

TWO TRAINING CAMP HAS FIGHTERS

If Names Spell Anything, Oklahomans Well Equipped.

If names spell anything, Oklahoma's contingent at the Fort Logan H. Roots officers' reserve training camp should be a well-equipped and able aggregation of embryo army officers.

For instance, in reviewing the list of names printed in The Daily Oklahoman this morning, it is found that such fighting men as Stonewall Jackson of Oklahoma City and Winfield Scott of Enid are enrolled in the reserve.

"Fit" Included. A belligerent tone is added to the camp by the presence of H. P. Battles of Norman, H. L. Fitt of Muskogee and F. B. Fite, also of Muskogee.

Oklahoma's readiness to aid the country fight its Prussian foe is indicated by William E. Goe of Norman, who true to his name, went.

The commissary of the camp should be excellent. J. C. Cooke of Enid, is the only chef enlisted, but he has such materials to work with as M. A. Cash of Stillwater, J. C. Nichols of Hanna, Miles A. Price of Porum, R. E. Coffey of Edmond, Lester Currie of Tulsa, C. V. Grabb of Arapahoe, J. G. Drake of Chelsea, R. N. Dunn of Poteau, H. H. Fish of Oklahoma City, and R. B. Rice of Kingfisher.

Fidlar to Entertain. For nosegays the camp may have its pick of J. F. Lilley of Sapulpa or R. M. Rose of Yale. Entertainment in the evenings will be furnished by F. B. Fidler of Tulsa and M. G. Harp of Stillwater and G. Harper of Tulsa. Porter of Leonard and J. A. Porter of Tulsa can probably be induced to take care of the camp's luggage, but, strange to say, there will be no Butlers to wait upon the would-be officers.

A half dozen or so of Millers will arrange for a constant supply of flour for the Oklahomans, and four Bakers are on hand to see that it is made up properly into bread.

When the successful officers get to France they will place much reliance upon E. Ketchum of Foraker. Victory for the American army is forecast upon the last name in the Oklahoman list—S. N. Wynn of Tulsa.

LIBERTY LOAN PLEDGES POUR INTO NEW YORK

Certificates May Be Used in Paying Salaries.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Subscriptions to the Liberty loan are pouring into banks and other agencies here in a steady stream and the amount subscribed already has reached a large total.

Authorization was expected today from Washington for the New York federal reserve bank to issue participation certificates in amounts of $10. Immediately upon receipt of the official authorization plans already made for the sale of the certificates will be put in operation throughout the second federal reserve bank district. The federal reserve board, it is expected, will recommend to the other eleven reserve banks that the certificate plan be adopted, thereby making it possible for small investors throughout the country to subscribe to the loan.

These certificates will be distributed among employers who have undertaken to use them in paying salaries. They will circulate as currency in almost the same way that the federal reserve notes circulate. They will not bear interest, but when a purchaser has accumulated five of them they may be converted at the federal reserve bank into a $50 bond.

War Needs Money McAdoo Tells Crowd

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 24.—"Are you going to be more careful of your dollars than you are of the lives of your young men who are offering themselves in the cause of liberty?" asked Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo here in an address to the members of the Missouri Bankers' association.

"Our expenditures for this war likely will be $10,000,000,000 a year," he said. "We need $4,000,000,000 for our own preparations." He continued: "And the tax bill contemplated raising only 18 percent of this sum. I do not defend any particular item of this bill, but I do say that the bill has been carefully thought out and after it goes through the grill of congress it will be about the best bill that can be got out of the congress of the United States."

"Let us therefore go into this war without reluctance and without grudge or hesitation and let us back up the cause with our money and our blood."

DRAFT REGISTRATION QUESTIONS ANSWERED

By Adjutant General Earp.

Adjutant General Earp, adjutant general of the Oklahoma National guard, has consented to answer through the Times columns the questions of those who are puzzled by the requirements of the military draft registration. If you are in doubt the Times will submit your problem to Mr. Earp, who has studied the registration system since the selective draft was initiated. Some of the questions of most general interest among the many that have accumulated since the law went into effect and Mr. Earp's answers follow:

Q. I am 23 years old and came to this country with my father when I was 3. He was not naturalized. Am I obliged to register?

A. No. You are not an American citizen, and your father is not.

Q. My father served in Germany in the diplomatic service for many years. He married my mother in Berlin; she was German born. We lived in Germany until I was 15 years old. I attended school in Berlin and was always regarded as being a German boy. My father, however, always told me I was an American. I am 23 years old. I am thoroughly American and yet I cannot forget that my mother was German. Should I register?

A. Your father's occupation does not change your status as an American citizen. You must register.

Q. I am 25 years old and a Quaker by descent. I have strong conscientious scruples against war, although I believe one should fight in defense of his native soil. My belief, however, is unalterably opposed to carrying war into a foreign land. Holding this conscientious belief, can I be forced into going to Europe to fight? Should I register?

A. Your religion does not excuse you. Register.

Q. My father was a German and my mother a Greek. I was born on a vessel bound for America. I am 21 years old, unmarried and have always lived in the United States. I voted at the last election. Should I register?

A. You have voted and you are an American. Register.

Q. Must a boy whose twenty-first birthday is June 5, 1917, register?

A. Yes.

Q. Will you require a man to register whose 31st birthday arrives on June 5, 1917?

A. That is difficult, but I think you must register.

Q. Is a mail clerk, 24 years old, exempt from registering?

A. No. Your occupation is no excuse.

Q. Will a letter carrier, unmarried, 30 years old, be exempt from draft? Does the law exempt him?

A. You must register.

Q. How can a city policeman evade draft if he is within the age limitations and in good health and without objectionable defects?

