C. R. Root, of Denver, Colorado; W. M. Jardine, of Manhattan, Kansas; A. M. Ferguson, of Sherman, Texas; O. D. Hunt, of Tulsa, and John T. Burns. Mr. Burns is the permanent secretary of the Congress and the man who, through his peculiar ability for organization, has made it the most important farm organization in the world today. Mrs. Eleanor L. Burns is secretary of the International Congress of Farm Women, a branch of the Dry-Farming Congress, and through it she wields a mighty influence on the lives of tens of thousands of women in many nations.

DON'T GET TOO SEDATE.

Play is as Good For Grown Persons as For Children.

Play is just as necessary to keep a grown man young and a middle-aged man from growing old as it is to make a child grow into a man. Wordsworth's lines are as sound philosophy as good poetry.

My heart leaps up when I behold
The rainbow in the sky,
So was it when I first began
To see when I was young,
Or when I grew old.

In childhood we play because we are young. In middle age we are young because we play. And if we keep it up we shall never know the we are old until we are one day suddenly dead. The standard idea has grown up, and Mrs. Grundy has added it with her usual unconsciousness, the play is something unbecoming to a grown man and unbecoming to a lady. And this unfortunately is one of the rare instances where "thinking makes it so." After a man has had a healthy belief in the uselessness of exercise for half a decade or so and becomes fat and pompous and red faced or pale and slack muscled and short winded, then the confessions that he utters, in when he decides to unbind and try to play furnish considerably more entertainment to spectators than to himself.—Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Outlook

In the Shade of Fame.

There are a number of former celebrities who are now counting rooms and boarding houses in New York city. Many a stammer, stutter or writer who formerly held a place in the public eye has now settled down to the prosaic occupation of being and feeding a small portion of that same public. Their houses are a magnet for young persons with the artistic temperament. One woman who once enjoyed a fair reputation as a child in the public eye, now occupies a room in a cheap hotel, operating a small literary honor. Reflected glory rather than physical comfort is the portion of most of these satellites, not the privilege of hobnobbing with yesterday's greatness compensated for material discomfort.—New York Press

Cicero on Wit.

There are witty sayings which carry a concealed suspicion of ridicule, of which sort is that of the Sicilian who when a friend of his made a presentation to him saying that his wife had hanged herself upon a fig tree, said "I beseech you give me some shoots of that tree that I may plant them." Of the same sort is what Cressus said to a certain bad orator who when he imagined that he had excited compassion at the close of a speech, asked our friend here after he had sat down whether he appeared to have raised pity in the audience. "Very great pity," replied Cressus, "for I believe that there is no one here so hard hearted but that your speech seemed pitiable to him."—Cicero's Oratory.

A Strange Likeness.

An extraordinary resemblance has recently been discovered at the London Natural History museum between a specimen of the huge African elephant and the pygmy shrew mouse. Sir E. Ray Lankester suggested comparison of the two, and the result has been that practically every bone, muscle, blood vessel and nerve of the giant beast has been found identically reproduced in the tiny mouse.

The State Baptist Convention will convene at Boley Oct. 21st. Churches of that denomination are busy electing delegates to attend this convention and a large crowd is anticipated. The Boley citizens, however, have amply proven their ability to handle big

Grandpa Clause Argued

Bailey Admits That Law Discriminated Against Negroes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Frank admission that the suffrage clause in the Oklahoma constitution was designed to restrict the right of the negroes to vote as far as possible within the limits of the federal constitution featured the argument in defense of the clause before the supreme court today by former senator J. W. Bailey. Mr. Bailey appearing for the Oklahoma election officials contended that while the state law discriminated against negroes it did not sdridge any of their rights guaranteed by the fifteenth amendment. Solicitor General Davis argued that the clause, which provides that no one shall vote who cannot read and write except those or lineal descendants of those who were entitled to vote on Jan. 1 1866, should be annulled. As an unconstitutional attempt to whittle the right of Negroes to vote. He relied on this contention under the 15th amendment, abandoning the argument used in the federal courts that the 14th amendment also had been violated.

TRADERS

If a merchant buys in carload lots and buys for cash and does not credit and does not deliver, it stands to reason that he can sell for less than those who buy in small amounts and then credit. It costs money to send out solicitors to get orders and men to keep up teams and automobiles to deliver same. We save this expense. Let those who buy on time pay the DEBTS of those who never pay, and let those who have their goods delivered pay the expenses of delivering same. We buy for less—our expenses are less—we lose nothing. Our cash sales are more than $7.00 per day; therefore, we can sell for less.

We received a car of Newton's Best Flour a few days ago. We received a car the 15th from Burlington, Kas., of as good flour as money can buy. We have a car on track now of as good flour as Enid mill can make. We have five cars more bought all to be delivered within the next few weeks. We are retailing this flour for less than some merchants guarantee every sack to give satisfaction or money back.

We sell nothing but the best flour:
24 lbs. Best Flour in Tulsa..... 60c
100 lbs Pure Cane Sugar..... 25c
100 lbs Pure Cane Sugar..... $4.90
1 pk. Best Potatoes..... 25c
1 bushel Best Potatoes..... 95c
Heavy Fat Bacon, lb..... 10c
Good Breakfast Bacon, lb..... 20c
Best Fresh Oysters, pint..... 25c

You can't judge a store by advertising prices. Come price our entire line.

Our clothing and shoe sale has been a grand success. If you will look at our clothing you will be surprised to see such good values for so small amount of money—Money back if not satisfied.

TRADERS

106 E. Second Street.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC.

of the Tulsa Star, published weekly at Tulsa, Okla., retired by the Act of August 24, 1912:

Editor, A. J. Smitherman, Managing Editor, A. J. Smitherman.

Business Manager, A. J. Smitherman.

Publisher, A. J. Smitherman.

Known bondholders, mortgagees and other security holders, holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities: None.

(Signed) A. J. Smitherman.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 6th day of October, 1913.

(Seal) H. Augustus Guess,

Notary Public.

(My commission expires Dec. 15, 1913.)

conventions and the usual preparations are being made.

TRUNK AND SUIT CASE SALE AT HARLOW BROKERAGE MAIN STREET STORE—ADV.