FIVE GENERATIONS HERE

Five generations of unbroken feminine succession are represented in the above photograph of Oklahoma City people. Reading in order of succession they are: Mrs. S. C. Ross, 1430 West Thirty-second street (sitting in extreme left); her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Norman, 1430 West Thirty-second street (standing at left); Mrs. F. A. Whitten, 423 1/2 West Park place (standing at right); Mrs. C. F. Crim, 2232 West Fourteenth street (sitting at right); and Miss Marguerite Crim, 9 months old, daughter of Mrs. Crim.

Mrs. Ross, who is 79 years old, is the great-great-grandmother of the youngest member of the picture. Mrs. Norman is the child's great-grandmother and Mrs. Whitten its grandmother.

Mrs. Ross was born in Henry county, Kentucky in 1837. She moved to Missouri in 1851 and was married there in 1855. She moved with her daughter, Mrs. Norman, to Oklahoma City in 1901. Mrs. Whitten came to Oklahoma City at the same time, as did Mrs. Crim, then only a baby.

PARENTS THINK SON MURDERED IN ROADHOUSE

Fred R. McClintock Disappears; Traced to Dive.

That their son, Fred R. McClintock, 35 years old, was murdered in a roadhouse near Drumright on the night before last Thanksgiving, is the belief of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McClintock, 131 West Fifth street. After a search for their son since Thanksgiving day, the parents have almost given up hope of finding him. Mr. McClintock today asked the Times to aid him in the search. He told of his son's disappearance.

Went to Drumright. The son left Oklahoma City on Tuesday before Thanksgiving, going to Drumright, the father said. He had an expense check of $25, and was a traveling salesman for the Schwab Safe company. He was to have been home for a family reunion Thanksgiving. When he failed to appear at that time, the parents became alarmed.

Wanted a Drink. "I learned from the Strand hotel proprietor that my son registered there on Thanksgiving morning—arriving at the hotel at 4 o'clock. He left his money at the desk, and asked the hotel man where he could get a drink. The hotel man said the only place at that time of night was at the 'hump,' a dive near Drumright. He advised my son against going there, saying it was a tough place. My son left, came back and went to bed. He left later in the morning, leaving his money in the hotel, but in the afternoon returned to get his money. I found my son's suitcase in the hotel.

Son at Dive. "With a friend I went to the 'hump' talked to the owner and his assistant. They remembered my son; said he was around their place until Monday. The negro porter was wearing gold cuff buttons that belonged to my son, but I learned they were pawned for $1. "I learned that my son was shot in the 'hump' on Thanksgiving night. My theory is that my son might have played with those fellows and won, then they murdered him for the money."

Description Given. The father gave this description of his son: five feet, eleven inches tall; smooth face; dark complexion; weight 175 pounds; dark eyes, and when he left here was wearing a light brown suit, soft hat, tan shoes, light gray overcoat, long in length and light in weight. He has a gold tooth on right upper side.

According to the father, his son was divorced by his wife because of his drinking. Mr. McClintock said he knew of no reason why his son should disappear. He had a good position, and had money.

Dorothy Dix Writes Her Famous Dorothy Dix Talks

Exclusively for the Oklahoma City Times Beginning January 15.

The Oklahoma City Times has pleasure in announcing that, beginning Monday, January 15, Dorothy Dix will write exclusively for the Times in Oklahoma City, her sane, sweet, sensible, sympathetic articles—the sort that have given her national fame, endeared her to the hearts of millions, established her as the most written to American woman of her time, and which now make her, week in and week out, the highest paid woman writer in the world's history.

In the years that Dorothy Dix has been writing, her articles have given help, encouragement, comfort, to an uncounted multitude of newspaper readers, until today she stands a veritable little sister to all the world through the medium of her printed talks. And Dorothy Dix occupies this unique position because she is a woman, a writer, with an understanding heart—as well as a sympathetic heart—because she knows, interprets and points out the way to overcome the problems, the temptations, the discouragements, the disillusionments of every-day life as no other writer before the American public today.

Dorothy Dix's articles are more helpful, more encouraging, more comforting today than ever before. Their author stands pre-eminent in her special field. Because the Times believes in giving its readers the best in every line, it has added Dorothy Dix to its corps of special writers, and beginning Monday, January 15, Dorothy Dix will write exclusively for the Times in Oklahoma City.

