Williams in Chicago county. Williams sued for $3,000 damages, claiming that the auto concerned, through its branch at Highport, sold him an automobile for $600 which was guaranteed to be sound and in good working order. Williams alleges that the automobile looked all right but that when he started it down a hill the emergency brake refused to work and the machine ran away, fell over an embankment and buried him beneath the car. Williams alleges he received permanent injuries and to have spent five months in a hospital as a result of his automobile venture.

PAY FOR ASSESSORS

State Auditor's Office Estimates Expenses in 77 Counties to Be $246,045; More for Books.

According to estimates made in the tax department of the state auditor's office, county assessors in the 77 counties of the state will receive an aggregate of $246,045 as salaries for doing the work of assessing property in 1914. About $30,000 is also added to this amount as representing the cost of books used for the work. This expense in the way of salaries includes the commission on public service corporations. The supreme court has decided that the assessor is entitled to the pro-rated income from the assessment of these corporations. The cost of making the assessment is borne by each county and not the state government. This averages about $3,100 to a county.

RELICS OF CRIMES ARE THROWN AWAY

"Fifteen men on a dead man's chest! Yo ho ho, and a bottle of rum!" So sang the lone and ferocious sailor of Stevenson's weird pirate story, and so might a person think when the house cleaning in process in the office of the county attorney. And the old "evidence stuff" is being cleaned away for the advent of the new year and the new term of office.

And many are the old experiences that are recounted as old articles of clothing, bludgeons, pieces of gas pipe, chairs, sacks of tobacco, guns, cartridges and other things more or less associated with crime are consigned to the fire.

"That is the club with which Louis Prieket was knocked in the head," said one of the prosecutors, as a heavy hickory reminding one of the stories of African chieftains was dug from the mass. "Louie was night watchman for a paving company and Shorty Jones got in his work on him one night. Shortly pleaded guilty and took ten years in the penitentiary." "That old chair was the one a felon used on the head of another at Luther. The fellow was in a box car sick and the boys kept picking at him until he grabbed the chair, hit one fellow in the head and killed him. He didn't mean to, but he pleaded guilty and was given five years.

"That coat was taken from a man exhumed from the grave to investigate the cause of his death. A bottle which had contained carbolic acid was found near the body at the time of his death and it was thought that he had poisoned himself. A post mortem examination showed that death was caused from strychnine poisoning and it was then thought that he had been poisoned in a resort in the south part of town.

"That hypodermic needle was taken off a crazy man who went into a revival meeting at Choctaw with a jug of wine and was going to compel them to take the Lord's supper whether or no."

PARDONS HELD INEFFECTIVE BY JUDGE AT MANGUM

Mangum, Ok., Dec. 29.—Pardons issued Arthur Glens and C. W. Burger by Acting Governor McAlester were held ineffective by District Judge G. A. Brown here, because they had not been passed on by the board of prison control. The two men were sent here from Oklahoma county on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. They sought their release through habeas corpus proceedings. Judge Brown held that the governor only had power to grant a pardon or parole after the matter had been placed with the board. In neither case had the beneficiary made application for release from the reformatory. This probably was the last court action of Judge Brown before he assumes his duties on the supreme court bench, he having been elected to that position at the last election.

CRUCE DESIRES LARGER AMOUNT

Governor Disapproves Two Items in Military Budget; More Money Needed.

Governor Cruce today gave his disapproval to two items in the budget as recommended to the legislature by the military board, pertaining to the state militia. One was the adding of another regiment in the state guard and the other was an appropriation of $3,000 a year for payment for troops when called out on emergency duty. In disapproving the $3,000 appropriation the governor feels that if the state cannot afford to pay more than that for the services of the troops no appropriation should be made at all. He believes it should be $10,000 or nothing.

The governor does not believe that there is any need for another regiment in the state, and is of the opinion that the state should properly care for the one it now has before another is asked. An appropriation of $3,000 for actual duty of the troops is too small to properly compensate them, in his opinion and until provision is made for better compensation than that for actual duty talk of another regiment is ill-fimed. Governor Cruce believes that the troops which the state has should be properly cared for.

Other recommendations made by the military board were approved by the governor.

MONUMENT FOR CAT THAT SAVED LIFE OF OFFICER

Newport, Wales, Dec. 29.—A subscription is circulated here to erect on the grounds of the town's feudal castle a monument to the French cat which saved the life of Lieutenant Lloyd of the Grenadier Guards.

The cat did nothing purposely heroic, but by circling around the neck of the officer during the three days he lay wounded and unattended near the French frontier, the cat acted as a far Ion and saved him from death by cold.

Lieutenant Lloyd is heir to Sir Marjorie Lloyd, the chief commander of Wales and the last of the Norman lords of the marshes. His residence is Newport castle, where it is proposed to build the cat's memorial.