A. You can't avoid it.

Q. What is the penalty for making false affidavit in registering?

A. Imprisonment.

Q. Where and how can a traveling man register if he is away from home and to a town of less than 35,000 inhabitants on June 5?

A. By mail at your home town.

Q. Is a man who has never been convicted of a crime or misdemeanor, who is in jail awaiting action by the grand jury, required to register? If so, how and where?

A. Yes. Some provision will be made with the sheriff.

Q. What provision have you made for registering a man who is away from home and ill? Can doctors register for such a patient?

A. Doctors cannot register anyone. Register by mail.

Q. Will a plowman be exempt from draft?

A. No.

Q. What is the penalty for a registration clerk who helps an eligible man to escape registration?

A. Imprisonment.

Q. Is an ex-convict (who is forbidden by law to enter the army or navy) obliged to register?

A. Register anyway. They will refuse to take you later.

OLD MAN USES SAVINGS TO BUY LIBERTY BONDS

At the sign which announced "We make Our Contributions to Charity Through the United Provident Association."

John most certainly looked as though he were seeking aims.

But the teller almost fell backward in his cage when the frowny customer leaned against the marble railing, removed a stocking which bulged with something. He didn't allow the teller to speculate long, for he took the top of the stocking and dumped out onto

The Patriotic Man Is the Provident Man— The wise man spends all the time—spends and saves. "Business As Usual" Now while prices are still reasonable—while bargains beckon from new stocks of merchandise, you will find him advising his wife to buy an extra suit for herself and the "girls"—you will find him buying an extra suit for himself and his boy—NOW, while the buying is good. To such men and young men we call special attention to our economy values in Kuppenheimer Clothes at $20, $25, $30, $35 Because of the fact that the government has taken over the woolen production of the country to the extent of one-third and also because of the shortage of wool, we could hold these garments over for a season and they would be worth five to ten dollars a suit more. But that isn't our policy—we believe at all times to give the best that is possible for as little as is possible. Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is truly marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.—Adv.

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong—According to Dr. Lewis

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa.—Victims of eye strain and other eye weakness, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seemed clear. I can read even fine print without glasses. Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the type-writing on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long-distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

GREAT CROWDS GREET JOFFRE BACK IN PARIS

"Why This Like New York," Says the Marshal.

PARIS, May 24.—Enormous crowds, cheering tumultuously, welcomed the French mission on its arrival here from America. Premier Ribot, Minister of the Interior Malvy and other members of the cabinet were at the station to welcome the envoys.

"Why, this is like New York," said Marshal Joffre, as the automobiles which conveyed the members of the mission from the station were halted on account of the density of the cheering crowds.

Premier Ribot congratulated the members of the mission upon the results of their trip to America, as did the other members. After the official mission was over, M. Viviani, discussing his departure from Washington, said:

"I told President Wilson how deeply touched I was by the manifestations of the sympathy of the American people." "The president replied simply 'We are brothers in the same cause.'"

Kansas Governor Sends Another Plea

TOPEKA, Kan., May 24.—An appeal to President Wilson to establish a "national policy of an army free from commercial vice" was telegraphed last night by Governor Arthur Capper of Kansas. The governor declared that "hundreds of mothers are appealing to me to intercede with you on behalf of their sons," and added that local authorities would influence the laws regarding the camps in Kansas.

Governor Capper urged "that congress and the war department maintain a safety zone of not less than ten miles around every camp in which liquor and vice shall be absolutely prohibited."

Small Companies Assessed.—The state board of equalization today is making permanent assessments of several small street railway and public service corporations of the state.

the counter a roll of bills big enough to choke the proverbial elephant. Buys $600 Worth. "Here's $600," John announced calmly. "It's taken me fifteen years to save it up. It's never been in a bank before. But now I want to invest it in Liberty Loan bonds. I'm crippled and can't fight, but I can do my share for the country by helping to pay the expenses of the war." John had come to Oklahoma City from El Reno on the interurban for the express purpose of buying his six $100 bonds.

According to the banker from whom the bonds were purchased, much "sock" money is being invested in these securities. Those who habitually hoard money because of their suspicion of banks, invest readily in government securities, they say. Outlook Brighter. While no accurate estimate as to the amount of bond applications made here has been made, it was stated at a number of banks this morning that the outlook for Oklahoma City's taking her share of the issue is brighter than for days. Inasmuch as Oklahoma is strictly an agricultural country, however, they hardly anticipate that this state will greatly oversubscribe its $14,500,000 share of the issue. Practically every bank employe in town will take at least one $50 bond. In many banks employes are taking small bonds for each member of his family. The fact that banks are arranging for customers to pay out the bonds on easy terms is causing more to invest in them. Altogether, the campaign of education in this city is said to be bringing fruit at last.

Making "Cigarette-Comfort" for a Nation Every minute of every day great batteries of throbbing machines are whirling out Fatimas by thousands. Fifty-eight per clock-tick is Fatima's average—an average that is growing day by day because of Fatima's comfort. Throughout the length and breadth of this great country, more smokers are daily learning the comfort-lesson Fatimas teach— the comfort to throat and tongue while smoking and the man-comfort that follows after smoking. It's this constantly growing demand for Fatima-comfort that keeps the Fatima machines pouring forth thousands upon thousands of these famous cigarettes. And it's this common-sense "cigarette-comfort" that makes men call Fatimas a sensible cigarette. Lippitt & Myers Tobacco Co. FATIMA A Sensible Cigarette 20 for 15¢