The Dorothy Dix articles will appear three times a week. Be sure to look for them every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Taft Quits as Head of Court League

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—William H. Taft has resigned as honorary president of the World's Court league, it was announced last night. In his letter to Dr. Samuel T. Dutton, general secretary of the organization, Mr. Taft said: "I feel that I must withdraw from the World's Court league as its honorary president. So much confusion is created between it and the League to Enforce Peace in which I have active duties that I feel it only fair to my colleagues in the league to enforce that I withdraw."

How I Economize

First, all my family work, which helps to keep us in good health and gives an appetite for plain, wholesome food. I economize by canning and drying a variety of fruit and vegetables and making my own pickles, butters, jellies and preserves. This is a great saving, since it does away with the necessity of buying canned goods. I raise plenty of chickens for use the year around, and have some to sell. That gives plenty of eggs for home use and enough can be sold to pay for keeping the chickens. I buy only what clothes we need and make them do long service by the use of dyeing, remodeling and turning. I take old, worn clothes and blankets and color them and make my own carpets and rugs. I piece up new scraps left from the cutting of garments into nice comfort tops. I raise plenty of vegetables and make it a point in cooking to waste nothing. There are various ways of making leftovers into appetizing dishes. All parings and refuse are made into a mash for the chickens, which brings returns in eggs. I do all my own work, including sewing, with the help of the children, and we often stay at home when we would like to take a trip, because we must economize.—Mrs. B. W. Bethany, Okla.

Price Increases Cost London Half Billion Yearly

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The rise in prices is costing the inhabitants of Greater London something like $500,000,000 a year. This is the conclusion arrived at by a statistician, based on a calculation of the pre-war consumption of food, fuel, clothing, tobacco, drink, etc. In the principal foodstuffs alone he makes out a total increased expenditure of $250,000,000. The 7,000,000 of people in Greater London consume about 9,500 tons of food daily. This includes 6,200,000 pounds of bread a day, and, figuring the average rise at 3 pence a loaf, the increased expenditure on this item alone amounts to $95,000,000 a day, or about $35,000,000 a year.

RAILWAY STRIKE STILL POSSIBLE

Brotherhoods Announce General Tieup Is Unlikely.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—At the close of the session of the railroad brotherhood delegates a statement signed by the heads of the four brotherhoods was given out which asserted that the possibility of a nation-wide strike is remote "although it may be necessary on some roads or groups of roads, to use the protective feature of the organization to accomplish what we believe the president and congress intended the men to have last August."

The statement asserted that the conference concluded its work with the understanding that no radical action will be taken until the decision of the supreme court in connection with the Adamson law has been handed down. It reiterated that the association is "unqualifiedly opposed to compulsory arbitration or compulsory investigation such as was contained in the Adamson law introduced in the house within the last few days."

What further action if any will be taken depends largely on the decision of the supreme court in reference to the constitutionality of the Adamson eight-hour law," the statement continued.

Zone and Hawaii Get Army Flyers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Army aviation officers were ordered today to the canal zone and Hawaii to organize aero squadrons. Capt. Henry H. Arnold, now at the aviation school, San Diego, Cal., and Capt. John F. Curry, attached to the signal corps, were directed to proceed immediately to the canal zone and to Fort Kanehameha, Hawaii, respectively to form and command squadrons there.

Adamson Measure Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Representative Adamson's bill, designed to carry out President Wilson's plans for legislation supplementing the Adamson law passed last session, was taken up Friday by the house commerce committee which will attempt to get the measure before the house as soon as possible regardless of the progress of similar railroad legislation in the senate.

Rescuers Search for Lost Flyers

CALEXICO, Cal., Jan. 13.—A searching party left here last night equipped to travel overland as far as San Felipe on the Gulf of California if necessary, to hunt for Lieut. Col. Harry G. Bishop and Lieut. W. A. Robertson Jr., American army aviators who have been missing since Wednesday when they started on a flight from San Diego to Calexico.

PARIS IS SUFFERING FAMINE IN CANDLES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Measures restricting the use of electricity, gas and oil for lighting purposes in Paris have brought candles into general use and the city is suffering now from a candle famine. Candles that formerly sold for 2 cents, according to reports to the department of commerce, say they now cost 6 and 7 and prices continue to rise. Stocks have been exhausted and in some parts of the city it is almost impossible to purchase candles.

CALOMEL TODAY, SICK TOMORROW

Dose of Nasty Calomel Makes You Sick and You Lose a Day's Work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful, and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. You take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition, and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children, they like it.—Adv.
